The Troubled Distillers.

Yesterday a BEE reporter called at the store of Her & Co., to ascertain what prospect there was in the closing of the Willow Springs distillery, as prophesied in an in terview with J. D. Her, published yesterday in the BEE. P. E. Her, the senior member of the firm had gone to Peoria and could not be seen. A confidential attache of the house who has long been associated with it, however, told the reporter that so far as he knew there was no thought of shutting down the works. It was true it had been rumored that the distillery at Nebruska City would close because it was situated so that it could not get its goods to advantage out into the country; it was also likely that Martin, of Kanwould close, but Her's was so situated as to command the California trade, which had to be supplied. With reference to the distributing houses appointed by the trust, the gentleman said that trust denominated as such, houses which were able to purchase 250 barrels at a time This whisky, it sold at the lowest rates and at the same time placed upon the purchasers the responsibility of fighting the opposition, which the trust was meeting in the locality of the distributing points. Her's was the only house in this state which could buy so much whisky at one time. It soid the same at figures to destroy competition and as a consequence there was but little profit for those outside. For that reason it was thought the cutside people before long would be com-pelled to give up. The distributing houses could sell anywhere. Her was at liberty to sell in Philadelphia line feit so inclined, but in that case he would have to equalize freight rates. Her was not injured by other distribting houses. The Parts They Play in Omaha's Building World.

Several members of the Bricklayers' union, at their headquarters, yesterdsy old the Ben reporter that ten union men had gone to work for N. Ittner, at the corner of Eighteenth and Nicholas streets, and gight more were employed on the building now being put up by Contractor Schroeder, on the corner of Fifteenth and Jackson streets. The union now claims to have about one hundred men employed in various parts of the city, receiving union wages, $4.50 for eight hours. "They [the con-tractors] are quietly giving in and they are loing it in a nice and easy manner?'
Said a contractor yesterday: "The members of the union are losing their strike, as they should, because I don't see how they can call it a union strike. On the night the lecided to go out there were but 179 brick layers in town Of these there were bu seventy-nine at the meeting, and of the latte number twelve voted against the strike. Th thers are not in sympathy with the strike.'

Architect Mendelssohn said yesterday tha ontractors were busy bidding on work hough some people were delaying ordering it, fearing that greater expense would be in curred. The fact is, he claimed, that build ings are costing less this year than they did last. He instanced the case of Hoch strasser's stores and flats, which were bid upon last year for $23,000. This year the contract was let for $20,000. The reason for this is that there was not so much activit, this year as there was last, and as a conse mence the contractors are bidding closer to be sure of work.

STRIKE OF PAXTON WAITERS. They are Tired of Contributing to the Hotel's Expenses.

A rule has existed at the Paxton hotel, under which $2 of the waiter's wages are withheld in case one of them quits. This $2 then goes to a fund for the payment of any dishes that may have been broken during the week, irrespective of whomsoever may have done the breaking. The waiters feel that this is arbitrary and unjust towards them and they have frequently protested but all to no purpose. Yesterday afternoon, however, hey assembled at the hotel and made a per-emptory demand that this rule be rescrided or they would fold up their little aprons and just. In other words it was a strike, on a mail scale, and as is uncommon with strikes hey speedily brought the hotel company to erms. Hereafter, no part of a waiter's yages will be held at the end of the week. will receive all that is due them, ator zed dishes or not.

A GREAT MISTAKE.

Some men think that because they pay high prices for clothing, they get a better article than we sell for half the money. This is a mistake. To many customers who visit our store for the first time, it is a revelation that they can buy just as fine goods of us and just as well made as any custom tailor will turn out, and the fact that our prices are from 30 to 50 pe cent cheaper than other houses is also a revelation. The remarkable bargains we offer this season have never been approached by any house.

In spring suits we are opening every day new lots. All the latest styles are represented in our stock. The new Prince Albert suit in fine corkscrew and cassimere of different and beautiful shades and at prices almost one half what other establishments offer.

The most astonishing value ever given in a spring suit is offered this week is our new $7 cheviot sack suit. This is made of a splendid all wool cheviot, an elegant color, lined with fine serge, good trimmings and well made. Now, any house will show a seven dollar suit, but we positively assert that no one will show anything to compare with the quality we offer in this suit for less than $12, and we ask but $7 for it.

Our Spring Overcoats are on the wane; of the finest grades are but a few left, and we have marked them down to close them out. Of our $6 overcoats we still have a fair assort. ment. This is the biggest thing ever shown in the way of an overcoat and everybody who has bought one acknowledges that it is as good a garment as is shown anywhere for $12.

In our hat department we offer this week 25 dozen fine light colored derbys, satin lined silk band and binding, goat sweat leather at $1. If you are asked $2 or $2.50 for the same hat you would not hesitate to pay it.
