THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

Wild Fluctuations and Much Excitement Witnessed in Wheat.

THE WAR CLOUDS IN EUROPE.

They Have a Stimulating Effect—A Bearish Sentiment Prevails in the Corn Pit—Oats Rule Dull —Quotations.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, April 20.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The wheat market fluctuated less wildly to-day, but there was a fair range—enough to make speculation profitable if speculators' conclusions were right. There was also plenty of excitement soon after the opening, when one of the persistent sellers of the last few days began to cover his big line of short wheat. Things were very unsettled before the opening. Early in the morning for instance, 83c had been paid for May wheat on the open board, but on the regular board first sales were at 82c and there was some decline from that price almost immediately. The noticeable sellers were the commission houses who had been buying for several days and had handsome profits for their customers. This realizing by the longs served to make the crowd feel rather bearish and make the market easier for a little while, but when it was seen that a prominent short was covering, the price was run up on him ½c or more very rapidly. The bullish influences to-day were just the same as for a week past; chiefly the damage to the winter wheat, next a late season for seeding spring wheat, and a shade of encouragement for holders in the possibility of foreign political complications looking towards war. There was nothing new, however, in any of these things to-day, and the argument of short sellers was that the top had been reached, and that a reaction was inevitable unless more stimulating news should come. May wheat opened at 82c, sold down to 81¾c, up to 82¾c, down to 81¾@81¾c, up to 81¾c, down to 81¾@81¼c, then up to 82¼c, held between that price and 81¾c for some time, then fell back to 81¾@81¾c, advanced to and closed at 1 o'clock at 82c. June wheat opened at 83¼c, sold at 83¾c and down to 82¼c, closing at 1 o'clock at 83@83¼c.

The speculative corn market lacked interest. The local crowd seemed to be bearish, and after the first batch of buying orders had been filled, gradually sold the market down, and without any great trade or quick fluctuations at any time. The receipts were not as large as expected, but the grading was much better. The estimates for to-morrow are large. The bears are looking for greatly increased receipts soon and better grading because of shipments of country cribbers to fill May sales which they have made. They talk lower prices, but short sellers of corn have had several hard "twists" lately and they have become cautious. Raids in the corn pit are not fashionable of late. May corn opened at 56c, sold down to 55¾c, back to 56c, down to 55¼c, to 55¾c, down to 55¼@55⅝c, up to 55¾c, and closed at 1 o'clock at 55¼c. June corn opened at 55c, sold at 55¼c, then down to 54⅜c, and closed with that price bid at 1 o'clock.

There was only a dull speculative trade in oats, with a decline in price in sympathy with the easier corn market. May oats opened at 32⅜c, sold at 32⅛c, down to and closing at 31¾c. June oats opened at 32¼c, sold down to 31¾c, and closed at 32c. July oats sold down from 32⅝c to 32c, and August oats from 28¾c to 28⅝c.

Provisions commanded a fair general support, but trading was featureless and devoid of special activity. Yet there was no developed inclination to bear prices, and the fluctuations in the market were confined to comparatively narrow limits. Short ribs were sold in a moderate way for foreign houses, while in lard one or two well known shorts bought with a little freedom. Pork was slow. Products, as a rule, reacted a trifle from yesterday's advance and in short ribs a decline was suffered of 5@7½c, and in pork of 7½c. Lard was unchanged to 2½c easier.

AFTERNOON SESSION—Wheat lower. May opened at 81¾c, fell to 81⅜c, up to 81⅝@81¾c, fell off, closing at 81⅜@81¼c. June closed at 82½c, July at 83¼c, December at about 85¾c. Corn broke sharply. May opened at 55¼c, eased off and near the close fell to 54⅞@55c, closing at 54⅝c. June closed at 54c. July fell to 54⅛c, with some sales just as the bell rang at 54c. Oats easier. Pork was a shade stronger, but quiet. May closed at $14.15@14.17½; June at $14.22½, July at $14.32½. Lard averaged 2½c higher, closing at $8.00 for May, $8.05 bid for June, $8.10 for July and $8.12½ for August. Short ribs were a shade better, closing for May at $7.32½, $7.40 for June, $7.47½ for July and $7.57½ for August.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 20.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—CATTLE—Trade was fair, with little or no change in values as compared with yesterday. The demand, as is usual at this season of the year, centered on nice light "handy" cattle of 1,200 and around there, and such sold up as high as any day this week. Then again there was a class of rather coarse but good and useful, averaging up in 1,400, that were not selling up to yesterday's averages. Common and medium steers sold at about the same as heretofore. Steers, 1350 to 1500 lbs, $4.40@5.05; 1200 to 1350 lbs, $3.90@4.50; 950 to 1200 lbs, $3.60 @4.10; stockers and feeders, $2.40@3.60. Cows, bulls and mixed, $1.75@3.50; bulk, $2.50@2.85; Texas steers, $3.25@4.00.

HOGS—Business was again brisk, with an upturn of 5@10c at the opening, yet closing a shade easier after everything had been sold once so that values finally ruled about the same as at the extreme close yesterday. The best heavy made $5.70@5.75, one or two lots selling at $5.77½@5.80. Butcher weights, that is averages of about 230 lbs, closely assorted, made $5.60@5.62½, and the bulk of the mixed made $5.50, some common $5.40@ 5.45. Assorted light of 160 to 175 lbs, made $5.45@5.55.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, April 20.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—STOCKS—The stock market was moderately active but unsettled. General conditions have not changed any of late and the feeling was mostly bullish, the street being filled with vague bull rumors about the formation of pools in various specialties. Bull leaders went around the room bidding up one or other of the stocks and met with little opposition from the bears. The bull pool was said to have taken hold of Missouri Pacific and it advanced 1⅝ points but broke ⅝. Western Union was also on the bull card and appreciated ⅝. It was said that the Reading's earnings for March did not show as much decrease as expected but were offset by the shrinkage in expenses. The St. Paul pool, of which so much has been said of late, were reported to have sold out. They originally intended to buy 20,000 shares from 70 down, but from the market so weak that 40,00 shares were taken. They unloaded on the recent bulge and cleared up $43,000. The Lackawanna pool sold all the market would take and were regarded well out. New England again mystified operators and instead of continuing on the upward path, dropped 1 point. Northern Pacific and the Oregons were less active and fluctuated within a small range. The bears are not having an easy time of it, and were forced to cover and in so doing helped to advance prices. Reading developed surprising strength and the last hour moved upward at a rate that made operators who had been playing for a break change their course. The strong feeling continued until the close when last sales were at almost the outside figures on a majority of stocks and showed a gain of ⅛@1⅛. Missouri Pacific having the lead. Louisville & Nashville proved the exception and closed ⅜ point lower. The stubbornness displayed during the past four days makes the bears rather skeptical. Commission men report more orders from parties who have not been in the market for over a year, and the impression prevailed that the market was to have a genuine bull turn. At the close it was reported that Reading bonds had been placed in London. The total sales were 280,271 shares against 310,805 shares yesterday.

GOVERNMENTS.—Government bonds were quiet but steady.

UNION STOCK YARDS, 6 p. m. }
Friday, April 20, 1888. }

There was a slight falling off in the receipts of cattle to-day as compared with yesterday. There were more good cattle here and quite a string sold at $4.40. The market was fairly active and the majority of the cattle sold before the close. There was a better feeling on the market and a little stronger prices were paid in most cases.

Hogs.

There was also a falling off in the receipts of hogs as compared with yesterday, but still the offerings were liberal. The market opened fairly active and strong. It gained in strength until it was fully 5c higher than yesterday's close. Light hogs took quite a flurry, and in some cases sold fully as high as medium weights and good mixed hogs. The market closed steady on all grades excepting light hogs, which closed a little easier. Everything was sold before the close.

Sheep.

The receipts were fair and the market strong. Everything here was sold.

SHEEP.

J. M. Doug	464
Omaha Packing Co.	119

Live Stock Notes.

Cattle strong.

Everything sold.

Hog market higher.

A good sheep market.

W. M. Farrington marketed three loads of cattle from Lyons.

H. A. Huff, Crescent, Ia., was in and disposed of a load of hogs.

A. F. Lane brought in a car of cattle for Daters & Co., from Omaha.

J. T. Mitchell, Hendley, was here and disposed of two loads of hogs.

John Quinn, the well known shipper of Wood River was in with cattle and hogs.

A. P. McMains, Liberty, Neb., was at the yards and bought two loads of stock cattle.

Fuller, Smith & Fuller marketed a load of hogs, shipped from Lindsay, at the top price.

Among those who came in with hogs was Mr. Pearson, of the firm of Harrison & Co., Waco.

Both members of the firm of Scanlan & Carr, David City, were at the yards with cattle.

Dorchester was represented on the market by Mr. Crane, who came in with a load of hogs.

S. S. Stevans, general western agent of the Rock Island, was among the visitors at the yards.

E. C. Goodell and Mr. Sawyer, of Western, were here with three loads of hogs and three loads of very good cattle.

A year ago to-day there were only 300 cattle and 900 hogs on the market. A year has made a great change on the Omaha live stock market.

J. F. Hutchinson, Litchfield, was at the yards with sheep of his own feeding which sold on the market. This was his first trip here, but he says he is well satisfied and will come again.

OMAHA WHOLESALE MARKETS.

Produce, Fruits, Nuts, Etc.

Friday, April 20.

The following quotations are wholesale and not retail. Prices quoted on produce are the rates at which round lots are sold on this market. Fruits or other lines of goods requiring extra labor in packing cannot always be supplied on outside orders at the same prices quoted for the local trade. Rates on flour and feed are jobbers' prices. Prices on grain are those paid by Omaha millers delivered. All quotations on merchandise are obtained from leading houses and are corrected daily. Prices on crackers, cakes, etc., are those given by leading manufacturers.

Trade was a little better to-day, and most offerings were cleared up. Butter was somewhat scarce and prices remained steady, with choice country selling at 20@22c. As predicted, eggs sold a shade lower, and should there be heavy receipts another shading is expected. Potatoes ruled dull, as receipts were rather heavy and stocks in store do not improve with keeping. Any changes in prices were toward a lower range. Other quotations were as before.
