

THE SUNDAY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS, OFFICE, NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

Delivered by Carrier in Any Part of the City at 7 CENTS PER COPY. H. W. TILTON, MANAGER.

TELEPHONE: 12. BUSINESS OFFICE, No. 12. NIGHT EDITOR, No. 24.

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. New spring goods at Heller's.

The ladies of the Unity Guild are arranging to have a lunch and dining hall open on Decoration day.

Unity Guild will hold a social with Mrs. Bunyan, on South Madison street, next Wednesday evening.

J. G. Tipton, the real estate broker, is kept on the jump since the fine weather opened up, and reports a number of sales.

Colorado and West Virginia coal and best Marble Head line at Council Bluffs Lumber company, 900 Main street. Tel. No. 257.

H. J. and J. P. McGee yesterday sold to J. Shea, the property known as the Deane residence, corner of Fifth avenue and Eighth street, the consideration being $6,000.

The directors of the Washah held a meeting in New York during the first week in May, at which time the successor of the late President McKissock will be chosen.

George, the three-year-old son of John Lannan, died yesterday morning of diphtheria. The funeral will take place to-morrow from the residence, 1116 Eighth avenue.

Ground was broken yesterday for the new residence of J. J. Steadman on Oakland street, the building to be a very handsome affair, as is all the work of Messrs. Allen & Hill.

Complaint is made that some of the curbing put in within the past year is in a ready crumbling. The contractors should certainly be compelled to put in curbing which will last longer than that.

J. G. Tipton makes a deal with Omaha parties yesterday, disposing of a forty acre tract near this city. Several Omahans are placing their money on this side of the river, thus making a practical proof of their faith in the future of this city.

F. M. Gault, of this city, is one of those talked of as a probable successor to the late Manager McKissock of the Council Bluffs & St. Louis railway. Such a recognition of his ability would be very gratifying to his many friends here.

The grand jury yesterday finished its business and adjourned. Among those indicted were Charles Brown for burglary; George Gerspacher for assault with intent to do bodily injury; John Grant, alias Kane, for a confidence game.

Yesterday was motion day in the district court. There was little even of this, and adjournment was taken about 3 o'clock in the afternoon until Monday morning. If there are no civil cases then ready for trial two or three criminal cases will be tried.

The alderman called up on streets and alleys was yesterday around on a tour of inspection. They did not drive through the alley between Main and Pearl streets, just south of Broadway. They declare that the alleys must be cleaned up, and that the marshal is the one who should do it.

The contract for putting up the smoke stack at the new government building, has been let to John Epeneter. The tower has become so blackened by the soft coal smoke from the chimney that it matters little now whether the smoke is white or black.

Mr. George W. Thompson has received the sad intelligence of the death of his sister, Miss Florence, at Denver, Col., of consumption. The deceased was well known here, having made several visits to her relatives in this city. The remains will be interred at Rockford, Ill.

County Commissioner Hetzel has become so angered at the way the Avoca Mail showed up the award of the county printing that he has actually stopped the subscription to that paper. The Mail was able to get out this week, and gives him a half column of free advertising besides.

Marshal Gaudin has taken up the matter of having the alleys cleaned, and is prosecuting the work vigorously. Most of the parties notified are having the fifth removed without further trouble, and the work will not find the work being done tomorrow morning by the city, and will be called upon to settle the bill. The change is very gratifying, and the marshal's action is much appreciated.

The visiting members of the Omaha board of trade will be here next Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of looking over the proposed assembly grounds for the Chautauque movement. Representatives of all the papers have been invited, and preliminary arrangements are being made for a pleasant reception. Carriages will be provided for a drive about the city, and a supper at the Bechtel in the evening.

Detective Higgins and Officer Stewart of Omaha, were in the city looking for Billy Woods, the would-be murderer of his father-in-law, who fled from that city Friday night. Several parties were asked for information, but no trace of the fugitive was discovered, and the officers concluded that they were on the wrong track, and recessed the river on the 5:45 dinner last evening.

Work on the new elevator at the Ogden is progressing rapidly, and it is expected to have it in running order in two weeks. By that time the thing will be said and the work of refitting the kitchen completed, so that there will be no difficulty in opening the hotel to the public. The exact date of the opening has not yet been determined, but due notice of it will be given, as it promises to be a grand affair.

Paul Giles, a divorcee yesterday obtained a divorce from his wife, Josephine, to whom he was married in Omaha four years ago. She became enamored of a great, dusky fellow, who was twice as tall as Paul, and who had a record for having knocked "Texas" once twenty-six feet, his hands being against the wall. Paul objected to the free way in which Sam hung around the house and the woman, and Josephine got miffed at the rebuke and left. She has not been seen since, and it is concluded her desertion had been long enough to entitle him to matrimonial freedom. He got it.

For cheap houses and sweet homes on easy payments see Tipton, 527 Broadway.

Ab There! Look Now. The finest line of spring suitings ever shown in the city. Few patterns and splendid goods. All at elegant and low prices. Patterns at reduced prices. Come and see. A. Reiter, 310 Broadway.

S. B. Wadsworth & Co. loan money.

Catch On to This. Mr. Charles Probstle is prepared to supply you with a harness the equal of any on earth. Fine work and harness novelties at reduced prices. Come and see. A. Reiter, 310 Broadway.

New City Directory. Changes in residence or business can be made by addressing D. C. Dunbar & Co., Omaha.

Union Abstract company, 236 Main street.

E. H. Sheafe loans money on chattel security of every description. Private consulting rooms. All business strictly confidential. Office 500 Broadway, corner Main street, upstairs.

Largest stock of wall paper ever seen in the city. Picture frames made to order. Very latest designs in cornice mouldings. H. P. Niles, 402 Broadway. Oldest firm in this line in the city.

Piles cured with certainty. Drs. Moser & Van Ness, Council Bluffs, Ia.

Drs. Moser & Van Ness cure private diseases. Rooms 4 and 5, opera house block. Telephone 274.

Wanted—To lease, a furnished house, ten to fifteen rooms. Inquire of Johnson & Van Patton, 33 Main street.

J. G. Tipton, real estate, 527 Broadway.

ALL ABOUT THE BLUFFS.

The County Board Rewards its Favorite Printers.

Where to Worship To-day—An Avoca Burglary—Appropriations for the Deaf and Dumb—Few Police Victims.

Sunday Services. The following are the announcements of religious services for the day:

Presbyterian. Preaching as usual both morning and evening, by the pastor. The theme in the evening will be "Woman" and women are particularly invited to attend. Sabbath school at 10 o'clock. Strangers and others cordially invited to all the services.

St. Francis Xavier's Church. Services to-day. Masses at 6 o'clock, 8 and 10:30 o'clock a. m. Sunday school at 9 o'clock. Evening prayer and benediction at 7:30 p. m. B. P. McMenomy, rector; R. J. Healy, assistant rector.

Congregational Church. Services to-day, morning and evening. Morning service, "Sure to Win." Evening, "The Doubter." All are welcome.

There will be services at 10:30 o'clock, conducted by Judge Hubbard; at 1 o'clock, Charles Overton, and in the evening at 7:30 by Rev. Mr. Thielman.

Harmony Mission. Services to-day at 3 o'clock—conducted by Mr. Baker, secretary of Y. M. C. A.; Sabbath school at 4 o'clock. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening, subject "God's mercies must move us to please God," 12 o'clock of Roman, Eastern, and Protestant churches attend these prayer meetings and assist in making them very interesting and instructive. Everyone cordially invited.

Meeting for men only. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Meeting held in the association room, practical proof of their faith in the future of this city.

Officers and directors of the Young Men's Christian association for the ensuing year will be elected Monday night, April 9. All active members should attend the meeting, which will be held in the association rooms at 7:30.

A good time is expected on Saturday and Sunday, April 10 and 11. The members of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a conference and anniversary. Good speakers will be present. The new building at 4 o'clock, conducted by Judge Hubbard; at 1 o'clock, Charles Overton, and in the evening at 7:30 by Rev. Mr. Thielman.

The Salvation Army. Meetings to-day in the old opera house. Bryant street, below. Holy Light at 2 p. m.; Cleansing at 11 a. m.; Hosannas at 3 p. m.; Pardon at 8 p. m. "Little David," and "See Hughie," in command. All are welcome.

Saint Paul's Episcopal. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday, April 8. Young Men's Bible class at 12:15, taught by the rector. Sermon topics, morning, "Rolling away the stone," evening sermon, "The resurrection body." The Easter music will be repeated at the evening service. Young men and strangers welcome. Rev. T. J. Mackay, rector.

For all female diseases consult Drs. Moser & Van Ness, opera house block, Council Bluffs. Correspondence solicited.

Card.

To my old customers and patrons: You will find me at the Ogden stables with everything in the lively line. First class turnouts, safe horses for ladies' driving, carriages for balls, parties and calling, with all the latest rates reasonable. Telephone 33. W. T. Cole.

Travelers! Stop at the Bechtel. A full line of crockery and glassware at Lund Bros., No. 23 Main street.

Plans for Their Pets.

The county board finished its business yesterday. The most important item was the award of the printing of the official proceedings of the board. The board showed its usual policy of dividing the plums between the Herald and the Globe, and the latter secured the contract. The board at first determined by resolution that the newspapers desiring to bid for the printing of the proceedings should file their subscription lists so that the board could see which had the largest circulation. At the January meeting the Nonpareil and some others had no lists filed. The Council Bluffs Herald filed their list, and the Globe also. The board seemed determined not to allow the evening prohibition organ any show, and so postponed the award until the next meeting, to allow the Nonpareil time to show up how many subscribers it really has. At the meeting yesterday there were on the list for the Globe and the Council Bluffs Herald, and that of the Nonpareil had no list and refused to show up how many subscribers it really has. It professed sugar to honor, and had evidently been in the habit of getting the desired plan, without regard to whether the taxpayers were getting the most for their money. The Nonpareil, although claiming to be the republican organ, was very much about it, and now it appears clear that its silence is as good as silver. It has its reward.

Some of the rejected bidders, especially the Council Bluffs Herald, is quite warm about the collar, and the board will doubtless be frequently reminded of the favoritism shown.

Madame Blanch.

The great mind reader and fortune teller will leave day after to-morrow. If there are others who wish to know what the future has in store for them, call on her at the Scott house. She is the best in her line. Twenty years experience and has never made a mistake.

The Strikers' Meeting.

At 8 o'clock last evening the representative members of the brotherhoods of locomotive engineers, firemen and switchmen engaged in the existing strike on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy took their seats upon the stage at Dobany's opera house. J. R. Dietrich presided, and in opening the meeting explained that Mayor Kohrer was prevented from attending by a press of official duties. As the first speaker of the evening, Mr. Bryant, of Creston, representing the engineers, was then introduced. Herefore our brothers have been subjected to the infamous blacklisting system, and followed from one end of the country to the other for alleged misdemeanors. When our committee first asked for an interview with Mayor Stone, he refused to grant it, and when they finally secured an opportunity he flatly refused to grant any of the twenty-one articles asked for, and would strike whenever and as often as they chose.

Mr. Arthur informed him that he never would submit to have the engineers treated in the future as they had been in the past. It is a fact that we have been mistreated and used by this Burlington company as no reasonable man would treat his dog. I worked a year as a water for $1.75 per day, and then by slow promotion year by year was made an engineer, and at the end of six years I was getting as much as 90 per cent of the roads in this country pay from the start. When the strike was first called, I was told that if I would sign a circular showing the people that if our demands were acceded to some of our brothers would get the Burlington company to no reasonable terms, but it is any more than a man deserves who works sixteen hours a day every day in the month. Some say they did the switchmen $9.00 out. It is simply because they are even poorer paid than the engineers. I tell

For making night hideouts while trying to round up a lot of snakes, as his finances were at such a low ebb, he was forced to do this.

There was in the crowd, and turned the contributors over to the mercies of Jailer Barby, who had made all preparations for their confinement in the morning services in the city bastille today.

Every Body Help.

We want to help the orphans' home, and so make this offer: If there are 8 domestic machines sold from this office within the next 10 days we will donate the entire proceeds of the 8th sale to the "Christian Home." Domestic courts, 105 Main St.

Burglary at Avoca.

The hardware store of F. G. Hetzel, of Avoca, was broken into through a basement window, and about $30 in goods, mostly revolvers, were taken. No clue has been obtained to help the officers.

Masonic.

Excelsior lodge, No. 299, A. F. & A. M., will hold its regular communication next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Election of officers. Visiting brethren cordially invited. By order of W. M.

Personal Paragraphs.

W. N. Young is confined to his room by sickness. Colonel William Orr, of Harvold, was in the city yesterday. S. H. Barbee and wife leave this evening for Tacoma, Wyo., over the Union Pacific.

Miss Root, who is visiting Mrs. Thomas Marcell, will give a solo in St. Paul's church to-day.

Mrs. Pike and daughter, Mrs. Nettie Haines and Miss Annie Pike, together with a good, sound choir, will be in charge of the death of Gertrude Pike, a niece. Mrs. Pike and son returned yesterday. The others remain a few days longer.

Sheafe loans money on real estate.

CONKLING AND INGERSOLL. Interesting Gossip About the Giants of the New York Bar.

New York Tribune: Perhaps the most unique, if not the most impressive figure in the New York bar, is the Hon. J. C. Conkling, he of the curly forelock and the majestic frown. Mr. Conkling is not in ordinary practice. There are hints abroad of great fees that have been paid him in exceptional litigations. He will advise for the Hon. J. C. Conkling, in any case, and I am told that his retaining fee in that impending conflict was a check for $25,000. The same sum is said to have been paid him by the Bell telephone company, and the impression generally exists that the ex-senator considers fees of $10,000 very small potatoes, indeed, and scarcely worth his while. Not that I actually know of any $10,000 fee which he has sprung, but the fact is so generally known to offer money at whom his nose has been disdainfully elevated. It would be safe to say that he is employed rather for the strength of his name and political associations and reputation than for any other reason. After he resumed practice, upon the legislature's refusal to return him the trust he had abandoned, his first case brought him into controversy with Mr. Choate. It was on a motion for a non-suit, and the Hon. J. C. Conkling, in his opinion, was in the wrong. Mr. Choate referred in that quietly sarcastic way of his to the reappearance of Mr. Conkling and welcomed him back to the bar with much apparent respect. Mr. Conkling, in reply, said the amiable Choate, "in listening to the address with which he charmed your honor, and I shall venture no other criticism upon it than that it was not long enough. It occurs to me to advise, however, that the way of criticism, but only of friendly suggestion, to one of my learned friend's remarks. He alluded to something I had said as 'false, utterly devoid of truth.' In speaking of my friend, the great Choate, where he was, of whom he was speaking, and to whom his remarks were being addressed. But if he wishes to succeed as an advocate, he must abandon the methods of a politician. He must not, in my opinion, be in a court and not in congress."

It is often said of Mr. Conkling that he is too much given to bantering for success in serious work, and that he impresses himself rather than his client upon the attention of the jury. He is grandiose in manner, he employs picturesque phrases and indulges in much cynical repartee, but his grasp of facts and law is none too strong. The tendency of his mind is to the more of business principles. Brilliant oratory is effective only in the eyes of admiring clients, who are dazzled by its style and fancy it must also carry away the courts.

Conkling Ingersoll is another member of the picturesque school of lawyers, and much resembles Mr. Conkling in oratorical propensity. There is this difference, however, that no element of self appears in the breezy speech of the colonel. They are heart and soul for his client. He is at his best when engaged in presenting his facts. His statements are lucid and full, his illustrations dramatic and ingenious, his manner frank and persuasive. Therefore, despite his somewhat slight acquaintance with the forms of practice and the law as the books give it, he makes an excellent jury lawyer. In appearing on the bench, Mr. Conkling bears a close resemblance to his English friend, Mr. Bradlaugh. The likeness is so striking that Englishmen who have met the colonel on the streets of New York have spoken of him, actually believing him to be addressing Bradlaugh.

It is an odd fact about the colonel that he always seems to get on the wrong side of public questions of the day. Most persons who are regarded as erratic upon theological questions like Mr. Collier, Mr. Frothingham and Mr. Adley, for instance, are distinguished for their zealous advocacy of everything that nobles human life, that tends to make man better and happier. Their hatred of creed makes them all the more earnest in efforts to promote movements of progress and reform. But it seems to be the other way with the colonel. He is opposed at the best to the most of the fruits of his soil. At this point, his client, Edward Stokes, plucked the colonel's sleeve and whispered in his ear. With a genial grin, Mr. Ingersoll turned to the court, saying: "Please your honor, my client says that my metaphor is beautiful and true except that in so far as it represents him at finding anything valuable in the hole."

"Mortgage those wires," he exclaimed.

Inviting Manufacturers.

FOREIGN ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT H. H. WARNER, OF ROCHESTER. OMAHA, April 2, 1888.—To the Editor of the BEE: The recent address of President H. H. Warner, of the Rochester, N. Y., chamber of commerce, is a many, straightforward argument, presenting the claims of his city to the attention of those desiring to invest in its real estate, or who are seeking advantageous locations for the establishment of manufacturing interests. His views upon this latter topic are so full of common sense and are so singularly applicable to our own situation, in connection with the well directed efforts of the manufacturing interests of our board of trade, that we cannot do better than to quote the following extract. He says: Now, gentlemen, if two industries alone, the clothing and the boot and shoe industries of this city, will furnish employment to, or sustain about forty or fifty thousand people, and with the natural growth within ten years from forty to fifty per cent., what may we not expect from a united effort to encourage other large manufacturing enterprises, of which we have but few? Reflect for a moment, and call to your mind how many manufacturing concerns have each furnished work for thousands of people, almost an entire city. Of course such large concerns, employing a great number of people, are not so numerous as smaller manufacturers, employing the same number of men, from the fact that if misfortune should overtake some of the latter the calamity would be of less importance, as the loss of one or two men would not so seriously affect a few, while with large concerns many would be affected, causing a more general depression for the time being. Large manufacturing concerns can be induced to come to Rochester. They are attracted by an assisting manufacturer. We must let them feel that their success is ours. We must encourage them by giving them our financial aid in case they ask it as an inducement to locate in this community. Why should we not do this? Many will ask, I will try to explain: If every man would invest a little of his surplus in manufacturing concerns that care to receive such investments, provided the stock is not in the hands of speculators, and in our midst, the amount could be of little importance to the investor. Yet, if all capitalists, business concerns and real estate owners in the city of Rochester would invest 1 or 2 per cent of their surplus in assisting manufacturers to locate here, even if one in five were to be a failure, and the loss of 50 per cent of such investment should actually be made, which is not at all probable, the growth of our city would be greatly increased, and within five years the value of our real estate would increase at least ten times the amount that we had invested, even if the investment should be an entire loss. We cannot expect a few to do it, unless we can expect the members of the chamber of commerce alone to do it. Neither can we expect our large business men or capitalists to do it alone. Every citizen of Rochester should be wakened up to the new era that is dawning upon the city. Every one must contribute his little, and we will be astonished at the result inside of five years. Many will pool! pool! at this suggestion, and say: "That's right, let these wide-awake, energetic men put in their money; I do not propose to discommode myself for the sake of others' profit." Such men are blind to their interests. They blind their vision with a narrow selfishness.

For their delivrance.

We will withhold the names of those found in the room on account of their families, but if such a thing ever happens again we will publish the names of all who are found there.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE. SPECIAL advertisements, such as Lost, Found, etc., will be inserted in this column at the rate of TEN CENTS PER LINE for the first insertion and FIVE CENTS PER LINE for each subsequent insertion. Leave advertisements at our office, No. 12 Pearl Street, near Broadway, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

WANTS.

WANTED—A good girl for general housework, cor. Willow ave. and 4th st.

FOR RENT—Furnished and unfurnished rooms, 717 1st ave. References wanted.

FOR SALE—$500 stock of boots and shoes for Council Bluffs. Improved property for young men. Also improved farm for merchandise. F. J. Day & Co., Council Bluffs.

WANTED—Situation as military trimmer; experienced and capable. Address A. 20, this office.

FOR SALE—Drug stock and fixtures worth about $1,800. Good location in Council Bluffs. Enquire of J. W. Perogy.

WANTED—Four scholars for piano of organ, $2 per term. Mark A. J. B., this office.

WANTED—A girl to do general housework; small family, kitchen conveniently arranged. 709 8th avenue.

FOR SALE—Very cheap for cash or would exchange for Council Bluffs or Omaha property, a retail stock of boots and shoes valued at $5,000. Call at store No. 23 and 25th st., Omaha, or address H. Martin, same place and number.

FURNITURE—Bought, sold and exchanged; also storage and commission in gold, light, and heavy. Address H. Martin, Omaha, Neb., 110 North 13th st., R. Martin, Omaha, Neb.

UPHOLSTERING and Furniture repairing done neatly and promptly; work guaranteed. Household goods and furniture bought and sold. L. M. Lewis, No. 10 North 13th st., Omaha.

FOR SALE—At a bargain, 40 acres near Stock, Omaha, Neb. Address J. C. Christian, Room 35, Chamber of Commerce, Omaha.

WANTED—Stocks of merchandise. Have Omaha and Council Bluffs property, also western land to exchange for goods. Call on or address Johnson & Christian, Room 35, Chamber of Commerce, Omaha.

A Duty She Owed Him.

Boston Courier: "It must be lone some sitting all by yourself in your office balancing your books at night John," said an affectionate wife.

"It is my darling."

"I have been thinking about it for some time, and now I have got a delightful surprise for you."

"A delightful surprise?"

"Yes, dear, I sent for mother yesterday, and I expect her every minute. I mean to have her stay with us quite a while. She will take care of the house at night and look after the children, and I can go down town and sit in your office with you while you work."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books last night."

"Oh, you did! How delightful! And you are so kind to think of my going down town —"

"It is my duty, dear John. I ought to have thought of it before, but it never came to my mind till yesterday. Oh, John, forgive me. Forgive me for not thinking of your comfort sooner. But I will go with you to-night."

"To-night? Why—I—the fact is I got through with my books