Chicago Produce Market.

CHICAGO, March 10 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE. 1-The wheat market showed some strength early in the session and even advanced %c above the opening figures, but after that the market sagged slowly for awhile and then a little faster when the knowledge of the government crop report was disseminated. However, a majority of traders refused for some time to believes that there was any crop report, as it was generally understood that none would be issued before April 10. But the report came through the usual channels and bore internal evidence in its style of composition of its authenticity. Still there were doubters and more who questioned its accuracy. The fact that there were 10,000,000 bushels more wheat in farmers' hands than on March 1st, 1887, made so decided a change in the situation and was so far from the opinion generally held that it was not easily credited. The effect, however, was depressing and prices fell another because of it. But the bears were not pressing their advantage. The local scalpshorts had to "even up" Sunday, and the small decline for all recovered before Was neariy the close. Trade was at no time very large, and with the exception of some free selling supposed to be for New York account, early in the day, was largely local. May wheat opened at 80%c, advanced to 80%c, then gradually declined to 80%c with some recovery before the close, which was at 80% (@80%c. June wheat opened at Sic, sold up to Silde down to Solde and closed at 80% c.

The course of prices in the corn pit followed those in wheat very closely. There was a slight advance early, but this was followed by a continually sagging market until just before the close, when there was a little recovery. The government crop report, although it showed nearly 100,000,000 bushels less corn in farmers' hands than a year ago, was taken as a bear argument, the bear theory being that with prices so much higher and no greater shortage than thus indicated there was no reason for expecting higher prices. In fact, the report caused more weak-ness and a greater decline here than in wheat. Trade was not large, however, and the shorts taking their profits before the close caused some reaction. May corn close caused some reaction. May corn opened at 52%c, sold up early to 52%(@58c the gradually declined to above 52%c and later fell with great rapidity to 52%c, recovered a little at the last and closed at 52%(@52%c. June corn opened at 52%c sold up early to 52%c, declined to 52%c and closed at that price. osed at that price. The speculative oat market was dull and without special feature. Prices declined somewhat following the lead of the other grain markets. May oats opened at 311/c, sold up to 313 @31%c, down to 31%c and closed at 313 @31%c. June oats opened at 313 @33%c, sold down to 31% c and closed at 4(0315 c

In provisions the week closed with a strong market. From the opening to day the feel-ing favored the bull side, and in some instances higher prices prevailed. In a word, trade, if anything, exhibited an advancing turn, though lard and short ribs closed practurn, though lard and short ribs closed prac-tically unchanged as compared with last night's quotations. Pork sustained an ap-preciation of 25cc. Cash product was in better demand, and in a speculative way a fair activity was witnessed, especially during the morning. For May, the leading future, pack solid at 514 10021 (2014) as a 577 1000 the morning. For May, the leading 1014. pork sold at $14.10@14.2254; hard at $7.7254@ 7.75, and short ribs at $7.25@7.30. Pork for the same month closed at $14.1754, hard at abort ribs at $7.2734. March $7.72%, and short ribs at $7.77%. March pork was quoted at 12%c, March lard 5@73cc, and March short ribs 73%c under May, while June pork ranged at a premium of 23(@5c, Lung lard 5c and Lung thet for a premium of 23(@5c, Lung lard 5c and Lung thet for a premium of 25(@5c).

Burlington & Quincy has had a depressing effect on the wholesale trade of this city during the past ten days. While many orders from outside towns and the country have been received, the tie-up has rendered it impossible to fill those in that portion of the country accessible only by the lines of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy system, and much dissatisfaction has been expressed by country dealers at not being able to get their goods. Wholesale men in the city, however, are confident that when traffic is resumed a very large increase will be noted. The strike affects all grocers, dry goods men and agri-cultural implement dealers alike. Outside this the outlook is very good and the promise of an early spring and returning sunshine has had an encouraging effect. The credit of country storekeepers, to say nothing of jobbers, is in good shape-never was better, and this healthy state was better, and this healthy state has been brought about by that which hurts no one, promptness in making payments, Col-lections have been good since the first of the year and with few exceptions sales have been for cash. Retail dealers are doing a good business both in the city and country. All lines of produce which have been dull for some time are picking up and prices are im-proving as will be noted on reading the HER'S market reports. Staple lines of merchandise have been formally steady for some time and but little variation in prices has occurred. Previous to the Chicago Burlington & Quincy difficulty it was the intention of lumber merchants to change quotations and reduce prices somewhat, as it was confidently expected that rates would be uniformally lower on all lines of railroads. The strike, however, has changed matters somewhat and lumber is still quoted at the same rates. A general expectation exists that building this year will be very active in this city, and this year will be very active in this city, and while there is a bare possibility that the percentage of increase will not be as great as that of 1887 compared with 1886 it certainly will be large and afford an outlet for money, goods and labor. The real estate market is picking up rapidly, and notwithstanding the fact that it is yet early in the season for trad-ing and investing, sales are becoming very numerous. On the whole the outlook for all branches of legitimate business is very healthy, and readiness to handle the trade should be maintained by all live men in busishould be maintained by all live men in business. Exchanges from all parts of the state indicate a feeling of confidence and active determination, and with the fair prospects now in view there is no reason why Omaha should not this year enjoy a season of prosperity never before equalled.

the elements were against the movement and discase and severe storms decimated the vast herds. To-day about $12,000,000 worth of stock is locked up in Wall street for sale at 15 cents on the dollar, while the rest can be purchased in Chicago and Cincinnati at the same price. The New York Morning Journal says: "Wall street is in a most discouraging state. There is no way of telling from day to day how the market will open the next morning. Bulls have insisted and predicted that every-thing was at bed rock, and a change must necessarily mean higher prices. There have been practically no changes, however, except hose occurring during each day's trading Effort has been made in a feeble manner to revive speculation in securities that have been dormant, but ambition has halted and 500 the stocks laid quietly away after being toyed with a few hours." 750 The Banker's Monthly sums up Omaha's ousiness in a nutshell as follows: "A Busy City.-Omaha planted over 120,000,000 of brick in stores, bank buildings, packing houses and residences during the year 1887. The sales of Omaha's jobbing houses for twelve months foot up over $40,000,000. The stock yards have handled over 205,000 cattle stock yards have handled over 205,000 cattle and over 1,100,000 hogs. The smelting works, breweries, oil mills, distilleries, shot factory, lead works, foundries and muor industrial concerns have turned out over $20,000,000 of 400 products. The packing houses have slaughtered over 65,000 head of cattle, 875,000 hogs and 50,000 sheep, which were converted into meat product at a cost of over $13,000,000. The sales of Omaha wholesale grocers aggre-gate over $8,000,000 during the year. One 900 640 hundred and twenty-two passenger traing run in and out of Omaha every twenty-four hours. The national banks of Omaha have nours. The national banks of Omana have over $12,000,000 on deposit, and the clearings of these banks last year was very nearly $150,000,000. Over 7,000 skilled and unskilled workmen are employed in Omaha industrial establishments. In addition to these, over 2,000 laborers were employed last season in the Omaha brick yards. FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, March 10 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE.]-STOCKS-Stocks in London were firmer early, but weaker later. In Wall street an unsettled feeling prevailed, but the changes with few exceptions were small and mainly in favor of the bears. Reading and Lackawanna showed the most activity and strength, and New England the greatest weakness and decline, dropping 2 points on free selling induced by reports that 4.60 the company was in bad shape and would go into a receivers hand. Grangers were steady. as there is a prospect of restoration of rates March 26. The labor troubles, however, are far from being settled, and the character of advices received from the west, while quite assuring in many sections, were the reverse in others, one report being that the Atchisor engineers would strike if they were ordered to move Burlington freight. The gossip was that the New York Central would increase its dividend 1/4 per cent at the next meeting On the other hand it was also asserted that heavy liquidation had recently taken place in the Vanderbilts, and that unless the market was supported in better shape than of late a decline would follow. Friends of Lackawanna say the road is earning at the rate of 13 per cent per annum, that the road's reserve fund is larger than ever, and the stock is selling 20 points lower than when the coal trade was demoralized. The bank statement was expected to show a large decrease, but agreeably surprised everybody by only decreasing $1,257,400, against $2,455,725 the pre vious week. Deposits decreased $2,917,900 despite the large amounts received from the treasury. Total sales were 79,627 shares.

GOVERNMENTS - Government bonds were dull and steady.

A Good Thing.

Manchester Mirror: The Concord railroad has done a good thing in equipping its trains with medicine cases, which are of tin and contain remedies for almost any form of accident or sudden attacks of disease, with full direc-tions how to render first aid to the injured and briefly as to what should be done until the physician arrives, in emergencies calling for surgical aid. Among the appliances in the case are oil paper, cotton roller bandages, in three different widths. absorbent cotton and lint, rubber bandages, silk and wax, sponge, pins, adhesive plaster, isinglass plaster, catgut ligatures, scissors and forceps, needles, curved and straight, styptic cotton and safety pins
