OMAHA LIVE STOCK.

Cattle.

Monay, May 7, 1888.

The week opened with heavy receipts of cattle, nearly two thousand head of fresh receipts being on sale. The feeling on the market was weaker and there was an apparent intention on the part of buyers to bear prices down. They did not succeed, however, in buying handy little cattle any lower, but heavy and coarse cattle were easier. One bunch of very fancy heavy cattle reached $4.50, the top paid on this market for some time back.

Hogs.

The hog market to-day was active and the receipts liberal. The better grades of heavy hogs sold steady, as high as $5.50 being paid by the Boston buyers. Light and mixed hogs were not quite as brisk, and the market closed 5c lower on that kind. The hogs were all sold and the morket closed early.

Sheep.

The receipts were heavy but there was nothing doing on the market.
