TRAPPING A FOOTPAD.

Capture of the Notorious Jack Lager, Highwayman.

A suspicious character, giving the name of Dan Campbell, was arrested Tuesday night in the stable of R. E. Woods, on Cass, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. Yesterday, on the arrival of Jailer Ormsby at the station, he took his customary glance over the inmates of the different cages, and in Campbell he recognized John Lager, a man who has been wanted here for highway robbery ever since last October. As the police annals go, James McCalpin, of Vale, Ia., was held up out on North Sixteenth street during the second night of the fair, and robbed of $45 in money and a gold watch. From the description given by McCalpin, Lager was the man suspected of having done the job. A search was made for him, but he had jumped the city, and only returned Tuesday. McCalpin was notified by telegraph of Lager's capture, and responded, saying he would be here to appear against the man in the morning.

More of Mayor Broatch's Mistakes.

The numerous statements presented during the past ten days, showing the loose manner in which the city's finances were looked after, have drawn forth from Mayor Broatch several statements, nearly every one of which have been erroneous and so proven by an examination of the books of the city comptroller. Of course these disclosures have been anything but pleasant for his honor to peruse and finally he has resorted to a vain attempt of casting reflections upon the reporter, who, acting under Mr. Rosewater's special instructions, made an examination into the city affairs. In his note he says:

"The mayor says that, 'notwithstanding his lamentable ignorance of the financial affairs of the city,' that he was right and the reporter of the BEE wrong. The actual overlaps on outstanding indebtedness of the fire department, which will have to be made out of the levy of 1888 is $9,041.30, to which there may be some slight additions."

In the first place there was no "overlap." The definition of the word used in connections with debits and credits is that the disbursements exceed the income. The fire department, as will be seen by the following statements taken from the books of the comptroller, cost the city $2,339.91 less during the six months ending December 31, 1887 than the amount of the levy, and that the balance was applied to the partial wiping out of an old debt handed down by a previous administration other than that of the present mayor. The statement is as follows:

Levy for six months ending Dec. 31, 1887	$33,442.36
Amount old hose sold by fire department	47.70
Total	$33,490.06
Amount expended	$33,311.08
Balance in fund	$178.98
Overlap from last year	$11,202.23
Bills on hand not paid	9,041.30
Balance	2,160.93
Balance in fund	178.98
Actual gain	$2,339.91

The above is an actual copy from my books. C. S. GOODRICH, (Signed) City Comptroller.

The mayor started in with the declaration that the overlap was so great that the department would have to be decreased fully 50 per cent during the year 1881 as the levy was inadequate to meet the expenses. The levy will be made next Tuesday evening and if it is the same as for the past six months will amount to $33,422.36. Fifty per cent of that amount would be $16,721.18. Mayor Broatch the same as said in the first interview published that the overlap for 1888 would be over $33,000.

Later, in the Herald, after the mayor was shown to have been woefully mistaken, he places the figures at $12,000, and now he has dropped to $9,041.30, which is correct.

His honor, in his note, accuses the reporter of "willfully misrepresenting" him. What does he think of the above statements? Mayor Broatch further says that Comptroller Goodrich denies making the statements credited to him in Saturday's BEE. Mr. Goodrich was seen yesterday and emphatically denies that he ever made such a denial to the mayor. He said that Mr. Broatch thought that he was responsible for an interview in which the name of the gentleman interviewed was not given and that was what he denied being responsible for.

How about "willful misrepresentation?" The subject is an excellent one and a great deal can be said upon it. The following paragraph is clipped from Saturday's BEE:

It is quite likely that the removal of Mr. Baker as superintendent of the city hall will be made permanent. With respect to the salary of this gentleman for the months of October, November and December, the mayor says he did not know of it in advance. The comptroller placed Baker's name in the list of employes, and the council passed the appropriation.

If this statement made by the mayor does not show lamentable ignorance, then it must be "willful misrepresation." Comptroller Goodrich threw Baker's name out of the general appropriation ordinance and is indignant that Mr. Broatch should make this accusation against him. The books of the comptroller show that Mr. Baker's salary of $469.98 for the three months mentioned above was allowed in the amendments to a special ordinance passed by the council and approved by the mayor.

If the reporter was wrong and the mayor correct why do both of the other morning dailies ridicule the mayor's statements as foolish and untrue.

If the mayor is not lamentably ignorant concerning city finances, why are $50,000 worth of warranty deeds, for land sold by the city to private individuals, permitted to lie in the office of the city treasurer when by enforcing the payment of them the general fund would be greatly increased? These deeds are for strips of land sold to property owners on streets which were narrowed. Yet the mayor, as the executive municipal officer, lets them remain in the treasury uncalled for. There are several other cases which will be called to his honor's attention in the near future.

Railroad Notes.

MR. POTTER'S RETIREMENT.

A reporter met a prominent railroad man yesterday and the conversation which ensued led to the statement by the latter that Mr. Potter of the Union Pacific had told a Lincoln friend of his that on the 1st of April he would resign the position of vice president of the Union Pacific and retire to his stock farm near Burlington, Ia. It was a cherished desire of Mr. Potter's, the railroad man claimed, to lay down the burdens of railroad management and take up the lesser and more agreeable ones of private business affairs. This had specially become become the case since Mr. Potter became connected with the Union Pacific, the task which he has since performed being the most exacting he ever set himself out to accomplish. It is known also that Mrs. Potter has been and is averse to her husband longer continuing in the railroad business, and favors his retirement to their peaceful home near the city above mentioned, when it is known Mr. Potter has an excellent farm. The BEE's informant claims further that when Mr. Potter became associated with the Union Pacific his intention was to remain with it but a certhin length of time, and that that period had been shortened by the danger to his health which was occasioned by his recent illness, "because," said the informant, "Mr. Potter is not a well man by any means."

A NEW ROUND HOUSE.

The new round house of the Union Pacific at Council Bluffs was opened yesterday. Those in attendance from this city were: General Master Mechanic Hackney and his assistant Mr. Wilson; Master Mechanic Hovey and Master Mechanic O'Hearne. The new house will be supplied with machinery suitable for making light repairs.

UNION PACIFIC TRAIN DISPATCHERS.

The general train dispatcher's office of the Union Pacific has been removed from this city to Council Bluffs, the change being effected yesterday. The new office is located in the old land department building west of the transfer depot.

B. P. Humphrey, ticket agent of the Erie road with headquarters at Kansas City, was in town yesterday.

A. R. Newton, northwestern passenger agent of the Kansas City, Ft. Scott & Gulf railway, whose headquarters are in Kansas City, was around town yesterday.

Hyner Taken to Iowa.

Some eight weeks ago one A. J. Hyner, on information of his wife was arrested here for plundering a number of cars at Des Moines, Ia. The authorities of that city were notified of his capture, but for some unaccountable reason no reply was received from them. He was therefore released from custody, and the first thing he did upon snuffing free air was to make a bee line for home and give his wife a most merciless thrashing. He was then re-arrested and fined $20 and costs. The shrewd Des Moines detectives who have been carefully working up the case for a year past finally came to Omaha yesterday looking for the culprit. Officer Cullen hunted Hyner up and arrested him. The formalities of surrendering the prisoner to the Iowa authorities was gone through with and the detectives left for Des Moines last evening with their prisoner greatly elated over their capture and the reward they are to receive for capturing him.

District Court.

A LUMBER CLAIM.

James W. Paine & Co., in their complaint filed yesterday, say that they furnished George A. Hoagland with $300 worth of lumber, and that the bill has never been paid. The plaintiffs ask for a judgment in that sum.

ALEXANDER POLACK SUED.

The gents' furnishing goods firm of William Cohen & Co., San Francisco, complain that Alexander Polack is indebted to them in the sum of $288.75 for goods, and they want judgment for the full amount.

SUED BY ANOTHER BANK.

The Maverick bank, of Douglas, Wyo., did an exchange business with the First National bank, of Omaha, to which it is alleged they are indebted in the sum of $2,763.31 through overdrafts. Judgment is asked.

County Court.

Judge Shields yesterday granted a judgment in favor of Swan & Co. of $180 against John M. Ludwig.

Thurston Follows Poppleton.

John M. Thurston yesterday entered upon his duties as general attorney of the Union Pacific, succeeding A. J. Poppleton, who has held the position for nearly a quarter of a century. Yesterday Mr. Poppleton had straightened up all the business of his office. Mr. Thurston called upon him and in a few words had committed to him the trusts which had so long been cherished by his predecessor. The legacy was accepted. Mr. Thurston then bade Mr. Poppleton, with whom he has been associated for several years, a professional, though, as he says, not a personal good-by. This morning, for the first time, Mr. Thurston walked to the Union Pacific headquarters with the distinguished title of general attorney of the Union Pacific company.

Mr. Poppleton intends to resume his private practice of the law, and will open an office in the First National bank building.

Frozen Limbs Amputated.

John Peterson, who was found badly frozen by the police on the night of January 7, and who has since suffered one or two amputations, was again operated on yesterday at St. Joseph's hospital. This time his left foot up to the instep, the heel of the same foot and the thumb on his right foot were amputated. At the former amputations, half of his right foot, the heel of the same and four fingers on the left hand were taken off. He is thus helplessly crippled, and as he has no friends or means of support he will have to submit on public charity the rest of his life. At the time he was found by the officers he had been on a several days' spree.

A Youthful Runaway.

Melville Brazee, a boy thirteen years of age, arrived here yesterday by the Union Pacific express from Ogden, Utah. He came under the assumed name of Frank Daunel, having run away from his home in San Jose, Cal. His father, a wealthy banker, telegraphed that the boy be detained here, promising to forgive him and to come on for him immediately. He is quite willing to return home.

At night Al Keenan will be on duty from Twenty-fourth to Front street on N; John Sexton, on Front street from the depot to Q; Mose Redmond from Twenty-seventh street west on the hill, and P. McMahon from the bridge on Q street west to Twenty-seventh, and once a night to Albright. The day and night men will report for duty at 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. respectively, the same as the Omaha force. Officers Sexton and McMahon have the beats that heretofore have the hardest record, but will no doubt give a good account of themselves.

Strange as Any Fiction.

St. Joseph correspondence of the Globe-Democrat: A wedding of more interest than is usually attached to events where the parties are so little known occurred to-dao about four miles west of St. Joseph. The contracting parties were W. H. Potter, living near Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Julia Crumm, who for a few years past has made her home with her brother, Henry Withers, in Doniphan county, Kansas. Both the partief are of middle age, and had not seen one another for years until a few months ago. When they were children they went to school together in Carroll county, Kentucky, and when Potter was a young man of twenty-one years and came west he was bethrothed to Julia Withers, who was the belle of the neighborhood. Potter went first to Kansas, and then to the mountains, returning to visit his old home twice in five years. On the last visit it was agreed that the marriage should take place the following spring, by which time he hoped to have enough money to make his home what he thought it should be. He returned west and was not heard from for years. Some one who had known him in the mountains happened to pass through his Kentucky home and circulated the story of his death, founded upon a rumor, as it afterward appeared. His sweetheart mourned him as dead, and in two years wedded his rival, with whom she lived happily for about eight years. Her husband died in 1885, when she came to Doniphan county to make her home with her brother, having no children and no nearer relatives in Kentucky.

Her husband left her a considerable fortune, and as her forty years sat lightly upon her, she soon became the center of an admiring circle of friends.

A few months ago Potter came through St. Soseph, quite accidentally, on his way to Chicago. He met Withers at the union depot, and, what is most singular, the men knew each other. Explanations followed, and Potter was driven to the pleasant country home of the Withers family. He met his sweetheart of early days, and the old love, which had not ceased to burn in their hearts through long years, soon made itself felt. The courtship was commenced where it had been broken off, and the two were married, leaving this evening for Mr. Potter's home near Denver.

The strange part of the story is yet to come. Potter, while working in the mines, had been accused of murdering his partner. Not beidg able to establish his innocence at the trial, he was convicted and the sentence commuted to imprisonment for life, several good reasons appearing for this. Too proud to inform his sweetheart or family of his disgarce, he did not write any letters home about it, and the story of the crime did not reach them. The murder waf committed in a new claim which Potter and his partner had just begun to work in New Mexico, and it was not known there what part of the east he had he come from. After he had been in prison nearly five years a man who was to be hanged made a confession clearly establishing Potter's innocence, and he was released. He went at once to Ghent, Ky., but found his intended bride was another's. Without making himself known he left the place and returned to Denver where he soon amassed a considerable fortune by speculations. He was on his way to Chicago to dispose of some property when he accidentally met his old schoolmate, Henry Withers, in St. Joseph. The wedding is one of the most singular, because of the peculiar history connected with it, that has ever occurred in this section of the country.

Fish in a Hot Lake.

Silver State: There is a pond on the Lay ranch at Golconda, which is fed by the waters from the hot springs. This pond has an area of two or three acres, and the temperature of the water is about 85°, and in some places where the hot water bubbles up from the bottom the temperature is almost up to the boiling point. Recently the discovery has been made that this warm lake is literally alive with carp, some of which are more than a foot long. All efforts to catch them with a hook and line have failed, as they will not touch the most tempting bait. A few of them have been shot, and, contrary to the general supposition, the flesh was hard and palatable. How the fish got into the lake is a mystery unsolved. Within 100 feet of it are springs which are boiling hot, and the ranchers in the vicinity use the water to scald hogs in the butchering season.

CLEANING UP!

Our patrons, who at the opening of past seasons, have examined our stock of men's and boy's clothing, will endorse when we state that we enter a second season with new goods only. Our spring goods are already on the way, and we must make room for them. We have not the space to carry over a heavy stock of winter goods as is done by most clothiers. Our largely increased business compels us to utilize every foot of room in our establishment for the transaction of our aily bu siness and we are therefore compelled to close out every heavy weight garment on our counters. To do this we make any necessary sacrifice in pricess. The reductions we have made on overcoats and suits, and the values we are offering, will surprise everybody. To bargain seekers this is the greatest opportunity, as the pri ce of every garment is about one half what other houses ask for same quali ties.

To make a clearance of a large lot of all wool scarlet shirts and drawers, we offer them at 35c. This is an immense bargain, as they are good, heavy goods and would, in the early season, be cheap at 75c.

What little there is left of Fur, Jersey and Knit Caps, is offered at one-half what they are worth. Closing out odds and ends of gloves, furs and mufflers, at greatly reduced prices.

All goods marked in plain figures and at strictly one price.
