

THE DAILY BEE, PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Morning Edition including Sunday... For Three Months... For Six Months... For One Year...

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY, PROPRIETORS. E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

THE DAILY BEE.

Sworn Statement of Circulation. State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, I, J. S. ... I, J. S. ...

Sworn to and subscribed in my presence this 4th day of February, A. D. 1888, Notary Public.

There is a big nigger in that city hall woodpile.

Bismarck does not think war is imminent in Europe. As he usually knows what he is talking about, this ought to settle the war scare for the present.

Now that the booms and boomlets of California have collapsed, the general verdict of travelers is that the "golden state" is a good one to emigrate from.

The supreme court of New York has decided that the superintendent of public works and his appointees are independent of the civil service law.

The tobacco men are industriously hammering at Statistician Dodge, and it will not be their fault if he is not knocked out. His mistake, from a personal point of view, was in not consulting them before making his report on the tobacco crop of last year.

The surplus in the treasury is now over eighty-five million dollars. This money added to the circulation of the country would materially aid all business interests, but our statesmen are too busy laying political wires to find time for a judicious distribution of it.

If it shall be shown that Senator Ingalls has become a creature of the corporations, as would appear from his unusual course in appointing the democratic members of the special committee on the Pacific railroad commission reports, he may find popular sentiment in Kansas less lenient than it has been regarding some of his other willful blunders in public life.

We are glad to learn from a trustworthy source that the cattle in Wyoming have experienced very little suffering this winter, and that the losses had been inconsiderable. The information upon which we based a previous statement to the contrary was supposed to be reliable, but it appears that the fact is quite otherwise, Wyoming having enjoyed exceptional freedom from severe weather such as would be disastrous to cattle.

The inter-state commerce commission will soon make an investigation of Castle Garden in relation to its connection with the railroads. It is charged, and no doubt with good reason, that the railroad companies which form the trunk-line pool have violated the interstate commerce act by unreasonable charges for the carriage of immigrants to the west; that they have created an exclusive monopoly in the sale of tickets to this class of passengers and have forbidden the sale of tickets by certain routes. All this, if true, is in direct violation of the interstate commerce act and should be adequately punished.

Bismarck addressed the reichstag yesterday, as was expected, and the character of the speech accorded with what had been foreshadowed regarding it. If not unqualifiedly reassuring, it is certainly so far pacific as to warrant confidence that war in Europe is not to be expected at any early day.

The Hate War.

For some time past mutterings of a threatened war of railroad rates in the west and northwest have been noted. Frequent conferences have been held within a couple of months with the object of averting the conflict, at which temporary truces were arranged, the effect of which was to postpone the declaration of hostilities.

It is undoubtedly a mistake to count conflicts of this nature as necessarily beneficial to the public. The first impression of almost everybody is that when the railroads begin a war upon each other by slashing rates the people get the full benefit. But as a matter of fact only a very few shippers are in a position to take advantage of the situation, while the great body of consumers rarely discover that there has been any material gain to them.

A war of this kind is more easily entered upon than ended, particularly under present conditions. There is no law that prevents the cutting of rates, which can be done as a moment's notice, but in order to restore them there must be ten days' public notice. And any agreement made cannot, as formerly, include a pooling of earnings to help out those roads that suffered most by the war.

A war of this kind is more easily entered upon than ended, particularly under present conditions. There is no law that prevents the cutting of rates, which can be done as a moment's notice, but in order to restore them there must be ten days' public notice. And any agreement made cannot, as formerly, include a pooling of earnings to help out those roads that suffered most by the war.

Death of Miss Shattuck.

Miss Shattuck, the teacher who had both legs amputated a few days ago at her home in Seward, died Monday morning. Prior to the receipt of this sad news the BEE had sent to Miss Shattuck the sum of $3,752, the total subscription in her behalf amounting to nearly $4,000.

a claim upon the sympathies and philanthropy of the people that must not be disregarded. She is about to undergo the amputation of both feet and an arm. If she survive the ordeal she will be helpless. There could be no sadder appeal than her case makes to a generous people.

PROMINENT PERSONS.

Cyrus W. Field once worked for A. T. Stewart for the magnificent salary of $50 a year. It might be a good thing if Balfour would decide to meet John L. Sullivan in the ring for a few rounds.

The City Hall Job.

That Omaha is in need of a new city hall building is a generally admitted fact. Had it not been for the trickery and jobbery of the city council the building to-day would have been far on its way towards completion.

The council has now abrogated the contract with Architect Myers, and proposes to acquire more ground to the north of the present site so that a larger building can be erected.

A New Method.

An Omaha father has adopted a new method of dealing with the penniless suitor for his daughter's hand. He has had him arrested on a charge of vagrancy and will compel him to produce visible means of support or else skip the town.

Geography as She is Learned.

In a recent examination under the United States civil service rules in this city one of the geography questions propounded was: "Name the highest mountain peaks in the United States." One of the answers was: "Pike's peak, Chesapeake and Peek-a-boo."

A Bizzard Romance.

Bizzard romances are beginning to come in from Dakota, and one of the most entertaining is that of a man who disemboweled a large ox, crawled inside, pulled the hole in after him, and slept there comfortably all night, but awoke in the morning to find the carcass frozen so solid that he couldn't get out. When he was rescued by passers-by, who heard his muffled cries and chopped him out with an axe, this narrative is one of absorbing interest.

From Day to Day.

Only from day to day we take our way, Uncertain way, Uncertain way, Though hope and gay desire Touch with their fire Each fresh endeavor.

decided to go out of business on their own hook and try consolidation as a means of bettering their prospects. They propose to pool their issues with another place, West Plains, ten miles away, and Merrill will cease to exist.

Nebraska Jottings.

A South Sioux City boomer advertisement "200 lots just plated." Arlington's population has been swelled by fifty Indians, but their room is preferable to their company.

James Ledwith, a Broken Bow lawyer, is about to move to Omaha to reside, and enter the legal ranks in this city.

The Nemaha county Herald, a square-toed democratic paper, has appeared at Auburn. J. W. Barnhart will supply the powder and take in the provender.

The O'Neill Tribune fathers thus: "There is a girl in Omaha six feet six inches tall, and whose lover stands on his tiptoes and pleads for a kiss she stoops to confer."

No trace has been found of H. C. Miller, who left O'Neill City several weeks ago for Stanton. His goods were shipped to Stanton and are still there waiting for him to turn up, and his friends there fear foul play has been the cause of his mysterious disappearance.

The death of Miss Etta Shattuck will be sincerely mourned by the people of the state. Even with the loss of her limbs it was hoped she would survive and enjoy with her aged parents the liberal gifts and high regard of a generous people.

Father Martin, the literary jibjib of Dakota City, has pulled a score of giant-like characters through a thousand chapters of "The Conquest," without any of them getting away.

Mrs. Maria Barton will not write any more books except for pleasure. Her claim to Mexican property worth $5,000,000 has just been decided in her favor after eighteen years of hard fighting.

It is said that a number of old Californians, now living in New York in reduced circumstances, are actually dependent upon the bounty of Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, for the necessities of life.

The estate of Thaddeus Stevens, consisting of 1,300 acres of valuable timber and mining land in French and Adams counties, Pennsylvania, has been sold to a syndicate and its resources will be developed immediately.

General Bragg is not believed to be enraptured with his banishment to Mexico, and it is said that he will run for congress next fall in spite of Vilas. He would rather have $5,000 a year and an occasional run in Washington than $13,000 and unlimited palque in Mexico.

John Wanamaker, the big dry goods man and art connoisseur of Philadelphia, has gone back in French and Adams counties, Pennsylvania, has been sold to a syndicate and its resources will be developed immediately.

George Kennan, the noted Russian traveler who has written on political exiles have attracted wide attention, sent his first telegraph message when he was six years old. He was a telegraph operator during the war in Cincinnati and entered Siberia in the service of the Western Union telegraph company before he was twenty-one.

An Omaha father has adopted a new method of dealing with the penniless suitor for his daughter's hand. He has had him arrested on a charge of vagrancy and will compel him to produce visible means of support or else skip the town.

There is a high-toned cuss on Sherman street, of socialistic tendencies," says the Deadwood Times, "who practices his political teachings. He has no wood, but a poor woman in the neighborhood has. She worked and earned the money to buy the wood, but he always waits until he thinks she has gone to bed before he makes the divvy, and carries his part home. We will give his name if he don't quit."

Fort Collins is short of coal. A female ghost is making herself promiscuous on Battle mountain. The Denver Times is rolling in plush covered libel suit, damages $50,000. Samuel Berry, a lawyer, is plaintiff.

Five hundred men and sixty teams are to work on the extension of the Grand road from Glenwood Springs to the coal mines on Thompson's creek. The coal makes first quality coke, and 200 coke ovens will be built there.

Consolidation of a Pair of Paper Corporations.

Articles of consolidation of the Kansas, Nebraska & Decatur railroad with the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas railroad, were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. It appears from the articles of agreement of the consolidation that the Kansas, Nebraska & Decatur company was incorporated to construct a line of road commencing at the town of Claffin, Kan., thence running in a northeasterly direction through the counties of Jefferson, Gage, Johnson, Otoe, Cass, Lancaster, Searcy, Douglas, Saunders, Dodge, Washington and Bart counties, the town of Decatur on the Missouri river.

The death of Miss Etta Shattuck will be sincerely mourned by the people of the state. Even with the loss of her limbs it was hoped she would survive and enjoy with her aged parents the liberal gifts and high regard of a generous people.

Father Martin, the literary jibjib of Dakota City, has pulled a score of giant-like characters through a thousand chapters of "The Conquest," without any of them getting away.

Mrs. Maria Barton will not write any more books except for pleasure. Her claim to Mexican property worth $5,000,000 has just been decided in her favor after eighteen years of hard fighting.

It is said that a number of old Californians, now living in New York in reduced circumstances, are actually dependent upon the bounty of Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, for the necessities of life.

The estate of Thaddeus Stevens, consisting of 1,300 acres of valuable timber and mining land in French and Adams counties, Pennsylvania, has been sold to a syndicate and its resources will be developed immediately.

General Bragg is not believed to be enraptured with his banishment to Mexico, and it is said that he will run for congress next fall in spite of Vilas. He would rather have $5,000 a year and an occasional run in Washington than $13,000 and unlimited palque in Mexico.

John Wanamaker, the big dry goods man and art connoisseur of Philadelphia, has gone back in French and Adams counties, Pennsylvania, has been sold to a syndicate and its resources will be developed immediately.

George Kennan, the noted Russian traveler who has written on political exiles have attracted wide attention, sent his first telegraph message when he was six years old. He was a telegraph operator during the war in Cincinnati and entered Siberia in the service of the Western Union telegraph company before he was twenty-one.

An Omaha father has adopted a new method of dealing with the penniless suitor for his daughter's hand. He has had him arrested on a charge of vagrancy and will compel him to produce visible means of support or else skip the town.

There is a high-toned cuss on Sherman street, of socialistic tendencies," says the Deadwood Times, "who practices his political teachings. He has no wood, but a poor woman in the neighborhood has. She worked and earned the money to buy the wood, but he always waits until he thinks she has gone to bed before he makes the divvy, and carries his part home. We will give his name if he don't quit."

Fort Collins is short of coal. A female ghost is making herself promiscuous on Battle mountain. The Denver Times is rolling in plush covered libel suit, damages $50,000. Samuel Berry, a lawyer, is plaintiff.

Five hundred men and sixty teams are to work on the extension of the Grand road from Glenwood Springs to the coal mines on Thompson's creek. The coal makes first quality coke, and 200 coke ovens will be built there.

That the real estate movement in Denver is only catching its second wind is evidenced by the sales for January, which aggregated $2,136,076, against $1,683,839 in January, 1887, and $209,170.62 in January, 1886.

SHE WAS RELEASED.

Kate Bell Discharged to Care for a Dead Companion. Mrs. Kate Bell, a madame in a den of infamy in the Bank's block, corner of Twelfth and Capitol avenue, was arrested Sunday night for disturbing the peace by blowing a police whistle.

The administrator of the estate of William L. Currie has appealed from a decision of the county court rendered in December, alleging a claim against the estate in favor of R. B. Randall, jr., for $7,500 and Davidson's heirs for $218.94. The appeal will be heard at the coming session of the district court.

D. G. Courtney has filed an appeal from a decision of the board of county commissioners in which they rejected a claim presented by him for $139.33, illegal taxes collected on school lands. Hovey & Peck have commenced action against James P. Lewis, of Firth, in which they ask for judgment on promissory notes aggregating $1,275.98.

Governor Thayer yesterday appointed the following new notaries: C. C. Hafford, Reed, Box Butte county; William F. Hauley, Nonpareil, Box Butte county; W. S. Strann, Omaha; Jonas Adding, Gothenburg, Dawson county; John E. Ab, Burlington, Gage county; E. H. Taylor, O'Neill, Holt county; Frank T. Pence, Diller, Jefferson county; J. S. Weaver, Verdon, Richardson county; John E. Blackman, Omaha; Nathaniel C. Osburn, Omaha, Harlan county; William E. Travis, Wilcox, Kearney county; Charles W. Bl, Rushville, Sheridan county; Robert H. Davis, Lincoln; Frank Dean, Wahoo, Saunders county.

WHERE THEY PROPOSE TO BUILD.

The Freight Rate Reduction-Another Bank Incorporated-District Court Cases-New Notaries-Monthly Expense Statement.

Articles of consolidation of the Kansas, Nebraska & Decatur railroad with the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas railroad, were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. It appears from the articles of agreement of the consolidation that the Kansas, Nebraska & Decatur company was incorporated to construct a line of road commencing at the town of Claffin, Kan., thence running in a northeasterly direction through the counties of Jefferson, Gage, Johnson, Otoe, Cass, Lancaster, Searcy, Douglas, Saunders, Dodge, Washington and Bart counties, the town of Decatur on the Missouri river.

The death of Miss Etta Shattuck will be sincerely mourned by the people of the state. Even with the loss of her limbs it was hoped she would survive and enjoy with her aged parents the liberal gifts and high regard of a generous people.

Father Martin, the literary jibjib of Dakota City, has pulled a score of giant-like characters through a thousand chapters of "The Conquest," without any of them getting away.

Mrs. Maria Barton will not write any more books except for pleasure. Her claim to Mexican property worth $5,000,000 has just been decided in her favor after eighteen years of hard fighting.

It is said that a number of old Californians, now living in New York in reduced circumstances, are actually dependent upon the bounty of Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, for the necessities of life.

The estate of Thaddeus Stevens, consisting of 1,300 acres of valuable timber and mining land in French and Adams counties, Pennsylvania, has been sold to a syndicate and its resources will be developed immediately.

General Bragg is not believed to be enraptured with his banishment to Mexico, and it is said that he will run for congress next fall in spite of Vilas. He would rather have $5,000 a year and an occasional run in Washington than $13,000 and unlimited palque in Mexico.

John Wanamaker, the big dry goods man and art connoisseur of Philadelphia, has gone back in French and Adams counties, Pennsylvania, has been sold to a syndicate and its resources will be developed immediately.

George Kennan, the noted Russian traveler who has written on political exiles have attracted wide attention, sent his first telegraph message when he was six years old. He was a telegraph operator during the war in Cincinnati and entered Siberia in the service of the Western Union telegraph company before he was twenty-one.

An Omaha father has adopted a new method of dealing with the penniless suitor for his daughter's hand. He has had him arrested on a charge of vagrancy and will compel him to produce visible means of support or else skip the town.

There is a high-toned cuss on Sherman street, of socialistic tendencies," says the Deadwood Times, "who practices his political teachings. He has no wood, but a poor woman in the neighborhood has. She worked and earned the money to buy the wood, but he always waits until he thinks she has gone to bed before he makes the divvy, and carries his part home. We will give his name if he don't quit."

Fort Collins is short of coal. A female ghost is making herself promiscuous on Battle mountain. The Denver Times is rolling in plush covered libel suit, damages $50,000. Samuel Berry, a lawyer, is plaintiff.

Five hundred men and sixty teams are to work on the extension of the Grand road from Glenwood Springs to the coal mines on Thompson's creek. The coal makes first quality coke, and 200 coke ovens will be built there.

That the real estate movement in Denver is only catching its second wind is evidenced by the sales for January, which aggregated $2,136,076, against $1,683,839 in January, 1887, and $209,170.62 in January, 1886.

Kate Bell Discharged to Care for a Dead Companion. Mrs. Kate Bell, a madame in a den of infamy in the Bank's block, corner of Twelfth and Capitol avenue, was arrested Sunday night for disturbing the peace by blowing a police whistle.

The administrator of the estate of William L. Currie has appealed from a decision of the county court rendered in December, alleging a claim against the estate in favor of R. B. Randall, jr., for $7,500 and Davidson's heirs for $218.94. The appeal will be heard at the coming session of the district court.

D. G. Courtney has filed an appeal from a decision of the board of county commissioners in which they rejected a claim presented by him for $139.33, illegal taxes collected on school lands. Hovey & Peck have commenced action against James P. Lewis, of Firth, in which they ask for judgment on promissory notes aggregating $1,275.98.

Governor Thayer yesterday appointed the following new notaries: C. C. Hafford, Reed, Box Butte county; William F. Hauley, Nonpareil, Box Butte county; W. S. Strann, Omaha; Jonas Adding, Gothenburg, Dawson county; John E. Ab, Burlington, Gage county; E. H. Taylor, O'Neill, Holt county; Frank T. Pence, Diller, Jefferson county; J. S. Weaver, Verdon, Richardson county; John E. Blackman, Omaha; Nathaniel C. Osburn, Omaha, Harlan county; William E. Travis, Wilcox, Kearney county; Charles W. Bl, Rushville, Sheridan county; Robert H. Davis, Lincoln; Frank Dean, Wahoo, Saunders county.

follows: Soldiers' home, $2,242.25; capitol building, $6,589; home for the friendless, $465.94; blind asylum, $847.73; deaf and dumb institute, $1,223.11; feeble minded institute, $1,279.04; reform school, $5,727.89; Norfolk insane hospital, $3,761.61; Lincoln insane hospital, $1,733.48.

THE FIRST WOMAN IN CAMP.

Sensation Caused by the Novel Event -The Sequel. Denver Letter; Every miner in the camp was excited and talking about it. Now it took some very important event to thoroughly arouse all the boys along the gulch.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.

Everybody was a special committee of one on toilet, and after further skinning an old razor was found in a corner of a cabin, where it had been thrown among a lot of broken cups and saucers, for mining life and its domestic customs are like a bull in a china shop when it comes to cups and saucers.