Omaha Made an Immediate Port of Entry.

THE GREAT QUESTION OF WAGES.

The Bricklayers' Position—The Plumbers Take a Stand—Deaths in the Courts—Death of Mrs. Licutenant Bartlett.

An Immediate Port.

Two years ago Senator Manderson endeavored to have Omaha made what is known in the commercial world as an immediate port of call.

The present session he again brought the matter up, and yesterday was notified by the treasury department that Omaha had been created a port of call.

The result of the action of the treasury department will enable all the goods imported to this country by Omaha merchants to come to this city immediately without breaking of bulk or delay of four or five weeks or more, such as has been the case heretofore.

On one firm he has paid on an average $20,000 for custom duties and this year expects to pay at least $30,000, while importing firms here have run the grand amount up much higher.

Mr. Frost was Misquoted.

The Bee published an interview with Mr. Lee Frost yesterday, the subject of which was the demands of the bricklayers as to wages for the coming season.

Ferguson Held Over to the District Court Without Bail.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the preliminary examination of William Ferguson, the slayer of Ole Olson, was held before Judge Berka.

The court room was crowded with spectators, while hundreds stood on the sidewalk outside or swarmed about the windows to catch a peep at the prisoner.

Those unable to get in contented themselves with discussing the case outside. When Ferguson was brought into the court room he looked cool and remarkably self-possessed.

He was represented by County Attorney Simeral, and the defense by Attorney Alexander Green assisted by Attorney Lee Estelle.

He Sold Ferguson Liquor.

In the preliminary examination of Ferguson, the murderer of Ole Olson, yesterday, James Adams, one of the proprietors of the saloon in which Olson was killed, testified that he sold three drinks of whisky and one of blackberry brandy to Ferguson.
