ceded. Missouri Pacific and Richmond Terminal proved an exception to the general list an1 developed considerable strength. The latter advanced ⅝ and the former 1 point. The White-Pearsall party sold St. Paul heavily, and during the last hour a report came from Philadelphia that a stock broker there who was long on Reading had failed. This induced free selling of that stock, also of New England and several other stocks, and sharp declines were recorded. Last sales were at inside figures and reached a decline of 2¾ from the outside price of New England, and 2¾—net 2½—on Fort Worth & Denver and 1¾ on St. Paul, ⅛ on Reading, 1⅛ on Rock Island, ⅜ on Louisville & Nashville, Canada Southern and Northern Pacific, ⅜ on Western Union, and ¼ and Union Pacific. Richmond Terminal was ⅝ higher. The sales included 73,800 shares of St. Paul, 68,300 Reading, 21,600 New England, 16,300 Union Pacific, 6,400 Northwestern, and 7,000 Lackawanna. The total sales were 280,000 shares.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK.

Cattle.

Thursday, May 24, 1888.

There were hardly enough cattle here to make a market, only nineteen fresh loads being on sale. The light receipts had a stimulating effect upon the market which was strong and 5c higher on desirable grades. About all the desirable cattle here were sold before the close.

Hogs.

The receipts of hogs were heavy again today, although there was a falling off of about fifty loads as compared with the day before. The market opened quiet and the buyers generally were bidding lower prices. In some cases hogs sold as much as 5c lower, but taking the market as a whole it could be called barely steady. The hogs were all sold by 1 o'clock, the market closing strong.

Sheep.

There were no sheep here to make a market.

Yesterday the stock yards contributed over $207,000 to the Omaha clearances, which is shown by the records of the banks. In addition to that amount there are a good many additional items which will find their way into the clearing house, which will make the total all of a quarter of a million of dollars.

The following notice, to go into effect immediately, was issued to-day by the B. & M.: "Taking effect to-day, May 23, rates as published on live stock will apply on 34 foot cars and discount as follows, will be made for small cars. Thirty-three feet and less than thirty-four, 97 per cent. Thirty-two feet and less than 33 feet, 94 per cent. Thirty-one feet and less than 32, 91 per cent. Thirty feet and less than 31 feet, 88 per cent. Twenty-nine feet and under, 85 per cent of published tariff rates." This will have the effect of reducing the rate as the road will now haul 34-foot cars at the same rate as formerly charged for 30-foot cars and other lengths in the same proportion.
