New spring goods at Reller's.
Not an arrest was docketed yesterday.
Superior court took an all day recess yesterday on account of lack of business.
Benjamin T. James and Mary O. Crispin were yesterday wedded at Squire Brisson's office.
The fine Hambletonian colt owned by Mat Harle died yesterday. He lately refused an offer of $1,000 for him.
In Squire Schurz's court yesterday afternoon Thomas Hendricks pleaded guilty to an assault on Adolph Kolb and was fined $5 and costs.
A number of carcasses of dead horses are lying just west of the driving park. The hot weather will soon cause the location to be easily discovered.
Father McMenamy celebrated the nuptials of Mr. Patrick Moran of Crescent and Miss Beatrice Carrigan on Wednesday at St. Francis Xavier's church.
The meeting of the school board last evening was unproductive of any decision in regard to the adoption of a plan for the new building as Mr. Hain was not present.
The first of a series of dime entertainments was to have taken place at the Episcopal church last evening, was postponed on account of the rain until next Monday evening.
The demand for telephone communication with the new court house is increasing rapidly. It seems that the public might be accommodated, as the expense would not be great.
Andie Rinehart, a pupil at the institution for the deaf and dumb, died yesterday of malarial fever. He was aged twelve years. The remains will be taken to his home in Oregon, Ia., for interment.
But a half dozen business men braved the storm of last evening to attend the board of trade meeting. The special business for the meeting was called, will come up for consideration next Tuesday evening.
Mr. Carl Kloppe and Miss Mary Geise were united in matrimony Wednesday evening at the home of Conrad Geise, a brother of the bride. The Rev. Mr. Blasius, of the German Lutheran church, officiated.
Hoffman, who was arrested at Neola for stealing M. Lanzendorf's horse, and for burglarizing Beckman's livery store, yesterday was brought before Justice Briggs. He waived examination and was taken back to jail in default of bonds, the bail being $2,000 in each case.
Conrad Lanzendorf has had his stolen horse returned from Neola. The animal was badly used by Hoffman, the thief, who rode it so hard that it dropped from exhaustion. It was also injured by being run into a barbed wire fence, but none of the injuries are permanent or very serious.
W. J. Clark, who is charged with bigamy, has returned to the city and has apparently settled his matrimonial troubles, his wife returning with him, and she and her relatives being now satisfied that the previous Mrs. Clark has no claim upon him. The case will probably be dismissed.
Until the completion of the new parochial residence Father McMenamy will reside at the corner of Eighth avenue and Sixth streets, to which place he has already moved. The buildings now upon the old church site, on Pearl street, will be torn down and the material used in the erection of the new parsonage.
W. A. Benn, the new pitcher of the home club, is in daily practice, and is throwing a very swift ball. His curves are most puzzling, and the friends of the club are enthusiastic over him. To-morrow's game will be the first time that the boys have an opportunity of meeting one of the league teams, and a more correct idea of their comparative merit can then be formed.
The evening papers are in a hot fight over the county printing. The Herald has charged the Globe with doing wrong, and the Globe has charged the Herald with doing wrong. The Herald used to charge the county 30 per cent more than the Globe's present prices on county work. Tables of figures are presented, and billings are given for the year.
George Williams, one of the denizens of the "Row," appeared at public headquarters yesterday morning, and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Billy Walters, one of the gamblers, charging him with assault and battery. It seems that Walters took offense at the fair but frail one on the preceding night, and beat her most unmercifully. An officer was sent out to gather him in, but he was nowhere to be found, having slipped out for Denver on an early morning train.
It is pleasing to note the fact that the new boiler for the counting factory is being made here. Carter & Son having the contract and the iron fronts being cast by Sprague & Co., another Council Bluffs concern. Such examples of encouraging the manufacture of enterprises already established here should be followed. One citizen who shouts the loudest against Council Bluffs getting a $30 write up in an Omaha paper has sent an order for moldings, etc., for his new house, refusing to allow the Council Bluffs factory to furnish them, though guaranteeing as good work for less money.
Under the new organization of the district court there is almost a continual session here, and it seems that what little excuse there was for the existence of a superior court is now done away with. It is an expensive piece of judicial machinery, and the showing of receipts is by no means pleasing to the taxpayers. Many are of the opinion that a police court would answer the purpose, and that there is not enough other business to warrant a $200 judge, clerk and other expense. The district court can be reached so easily now that those wanting law can get a trial quick enough.

Personal Paragraphs.
Alderman Waterman is able to be out again, though not rugged.
John Y. Stone and family, of Glenwood, were at the Hechtel yesterday.
William Townsend, of Rockville, Neb., who formerly had an elevator at Mineola, was in the city yesterday.
W. W. Davenport has so far recovered from his brief illness as to be out and about attending to business as usual.
Dr. A. J. Manville, of Bowling Green, O., was here yesterday on a brief visit to his old school-mate, Wooster Fay. Dr. Manville is en route home from a California trip.
C. E. Stone, familiarly known as "Squire Stone," is lying quite ill at his home corner of Vine and Bryant streets. He is not only an old resident but one of the earliest members of the bar of this county.
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kimball yesterday returned from their trip to Hot Springs, Ark. They have been absent three weeks, and the trip has had a healthful effect on Mr. Kimball's health, besides proving enjoyable for both.

Among the Iowaans at Kiel's hotel yesterday were: A. H. Smith, Spencer, George W. McCord, Panama; A. W. Wyman, Keg Creek; Peter Korth, Portsmouth; L. D. Woodmansee, Macedonia; J. H. Patterson, Council Bluffs; J. J. Taylor, Silver City; S. Dye, John Dye, D. W. Borritt, G. L. Stempel, John Harding, E. H. Luetz, all of Macedonia; Henry Pieper, Minden; John A. Beck, Neola; M. Wyland, Minden; George E. Fisher, George Wolf, George Reichart, Underwood; W. W. Oakes, Silver City; J. A. Plack, Elmhurst; C. M. Crispin, Council Bluffs; C. W. Menden, T. A. Eaton, Persia; L. Hettinger, Silver City.

They Are Placed On a Strong Cleveland-Pusey Platform.

Brighter Prospects For the Motor Line—An Unpaid Check Causes Trouble—The Board of Trade.

The Democratic Delegation.
The county democratic convention met yesterday afternoon at the court house to select thirteen delegates to attend the state convention to be held at Dubuque, May 2.

George A. Holmes called the convention to order, and Hon. W. H. M. Pusey was made chairman. He opened with his customary attempt to impress the convention with the importance of their acts, on this, the dawn of a great struggle. Potawatamie was the banner democratic county of the state. Thirteen delegates would be sent, not more names—men who would go. The Dubuque delegates would gladly welcome them. The coming campaign would be a matchless. Cleveland has established his reputation for such selection. He now stood at the head of social circles. Democrats were proud of Grover Cleveland, and pretty proud of Frankie. After the applause had subsided business proceeded. J. E. McAninch, of Carson, was chosen secretary.

John P. Organ, J. R. Diederichs, Pat Lacy, Sylvester Dye, J. P. Prouty, were named as committee on credentials.

While the committee was in conference Senator Gronewer was called for, but declined to make a speech.

C. C. DeHaven occupied part of the time of waiting by reading from a morning paper the account of Senator Voorhees' speech.

Dan Carroll was called out to state that the first great object was to secure the nomination of Grover Cleveland, and the next that of John Black, the third object was to secure the selection of such men as W. H. M. Pusey as one of the delegates at large to the national convention.

W. H. Thomas was selected as assistant secretary.

J. P. Organ presented the report of the committee on credentials. Fourteen townships were unrepresented. The report was adopted. The temporary organization was made permanent.

The work of selecting thirteen delegates was given over to a committee of five, named by the chairman as follows: A. W. Wyman, J. H. Henry, Thomas Bowman, Pat Lacy and S. G. Underwood.

While the committee was in its room Mr. N. Whitteley presented a resolution, one endorsing Cleveland and especially his message, the other endorsing Mr. Pusey for delegate at large to the national convention. He did not want the delegates instructed for him. If chosen he wanted it to be the result of a spontaneous expression. The war cry of the coming campaign was to be the dismantling of white slave labor. This was greater than the democracy, and the party should choose its representatives freely. He would at any time gladly give way to any of those brave men who had fought for the party for many years. He knew he could rely on the boys here if he needed them, and did not want them instructed. Both resolutions were, however, unanimously adopted.

The committee reported the following delegates: W. H. M. Pusey, Sylvester Dye, J. H. Henry, D. A. Farrell, J. M. Wyland, R. S. Hart, S. G. Underwood, J. H. Plummer, W. C. James, A. W. Wyman, William Gronewer and E. H. Gurneill.

The delegates appointed were authorized to cast the full thirteen votes in case of the absence of any of their number.

The Odd Fellows.
The sixty-ninth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship was celebrated yesterday with becoming eat by the order in Council Bluffs. The day was fair, and early in the afternoon the streets were thronged with spectators. The local lodges assembled in the lodge room of No. 49 and about 2 o'clock formed line in front of the hall on Broadway where the Omaha delegations were afterward received. These arrived on the 1:30 dummy and were escorted from the depot to the main line by Canton Militant No. 6, the local uniform degree of the order. The full line formed about 2 p. m., and in the following order: Dolly's band, fifteen pieces; Canton No. 6, fifteen persons; Keystone lodge No. 115, of Omaha, and Omaha lodge No. 2, seventy-four; Hawkeye lodge No. 184, Humboldt lodge No. 174 and Council Bluffs lodge No. 49, 152; Second infantry band of Fort Omaha, twenty-two pieces; Neola lodge and the lodges of Persia and Silver City, twenty-two pieces; the entire parade was made up of about three hundred Odd Fellows in line. The line of march was up Broadway to Pearl, south to the junction with Main, north to Broadway, east to Second, north to Washington avenue, west to Sixth, south to Broadway and thence to Masonic Temple, where the exercises of the day were held.

The hall was well filled with a most attentive audience. Upon the platform were Dolly's band, the speakers of the day and the veteran members of the order. H. D. Bloomer acted as chairman and announced the programme. After music by Dolly's band, prayer by the Rev. E. M. Fleming and the opening of the order by H. Bloomer gave the address of welcome. He reviewed in brief, the history of the order since its organization at Baltimore in 1819. He presented a glorious future for the order as a legitimate result of the principle upon which it is founded, and extended a cordial welcome to all visiting brothers.

He was followed by Prof. James McNaughton, who delivered a very entertaining and instructive address. Lack of space forbids a reproduction here of the entire address, which would prove highly instructive to the readers of the Bee.

The Social and fraternal band favored the audience with a choice selection after which the Rev. Mr. Fleming spoke briefly upon the moral obligations of the order. Mr. G. L. Jacobs spoke also upon the practical side of Odd Fellowship. After another selection by Dolly's band, Messrs. G. E. R. T. Hunter and L. C. Hough gave short addresses, which were interesting and were well received. The closing ode finished the formal exercises, after which some time was spent in handshaking and the recital of personal experience among the older members of the order. The visitors were magnificently entertained, many of them being taken in charge by the resident Odd Fellows, while others, who chose to do so, were taken to the Creston house, where an elegant supper was spread for all.

The band and street manipulation of the line was under the charge of John Templeton, marshal of the day, and Ed Brown as assistant marshal. The day passed without casualties of any kind and was spent in the most pleasant manner possible.

The festivities of the day closed with a ball.

Disputing Over a Safe Investment.
When the boom opened here so enthusiastically a year ago this spring, one of the new firms of real estate dealers was that of Peterson & Co., of Omaha, who opened an office in the building now occupied by the Manhattan. They purchased the property of Henry Eisenman, and after occupying it a short time, sold it to Kimball & Champ, who have since rebuilt and improved it greatly. George Rudin claims to have made the sale for Peterson & Co., and that in consideration of his services that Peterson & Co. agreed to give him the new safe which was in their office and which cost about $300. He claims that one of the firm promised him the safe, and went so far as to give him the combination and promised to bring over the keys from Omaha in a day or two. He did not do so, and in a short time the other partner appeared here with men prepared to take the safe away. Rudin replevined the safe, and the adjustment of the dispute as to the ownership of the safe was left to the arbitration of Judge Carson yesterday. There was some hard swearing done by some one for the testimony as to the transaction was directly contradictory. Rudin stuck to his original story and the firm flatly denied it. The safe is in Rudin's possession and it is with Judge Carson to decide as to who has the right to it.

Collared For a Check.
During the boom of '87 E. T. Patterson & Co., of Omaha, opened a real estate office in this city and apparently did a rushing business. Connected with the firm was a young man who was known by all as Mr. Peterson, brother of E. T. Peterson, and the "Co." of the firm. The firm did a great deal of apparent business here and at Sioux City as well. At times they had large sums of money on deposit at all these various places.

During the month of August young Peterson, as he was known, called at one of the city banks and asked that his personal check for $50, drawn on the First National bank of Sioux City, be cashed. This was done, the Sioux City bank was notified, but the check was returned, protested. He then appeared at that bank and no money, at that time, on deposit there. The check was sent to Omaha for collection, but the bank to which it was sent notified the bank here that E. T. Peterson pronounced the check a forgery and would not pay it. The matter has laid quietly until yesterday, when the signer of the check was in the city, called here as a witness in the Peterson-Rudin case. A warrant for his arrest was sworn out by Justice Schurz and an information filed charging him with forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses. The information is against Walstrom, who carried the name of Peterson while here before. He was taken to Squire Schurz's office, but that official was not in and he was taken to the county jail. A preliminary hearing was afterward had, and the prisoner will have a full hearing today. In order to square the matter without litigation and with good prospects of success.

The Motors Will Move.
A letter has been received by one of the city councilmen, requesting that body to rescind all action taken with reference to moving the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific tracks. The reason assigned for the request is that a compromise has been effected by which the motor line is allowed to cross at Ninth avenue. General Given is the author of the letter which makes the statement authentic so far as the action of the railroad is concerned. Mr. Reed is expected here the first of the coming week, and will bring the two motors which will furnish the locomotive power of the road. All reasonable question as to the early opening and operation of the line will be settled by the time of his arrival, which fact the people will rejoice. What action the city council will take respecting the request of the railroad has not yet been determined, but in view of the many complications which have arisen, the safe policy will probably be followed of rescinding no action until the motor line is surely allowed to cross. The council is so cautious, to be satisfied, then the council will probably rescind their action.
