The Senate Discusses Blair's Civil Service Measure.

UNWISE AND ILL-CONSIDERED.

Four Days Set For the Discussion of Labor Bills—The Lard Investigation

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Among the bills presented and referred in the senate to-day were the following:

To relieve the treasurer of the United States from the amount charged to him and deposited with the several states.

To encourage the holding of a national industrial exposition of the arts, mechanics and products of the colored race in the United States in 1888 and 1889.

To authorize the secretary of the treasury to apply the surplus money in the treasury to purchase United States bonds and to the payment of interest.

Providing that pensioners be rated according to the rank held at the time of discharge.

Mr. Blair, who yesterday introduced the bill giving preference for civil service appointments among men who have been disloyal during the war, to those who had served in the confederate army and who were suffering from wounds or disabilities, asked Mr. Platé, who had objected to second reading of bill, to withdraw his objection. Mr. Platé said he could not object to the bill being read a second time and referred to the committee. Mr. Blair said he had introduced the bill in entire good faith. He understood that in North Carolina alone there were to-day 20,000 ex-soldiers of the confederacy who had lost limbs in the service, and that a very large number of them were under circumstances which entitle him to that if the government under this administration or under any other administration gave appointments to men who had been disloyal the preference should be given to those who had served in the confederate army and were disabled by their wounds. The debate was continuing up to 2 o'clock, when the bill went over till to-morrow without action. Speeches were made by Senators Platé, Hale, Berry, Black, Hoard, Riddleberger, Hampton, George, Mansfield, Daniel and Hawley. The northern senators, while expressing the kindred feelings for the generosity of the philanthropy which had prompted the introduction of the bill, disclaimed all desire on the part of the ex-confederates for the passage of any such exceptional measure, but thought it was a matter of course that a formality of practice, the bill should be read a second time and referred. The northern senators were of one accord in condemning the measure as unwise and ill-considered.

The senate then took up the calendar, passed several bills, and, after executive session, adjourned.

House.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Mr. Enlow, of Tennessee, rising to a question of privilege, read a petition in favor of a bill to regulate the classification and compensation of postmasters. The petition, he said, was signed in response to a circular sent out by an attorney in this city. The circular named various members of congress as a reference, but he had learned that those references were fraudulent.

Mr. O'Neill, of Missouri, from the committee on labor, reported the bill to establish a department of labor. Committee of the whole. Also a bill to prevent the product of convict labor from being furnished to or used in any department of the government. Calendar.

Bills were reported for the erection of public buildings in St. Paul and Burlington. Committee of the whole.

Mr. Weaver of Iowa, introduced a bill providing for the issue of legal tender treasury notes in lieu of notes to be lost or destroyed. Reserved.

In the morning hour the house received the consideration of the resolution assigning four days for the transaction of business in council in voting the issuing of $100,000 in city bonds for paving and a like amount for the repair of streets and public buildings. The bill proposed to place $50,000 of the sum still further reduced last night to 15 per cent. The present indications are that the bill will be reported to the house in the early part of next week, although the committee has not formally directed a report to be made.

The Lard Investigation.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The manufacturers of refined lard opened their case before the house committee on agriculture this morning. James Matthews, one of the witnesses examined, testified that he had worked for six or seven years for Squires & Co. He said the firm made two kinds of lard, leaf and pure lard. The pure lard, he said, was made from hog's heads, hog's feet, rough lard and white grease. The white grease was made from guts and paunches. It was refined with soda and put in top of the lard. Seven or eight tiers of Squires' feet, hog's head and pure lard were purchased by Squires & Co., and mixed in with the pure lard.

Other witnesses corroborated this testimony as to the use of white grease in making lard in Squires' establishment. After considerable more testimony an adjournment was taken.

National Finances.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The senate committee on finance this morning amended the Aldrich bill "To authorize the secretary of the treasury to apply surplus money in payment of interest on the public debt," and ordered a favorable report upon it. The first section of the original bill authorizing the purchase of bonds with the surplus, is stricken out. The bill as it stands authorizes the treasurer to invest any 4 per cent bonds in exchange of 3½ per cent bonds payable at maturity of the 4 per cent and exempt from state or municipal taxation. The latter maintains it is pursuing the even tenor of its way undisturbed by the wars and rumors of wars on other roads, while the former express themselves satisfied with the situation and as confident of success as when the strike was called.

A Rumored Combination.

CHICAGO, March 20.—The features of the Burlington strike to-day was the rumored combination between the engineers and firemen and the 2,500 switchmen and brakemen employed on the road. Inquiry among brakemen and switchmen failed to authenticate the rumor, although they admitted having heard of it and declared that it consummation would mean certain defeat to the "Q" company. So far as actual combination of the brotherhood and "Q" was to be seen to-day, The latter maintains it is pursuing the even tenor of its way undisturbed by the wars and rumors of wars on other roads, while the former express themselves satisfied with the situation and as confident of success as when the strike was called.

Nothing New Locally.

There is absolutely nothing to say about the strike on the Burlington. The trains are claimed to be running regularly, and there is no hitch in the freight traffic. The Burlington officials claim that they have no fears of a general strike, and even if one should occur their road would be greatly benefited, as their freight receipts would be largely increased. They claim that Chief Arthur, of the brotherhood, will never order a strike if he lives up to his word. He has said that the issue was between the engineers and the Burlington, and that the engineers must win a victory or suffer defeat right there. The Burlington managers claimed that they have won, and that their victory is an overwhelming one. If the Union Pacific engineers strike the B. & M. will do the greater share of the business. Hence the tie-up on the former would not be disastrous to them in any way.

It was learned at the Union Pacific headquarters yesterday that the engineers have made no announcement as yet to what they intend to do.

A number of merchants were seen yesterday morning. Every one expressed sympathy with the strikers, but believed that they should act in a neutral and orderly manner, employing elsewhere. A tie-up on the Union Pacific would cause thousands of merchants to loose heavily and would create enmity for the engineers where now sympathy and friendliness exists. Said one of the prominent shippers: "I don't think the boys will strike the U.P." Power of the U.P. will be exercised each evening and will contain all of interest concerning the bazaar. Here, too, you will have an opportunity to buy visiting cards with your name printed on them, so that you will be able to have his card when you want it.

For instance, May will represent the flower booth, and here you'll find all the lovely flowers that "bloom in the spring," etc. Then the February booth will be showing the "Power of the Press," etc. Here, too, you will have an opportunity to buy visiting cards with your name printed on them, so that you will be able to have his card when you want it.

There were no changes in the local situation at the depots at midnight. Everything was reported running smoothly on the Union Pacific, and this statement was substantiated by the activity which switch engines and the men of the road displayed in the early hours of the day. The shanty which housed among freeholders was also evident among clerks and inspectors, who up to a late hour last night the committee had not returned to the hotel, and what action they decided upon is not known.

Filed Articles of Incorporation.

The incorporators are John R. Davis, Eliza Amelia Davis, of Neenah, Wis.; B. W. Davis, of Phillips, Wis.; Renfrew Stevenson, of Council Bluffs, Ia., and A. J. Whidden, of Omaha.

The following notice of the approach of another cold wave was received by Observer Chappell at 6 o'clock last night:

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 20.—To Observer, Omaha: Hoist cold wave signal. Temperature will fall from fifteen to twenty-five degrees by Thursday morning.

Army Orders.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Among the orders promulgated at the war department to-day were the following: Private George A. Kyser, company C, Second infantry, now with his company at Fort Omaha, is transferred to troop H, First cavalry, and will be sent to the station of that troop, Fort Assiniboin, Montana territory. The entire cost, transportation and subsistence attending this transfer will be charged against the soldier on the next muster and pay-roll of troop H, First cavalry.

Easton, company D, Ninth Iowa cavalry volunteers, October 19, 1865, is amended to date June 21, 1865, and he is mustered for pay in said grade during the period embraced be-

A Rumor Current That the Brakemen and Switchmen on the Burlington Will Join the Locomotive Men.

Resumption of Traffic.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., March 20.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The Central Iowa engineers returned to work at noon to-day. Fourteen freight trains were started from this station during the afternoon on the Central. The shop and office employees suspended during the strike are ordered to return to work. Towns on the Story City branch received their first mail to-night since Friday. The settlement of the strike between six representatives of the brotherhood, Recruit Dudley and a representative of the court. The terms of agreement are not known.

The Sixth Wreck.

CHESTON, Ia., March 20.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—An east-bound stock train ran against some cars standing on a side-track in the yards here this afternoon, knocking the cylinder heads and cab off the engine and upsetting three box-cars. This makes the sixth wreck happening between Charlton and Red Oak during the past five days. Two engines rasped against each other at a switch frog in the Creston yards Saturday night, disabling both. New engine men are now working freights and the local brotherhoods are holding three daily. The latter are enthusiastic over late news from Chicago, not yet made public.
