

THE DAILY BEE COUNCIL BLUFFS, OFFICE, NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

Delivered by Carrier in Any Part of the City at Twenty Cents Per Week. H. W. TILTON, MANAGER.

RECEIVED OFFICE, No. 43, NIGHT EDITOR, N. B. B.

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. New spring goods at Reiter's. The greatest mind-reader has arrived.

Wanted—A good harness maker, at once, by Theo. Beckman, 205 Main street. Twin burner gasoline stove needs no repairs.

The Acme club will have a social at the residence of Mr. George Keeline, on Glen avenue, Thursday evening. John Lamson was found by the police yesterday drunk and asleep in the dummy depot.

It is reported that Mr. Meyers has sold out the Opera House saloon to John Dunn, and the latter takes possession to-day. This evening Company A, Fifth regiment, I. N. G., will hold a drill meeting, and hereafter will continue to do so each week.

The Congregational church was crowded last evening, and over one hundred people were unable to obtain admission, and were forced to go elsewhere. The marble tiles for the office floor of the new Ogden are on the road, and will reach here so that the work of laying them will probably commence to-morrow.

S. A. Pierce & Co. are going to enlarge their boot and shoe store by taking down the partition in the rear and taking in the room formerly occupied by H. L. Oberholzer. A couple of "tin-horn" gamblers with female partners made themselves conspicuous on Broadway by driving at a rapid rate up and down that much frequented thoroughfare.

Thirty-five pupils from the institution for the deaf and dumb attended the Easter services at the Congregational church yesterday morning, and Professor McDermid acted as interpreter for them. The city council meets this afternoon to make the appointments of chiefs in the police and fire departments for the coming year.

It is reported that enough charter members have been secured to establish a chapter of the Northwestern Legion of Honor in this city, and Deputy Minkler will organize it and install the officers in a few days. The annual election of members of the registry of St. Paul's parish will be held in the church this evening. All persons, both ladies and gentlemen, who are members of the congregation, are qualified voters.

A full attendance is desired. Ed. Mose and Frank Jones were arrested Saturday night for disturbing the peace at Dresbach's hall, during the progress of a dance. Mode claims a pressman on the Nonpareil, but Jones has not yet decided as to his business. It is thought both gave fictitious names.

The race at the rink Saturday night between F. E. Vandenburg and F. J. Breeze was won by the latter. The hall measures thirty laps to the mile, and Breeze had to make ten laps. Three heats were contested, and Breeze won two of them. The race is to be repeated in the exposition building in Omaha, and Vandenburg expects to win.

The latest application of the installment plan was tried on J. C. Mitchell, the local ticket agent of the Northwestern railroad company, one day in his business as a business man of this city, who, in the simplicity of his heart, tried to buy a ticket to Chicago on monthly payments. The plan failed to work, however, and he would be purchaser still remains at home.

The members of the Young Men's Democratic club will hold a meeting in their rooms in the opera house block, Tuesday evening. The report of the committee regarding the attendance as a body at the national convention at St. Louis will be read and acted upon. A new constitution and by-laws for the government of the club during the coming campaign will also be adopted.

The Chautauque circle meets this evening. Everybody, whether members or not, welcome. To-night's program embraces, in addition to literature, plant life, bones and muscles, and other topics of interest. Even those not pursuing the regular course can get much information from these gatherings, and no more pleasant or profitable way of spending the evening can be offered.

Miss Maggie Stuart, who died recently at the home of her mother in Kentucky, was formerly connected with the Congregational church and Sunday school of this city with her parents. Appropriate services were held yesterday by which committees will send a letter of condolence to the bereaved parents suitable expressions of sympathy and sorrow felt by the many friends of the family.

Peoria cook stoves for wood or coal. Satisfaction guaranteed. Glasgow & Caldwell. Money at low rates on first-class farm security. Burnham, Tully & Co., 102 Main street.

For all female diseases consult Drs. Moser & Van Ness, opera house block, rooms 4 and 5, Council Bluffs. Correspondence solicited. Noblist styles in spring overcoats at John Beno & Co.'s.

Pupils Recital. The music students of Prof. Bartens will give their first recital at Mueller's music hall, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The following programme will be rendered: Miss Pearl Chamberlain will play "Woeber's Rondo Brilliant," also a sonata of Mozart's. The Misses Palmer will sing Mendelssohn's "I Would," and Kucken's "When the Swallows and the Mayflowers." Miss Blanche Marton will sing Gumbert's "Why do I love thee?"

The "Strik en Blaustud" club, Messrs. Frank Badollet, Perry Badollet and Gilbert Brooks, will also appear in several selections. A full line of crockery and glassware at Lund Bros., No. 23 Main street.

Union Abstract company, 236 Main street. E. H. Sheafe loans money on chattel security of every description. Private consulting rooms. All business strictly confidential. Office 500 Broadway, corner Main street, up-stairs.

Travelers! Stop at the Bechteloe. Piles cured with certainty. Drs. Moser & Van Ness, Council Bluffs, Ia. Latest novelties in the Star shirt waists at John Beno & Co.'s.

Ah There! Look Now. The finest line of spring suitings ever shown in the city. Few patterns and splendid goods. All by an elegant line of pant patterns at reduced prices. Come and see. A. Reiter, 310 Broadway.

Receiver Gault. Judge Love, of the United States circuit court for the southern district of Iowa, now in session in this city, has appointed Mr. Frank M. Gault receiver of the Clarinda & St. Louis railway. The road is a branch of the Omaha & St. Louis, and runs from Clarinda to Roseberry. Mr. Gault has been general agent of the Warsaw at the place for some time, and is probably better fitted to act in the capacity of receiver than any other man in the employ of the company. He filed his bonds immediately after receiving his appointment, and entered upon the discharge of his duties at once.

Remember that Robinson's domestic bread, if not the cheapest, is the best bread in the market. Leave your order and address at 10 Main st., and try it. Lost an Irish setter dog, very large, red in color. Return to A. Reiter, 310 Broadway and receive reward.

New City Directories. Changes in residences or business can be made by addressing D. C. Dunbar & Co., Omaha.

THE FETE OF FAIR FLOWERS.

They Abound in the Churches With Much Music and Oratory.

A QUEER LEGAL QUESTION.

The Crawford Trial Stopped By a Snag—F. M. Gault Made a Railway Receiver—A Pinkerton Founded.

Easter in the Churches. Yesterday was observed by the churches in a much more elaborate manner than usual even. There were more Council Bluffs attendants upon the services of the sanctuaries than on any previous Sunday for a year.

BROADWAY METHODIST. Broadway Methodist church was crowded to the doors with an attentive and interested congregation. The auditorium was beautifully decorated. The altar was a mass of flowers, both potted and cut, and above the arch was this motto in evergreen: "Now is Christ Risen From the Dead." The effect of the whole was most pleasing. The sermon was by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Rees, from the text, "I am He that liveth and was dead, and I am alive forevermore, and have the keys of hell and death," and from it so much pertinent and timely counsel was drawn. The world ordinarily pays little heed to the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead. The occurrence of the Easter season and the hour of death are facts which bring it forcibly to the mind. The thoughts that appertain in this connection are woven into the greatest events of life. Our faith is rested on the well authenticated facts, the "I am" and "Jehovah" of the old testament are the Christ of the new testament. The life of Christ is a continuous whole, into which death came by His consent that He might be brought into closer sympathy with mankind. The thought of the text is that we are to consider Christ not a dead, but a living Christ. The need of the world is, rest. It can be secured in Christ alone.

The observance and celebration of the day was in the evening service, which was especially prepared for the Sunday schools of this denomination by the Rev. W. T. Smith. The following excellent programme was rendered: Easter Anthem.....Choir. Song.....By the School. Prayer.....By the Pastor. Responsive Reading.....Led by Mr. Coker. Introductory Address.....Clayton Lyons. Declaration.....The Victory. Responsive Reading.....Mr. Fleming. Recitation.....Led by Supt. L. W. Tully. Recitation.....Dottie McNaughton. Declaration....."Easter." Hattie Rees. Reading—"Easter Sabbath for Children's Missionary Day." W. B. Paulson. Address.....By Rev. W. H. Rees. Responsive Service.....Led by Mr. Tully. Every portion of the above was carefully prepared and excellently rendered. The different parts were so conceived and rendered that the grand lessons of the day were most eloquently told.

ST. PETER'S CATHOLIC. The services at St. Peter's Catholic church were conducted by the Rev. Father Adolph Wesseling. These were opened by the children of the Sunday school at 9 o'clock a. m. The usual Sunday school exercises were held at 2 p. m. were combined in the morning choral service. At 10:30 the pastor preached from the text: "If Christ be not risen our faith is vain." The fact of the resurrection of Christ was first established. Then he developed the following points: It is the destiny of man to die. No one merely human has lived who ever returned to this life. We may rejoice that at least one, the God-man, has died and risen again to live forever, and die no more. He exhibits the points of view of Christ and the life of the Christian are alike. As Christ suffered on Good Friday, the death of the cross, so must each individual suffer and die. The resurrection of Christ gives us assurance of our resurrection. These are separated. The earth will be reunited above, where the seal of immortality shall be affixed upon the souls of the saved, but those who do wickedly shall be resurrected to judgment.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIERS. Easter day was appropriately observed at St. Francis Xavier's church. The usual services were somewhat elaborated and appropriate music rendered. The 6 and 8 o'clock a. m. masses were said by Father McMenomy and the 10 o'clock mass was said by Father Haley, the assistant parish priest. The sermon by Father Haley was in keeping with the occasion. The music was rendered by a choir of twelve voices, and the organ accompaniment was excellent. The altar was decorated with flowers and palms in abundance. There were three white doves suspended over the altar platform. The interior of the church was decorated with flowers and palms. On each side of the church a beautiful banner. These were of red, with borders and letterings of silver. One was in the nature of a Greek cross, and the other words, "The Lord is Risen." On the other was "Christ, the Prince of Peace." These ornaments were the work of Mr. F. F. Haley, who showed much taste and skill in them.

THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. The Congregational church was filled at each of the services yesterday. The interior of the church was beautifully decorated with flowers and palms. The pulpit appeared in the center of a sumptuous bower. There were stands of potted plants, vines and ferns, arranged very pleasingly, and a large number of bouquets of Easter lilies and callas were in abundance. There were three white doves suspended over the altar platform. The interior of the church was decorated with flowers and palms. On each side of the church a beautiful banner. These were of red, with borders and letterings of silver. One was in the nature of a Greek cross, and the other words, "The Lord is Risen." On the other was "Christ, the Prince of Peace." These ornaments were the work of Mr. F. F. Haley, who showed much taste and skill in them.

THE MUSICAL FEATURES OF THE SERVICES were especially fine. The quartette, which consisted of four voices, is one of the best in the west. It consists of Mrs. Wadsworth, Mrs. Evans, Mr. Wesscott and Mr. McDermid. Mr. De Norman, the organist, was unable to play, which was a sore disappointment, but fortunately Mrs. Bruce Howe was secured and substituted. The anthems that were rendered were grandly rendered. Mrs. Wadsworth and Mrs. Evans gave solos and duets charmingly, although Mrs. Wadsworth was so unwell that she could not do herself justice. Mr. Wesscott gave a very pleasing tenor solo in the nature of a sacred concert, and was thoroughly enjoyable. Besides the musical numbers there were recitations by Miss Laura Smith and by some of the little girls. The Sunday school service yesterday was a unique and pleasing one. The chief feature was the presentation of emblems which Christ has been likened. One, for instance, was bread, illustrative of such passages as "I am the bread of life." Each class had some emblem and each presented it, with appropriate quotations of scripture, recitations, or songs. As one after another of these emblems was presented they were placed upon a cross, and all completed the pleasing decorations of the church.

Little Belle Snyder and Meda Kirland gave a very pleasing duet, Carrie Schenck and Etta Schenck gave a very pleasing duet, and were very creditable. Among the emblems thus brought out were the lamb, the sheep, the dove, the corn, the bread, rock, plant, grass, wood, dove, a nail, crown, water, a light, a child, etc.

Most of the credit for the arrangement of the Sunday school exercises was due to Miss Ida Wallace, in addition to the efforts of the superintendent, Arthur Cowie. The morning services by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Greffs, was from the text, "Then were his disciples glad, when they saw the Lord." ST. PAUL'S METHODIST. There was never such a gathering in the history of the parish as that which took place at St. Paul's church yesterday morning. Every seat was taken, chairs were placed in the aisles, and every available nook and corner was occupied, and still there were many who could not be accommodated. In the evening the congregation was fully as large. The decorations were beautiful and elaborate. There was a profusion of flowers, and the cut flowers were abundant both in decorations and in designs. Easter lilies were the conspicuous feature. The altar and in front there appeared a large and beautiful wreath in which roses were prominent. It was the offering of Mrs. Key. The offering of the superintendent was a beautiful cross, the offering of Mrs. F. T. Webb, wife of the former rector. The elegantly carved pulpit, the memorial of Robert Percival, was elaborately decorated with sunflowers, roses and Easter lilies, and in front of it was a pendant wreath, placed there by Mrs. H. C. Joslin, in memory of her husband. The baptismal font supported a mound of ferns and grasses, with brightly colored flowers. In front of the lectern was a beautiful white cross, made partly of primroses, the gift of Mrs. Casper, whose skill and taste as a florist was manifest in other features of the beautiful decorations. Mrs. Mackey, wife of the rector, deserves special recognition for the time, thought and attention which she devoted to the work of decorating the church, and also for the care she took in preserving the flowers, so as to keep them fresh, and the church being necessarily warm.

The Stewart memorial window was beautifully decorated. At its base was a bank of sunflowers and evergreens, with callas and Easter lilies. The callas were the largest and finest ever seen here. They were brought from Massachusetts, and were wonderful in size and beauty. The McKee memorial window was also pleasingly adorned, sunflowers being entwined about it and caught up with cut flowers, the whole presenting a very pleasing effect. The services were appropriate to the day. Special preparation was made for this in the form of a special offertory, the offertory organist, Mrs. Judd, the soprano, Mr. Traynor and others, with the boys' choir.

In connection with the morning service Rev. Mr. Mackey preached an excellent sermon, his text being Joshua, III-11: "Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth passeth over before you into Jordan." In the afternoon the Sunday school met. The most interesting feature of this gathering consisted in the recitation of the Lord's prayer, which the little folks had been gathering up their offerings. The total amount of the offerings was over $150, which will be placed in the hands of the trustees for the work in Lent, indicated by the amount of the offerings. Dall Smith was awarded the George Gavin the second and Olin Mackey the third.

In the evening there was an Easter choral service, in which some very choice music was grandly rendered. THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH. The floral decorations at the Baptist church consisted of lilies and palms in full bloom, with which the entire front par of the church, as well as the immediate vicinity of the altar, were completely filled. The effect was most pleasing and impressive. The morning service Rev. Dr. Cooley discoursed on "The Power of Resurrection." The attendance was very large, and the impression of the sermon of the pastor was listened to with the closest attention. In the evening the children of the Sunday school gave a finely rendered Easter concert.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. At the Presbyterian church the floral display was very beautiful. The flowers in rich profusion surrounded the altar, and together with the potted plants, produced a most pleasing effect. Rev. Dr. Ewing, professor of theology in the theological seminary at Salt Lake, Utah, preached in the morning to a very large congregation, and gave many interesting facts in regard to the life and character of the East Indian. In the evening Dr. Phelps, the pastor, preached on "Easter and Its Associations." The music furnished at both services was especially pleasing to the ear, and the numerous selections were most artistically rendered.

Gasoline stoves repaired and warranted. Glasgow & Caldwell, 122 Broadway. Call and see the newest styles of boys' knee and knit suits at John Beno & Co.'s. S. B. Wadsworth & Co. loan money.

Found a Pinkerton. H. D. Knight, a painter and panographer, was stopped as he was passing up Sixteenth avenue to the office of the Consolidated Tank Line company, where he had some work to do, on Saturday afternoon by a Pinkerton official in the employ of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. The man insisted that Knight should not cross the "Q" yards, although the street runs directly through it. Knight called attention to his passport and tried to convince the officer that he was not a striker, but the officer would not listen to arguments, and finally Knight tapped him on the nose and sent him sprawling on the ground. Knight was hurried away by two engineers who saw the occurrence to their headquarters to prevent his arrest. The only injury he sustained was a bruised hand and strained wrist. The officer's injuries consisted of a disfigured countenance and severely offended dignity, but time will heal both.

A Queer Question. The last case called in the United States court Saturday afternoon was that of Crawford, charged with embezzling a registered letter which came into his possession as one of the postal clerks at the transfer. After the jury was impaneled and the trial was about to proceed, it was discovered that one of the jury had served on the grand jury which indicted Crawford, and was therefore deemed unqualified to serve on the jury to try him. The prosecution wanted the jury discharged and a new jury impaneled, but the defense insisted that this would be illegal, as it would place Crawford a second time in jeopardy. Judge Love concluded to continue the case until the next term, and give time for pleadings and a return on the points involved by this complication.

Personal Paragraphs. Miss Kate Larimer, of Omaha, is visiting with Miss Kate Pusey. James Amy, of Missouri Valley, Sundayed with relatives in this city. Mrs. George L. Smith, of Lincoln, is visiting friends in this city. Miss Holbrook, of Missouri Valley, is visiting at the residence of Judge Casaday.

D. O. Finch, United States district attorney, returned to Des Moines, Saturday evening. Dr. Gurney, of Keosauqua, is in the city, looking after his extensive real estate interests. Miss Bessie Huntington returned home yesterday from a week's visit with Miss Ball, of Omaha.

James Wild and wife have returned to their home in this city, after spending the winter on the Pacific coast. E. W. Haines hobbles carefully around on crutches as the result of an unsuccessful wrestle with a piano. K. A. Norling, the fresco artist, has returned from Nebraska City, having completed the decorating of the St. Benedictine Catholic church there.

Frank Chamberlain, of this city, has secured his connection with the wholesale hardware firm of Reister, Wilcox & Co., of Omaha, and will enter upon the study of law with the firm of Stone & Sims, of this city. Mrs. P. G. Mikesell and daughter Anna have returned from a week's visit at Fremont, Neb. Miss Anna participated in the proceedings of the institute while there, and gives a very favorable account of the work done.

Miss Linda Anna Barrett died last evening about 11 o'clock at her home, 1119 Third avenue, of consumption. Notice of the funeral will be made hereafter. See notice to builders. Another column.

The Bell Telephone's Legal Fees. Boston Herald: What a mine of wealth the Bell telephone company has been for the legal profession! It is generally understood that their principal counsel, Mr. Stevens, of this city, and Mr. Dickinson, of New York, who probably rank first among the patent attorneys of this country, have been paid $50,000 a year for their services. Indeed, Mr. Dickinson is said to have received that amount for his arguments before the Bell company before the United States supreme court. Hon. Roscoe Conkling and Hon. Joseph E. McDonald are also said to have received very liberal retainers annually. There has been, besides, a large number of special counsel retained in the various legal complications in which the company has been involved, so that altogether the legal expenses have amounted frequently to $250,000 a year—an amount equal to the entire operating expenses of the present company.

Thou, of course, the various companies which have been contending the Bell claim to priority have drawn heavily upon the services of the legal profession, with ample retainers. Whether the decision of the supreme court in favor of the Bell company will put an end to law suits for a while remains to be seen. It would not be surprising, however, to see the legal expenses considerably reduced.

Romance and Reality. New York Journal: It is nearly eleven years ago that the engagement of Miss Carrie May to Mr. James Gordon Bennett was announced. Then it was suddenly broken off. Mr. Bennett went to Europe, and with little intermission has lived there since. William Wright, a good-looking boy of good family without a sou and with no faculty for making one. Then followed a wretched period of poverty and dependence, and at last Mrs. Wright returned with her children to her father's house in Washington, where she has been living so quietly that people here had almost forgotten her existence until she came to town a few days ago on a visit.

She is the most beautiful woman in New York to-day. Her cares, sorrows and disappointments have simply subdued a beauty that at one time threatened to become too exuberant. She has been received with open arms and honored and feted like one restored from the grave. Her husband lives in Florida, and Mrs. Wright's friends hope he will remain.
