The Chief Justice's Speech

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 18.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The chief justice, Mr. Waite, has just delivered his annual address to the court. It was a long and able speech, and was well received by the audience. The chief justice is now in the prime of life, and his health is excellent. He is expected to remain in office for several years longer.

There seems to be no doubt in the minds of the senators who have recommended Mr. Gray that Minister Phelps is to be chief justice, and it is said that on Monday morning Mr. Bayard informed Mr. Gray that such would be the case.

There seems to be no doubt in the minds of the senators who have recommended Mr. Gray that Minister Phelps is to be chief justice, and it is said that on Monday morning Mr. Bayard informed Mr. Gray that such would be the case. The nomination was expected at the senate this afternoon, and will, it is thought, come in to-morrow. Although Mr. Phelps has said that he does not want the appointment, and that he does not come home from Europe with any such notion in his head, it is nevertheless true that there has been some communication between him and his friends in this country, since he arrived in New York, and that he is now more acceptable to the republican senators than those on the democratic side, for Mr. Phelps is a native-born citizen, and his votes could be made for the democratic party by his appointment to any office and is considered one of the strongest members of the committee on the subject of the chief justice. Mr. Edmunds, who studied law in his office, and the latter being chairman of the committee on the subject of the chief justice, is expected to report in favor of Mr. Phelps, and it is believed that the president will select Mr. Phelps as chief justice. One democratic member of the committee on the subject of the chief justice, Mr. Russell, is expected to report in favor of Mr. Phelps, and it is believed that the president will select Mr. Phelps as chief justice.

The Dakota Bill Drifts Into a Returning Board Debate.

THEY RESURRECT RUTHERFORDS

John Sherman Insists He Could Read His Title Clear But Vest Showers Inveictive on the Whole Electoral Commission.

Senate

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The land forfeiture bill was taken up as unfinished business, and at 2 o'clock the Dakota bill came up, and Mr. Sherman took the floor in its support. He replied in an impassioned manner to Mr. Vest's allusion to unfair methods in the election of President Hayes. He claimed every suspicion ever cast upon the integrity of that proceeding had been repelled, and that it stood in history as a model of what the republican position could not be impeached. Mr. Sherman showed by the vote in the senate that the electoral commission bill was not a republican but a democratic measure. Twenty-six democrats had voted for it and only twenty-one republicans; while the votes against it were given by republicans, including himself and one democrat, Mr. Eaton, of Connecticut. The democrats were therefore precluded from assailing the bill as a partisan measure.

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, April 18.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Private John E. Spalding, Company I, Second Infantry, now with the 1st Cavalry, Fort Omaha, Nebraska, transferred to Company F, Seventeenth Infantry and will be sent to the station of that company, Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming territory. The entire cost of transportation and subsistence will be charged against the soldier on the next muster and pay roll of the company to which he is transferred.

Major George M. Sternberg, surgeon, who was designated by the president to proceed to the Philippines to investigate the epidemic diseases, has been ordered to report to the secretary of the treasury for further instructions.

The following changes in the First artillery are ordered to take effect June 1: From Battery F to Battery G, First Lieutenants Allen Capron and John F. Honeycutt, and Second Lieutenant George W. Vanleusen; from Battery G to Battery F, First Lieutenants Thomas C. Patterson and Andrew W. Hubbell, and Second Lieutenant Samuel Rodman, Jr.

The discharge of First Sergeant Robert Conroy, Company I, Second Infantry, volunteer, is annulled to take effect November 30, 1883. His muster into service as First Lieutenant is annulled to take effect December 1, 1883, and he is mustered for pay in the same rank as if he had never been promoted between the aforesaid dates.

Fremont's Stock Yards Company Going to Increase Its Capacity—Two Broken-Hearted Nebraskans End Their Lives.

A Scab Engineer Clubbed

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., April 18.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Joseph M. Brown, a scab engineer, was attacked at a late hour last night on Sixth Street, while returning up town from the depot, by three unknown men, who beat him with clubs, fracturing his skull and jawbone in a frightful manner. Brown was found in a dazed condition wandering about the streets and taken to his home. He has always spoken bitterly against the striking engineers, and came here from Brondelet, Mo., and accepted the position of engineer on a H. & M. switch engine.

Increasing Their Capacity

FREMONT, Neb., April 18.—[Special to the Bee.]—At a meeting held yesterday afternoon the directors of the Fremont Stock Yards and Land company ordered the executive committee to proceed at once to the construction of another packing house. It is expected that the new house will be completed in time for active work at the opening of the packing season this fall. The capacity of the building will be from 1,000 to 1,200 hogs. This is a great increase of the company to double the capacity of their plant is looked upon with great favor by the people of Fremont. The packing house now in operation has proven beyond all question that the business can be carried on with great success. When houses at Sioux City, Nebraska City and Lincoln have all been built, the want of houses this one has continued right along with more than it could handle. It has demonstrated that pork packing here is not experimental—it is a certain success. The unlimited supply of hogs places Fremont on a sure footing.

Voted a Relief Bill

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The president has vetoed the bill for the relief of Major Daniel N. Dush, paymaster of the United States army, for the loss by theft of $7,000 in Wyoming. In his message the president says: "I am thoroughly convinced that the interests of the public would be better protected if fewer private bills were passed relieving officials, upon slight and sentimental grounds from their pecuniary responsibilities, and the honor of the army officers who are in applications for exoneration of negligence on the part of their comrades do not tend, in my opinion, to maintain that regard for the honor of the army which is the basis of duty which should characterize those bound to their honorable profession. I cannot assent to a bill which would make a precedent in this respect should be overlooked."

Endorsed the Administration

SALEM, Mass., April 18.—The seventh district democratic convention to-day elected as delegate to the national convention Jacob R. Huntington, Ames Barr and T. H. Devine. Resolutions endorsing Cleveland were adopted.

Newspaper Man Chosen

BUFFALO, April 18.—O. G. Warren, of the Commercial, was to-day chosen delegate to the Chicago convention by the republicans of the Third-second district.

East and Westbound Western Traffic

CHICAGO, April 18.—A reduction of through rates from New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and the Missouri river to Colorado points goes into effect to-morrow on all the roads. This is the result of the meeting of managers at Kansas City on Tuesday, the object being to meet the competition of the new Fort Worth & Denver road, which in connection with the Morgan line of steamers at Galveston made through rates from New York to Colorado points lower than those of the transcontinental routes. Under the new arrangement the rate on Colorado points will be 45 cents instead of 50 cents, and a proportionate reduction is made on other classes. Lumber rates will be forty cents from Chicago and twenty-five cents from the Missouri river. The new rates will apply to both east and west bound traffic.

Dwelling Completely Destroyed

STERLING, Neb., April 17.—[Special to the Bee.]—Yesterday about 1 o'clock the dwelling and contents of P. M. Fithian, one of the Johnson county commissioners, residing in Helena precinct, was entirely destroyed by fire. The fire started in the upper part of the house, and was not discovered till too late to save anything except an organ, which was with difficulty taken out. Loss, $1,200 to $1,500, of which about $250 is covered by insurance.

Child Burned to Death

NEILSON, Neb., April 18.—[Special to the Bee.]—News has just been received of a fatal fire in Wheeler county, thirty-five miles southwest of here. The residence of D. W. Casswell was burned, and the eldest child, a boy named George, aged two years, was killed. Two younger children were burned so badly they are not expected to live.

NEILSON, Neb., April 18.—[Special to the Bee.]—The little three-year-old which fell into a seventy-eight foot well last Saturday, and remained until Monday morning without food or water until it could be dug out, is now recovering from its injuries, and will be running around in a few days more.

Elected Fire Officers

FREMONT, Neb., April 18.—[Special to the Bee.]—The annual meeting of the Fremont fire department, was held last night. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of Gerhard Dierks as chief; Frank Hanlon, assistant chief; G. L. Loomis, president; W. B. Marshall, secretary. The chief's annual report showed that during the past year there have been ten fires in the city, the loss $12,300, and the insurance $11,600.

Van Wyck Shook Them Up

BRUNELL, Neb., April 18.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Ex-Senator Charles H. Van Wyck delivered an address to a large audience last night at this place, that made the dry bones of Crane and other traitors rattle. Monopolists and trust receivers of severe denunciation. He left here for Taylor this afternoon, where he speaks again to-night.

Hanged Himself

WEST POINT, Neb., April 18.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Heinrich Schmoeger, a German cigar maker, about seventy years of age, hanged himself in his room here this morning. No cause excepting destitute circumstances can be given for the act.
