A Detailed Account of the Storm's Injury to the Electric Wires.

HUNDREDS OF THEM PROSTRATE.

A Man Hires an Attorney to Defend His Enemy-Faulkner and His Private Game-Doings in the Courts.

The Storm's Work. The Deffects of the storm of Sunday were most noticeable yesterday on the various systems of wires in all parts of the city. In some places both wires and poles were snapped as if they had been made of paper-twine and pipe-stems. Where this peculiarity was not noticeable, the electric cords hung insulated in casings of crystal varying in thickness from, an eighth of an inch to an inch and a half. The effect was very pretty, and in some cases the crystal covering was broken into small particles, which clung to the metal with the appearance of large gems upon a mammoth necklace. The trees and limbs were also treated to an ley coat, and glistened in the dull light of the day with peculiar brilliancy above the snow which covered streets and walks and areas.

which covered streets and walks and areas.

WESTERN UNION.

This telegraph company experienced but little loss in the ccity. On nearly all the streets along which its lines enter and leave the city, the wires are supported by new and massive poles, capable of sustaining a great strain. It is reported that these stood the test very well, and that no damage has resulted from their breaking, though it is claimed that here and there some of the wires have been broken. The greatest loss sustained by the company was in Council Bluffs, where fifteen of the big poles between the Northwestern depot and Rock Island round house were broken in twain, and with them went the wires. Yesterday there was but one wire working as a consequence between this city and Chicago. At noon two more wires had been added, and a force of men consisting of all the line workers available were sent out been added, and a force of men consisting of all the line workers available were sent out in various parts of the country to make all the repairs found necessary. At the head-quarters in this city Superintendent Dickey said that the storm extended all through Iowa, as far west as Grand Island, north to St. Paul, and south to St. Joseph. The repairing of the lines was not easy in weather of this kind, but would be carried on as systematically and thoroughly as possible.

FIRE AND FOLICE WIRES.

The AND POLICE WIRES.

The police patrol wires, strange to say,
were nowise interferred with by the storm.

To all parts of the city they are in perfect working order, and Chief Operator O'Leary working order, and Chief Operator O'Leary says they have not been occasioned the slightest delay or interruption.

The fire alarm, however, was not so fortunate, as nearly a helf mile of their line, in different parts of the orty, were leveled with the ground by the breaking down of the telephone poles. On Dodge, between Twentieth and Twenty-fifth streets, the wires were all down, every pole but two having been prostrated by their icy weight. On Tenth, from Jackson to the suburbs, sad have was made with poles and wires. However, was made with poles and wires. However, all had been repaired, at least temporarily, the insulated wires having been fastened to convenient houses and treetops until perfect communication was again established. Chief Gallagan had a large force at work all day yesterday, and they never ceased their labors until their lines were all again in

A. D. T. STRIPPED.

The damage done to the wires of this company was the greatest ever experienced by it. On Howard and Dodge streets its lines are prostrated and in many places broken into short stretches. On Twentieth street north from Dodge the lines and poles up to north from Dodge the liues and poles up to Chicago are on the ground, and many of the latter are broken into kindling wood, large, stout timbers being reduced to four and five fragments. On Fifth and Pacific streets there is a tall pole supporting the lines which run to the distillery and beyond. This is braced by a massive pole set at an acute angle against it. The brace is about as thick as the body of a good-stad man. The negrenolism rule stood the sized man. The perpendicular pole stood the storm without a crack, but, strange to say, the brace was broken in two at a point about six feet away from the pole. Yesterday morning at the lower Tenth street railroad crossing the wires dropped very low and for a time hung suspended over the track. A crossing the wires dropped very low and for a time hung suspended over the track. A freight engine, however, came down the track at the usual speed and by this time the wires had dropped so low that a number of them were struck by the smokestack of the locomotive and sent flying backwards and forwards at a very lively rate for some minutes. All the poles in the immediate vicinity were broken and some of them have not yet been repaired. The company has eight circuits in the city and at noon to-day only four of these were in working order. Yesterday there were but three in condition. Since the cossation of the storm, J. Donnelly, Since the cessation of the storm, J. Donnelly ir., has had at work making repairs all the linemen he could find in the city. He does not know when the repairs will be completed. It will depend, he says, upon the weather, but if a blow should now come down from the north with more cold the delay would be considerable.

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY.

"The last storm," said one of the telephone people yesterday to a Bee reporter, "cost us $2,000. This one will cost much more. It is the biggest one we have ever had, and we don't want any more like it." The young man stood at the corner of Twentieth and Dodge streets, in the vicinity of which the heavy broken poles, above referred to, are located. He said that about one hundred and eighty of their city subscribers would be cut off temporarily from connection with the cenoff temporarily from connection with the central office, exclusive of about twenty-five in South Omaha and about twenty others scattered in various parts of the city. It may take two weeks in which to repair the daments statistical

Nearly all of the trains on the several roads entering Omaha were behind time from one to four hours yesterday In almost every case the trouble was the result almost every case the trouble was the result of obstructions which the high wind of Saturday and Sunday had blown upon the track. The telegraphic service on the B. & M., its branches and the Union Pacific is greatly impaired. A large gang of linemen were sent out from this city yesterday in all directions.

A SURE-THING SNAP. Faulkner, One of Its Operators,

Bound Over. James Faulkner, an expert short card man, who has been lounging around the city for the past several months, and who was arrested Sunday charged with robbing E. F. Owens of $810 in a skin game of poker in the basement of John King's saloon on Thirteenth street, was arraigned yesterday, and bound over to the district court in the sum of $500. This bond he was unable to give and was remanded to jail. Owens, the complainant, who was so systematically fleeced, said if he had been himself at all, he would certainly have pulled out of the game long before he did. He said it was the boldest case of robbery he ever heard of and he saw it going right on before his very eyes, but the influences of the inquor ne drank was of such a character that he was powerless it seemed. He is thoroughly convinced that he was drugged, and that he was to have been robbed one way or another, it made no difference just so the thieves into whose hands he had just so the thieves into whose hands he had fallen got his money. Faulkner, on the other hand, says Owens himself is a skin-gambler and sure thing man, and that he only got a sample of the same medicine he has administered to thousands of the unsophisticated and unwary. The other two men engaged in the game, John King himself and Johnny Thompson, have not been heard of since the night of the occurrence, and the supposition is that they have jumped the city.

BENCH AND BAR. District Court.

The entire space inside the rail of the lasin district court room was filled with attorneys. Many motions of minor importance were made and acted upon. The docket for the present week was called. The most impor-

This will be a test case to determine first whether the district court has jurisdiction, and if so whether the case should not have been brought against the receiver of the company. There are seven cases to be decided by the trial of

ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE. William Ferguson, the colored youth who killed Olie Olson on the night of February 15 in Montgomery & Adams' saloon was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Groff. The prisoner is charged with murder in the first degree.

It was just 10 o'clock when Ferguson was brought into court. He took his seat immediately behind Messrs. Mahoney and Duffy, who were appointed to defend him. The air who were appointed to defend him. The air of sulienness which has characterized the appearance of the prisoner since his arrest was more noticeable than ever yesterday. He does not even realize the danger that he is in, and throughout the morning session sat with downcast eyes. Only once did he betray any interest, and that was when County Atterney Simeral laid the rifle down on the table directly in front of the prisoner. Fargusan rectly in front of the prisoner. Ferguson gave a sharp, scared look at the weapon, and then relapsed into his former apathetic state. The entire morning session was taken up in selecting a jury. The regular panel was exhausted, two of those called being dismissed for cause. Both the state and defense took advantage of all the peremptory challeges allowed them.

About three o'clock twelve men satisfac-About three o'clock twelve men satisfactory to both sides were procured, and took their seats in the box as follows: Ed. O'Sullivan, Daniel Yates, Henry B. Hunt, Frank McKenna, Peter McCaffery, James Pollard, Thomas Casey, John M. Heth, W. A. Kelley, E. C. Cooper, Adolph Sudan and P. J. McQuillen. The prisoner took his seat behind his attornies. After hearing the testimony of Holmes, the porter at the saloon, Dr. Wheeler, who attended the victum, Mr. Montgomery, one of the proprietors of the saloon, Policeman White, Charles Hilber, Alfred Smith and Edward R. Hoffman, the court adjourned until this morning.

BOUGHT THE WRONG LOTS.

David Anderson and William S. Cook, real estate brokers, were instructed by Anna D. Ambrose to buy certain lots in South Omaha at $2,800, and she gave them $1,300 to secure the first payment. Now she says she discovers that they invested the money in other real estate than that selected by her, and in consequence she feels that she has been damaged in the sum of $1,500, in which amount she asks judgment.

Police Court. ANDY AND ANTHONY.

Anthony Finley, a very emeral country boy, was arrested Sunday evening while in a state of beastly intoxication. FREDDIE MAKES A NARROW ESCAPE.

Freddie Sessions is a handsome little fellow of eleven, and, besides being handsome, Freddie is very naughty. He won't mind his ma, and runs away from home, sells papers and stays out all night, and does various other things that he is not taught in Sunday school. In consequence, Mrs. Sessions wants him sent to the reform school, and this would probably have been done hadn't Freddie made such a good impression upon the court by his voluminous promises of reformation.

TORIN.

The remains of P. H. Tobin, of this city, who died on Saturday last, were yesterday forwarded to Beloit, Wis., where the deceased formerly resided.

A Needy Family.

A well known citizen of Omaha writes to he BEE to state that there is a case of suffering and want which should be attended to at once by county authorities and the charitable societies. On Fifteenth street near the alley north of Williams lives a family named Toma, consisting of husband, a wife jus confined and four children, in abject poverty. The husband was unable to find employment and has not carned anything for six months. By the kindness of the owner he is permitted to occupy the room without paying rent, while many of the neighbors have given as much assistance as lay in their power. The family is in need of food and fuel.

Tascott Redivious.

The docket for the present week was called. The most importance were millionaire Snell at Chicago some months since, is in that village, and asks that the chief comes out and investigate the matter.

A PECULIAR CASE. Swan Thurson Hires a Lawyer to Defend His Enemy. A peculiar case came up in the police court yesterday that of Swan Thurson against August Nelson, charging him with having stolen a $30 ring from him at his boarding house, 1922 Cuming street. Nelson was ar rested Saturday evening by Officer Sigwart on South Tenth street while endeavoring to sell the ring. Failing to give a satisfacaccount of himself, he was tory account of himself, he was run in. Sunday afternoon Thurson called at the police station and said that the ring was his and that Nelson went into his room at his bearding bouse and stole it from a dressing case drawer. He said, however, that Nelson was a friend of his and that he did not desire to prosecute him, all he wanted was his ring back. Yesterday Nelson's trial came up, with Lawyer Shea defending him. The policeman who arrested him said he was slightly intoxicated at the time of arrest. Thurson then took the stand and he essayed in every imaginable way to excuse the man whom he had charged with robbing him. He said he was drunk at the time that he committed the theft, that he was honest and industrious, and that he was willing to loan him money or trust him with anything he had. All this, however, on top of the fact that Thurson had hired the lawyer to defend the man who had wronged him, did not convince the court that Nelson had not wilfully and intentionally committed the crime, and he fined him $15 and costs. This Thurson paid, and he and Nelson left the station togother, amidst the smiles of the court, the officers and lookers-on.

A Perambulating Arsenal.

Frank Scott, a tough-looking customer swaggered into the central station at a late hour Sunday night, and asked permission to remain there until morning. Being a person of suspicious aspect the, jailor concluded to search him before granting his request. This proposition was indignantly resented by Mr. Scott, whereat the jailor became all the more determined, and to further his designs he placed Scott under arrest as a suspicious character. He was then carefully searched, and in addition to a very suspicious bunch of keys, an ugly butcher-knife, a revolver, pair of knuckles and a dirk were taken from him. This opera-tion over, Scott was unceremoniously hustled into a cell. Yesterday he stood up before the court and made a futile attempt to explain why he was going about so heavily armed. He was given fifteen days over the hill, and his arsenal confiscated.

Mr. Webber's Accident. Jonas Webber, who owns a farm some nine miles south of this city, starts early vesterday morning for Omaha. It was still dark, but the road was in good enough condition to allow his well-shod team to trot along at a good gait. The telephone wire crosses the road about three miles north of his house and the ice had made it sag to within about six fect of the earth. It was so dark that Mr. Webber failed to see it and he was caught under the chin. The shock threw him from the wagon and the team ran away. Mr. Webber was found by a neighbor shortly afterward. He was unconscious and his throat was badly cut. The unfortunate man was carried into a house and a messenger dispatched for medical attendance. The horses were found about a mile from the

WHAT IT IS DOING.

The Great Remedy for Pain is a wonder surely, but it is the result only of true medical science and research. Such a discovery had a right to promise cure—it has cured wherever used as directed. Founded upon the intrinsic ment of each element which, in combination, proved to be the perfection of cure, its virtues made it what it is.

Every Man, Woman and Child in the United States knows its name and names it as a remedy which should be in every house, for every home knows its value. As a sterling comforter, the truest relief,

It Belongs to the Universe. Canada took it up, and in every province it is the standard cure. It crossed the ocean, on demand, and alike in Scotland, England and Ireland, in the extremes of climate and temperature, it is the same sovereign Conqueror of Pain. Distinguished men and physicians of South and Central America have used and recommend it, and street-criers have sung its praise in verse on the streets of Mexico. A member of

The South African Parliament praised it in open debate, and the same was done by a U. S. Senator. In India it won its first golden medal at the Calcutta Exposition, where expert chemists and physicians awarded it its due, and by right it has won in all similar competitions. One of the most distinguished scholars of Germany thought it his duty to praise it, and such has been its meed from Prelates, Potentates and the Press. A distinguished traveler comments upon its use in Egypt. It was the comforter and cure of the lost, half frozen explorers among

The Icebergs of the Arctic Seas.

It found its place in the knapsacks of the British soldiers in the Soudan, and it is a permanent supply to the medicine chests of her Majesty's war ships.

This would seem enough to show what it is doing, but one other potent fact can't be disregarded. Another continent has been captured and it has taken possession of the trade there. In one shipment upon one order from Australia 500 gross were delivered. It holds its own as the best known remedy of the age for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica and all painful ailments. And what it is doing now specifically is that it is receiving from nearly all its patrons statements that the pains cured by its healing virtues, from the date of cure to the date of the response, embracing a lapse of years, remain Permanent without Recurrence.
