Should Methodists Attend Theatres? This was the subject selected by the Rev. W. H. W. Rees for his discourse yesterday morning.

The text which served as the basis of the subject was St. Paul's injunction: "Abstain from all appearances of glory."

The speaker, every amusement which invites the attention of Christians most invites the attention of the Christian world.

The theatre invites the attention of the Christian world on account of the increased and possibly increasing attendance of professed Christians upon this form of amusement.

Those who plead for the theatre plead for it upon the ground of wishing to see developed an ideal theatre.

From which all objectionable features shall be eliminated. This plea admits the fact that such an ideal is not that of the present, and further, you can't have an ideal theatre.

Why? Following this demand, all your plays must be ideal. They must exhibit the purest thoughts, speech and action.

They must have the tact or suspicion of sin. You must have ideal performers—such as those who play and play well.

Those who go to the theatre do not then attend for the sake of anything attractive to the theatre-goer in this sort of a play or performance.

You must have ideal costumes—such as we see in the pictures of homes. As it is now, instead of such dresses and such costumes, there is frequently no costume at all.

Instead of too much there is too little. There is about as much resemblance between the real and the ideal theatre as there is between a Council Bluffs politician and Abraham Lincoln.

I am opposed to the theatre for several reasons. First, because the leading secular papers of the country are against it.

Second, because the leading papers of the East and West speak boldly against its immorality. They say it is not an institution where good morals are taught.

Third, because the testimony of the Bible is against it. The Bible says that there is no close relation between the theatre and morals.

Fourth, because the testimony of the moral reformers is against it. They say that the theatre is a school of vice.

Fifth, because the testimony of the social purity movement is against it. They say that the theatre is a source of temptation.

Sixth, because the testimony of the Christian world is against it. They say that the theatre is a hindrance to the work of the church.

Seventh, because the testimony of the law is against it. They say that the theatre is a violation of the law.
