A. D. Petit, who was arrested last week for taking a span of horses from the pound without permission last November, was arraigned yesterday in the police court and put under $700 to appear before the district court. The horses had been his own property, but they were held for a $110 bill due for feed and stabling. After taking the horses Petit fled from the city. The charge against him is grand larceny.

On the 5th of the present month one William P. Talbot, represented to a speculator that he was the owner of certain chattels, which he transferred to the money lender in consideration of $150. The fraud was discovered the next day, but too late to arrest Talbot, who had taken flight. He was traced to Denver and there taken into custody. Yesterday John Jenkins was deputized by Governor Thayer to go to Denver and get Talbot and bring him back to Omaha.

Mrs. Pierson, the agent of the Omaha board of charities, while making her rounds among the poor of the city a few days ago, was successful in ferreting out the mother of the six-months-old babe left at the house of A. R. Hensel, South Fifth street. The name of the mother is Mrs. Briggs, who has received many kindnesses at the hands of Mrs. Pierson, and she assures the latter lady that the story set afloat that she deserted the child is without foundation. She claims to have washed for the Hensels for a long time, and that the child was left with them at their request, she having six other children to feed and clothe.

An Early Morning Row.

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a lively skirmish occurred at the corner of Tenth and Harney streets between a crowd of men formerly employed by the B. & M. and four or five "scabs," in which the latter were worsted and compelled to seek safety in flight. No arrests were made, and everything at the B. & M. yards was "running smoothly" yesterday.

From a spectator who witnessed the fracas it is learned that one of the parties who was pummelled is a Pinkerton special, and it is said that of the three he looked the worse for wear.

Saved From Death.

One of the Pinkerton specials at the B. & M. yards has one act at least that redounds to his credit. A drunken individual whose name could not be learned, was about to lie down for a short sleep on the track directly in front of a moving train only a few rods away, and in a minute later would have been circulating in the neighborhood of the pearly gates but for the prompt action of the Pinkerton man mentioned, who run over and dragged the fellow from his perilous position. At the conclusion of this episode, a policeman who was passing was summoned, the patrol wagon sent for, and the inebriated individual will explain to Judge Berka this morning the causes which led to his selecting the B. & M. right of way for a couch.

After Manufacturers.

Secretary Iddings, of the Omaha Business Men's association was seen yesterday and asked what he had thus far done in the way of inducing manufacturers to locate in Omaha. He said he had sent for advertising estimates to the "Scientific American," the "Electric Review," the "Contractors' Bulletin," the "American Investor" the "Age of Steel," the "Mechanical News," and the "Boot and Shoe Record." Answers to these will be received in a few days and laid before the association, when it will be determined as to which papers will be selected. These publications are mainly devoted to trade interests, and taken by manufacturers, some of whom are desirous of re-locating or establishing branches in other places. Advertisements were not sought in daily papers, because that field is now being operated by the development board of the Omaha board of trade. The next meeting of the association will be held in C. F. Harris' office, 418 South Fifteenth street, on next Thursday night. Mr. Iddings' office is in the writing room of the Paxton hotel.

The Bergo Tragedy.

Bergo, who attempted to kill his wife and himself Sunday, is still at the police station and is very comfortable, the scratch on his throat having been plastered together with some court plaster. It is the prevailing opinion among all who are acquainted with the circumstances that the attempt (?) made by the would-be slayer of his wife was a pure, unadulterated bluff, and that in the event of the death of his wife he would have a chance to work the insanity dodge in his trial for murder in the first degree.

Mrs. Bergo was seen by a BEE reporter yesterday and appeared to be improving, but later on secondary hemmorage set in accompanied by a high fever which makes her case extremely critical and it is doubtful if she recover. She, however, possesses a great deal of courage and with proper care and attention she may survive.

The feeling among the neighbors against Bergo is very strong and the general verdict is that he is entirely to blame. Mrs. Bergo is spoken of as a model wife and mother and a very nice lady generally.

Bergo was arranged before the police magistrate yesterday afternoon, but waiving examination he was put under $5,000 bonds to appear before the district court. In default he was taken to the county jail to await trial. With the exception of the slight wound on the throat he is all right physically. He does not have much to say.

The Grant Inquest.

John Grant, the father of the unfortunate little one who was killed by a street car Sunday, arrived yesterday from St. Joseph, in response to a telegram, and almost heart-broken repaired to his bereaved home. He found matters as outlined in the recital of the accident. Mr. Grant is a man of genial disposition, equable temperament and exceedingly good nature. The death of his little son has unmanned him. His grief seems almost inconsolable. He was unable, yesterday to attend the inquest, which was held at Drexel & Maul's, and he was represented there by his bookkeeper, Frank Redman.

Coroner Drexel called his jurors at 10 o'clock and each answered as follows: Goodly Brucker, P. Weinhagen, J. A. Boven, B. McClune, Prof. Dailey and J. O. Corby.

Superintendent Smith, of the horse car company, was present during all, and Gegeor Prichett, the company's attorney, during a part of the examination.

The first witness was A. F. Blundell, storekeeper for the Nebraska Telephone company. He said he was on the car which had run over the child. The car was going south on Park avenue. He saw the child rush across the street and get near the horses' heads. He then lost sight of it and thought it must have been struck by the horses and knocked down, because the car ran right over it. The car was going south. The child was going west. It was about six feet in front of the horses when he saw it. There were two other people in the car, but the witness could not accurately locate or describe them or their situation. The avenue at the place where the accident occurred, so far as the witness knew, was pretty level. He saw only one child run across the track. One stood on the west side of the track, and he was a little older than the one who had been seen about six feet ahead of the horses. Witness picked up the child who had been run over just behind the platform of the car. It was lying across the track. The head was between both rails. The horses, at the time of the accident, were on a trot—a jog-trot—slightly faster than a walk. The car had run three or four feet after it had run over the child before it was brought to a stop. The witness did not know that the child had screamed. It never spoke a word after witness had picked it up, in fact, it never moved. Witness did not notice that the brakes had been put on when he noticed the child six feet ahead of the horses. The child did not run as if it had seen the car or the horses. It was dressed, as nearly as he could remember, in blue with red trimmings.

S. J. Johnson, the driver of the car, was sworn. He is a tall, well proportioned man, with a head of unkempt hair and seemingly good nature. He said that he had been working five years, off and on, for the street railway company. The number of the car was 38. He saw a child on each side of the track as he was going to jump on the car. Children in that neighborhood often stood on the track and on the side as if they wanted to get on the rear platform. The next thing the driver knew he felt the truck strike and ride over something, and he put on his brakes and the car stopped about five feet behind where the trucks had run over the child. That was all he knew about it. The little fellow stood between the double tracks. The car had almost passed him when he was seen by the driver. The horses did not strike the child. The first thing he knew about it was when he felt the trucks go over something. The horses were just off a walk. There were lots of children on the east side of the street. At the time the boy was run over, there was a baby carriage upset on the west side of the street. Didn't watch the east side of the street. Wasn't watching the baby carriage. Was watching his horses. The baby carriage was upset after he had stopped his car, not before the accident. Didn't see the boy run towards the car. There were three people on the car at the time. None of them were on the platform. Put on the brake as soon as he saw the boy. Did not see the boy between the horses. Didn't know how the child got under the car. Didn't think he was run over by both trucks.

A. K. Riley, who resides on Park, avenue about two hundred feet away from the scene of the accident, was next sworn. His attention had been called by some noise or excitement in a manner that he could not explain, to the place of the accident. He saw what he first supposed was a bundle of clothes being run over by the forward wheels of the car. Then he saw the hind wheels run over the same object. The impression which he received at the time was one of surprise that the car did not stop, as it was going up grade and only a little faster than a walk.

Dr. J. T. Mathews was next called, and swore that he had examined the body of the poor little boy while it rested in the arms of its grandfather, who was crying bitterly, and noticed that it was dead. The witness unfastened the child's clothes listened to the beating of the heart, felt the pulse, and then pronounced it dead. There were evidences on the body that it had been struck by a foreign substance, or, under the circumstances, that something had rolled over it, bruising it around the centre, and mainly at the lower part of the short ribs. There was a heavy mark or bruise on the stomach and in the region of the liver, and a large crease in the skin, which might have been made by the flange of the wheel. This crease partially disappeared when the body bloated. Some of the ribs were broken from the fastening in the backbone, and the latter may have also been injured, because, in a cursory examination, the witness found some abnormal features in the vertebræ of the column. S. Fisher, a printer, and I. W. Hall residing at 938 Park avenue testified to about the same facts.

It's Always the Way.

"Didn't I tell you so?" said a gentleman to an acquaintance whom he chanced to meet on the street; "it's always the way." "What's always the way?" inquired a mutual friend of the two men who happened along just then. "Why, just this," replied the first speaker: "you see Smith, here, the last time I met him he had one of the worst coughs you ever heard. He complained of a loss of appetite, of night sweats, of low spirits and other unmistakable premonitory symptoms of consumption. I told him to get a supply of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery at once. He did so, and look at him now! Did you ever see a healthier looking man? The 'Discovery' has snatched thousands from consumptives' graves. I knew it would cure Smith. It's always the way."

Manager Boyd has made arrangements with the Union Pacific railroad to have the 5 o'clock train held until after the matinee performance Wednesday afternoon. This will enable parties out of town to see Mr. Booth in Hamlet and return the same night. The performance commences promptly at 2 o'clock.

A SURE CURE OR NO PAY.

Our Magic Remedy

WILL POSITIVELY CURE

All syphilitic Diseases, of recent or long standing, in from ten to fifteen days. We will give written guarantees to cure any case or refund your money. And we would say to those who have employed the most skilled Physicians, used every known remedy and have not been cured, that you are the subjects we are looking for. You that have been to the celebrated Hot Springs of Arkansas, and have lost all hope of recovery, we

Will Cure You

or make no charge. Our remedy is unknown to any one in the world outside of our Company, and it is the only remedy in the world that will cure you. We will cure the most obstinate case in less than one month. Seven days in recent cases does the work. It is the old, chronic, deep-seated cases that we solicit. We have cured hundreds who had been abandoned by Physicians and pronounced incurable, and to bring us a case that we will not cure in less than one month.

Since the history of medicine, a True Specific for Syphilitic Eruptions, Ulcers, Sore mouth, &c., has been sought for but never found until was discovered, and we are justified in saying it is the only remedy in the world that will positively cure, because the latest medical works, published by the most known authorities, say there was no true specific before. Our Remedy is the only medicine in the world that will cure when everything else has failed. It has been so conceded by a large number of Celebrated Physicians. IT HAS NEVER YET FAILED TO CURE. Why waste your time and money with patent medicines that never had virtue, or doctor with physicians that cannot cure you. You that have tried everything else should come to us now and get permanent relief; you never can get it elsewhere. Mark what we say! In the end you must take our Remedy or NEVER recover. And you that have been afflicted but a short time should by all means come to us now. Many get help and think they are free from the disease, but in one, two or three years after, it appears again in a more horrible form.

Investigate our financial standing through the mercantile agencies and note that we are fully responsible and our written guarantees are good. We have a REMEDY prepared on purely Scientific Principles and we wish to repeat that it NEVER FAILS TO CURE. All letters sacredly confidential.
