

GOTHAMITES BADLY CULLED.

How a Man May Not Walk 621 Miles in a Week.

TROUBLE IN THE ROUND'S FAMILY.

A Swindle Extraordinary—Railroad Notes—How the U. P. and Anheuser Busch Outwitted the Gas Company.

The Walking Fak.

The result of the recent six days' walking match at New York city, in which one James Albert was awarded the first prize and given a record of 621 miles, has created no little discussion in sporting circles throughout the world.

Charles D. Bibbins, the well-known sporting man of this city, and who has always been greatly interested in pedestrian contests and like athletic sports, and who is the principal backer of Prince in the great $50,000 bicycle race soon to take place with McCarty, has telegraphed to New York parties that he would bet $5,000 to $2,000 that Albert did not walk 621 miles at the recent match, and furthermore that he could not walk 621 miles in six weeks.

Mr. Bibbins strongly suspects that crooked work has been done and that the referee, contestants and spectators were tricked. Mr. Bibbins claims to know how the trick could be successfully worked but declined to expose it at present.

He also states that Al Smith who managed the affair, knows the contents of the book, but that he never saw Albert before the match, and never spoke to him in his life.

Mr. Bibbins was asked if it was not possible that the fraud was successfully carried out by two pedestrians who look exactly alike. The inquiry greatly embarrassed the gentleman, but he finally admitted that it would be possible.

There is little doubt that this is the solution of the great fraud. From a source that is perfectly reliable the following facts are learned.

Some two or three years ago certain sporting men were approached by a stranger who proposed the following scheme. He said he knew two brothers who resembled each other so closely that the one's identity was established by the other when apart. No one, not even intimate friends, could tell one from the other. He further stated that they were already fair walkers and then asked, "Why could not one of the brothers be secretly carried into the room of his brother (in a large trunk for instance) and when the other retires from the track let the other take his place in that way both of them could always be seen and could break all records. The pool rooms of the entire country could be worked and the winnings of the backers unlimited."

This scheme was considered a most excellent one, and the two men were brought to Omaha, where for nearly a year they were in constant training. The result of their work was wonderful, and it seemed that detection would be impossible.

Finally some rupture occurred between the twins and the one who had been working them. They left Omaha and also left $2,000 of indebtedness. Neither one has been seen here since.

It is now believed in sporting circles that the two brothers worked the snap at Madison square garden last week. The whole truth will come out in a few days, as at least one sporting man in this city knows all of the facts.

IMPENDING CONTROVERSY.

O. H. Rothacker Tells What He Will Do for Himself and Children.

O. H. Rothacker, late of the Republican, was seen yesterday by a reporter and asked what course he intended to pursue with reference to his connection both with the paper in question and the family of his deceased wife. His answer was that he would contest to the last the application of Mrs. S. P. Rounds for the guardianship of his two children, which application had been filed in the county court while tender hands were dressing his deceased wife for her casket. The reports published in the other papers to the effect that Mrs. Rounds had been appointed guardian of his children was untrue, and Judge Shields had not yet dated for hearing the case. Mr. Rothacker also claimed that he would call for a division of the Rounds' estate, such as his wife was entitled to in the interest of her and his children, and that in this move he would be joined in his own behalf by Horace Rounds, one of the sons of the late S. P. Rounds, who had been appointed guardian of the estate claim made by Mr. Rothacker was that he would bring suits for damages, because of slander, against one of the members of the Rounds family, and by which that party had been abetted or who had himself actively engaged in the circulation of slanderous reports concerning him. Mr. Rothacker further stated upon the outcome of these suits depends the future management of the Republican, which, though now nominally in the hands of Mr. Smith, really depends upon the interest in the estate of his deceased wife. Together with the interests of certain other members of the Rounds family and that of friends of his, the share of his wife would effect a very material change in the management of that sheet.

Mr. Rothacker, in conclusion, says that he invites the fullest investigation into all his actions in relation with all the members of his family.

LATER.

Yesterday afternoon O. H. Rothacker filed his application with Judge Shields in the county court, as guardian of his two children, and Mrs. S. P. Rounds, who has already applied for guardianship of the same little ones, together with all other parties interested in the controversy will be cited to appear for a hearing of the case on March 13, to show why Mr. Rothacker's bond should not be approved.

RECORD OF A "SNEAK."

In Which the Gas Company Was Outwitted.

The question of the right of the Union Pacific road to lay a track in the gas house alley west from Eleventh to Thirteenth streets was yesterday settled to the satisfaction of all the parties interested in an interview which took place between representatives of the gas company and the superintendent of the Union Pacific. It was shown to the representatives of the former that the ordinance granting the Union Pacific right of way through the alley was passed some months ago, through the representatives of the gas company. It was explained that the gas company should use discretion in the running of its engines along the alley, so as not to jeopardize the works or the life of the men connected with them. Mr. Dickerson, secretary of the committee that the Union Pacific had no desire in any way to injure the gas company and that for some time it would be able to conduct its business without bringing its locomotives near the works, and in the event of engines being needed extreme caution would be taken to prevent the dropping of sparks upon the part of their works which were considered dangerous. This understanding was satisfactory to the gas people and as a consequence yesterday afternoon and this morning a force of men went to work to lay the track in a solid and permanent manner.

The only concern in the gas house which depends upon this track is the immense warehouse of Anheuser-Busch on the corner of Thirteenth street, to accommodate which the track was laid. The gas company, it seems, had been watching this track some time expecting that it would require the track to be laid, and to prevent that had already made out a petition which required the laying of only a few feet of track. On last Friday, however, the general agent of the company George King of St. Louis, arrived in town, saw Superintendent Dickerson, told him of the completion of his firm's warehouse and the immediate desire for trackage. It was then decided to lay the track on Sunday, and it was done while the gas officials were napping. The magnificent buildings of Anheuser-Busch will be occupied by the gas pipes in a few days. Mr. manager, Walter, will then remove his office and stock from the old stand, corner of Ninth and Capitol avenue. The firm has spent nearly $200,000 in the new stand.

CONTRACTOR AND BRICKLAYER

What One of the Former Says About the Conference on Wages.

Tuesday afternoon according to the announcement in the Bee, there was a meeting of contractors in the Paxton block, at which a new society, hereafter to be known as the brick contractors' organization of Omaha, was organized. This society is entirely independent of the association heretofore known as the Brickmakers' association, and that of the building and implement furnishers' association. About forty five members were enrolled. J. F. Coats was elected president and Arthur Johnson secretary. No other officers were elected.

One of the members of the new society was met by a Bee reporter and asked what had been done with regard to the meeting for the coming week. The answer was that several meetings had been held between representatives of the bricklayer's union and the brick contractors, and that no definite understanding had been reached. The bricklayers, though their committee had asked, for $4.50 for eight hours work and the contractors had offered $4.20 for nine at the rate of 50 cents an hour for all the hours worked. The contractor further stated that his associates were prepared to pay $5.00 a day for ten hours work, but that he could not see the advisability of agreeing upon eight hours as a day's work when there were not enough men to be had to do the work required, though they should work nine hours each day.

A Swindle Extraordinary.

Complaints have been made to the Bee of a slick scheme that is being successfully worked in this city by a one armed man of downy features. The scheme is as follows: The man enters a saloon and calling some one aside shows to him a volume containing prints of the most licentious character. He then explains that he is broke and that the foul book is the only thing left to him; that he had paid $10 for it but will consent to accept $1 for the volume. If the victim consents to make the purchase, the seller wraps it up carefully in a paper and explains to the buyer that were it known by the author it that he had sold such a book he would be liable to a term in the penitentiary. All this gives the swindler time to change the page and when his victim undoes it he finds a bundle of tracts or something similar. It is reported that the man has played this game no less than twenty times in the city.

Army News.

The court martial at Fort Douglas, which has been investigating the charges of insubordination preferred against Lieutenant Parker has adjourned, but the finding has not yet been announced.

It is not yet known when the plan of the summer maneuvers, agreed upon by the board which recently assembled here for that purpose will be officially announced. It has yet to receive the signatures of the members of the board, who are now in various parts of the country. One of them, Captain Ray is now in the east on leave of absence. After it has received the signatures of the proper officers it will be laid before General Crook for his approval.

Cracked Pavement.

The cedar block pavement on Sixteenth street between Farnam and Harney streets is badly cracked, the opening in some places being an inch wide. This has been repaired by the last sidewalk crew. If the weather should soften again the water and slush which would be able to get into the cracks would do damage to the sand foundation.

He alleges that on or about November 17, 1887, while employed in loading a car with wheels for the defendant that Charles Nelson, the brakeman, and instructed him and his fellow workmen to make great haste. The men strove to comply and one Thomas Nelson fell a heavy wheel, which struck the plaintiff, smashing his left foot and breaking his ankle.

Police Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning: Vagrants—William McCoy, ten days; John Paol, Paul Newman, one day; John Houghton, continued; Frank Colman, discharged; Fighting—Dan Sullivan, $5 and costs; Hattie Maule, continued; Nellie Hulet, $5; Larceny—Driver of cab 12, continued; Disturbing the peace—John White, $5 and costs; Marston, discharged; Herman Gutte, $5 and costs.

Edward Maurer was tried in the afternoon for keeping the view into his saloon obstructed by blinds, paint and screens. The trial was by jury and lasted about an hour and a half. There were three witnesses on the part of the prosecution, all police officers, and at the conclusion of the testimony Mr. Ritchie, the attorney for the defence was called upon to make his closing speech. The evidence on the part of the defence. In the examination of the witnesses Attorney Gardner, representing the state, forgot to have the witnesses certify that the defendant was Edward Maurer, and that he was a dealer in malt and spirituous liquors. The jury was out about fifteen minutes, and returned with a verdict of "not guilty," calling the attention of the judge to the prosecuting attorney's oversight, which necessitated this verdict according to their oath, outside of any consideration of the evidence. The witnesses in the case had sworn that the view into Mr. Maurer's restaurant and saloon was obstructed by screens and paint on the glass of the doors, but that the glass window of his restaurant are of ground glass without any curtains and that there is no obstruction by any shutters whatever on the west window.

RELAYING SIDEWALKS.

Property Owners Must Do the Work at Their Own Cost.

Side-walk inspector Allan says that a misapprehension of the law relating to the laying of sidewalks seems to govern the citizens on Eleventh street near the Center street school. The walks on the former thoroughfare have been badly torn up by the graders and placed inside the fences, while in many places they have more or less destroyed. It seems that the property owners expect the board of public works or the sidewalk inspector to relay the walks. But in this they are looking for trouble. The sidewalk they are looking for is the sidewalk of the city. They are not the sidewalk of the city. They are not the sidewalk of the city. They are not the sidewalk of the city.

NEW HATTING STYLES.

Although it is a little early to talk about spring goods, yet in some departments new goods are already in demand. Our Hat department has for the past few days been quite active, and our spring trade in this line promises to be the biggest we ever had. We have made ample preparations for it, have enlarged this department considerably, and have put in a stock of hats unequalled for variety and styles. We propose to make this department a leading feature of our business. Those who bought hats of us last season know that we sold them for about one half the prices other houses charge. We intend to do still better this season. We do not carry any cotton or so-called wool hats. We only keep good qualities of fur hats such as we can warrant will give entire satisfaction to the wearer. With every hat sold in our establishment goes a guarantee, and our guarantee means that if any imperfection or damage is found in a hat, we take it back and give either a new hat or return the money.

As our opening bargain for the season we have placed on sale an elegant line of cassimere hats, made in the latest shapes, at one dollar. These hats cannot be duplicated elsewhere for less than $2.50. At the price of one dollar they are the most astounding bargain ever offered in this or any other city. Finer grades of cassimere hats at $1.40, $1.75 and $2.25. Our very finest hats at $3.25 are equal to the best makes in this country or imported.

We have added this season a large line of soft hats, and also a fine assortment for boys.

All goods marked in plain figures and at strictly one price.
