When the jail door was opened to bring he prisoners into police court yesterday morning in obc_rence to the order of Judge Aylesworth, eleven specimans of humanity of all age, sizes and degrees of cleanliness hurrie, to get out of the loathsome place in which they had spent the night to get a breath of fresh air. The stench that came through the open door was so sickening as to cause several of the spectators to rush to the windows, and the court drew a long breath and evinced a disposition to hurry through the docket as quickly as possible.

Forcing a Child From Its Mother. The fate of little Maud McCoy was yesterday determined by Judge Deemer, who wisely concluded that as between father and mother the father was the more fit custodian of the child. The mother's record was shown to be such as to render her unfit to train up a little girl, and the only salvation for the child seemed to be to take her away from her mother. The father is at work on a farm. about seven miles from the city, and the little girl will be taken into the same home for a short time, and will later be probably taken to her grandparents at Mount Pleasant. Little Maud has been with her mother most of the time, and under her control all of the time, since the separation of the parents two years ago. She is strongly attached to her mother, and as strongly predjudiced against her father. Pending the decision she has been in care of the sheriff, and when the order was made yesterday, and the father came to claim her, there was a wild scene. The mother was present, and clung to her child in desperation, declaring they might kill her, but she would not give her up. Little Maud cried, and hung to her mother's neck, and it was only by the use of force that the two could be separated. Those who witnessed the separation will not soon for-get it. It seemed cruel, but the future of the child demanded that she no longer be allowed to remain under the influence of a mother who was continuing a course which would probably result in the ruin of the Little Reforms Needed.

The new county court house is a thing of beauty, but it does not promise to be a a joy forever, unless it is better cared for. The tillings are hurriedly swept occasionally, but there is great need of scrubbing, in order to remove the numerous and disgusting exhibitions of how careless the tobacco users become. There is little attention being paid to the proper ventilation of the building, and the dead sort of a smell is becoming quite notice able. Advertising placards and other notices are being posted up as though the walls were board fences, open to free use for all purposes. There are several panes of glass broken out, and some of these openings are patched up by thin boards, or papers, giving a bankrupt sort of appearance to the building. Old rubbish is littering the yard, and numerous pieces of ancient and decrepid furniture are still conspicuous in various parts of the building.

The absence of all telephonic communica-tions is a cause for frequent criticism. No one officer is willing to take charge of a tele-phone and do the running for everyone who desires to call up some one else about the desires to can up some one case about the building. The county board hesitates about going to the expense of furnishing more than one office with a telephone, or of paying a messenger boy to wait upon the instrument. There are frequent demands for telephonic service, and during court especially, judge, jury and all are often obliged to sit idly and wait the slow messenger, when a telephone would save all this time and annoyance, and in fact save money enough to pay for the ex-

No Sunday Games Wanted. The proposed schedule providing for Sun bay games of base ball in this city has [called forth an earnest expression against it in the form of a respectful petition, signed by 100 of the leading ladies of the city. The petition is as follows:

To the Managers of the Council Bluffs Base Ball Club: We, the undersigned, wishing to avail ourselves of the privilege of witnessing the games of base ball now being planned for the coming season, and knowing how much pleasure is derived from attending our national games when well conducted, do herewith present a request that all the dates be so arranged as not to fall upon Sunday in Council Bluffs, or its suburbs.

Such a request, coming from such a source, will doubtless have much weight in deciding the question whether there shall be Sunday games played here. The petition is promtion is as follows:

win doubtess have much weight in deciding the question whether there shall be Sunday games played here. The petition is promised the consideration which it merits, and it is believed the schedule of game will be so arranged as to have all the games played upon week days. The ladies are very much in earnest, and they are supported in the move by many of the best citizens. It is urged that in Des Moines the games has been made a financial success without any Sunday games being played. The ladies promise to support the game by their presence and patronage on week days, and show their friendiness by the inauguration also of a movement by which they hope to provail upon the merchants to close their stores during the heated season at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoons, so as to allow the employes and clerks an opportunity to see the games on Saturdays.
