AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS

This piece will be played at the Grand opera house on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening. This will be its first presentation in the city. It calls for the largest sized stage, the most varied kind of scenery, being virtually a trip around the world, and illustrating the scenes and inci-dents which are so fully described in Jules Verne's famous work. The company producing this piece is under the management of W. J. Fleming, famous as having been connected with Niblo's Garden in New York. A production of this celebrated piece, commensurate with its great requirements, is promised for the next three nights, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. MY GERALDINE.

Bartley Campbell's romantic Irish drama, "My Geraldine," will commence a three days' engagement at the Grand opera house on Thursday evening, January 12. DUNCAN'S REPORT.

Statement of the inspector of Plumbing to the Mayor. Robert B. Duncan, the inspector of plumb-ing, refutes the charges that have been made to the effect that he has been dereliet in the discharge of his duties. He cites proofs to bear him out that he has been faithful and fully alive to the responsibilities resting upon him, in the prosecution of which he has worked nights and Sundays. Appended is Mr. Duncar's report since his assuming office last July :

To the Honorable, the Mayor and City Council of the City of Omaha: Gentlemen-I suomit herewith a report of work done un-der ordinance No. 1420. I was appointed June 21, 1887, was assigned to duty in place of D. Kenniston July 25, 1887. There have been issued to plumbers 1,091 permits to cut the streets. To the American Waterworks company 148 permits, some of which include prore than one cut making the number of cuts about 206. To the gas company 383 permits, number of cuts about 849. A grand total about 25%. To the gas company 283 permits, number of cuts about 849. A grand total of 2,236 cuts during the year 1857. I have made a final inspection of 487 cuts, that is, the liability of the parties making that number of cuts has ceased by reason of the expiration of the time given in the bond. I do not pretend to say that the cuts are all in perfect condition, especially am I unable to tell where cuts have been made in streets. In that have since been paved over cuts. In connection with this fact I will say that the couts made in July last will be subject to in-spection in January, 1888. As the ground is covered with snow a thorough inspection is impossible; the same trouble is liable to oc-cur on cuts made in August, September and October of the same year. It has been almost impossible to get the cuts made in cedar block pavements repaired until recently arrangements having been made at the suggestion of the chairman of the board of public works whereby the repaying may be done in a substantial manner, Since the 25th of July, 1887, there has been eleven arrests for violation of ordinance 1420. One case was dismissed, the remaining ten were assessed in fines and costs $109.

I would respectfully call your attention to the fact that ordinance 1420 does not specify clearly enough the manner in which plumbng should be done in order to comply with anitary rules and regulations that should rovern a class of work of such vital import. Also some regulations ought to be made which would remedy faulty work done be I find numerous cases where houses in which many persons live are but recking cesspools, the foul emanations from which contaminate not only the premises where such cases occur, but the surrounding neighborhood is made unfit to live in.

I also find in some fine residences where I also find in some fine residences where health is a first consideration that the deadly sewer gas is working its insidenus way al-most unnoticed by the occupants, because they become used to the smell. And they are only made aware of the trouble by its effects on the general health on the inmates. All of the trouble could be avoided by a thorough inspection and the solution of also horough inspection and the adoption of rules that would compel owners of buildings to do the plumbing in strict conformity with sanitary rules and regulations. A great deal more might be said on this subject, but I respectfully submit the fore-ROBERT D. DUNCAN, going. Inspector of Plumbing.

increase its amusing qualities. It is under stood that a feature is made of the musical portion of the program. The play is replete with songs and pleasing accompaniments. Among these are several songs that have been written to especially fit the action of the play "Grandpa's Luilaby" by Mr. Harrison, and "Papa, Sweet Mama rud Me" may be mentioned as the most successful. The company, it is said, is one of much ability. Mrs. Dion Boucicault (Agnes Robertson) fills the lead-ing role. She will be pleasantly remembered ing role. She will be pleasantly remembered as the Eiley O'Connor in the presentation of Boucicault's "Colleen Bawn." and also by her performance in several of the leading roles in his different plays. The attraction is a new one to our people but from its success elsewhere, it bids fair to become one of our desmatic forwaits. dramatic favorites. TWO NEW GERMAN ACTORS.

To-morrow evening two new faces will appear in the Baureis & Puls comedy company at Boyd's. They are Moritz Eisemann and Miss Elsa Roemer, late leading gentle-man and lady at Thalia theater, Milwaukee. They are both excellent actors, and the Ger-mans of the city are determined to give them a hearty welcome. This new accession to the company strengthens it in its weakest point, giving eleven members every one of whom are competent in his or her line of work. The Germans of this city will now be called upon to prove whether or not they are willing to support a good theatrical company playing in their own language. The piece for to-morrow night will be Heinric Laube's masterpiece, "Karlsschueler," in which the whole company appears.

Messenger Harris, of the American Express company, with a helper, was in charge of two cars on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad train that arrived in this city from Chicago yesterday morning. While the train was running between Albia and Chariton Friday night, two tramps who were stealing a ride, drew pistols on the helper when told to get off. They rode to Chariton, where they jumped off and escaped. This escapade gave rise to a rumor that an attempt had been made to rob the express car.

A Card From W. F. Brown. The following concerning the failure of Brown, Parkhurst & Co., of South Omaha, mentioned in vesterday's BEE, was handed in by Mr. W. F. Brown last evening:

OMAHA, Jan. 7 .- To the Editor of the BEE I desire to correct a few statements that ap-peared in your paper last night, entitled "Charged With Fraud." In regard to the "Charged with Fraud." In regard to the failure of Brown, Parkhurst & Co., the firm was originally known as W. F. Brown & Co., and was composed of W. F. Brown and George S. Brown. This firm did business six months before any other commission house was established in South Omaha, and contin-and where this name until Moreh 1887. The be honored. ued under this name until March, 1887. The expenses of the firm were very heavy, owing to the light receipts of stock, the advertising and other things necessary for the establish-ment of a business of this kind at a new point. The business was continued at a con-siderable loss until January, 1887, when for the first time the success of the venture was assured.

About this time Mr. D. S. Parkhurst, of Grand Island, Neb., having done business with the firm for some time past, noticed the improvement and conceived the idea of connecting himself with the firm, and while was in Chicago on business it was proposed by George S. Brown (the then junior member of the firm) that the partnership be dissolved and another formed with Mr. Parkhurst. On my return from Chicago II found that the dissolution of the firm of W. F. Brown & Co. had already been hargely advertised without my sanction or knowledge, injuring me considerably in a business way. I could do nothing more than allow the dissolution to become a matter of fact on account of the manner it had been advertised. In order to conciliate all parties concerned, I agreed to become a member of the firm of Brown, Parkhurst & Co. provided the indebtedness of W. F. Brown and Co. would be assumed by the new firm. Mr. Parkhurst was fully informed of this indebtedness before he became a member of the new firm, and an agreement was then entered into that each alcohor was to part into the business within ten days. I immediately arranged to provide for my portion, but declined to pay it in until George S. Brown had fulfilled his part until George S. Brown had fulfilled his part until George S. Brown had fulfilled his part of the agreement in this respect. Shortly after I called Mr. Parkhursts attention to the fact that George S. Brown had failed to pay in his money, he then being the senior member of the new firm instead of myself. Mr. Parkhurst paid little or no attention to the matter. The management of the busi-ness was assumed by George S. Brown and D. S. Parkhurst almost entirely and so con-tinued until the failure of the firm. While I was in Chicago, from the 12th to

A half-breed Indian has taken posses sion of a tract of land near Terryville, N. Y., and insists upon living there. He says he owns the land, because his fathers of the Pequot tribe never surren-dered their title to it. He has resisted all efforts to make him move on, has shot dogs that have been set on him, and says that he will defend his right to the woods with his rifle against all comers.

A rattlesnake was discovered carrying off a half-grown turkey near Waukeenah, Fla., and two dogs were set upon it. It struck both animals and both died, but the poor turkey was released unharmed, which is proof that snakes do not poison their own food. The snake killed was six feet seven
