On His Way to Prison.

A sheriff from Wyoming territory appeared before Sheriff Coburn yesterday with one George Butterfield, whom he had in custody and was conveying to the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., to serve a sentence of five years for horse stealing. The prisoner enjoyed the comforts of the county's bastile over night, and to-day the trip to Joliet will be resumed. The Brakes Broke.

While a street car stopped near the Jones street crossing to let a train pass yesterday afternoon, the brakes of a following car broke and it bore down on the belated car in advance, in which were seated two ladies, who seeing the approaching danger, jumped to the pavements, none to soon to escape serious in-juries. The horses of the disabled car were juries. The horses of the disabled can badly hurt, and the cars somewhat damaged.

Congratulation and a Check.

There was a meeting of the Bricklayers' union at which a congratulatory speech was made by one of the members in which it was claimed that there are now 150 union brick-layers at work in this city. A donation of $200 from the Plumbers, Gas and Steam-fitters' union was received

Almost Three Score and Ten.

To-day will be the sixty-ninth anniversary of the organization of the I. O. O. F., and will be celebrated in a grand manner in Council Bluffs by the Odd Fellows of western Iowa. They will be joined by a number of the brethren of this city, especially those of Keystone lodge, who will take the 1:15 dummy this afternoon for the Bluffs. They will be accompanied by the band of the second infaniry. The intention had been to celebrate in Omaha on a large scale, but the matter was postponed because of the assembling here in the fall of the grand lodge of

Still Consulting.

Yesterday George G. Swain, of Marshalltown, Ia., another one of the stock-holders of the State National bank, arrived in town, to confer with E. L. Lyon, late president of the same institution. Swain is superintendent of the coal department of the Chicago & Northwestern road for the lowadivision. He was closeted yesterday morning with Mr. Lyon and another local stockholder of the bank, with what result could not be ascertained. Mr. Lyon returned yesterday from Lincoln without having met Mr. Tebbitts, whom he went to see and who has been appointed receiver of the bank. Cashier McFadden, who went to Washington to confer with the countroller, has not yet. to confer with the comptroller, has not yet returned, and his hasty return, the cause of which could not be discovered in his tele-gram, is awaited with some interest by all the parties interested.

Off to Chicago. General Crook, it is expected, will leave for Chicago by the first of next week, where he will assume control of the Division of the Missouri. He will be accompanied by his aides, Lieutenants Kennon and Greene, both of whem have been promoted from the position of aides-de-camp to that of aides to the major general. This promotion is attended with an increase of salary. The departure of these young gentlemen will leave a vacancy in the office of drill master in two of our local military companies, the Omaha Guards who have been under the instruction of Lieutenant Greene and the Creighton Guards who have been taught by Lieutenant Kennen.

Major Benteen, formerly of Fort Duchene has been transferred to Fort Niebrara, where he will await inquiry into his application for retirement which is based upon physical disability.

Victimized, But Not Revengeful.
The startling expose of Prof. Morand published in last Saturday's Bee, has been copied into some of the leading journals of the country, but more prominence in some cases has been given to Prof. Martine's connection with the matter than pleases him. The BES had been in possession of the facts long before Prof. Martine came to Omaha, and only waited for his arrival for additional corroboration. In his injerview with the reporter the professor had admitted the reporter the professor had admitted his knowledge of the charges against Morand, and had talked freely about the matter, but did not expect his talk to get into print, for although Morand has defrauded him, he does not care to have a public barade made of ic, por does he wish to appear to be taking a revengeful course toward him. In some of the papers the credit of the expose is given entirely to Prof. Martine instead of to Brookes, the father-in-law of Moran'.

'hands on your pocketbooks'' would not be a bad maxim for ruralists visiting-the city and doubtless a few Omahans could profit by the precept. There are several "con" mer in the city on the lookout for individuals with cash, and scarcely a day passes in which some one is not relieved of their collatteral. The latest victim is an old gentleman from Bellevue named James Shire, whs was roobed of about $25 at the B. & M. depot last night by two of the fraternity commonly known as "hustlers." Mr. Shire was walk ing up and down the platform when the pair, who were simulating drunkenness, ran into him and one of them pretending to recogniz him as an old friend, embraced the old gentleman while the other went through his pockets, taking a $20 gold piece and about $5 in small change. Not until they had passed around the corner out of sight did the old man discover his loss and then it was too late, as the birds had flown. Strange as it may appear, the deed was committed under the very notes of a number of Pinkerton specials who failed to "tumble" to the proceedings.

eedings. Two very smooth characters from Kansas City who are not wholly unknown to the po-lice arrived in the city yesterday and were at once put under surveillance. One is a large, well-built individual, the other a neat little fellow who looks like a railroad man Their particular "lay" is the "express game" and two or three times have they been arrested, but for lack of proof discharged. They will probably attempt their little game while in the city.

A Ballet Girl's Nerve. Joe Frank, manager of the "Zozo Magic Queen" company, took occasion Tuesday afternoon, without the customary two weeks' notice, to give Miss Arline Athens the grand fire. He thought that all that was necessary was to inform her to quit and that would settle it. But Arline, who is a charming little blonde, and who took a conspicuous part in the marches and the ballet, proved a de cidedly recalcitrant personage, and she bluntly informed the arbitrary Joseph that she not only wanted her back salary, amount ing to something like $40, but two weeks' pay in addition, as well as a ticket back to New York. Then she wanted to know what she was discharged for, and the manager told her she had violated the rules of the company in going out with gentlemen callers, and that going out with gentlemen catters, and that she was altogether too permiscuous with her affaires du cœur, and that he was tired of her. Arline's blue eyes here began to corruscate, her yellow hair to bristle, and she told Mr. Frank that he was a preand she told Mr. Frank that he was a pre-varieator of the deepest dye, an egregious ass, and a traitor to his country. Then she turned on her French heel, and her little feet went pattering down to Justice Ward's of-fice. Here she swore out an attachment, and in the evening Constable Stein levied upon a portion of the receipts of the house, $104, to satisfy the coryphee's claims. Learning of this Frank sought to compromise the matter by offering to renew Arline's contract for the ball B e of the season, but the ballet dancer wasn't to be caught with such chaff. This, of course, all made the manager very warm, and in the evening about 9 o'clock he was thirsting for gord. In his revengeful search he happened at this juncture to meet Mr. John Rolley, advance agent of the New Magdalen company, who was a friend of Arline's, and who had direct with her the line's, and who had dined with her the previous evening. A few words passed between the two, when suddenly Rolley cut loose with his right and landed quite handily on Frank's checks. Recovering himself, Joseph made one of his famous rushes at John, but instead of succeeding in his maddening effort to get in a blow, his aldermanic paunch collided with John's boot, and as the wind left his body in one great gust, friends swooped down upon Rolley and carried him away. After this exciting episode Frank was hotter than ever. He was fairly incandescent, but everybody connected with the affair is still alive. He threatened to stop his show in case the money lewied upon by Constable Stein was not turned over to him, but upon the sturdy minion of the law informing him that in case he did this he would seize the whole shears. he did this he would seize the whole she bang, Magic Queen and all, he grew as calm as a midsummer morn, and went away and drowned his sorrows and vexations in apollonaris water. He subsequently called on Justice Ward and had the hearing of the case set for next Saturday, but there is little probability of his putting in an appearance, as that will only entail greater expense and

STRIKE, RATES AND STRIKERS. AMONG UNION NEN.

At the headquarters of the brick.layers' union yesterday, the scene was about the same that has been witnessed there every morning since the strike. There were quite a number of unemployed men around some of whom claimed they were to go to work today at the rates demanded by the union, while others claimed that they had no fear but that they would soon secure employment. One of these, and one of the oldest and best known bricklayers in the union said that about sixteen members had gone to Denver in search of employment, and that some of these had returned because, at present, there is a scarcity of brick in that place. The wages paid there is five dollars for eight hours' work. Those who returned, however, had gone to work in South Omaha, at union rates, and in Lincoln, where five dollars are being paid for nine hours' work. "Didn't the bosses offer the union men five dollars for nine hours' work in this city!" asked the reporter.

"They did at first," was the answer, "but "They did at first," was the answer, "but they don't do so any more."

SEVEN DOLLARS PER DAY.

"I want to correct an impression which has got out," said the same informant. "The men on the North Omaha sewer, are not working ten hours a day. There are four men on that job and two of them, Jim Conjer and Lou Burdick are the contractors. ler and Lou Burdick are the contractors. They have sub-let the job, and they and the two men working with them are members of one union. Those men are getting $7 for eight hours. If they work more than eight hours a day it is necessary to do so because of a bad bottom, and then they get double wages. If they lose a half day white waiting wages. If they lose a half day wante waiting on the bank, because of a bottom, they get on the bank, because of a bottom, they get paid just as if they were at work."

SCABBING HIM.

"The brickmakers have told you that they did not refuse to sell bricklayers, brick. That is not true. I myself tried to buy some from Joe Deiss' father, and what do you suppose he wanted to charge me! Why, $11 per thousand! Just about as much as brick in a wall quent to be worth."

This matter was brought to the attention of the brickmakers later and a man said that Deiss, Sr., was endeavoring to get even with the brickmakers because they "scabbed him" the brickmakers because they "scabbed him" me time ago. "What do you mean by scabbing him!"

asked the reporter.

"Why, the bricklayers' union fined Deiss $100, which he had to pay. The offence was that he sold brick to Fox, who was employing non-union men on his sewer."

"Were the brick sold to Fox, direct?"

"No; they were sold to another man who got them for Fox," was the answer.

GOOD AND HAD ONES.
"Some of our men have left the city, pos-"Some of our men have left the city, possibly one hundred in all," said another member of the union, "but last night at our meeting we counted up and found that we had about one hundred and iffty union men working all over town. There is a good deal of work now being done in basements and upon chimneys. Of course we'll win. It makes no difference how many men have come in from abroad. Last spring there were more newcomers amongst us than have come here this year to the contractors.

Those who have come here since this strike Those who have come here since this strike are almost worthless. There are about fit teen good men among them and the rest you wouldn't pay $2 a day.

Superintendent Blake, of the New York Life Insurance company's building, said that when work was reprinted on the same it would be by men who would receive only $4.50 for nine hours. He could not state the day when they would go to work. It was a big job and could not be started without some delay.

A CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY. The Council Bluffs Site Favored By

the Omaha Committee. The committee for the board of trade that visited Council Bluffs some days ago to confer with committees there in reference to a location for the establishment of Chatauqua assembly, have prepared the following report which will be submitted at the next meeting of the board of trade: To the Omaha Board of Trade-Gentle-men: Your committee, appointed to visit Council Bluffs and examine the so-called Chautauqua assembly grounds there, with reference to their adaptation to the uses and purposes of such assembly and their availa-bility as a place of investment by those interested in the project of such assemblies, on this side of the river and in this vicinity, hereby report.

That they have visited such grounds in company with a committee of the board of trade of Council Bluffs, consisting of Mayor M. F. Rohrer, chairman, Lucien Weils, F. O. Gleason, C. W. Waite, E. L. Shugart and J. E. Harkness, secretary of the assembly and a committee of the assembly composed of Colonel L. W. Tullys, Thomas Officer, A. S. Hazleton, John Danforth, C. R. Alien, H. W. Tilton, J. E. Harkness and George R. Wheeler, who met your committee at the Broadway depot in that city and took them in carriages through and along attractive streets and avenues to the place selected for the assembly, which lies about two miles from the center of the town and to the northeast.

At this point the party left their carriages and traveled over the grounds, which consis of about eighty acres and are located where steep ravines, precipitous hills and winding valleys abound, all well wooded with valu-able trees and made especially attractive by the variety of its surface and its numerous points where auditoriums or amphitheater could be easily fitted up for the hearing ac commodation of many thousands. At the foot of these hills, from the top of which a beautiful view of the Missouri and its valley are seen, are abundant springs excellent cold water, the rivulets from which excellent cold water, the rivulets from which flow across a level, grassy plateau or meadow of about fifteen acres into a winding creek, of late known as Chautauqua river. Across the east side of this plat along the river run two railroads side by side, the C. M. & St. P. and the C., R. I. & P., both of which propose to locate depots at this point, as your committee are informed, in case the project of establishing a Chautauqua assembly at the place indicated is accomplished. This plateau would furnish capital fields for base ball, lawn tennis, cricket and other out-of-door lawn tennis, cricket and other out-of-door games and athletic exercises and, here too, an artificial lake for boating, bathing and other summer water sports could be made a comparatively moderate expense.

Your committee are informed that a com oany has been organized and incorporated under the name of "The Council Bluffs As sembly," with a capital stock of $50,000, with the 'privilege of increasing the same to $100,000, divided into shares of $5.00 cach, in $100,000, divided into shares of $5.00 cach, in aid of the proposed project and that of this stock Council Bluffs has already subscribed nearly $25,000. It is proposed by this company to purchase the land, for which an option has been secured, to put the grounds in shape and erect such buildings as will make it ready and suitable for holding the first Chautauqua assembly in the summer of 1889. This it is estimated will require an output This it is estimated will require an outlay of fully $60,000, the one-half of which, fo stock in this company, Council Bluffs people pledge themselves to subscribe. No point it the union it is believed is so favorably situ the union it is believed is so favorably situated as this to secure an immense gathering of those interested in popular education of this class. Its location midway between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and midway between the northern and southern states, in the center of the republic, and its case of access by rail, from every direction, insures the attendance of multidudes of pleasure seckers, tourists and travelers from every region, both abroad and at home.

Your committee do not besitate to say that

Your committee do not hesitate to say that the founding of such assembly at this poin will be of great benefit to the material as wel as educational interests of Omaha, as its con summation will in all probability, judging from the success of these institutions elsewhere call to its attendance each summer from seventy-five thousand to one hundred thous and people, all of whom would represent the most intelligent and enterprising, and many of them the wealthiest classes of this find other lands. The educational advantages which would be thus secured to our people your committee do not feel called upon to name, as they are well known. In conclusion your committee say that they fully and cordially endorse the Council ffs and Omaha Chaute project as herein outlined, and recommend to the people of Omaha and vicinity its ma terial and hearty support. The interests of Omaha and Council Bluffs are fast becoming more and more mutual, and the completio this summer of the wagon bridge between the two cities, now so well under way, wil add another link to the business and socia chain which already unites them. Your committee would further recommend,

1. That the name of the corporation re-ferrred to be changed so as to read, "The Council Bluffs and Omaha Chautauqun Assembly," and that seven of its twenty-one trustees should be citizens of Omnha. That the pledge of the two railroads named and other roads interested be secured of liberal subscriptions in money of say $500,000.

3. That committees be appointed to solicit subscriptions from Omaha people and others who are, or should be, as it appears, equally interested with the residents of Council Bluffs in securing the location selected, and thenceforward in promoting the success of this great and most worthy enterprise-this people's university. All of which is re-spectfully submitted. CHAMPION S. CHASE, W. J. BROATCH, G. M. HITCHCOCK, N. MERHAM,
