Board of public works, after which the meeting tendered their thanks to the speakers and adjourned. A Communication. OMAHA, Jan. 2.—To the Editor of the Bee: A few plain facts against the utterance of the alleged resolutions at the city hall meeting last night, may not be inappropriate.

A BREAK MAKES A RICK. Exciting Times at the Eden Musee Yesterday Afternoon. Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a mixed assemblage of men, women and children stood in front of the entrance to the Eden Musee, at the corner of Farnam and Eleventh streets, and clamored for admittance.

It was a social event of which they may well feel proud. Fifty couples were present, and the Emmeralds were distinguished. Eighteen numbers were danced, and at the end of the ninth, the members of the club were asked to leave the room.

In making malt for porter some of the kernels are charred. Now comes the "racking" house. The process which the grain here undergoes is different from that of mounting to the fifth story of the malt house.

Significant Utterances. BERLIN, Jan. 2.—The German Zeitung states that Emperor William, during his reception yesterday of officers of the guards, joyfully said: "I would point out that this year your chief attention will be claimed by the maneuvers which the guards and the third army corps have been ordered to execute."

The Pope Extensively Congratulated. ROME, Jan. 2.—Yesterday the pope received 200 congratulatory telegrams. His highness has informed all special foreign envoys that he will grant them audiences for their leave-taking whenever they desire.

Mr. Con Lynch, a member of the emergency committee, was the first speaker. He referred to the bid of Nevins & Co., and said it was a well known fact that "Bill" Stout, the employer of convict labor, was one of the firms that had been awarded the contract to do the work on the city building.

Now a few words to the very workmen who attended the meeting last night and applied to the generalities about convict labor. If there was any one thing insisted upon, it was that convict labor would defraud them of honest wages and thereby a continuous loss of their money.

A BEE reporter in a talk with the manager was informed that the whole trouble originated from Baldwin's frenetic conduct. Every employee of the Musee was subject to the right rule of the establishment, which imposed fines for misconduct.

Some of these ghosts may not have a cent's worth of interest in the market, but they jabber away just as in the old days about earnings and possible dividends, and dissect the financial and market news as if they were on top and all day long.

The process of keging is simple. Connection if made with the particular part desired in the contents of the keg is direct through pipes to an open vat where a single man fills with two flexible pipes, two kegs at a time.

Italy's Foreign Policy. ROME, Jan. 2.—Italian papers say Gladstone will treat with the Vatican in support of the demand that Italy should obtain autonomy for Ireland, Persia having commenced negotiations.

The Lick Observatory Telescope. SAN JOSE, CALIF., Jan. 2.—The great objective of the Lick Observatory telescope system and should be condemned wherever found. There are to-day within the walls of the Lick Observatory 34 convicts.

Mr. Smith was hailed with applause. He said that convict labor was a disgrace to the city and should be abolished. He said that the city should not be a party to the crime of convict labor.

At the performance of the play, the open house yesterday, crowded houses greeted Prof. George Bartholomew's celebrated Equine Paradox, which has come back to Omaha after an absence of two years.

John A. Tobin is one of the most interesting ghosts of the street. He is now a broker on the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum exchange. Mr. Hatch was numbered among the ghosts of the street when the unhappy outcome of his Yellowstone park enterprise was revealed.

Having observed light through the stomach wall it was ready for action. As soon as the opening in the stomach was made it sprang at the hand of the operator. The stomach, after being incised, was overlapped by the liver.

One Hundred Years Ago. New York Mail and Express: At the Hoffman house last night a party sat at a table in the art gallery making wagers on his own particular trick.

Germany's Foreign Policy. BERLIN, Jan. 2.—Emperor William, in his remarks at his New Year's reception yesterday, avoided open political allusions, but in conversation with his military chiefs he referred to the improvement in the general political situation.

Coal Miners Will Go Out. READING, Pa., Jan. 2.—Advices received here to-night from interior towns of the coal regions, say the coal miners will undoubtedly strike to-morrow morning, when all coal traffic will of course be suspended.

Mr. Smith maintained the conviction that made self-supporting. Convict employment is a most profitable one, and is fostered and supported by legislators who vote for it.
