People to Be Saved From Vexatious Delays—Mason's Relatives Will Sue For Damages—About the City.

FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.

When the decision was recently made by the supreme court defining the law regarding foreign corporations in which it was held that they could not acquire right of way or title in the state, it was asserted by a number of representatives of a number of these roads that their next step would be to incorporate under the laws of the state. But the step has not yet been taken and their recent action indicates that the business was a bluff for passing things over as long as possible. Attorney General Leese, however, proposes that the roads shall incorporate and to this end quo warranto proceedings will be instituted in supreme court to compel their incorporation. When this is done employees and the public who may sustain injuries at the hands of the roads not incorporated, may have an opportunity to have their cases heard in the state court and it will leave the roads the claim of prejudice upon which to remove cases to the federal courts to wear out the litigants by long delays.

WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES.

Parties interested in Thomas Mason, the switchman killed in this city some two weeks ago, are in town and are arranging to commence damage proceedings against the company. Mason was killed while coupling cars for a switch engine of six days' experience. At the coroner's inquest, which was a very unsatisfactory affair, the jury decided that the killing was purely accidental. The testimony showed that the engineer had never run an engine before the strike commenced and that the man killed was a switchman of years of experience. The testimony to shield the engineer was in effect that he had never run an engine before the strike commenced and that the man killed was a switchman of years of experience. OLD FRIENDS MEET.

John Fitzgerald was enjoying a visit yesterday with Captain Barry, of San Francisco, whom he had not met before in many years. Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Barry were from the same county in Ireland, but when they came to this country they were separated and have since been in different parts of the Pacific coast in 1849 when his home has since been. Recently he has made some heavy purchases of Omaha property and his present visit is to look after some of his investments.

CITY ITEMS.

The management of the Funtke opera house has secured for the people of Lincoln an attraction of unusual merit. The attraction is the Booth-Barrett combination. These great tragedians appear in this city on the evening of April 12, at which time they present Julius Caesar and Manager McElroy will use every effort to have the engagement the most pronounced success in the history of the house. Arrangements will be made to secure special rates for the parties over the state who may desire to attend the greatest performance of the kind in the history of Lincoln.

Attachment suits have been filed against the firm of Friend & Co. in Justice Snelling's court by the following firms who claim they were not covered by the chattel mortgages on the stock: Brown & Patrick, Linder Bros., Worcester Carpet Co., Turner & Jay.

The real estate transfers in this city for the past week have maintained a daily average of nearly $50,000. While the statement
