

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. OFFICE, NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

THE DEMOCRATIC DOINGS. Mayor Rohrer Unanimously Re-nominated For a Long Term.

say that the policy of that road has been to underpay the engineers. The road claims to pay full wages after three years' service, but it is claimed that very soon after an engineer reaches full pay something is apt to happen by which he is dismissed and his place filled by raising a fireman, and paying him the low wages for the first year, then gradually increase it, and then let him jump off as did his predecessor.

Sheafe loans money on real estate. Bargains in houses and lots on small cash payment. Johnston & Van Patten, 33 Main street.

Took a Tumble. Robert T. Fair, a pump and wind mill dealer, fell from the Indian Creek bridge Tuesday evening while returning home from a trip down town. According to his own version of the affair he must have been in a state of partial intoxication, as he states that he met a couple of ladies whom he did not know and whom he saluted with "Good evening." The next thing he knew he was taking a rapid flight through space, and soon found himself on the pavement in a violent manner as to completely use him up. A colored man who saw him fall procured assistance, and the injured man was taken to his home, 274 Harmony street. Dr. Lacy was summoned and found that the victim had two ribs broken, and a gash in his scalp about three inches long. The injuries were patched and Fair is getting along as well as could be expected.

The place where the accident occurred is entirely unprotected by any railing. There is a foot walk on the west side of the bridge, but the east side has never been floored, although the stringers are in place for one. There is nothing but the frame work of the bridge on that side of the driveway, and there are several places large enough for a man to walk through. It is doubtful whether a damage suit would amount to anything in this particular case, but the authorities should at once see to having the place repaired, before an accident occurs there that would cause a heavy drain upon the city's purse.

Criminal Cases. Several cases were quickly disposed of by Judge Looftbourg yesterday afternoon, or rather, were disposed of by the prisoners themselves, who concluded to plead guilty rather than stand trial. Harry Winn was the first of these. He was indicted for obtaining property under false pretenses, using a worthless check.

John Frances was brought before the bar on two charges of larceny. He pleaded guilty to one, and Colonel Daily had the other case dismissed. Frances is an old man, about seventy, and his trouble seems to have been the outgrowth of drink. He presented a deplorable condition, and the prosecuting attorney suggested that when the time came for sentence the greatest clemency possible be shown him in view of his age and feebleness. The old man had been without his accustomed chew of tobacco for several days, and it seemed that he was suffering from it. He was not given a chance to say anything in his defense, and he was sentenced to the penitentiary for six months.

For city solicitor the present incumbent, George Holmes, was nominated by acclamation. For treasurer the same order was followed, and F. W. Spelman was selected. The announcement that the next nomination would be for marshal called applause from the crowd. The chairman called them to order and said: "If we have a hard fight on hand let's keep cool and fight it out like men." The formal ballot resulted as follows: First ward—F. Guanella, 8; Second ward—Guanella, 10; N. O'Brien, 3; Third ward—Guanella, 6; O'Brien, 1; B. T. Connor, 1; Fourth ward—O'Brien, 12; Total Guanella, 24; O'Brien, 16; Connors, 1. Giving Guanella the nomination.

For superintendent of markets W. S. Amy was nominated by acclamation. For park commissioner J. W. Peggoy was also nominated by acclamation. For alderman at large to fill short term W. H. Kneppner was nominated by the following vote: Kneppner, 29; J. Danforth, 7; George Rudio, 7; John P. Weaver, 1. For alderman at large to fill the long term made vacant by the resignation of Alderman Wells, the names of John Churchill, George Rudio, John P. Weaver. The informal ballot made brought out the names of John P. Weaver, George Rudio and John Churchill, who received the following votes: Weaver, 24; Rudio, 11; Churchill, 6. Upon the formal ballot Weaver received 41 votes, the total number cast.

J. J. Stewart, F. M. Hunter and George Blaxin were put in nomination for school directors, the first ballot being made formal. Mr. F. M. Hunter received 14 votes; J. J. Stewart, 28; George Blaxin, 40, making the latter gentleman the nominee.

The deliberations were marked by a spirit of fairness and disappointed those who had prophesied otherwise.

Dr. R. Rice, No. 11 Pearl st., will give constant oxygen treatment at 50 cents each sitting.

Quiet But Firm Strikers. The same Sabbath-like stillness that has prevailed about the Kansas City roundhouse since the beginning of the strike, was noticeable yesterday. Notices were posted conspicuously about the premises forbidding all persons not in the employ of the company from trespassing, and also General Manager Merrill's order in regard to the strikers going back to work. Master Mechanic Bridesstein informed a BEE reporter that the strikers were a very gentlemanly set of men and that there was no danger whatever of their doing any damage to the property of the company, but the precautions were taken to guard against any mischief that might be attempted by tramps or other outsiders. One switch engine was busy in the yards and five more were latched up in the roundhouse, only one of them being fired up, that being No. 6, to take out the evening passenger. The incoming morning train, due at 9:35, did not arrive until 3:30, nearly six hours late.

The Boys in Blue. The preparations for the presentation of "The Union Spy" are still going quietly forward. The cast embraces the entire force of Company A, Fifth Regiment, I. N. G., and several outsiders. Among the incidents introduced with realistic effect are: Firing on Fort Sumpter; recruiting for the war; awkward squad drill; camp scenes; bivouac by night; contraband dances; the picket post; battle scenes; gun boat fight; Andersonville prison; captures; escapes; rescues; etc. The boys hope to realize a snug little sum from it, and it now looks as though they will meet with good success.

Bluffs Lodge No. 49, I. O. O. F. The funeral will be conducted under the auspices of this organization. The deceased had been in the employ of the company but a short time and was a good and faithful workman. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning from his late residence and the remains will be taken to Vail, Ia., for interment.

The Rustin-Franko Musicale. A very enjoyable musicale was given yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Mueller Music company. About fifty persons were present, which embraced a majority of the music lovers and artists of the city. The following programme was rendered:

- Valse Caprice.....Rubinstein
Aria (magic flute).....Mozart
Gavotte, E. Major (arranged for the left hand alone).....Bach-Joseffy
No. 27, No. 2.....Chopin
Scherzo, op. 31.....Chopin
Miss Rustin.
"An der Fremde".....Gaubert
"Ah, Can I Conquer".....Lambert
Miss Franko.
Wedding Procession.....Grieg
La Desirée.....Marschi
Miss Franko.
Farantella, "Venezia Napoli".....Liszt
Miss Rustin.

The entire programme was well rendered, but perhaps the most enjoyable numbers were the last three upon the programme. Miss Rustin showed herself to be possessed of much more than ordinary ability. Her execution and interpretation exhibited good technique. Miss Franko is possessed of a good voice, rather robust in quality, which has had the benefit of good schooling. By their appearance at this time these ladies have made a large circle of admirers.

Travelers' Stop at the Bechtels. A special session of the city council was held last evening. Present, the mayor and a full board of aldermen.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of the resignation of Lucius Wells as councilman, reported they had discharged their duty; that Mr. Wells had decided that he could not longer continue as such officer without doing injustice to his own business, and hence desired his resignation to stand and take effect March 10. Resolutions of regret were presented and ordered spread upon the records.

It is understood that Clark's defense will be on strictly legal grounds, rather than moral. It is claimed that his first wife obtained a divorce from him before he came with his present wife into this state, and that if there was any bigamy on his part it was in Michigan, where he lived with his present wife, before coming to Iowa.
