A Quiet Week Among the Votaries of Pleasure.

GUARDS RECEPTION. OMAHA

Miss Bailey's Party - Concert and Dance of the Triangle Lodge-Other Social and Musical Events-Notes.

Review of the Week.

A reaction from the deluge of society events of a week ago appears to have set in and the past week has been a comparatively quiet one socially. On Monday evening oc curred the reception of the Omaha guards. one of the most brilliant events in Omaha so cicty for some time. This with Miss Bailey's party on Wednesday evening and the triangle hop at Goodrich's hall of Thursday night make up the leading social events of the week. Decoration day and the receptions held by "Mr Sampson of Omaha" and his Bulgarian singers on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at Boyd's have occupied the attention of the beaux and belles and left little time for society duties.

Omaha Guard Reception. The Omaha Guards made their formal bow to the public on Monday evening and astonished their visitors with the proficiency they have attained in the manual of arms and marching evolutions. The flower of Omaha society was present, and the exhition tendered them was one of the finest ever witnessed in the city. The first thing pre-sented was the company drill, and as the boys, with the precision of veterans, re sponded to the orders of the captain they were greeted with applause. In their hand some uniforms they presented a fine appear ance. Captain Scharff as a commanding of fleer is the right man in the right place. The battalion dri'l and dress parado next followed and the company was divided into three small companies, with Captain Smyth as colonel, Lieutenant Mul-Smyth as colonel, Lieutenant Mul ford adjutant, Sergeant Reed sergeant major; Captain Scharff, captain of compan A; Lieutenant Harvey, captain of compa B; Lieutenant Lowe, captain of company The drum corps took a prominent part in th performance. An inspection of arms was made by Governor Thayer and General The music furnished by the con pany band was splendid. A number of visit-ing officers from the United States army were present in full uniform.

Miss Bailey's Party.

Among the pleasant social events of the week was the party given Wednesday evening by Miss Dolly Bailey at her home on the corner of Nineteenth and Grace, in honor of her friend Miss Zildah Warner, of Onawa, Ia., who has been her guest for over a week past. The preparations for the event were in every way perfect. The furniture was removed from the parlors to give free scope to the dancers, and the carpets were covered with waxed canyas. Japanese lanterns li up the pretty lawn and added much to the up the pretty lawn and added much to the brilliancy of the event. A huge punch bowl did excellent service throughout the evening in slacking the thirst of the dancers, and ice cream and cake were also served wheneve ie guest felt inclined to partake of such re freshments. Five well-trained colored waiters attended to the wants of the guests. Dancing was the principal feature of the occasion, some thirty-five short numbers bei danced. The gentlemen appeared in ful dress suits and some of the costumes of the ladies were elegant. Miss Bailey did her self proud as a graceful and charming host

Triangle Concert and Hop. The Triangle lodge of the K. of P. gave one of their delightful concerts and dances at Goodrich's hall, on Saunders street, Thursday evening. The attendance was the largest ever known in a social gathering in that place, fully 250 couples being in attendance. The concert was held in the lodge room above and was well received. The opening selection was a vocal solo by Mrs. Clapp, and her perfect rendition captured the audience When the prolonged applause had ceased Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Tiel appeared in a vocal duet that was also encored. Miss Daily, in her Irish recitation, kept the audience in a continual ripple of laughter. Her brogu was perfect. The musical performance by the Powell family was one of the most interesting features of the programme, Mr. Powell and his eldest son playing on violins, his wife presiding at the piano and two young children managing a drum and triangle Charley and Daisy Higgins, for their plane and violin solo, were treated to a second er core. The other features which were equally meritorious consisted of a violin and piano duet by Mr. A. E. Morris and Miss Clara Roeder, a vocal solo by the Misses May and Lulu Callahan and a recitation by little Blanche Powell. After supper an adjourn ment was made to the room below where dancing was indulged in until about 1:30 a . Ice cream, strawberries and other r entertainment given by the Omaha Turnverein at the Boyd last Wednesday evening. The frequent outbursts of enthusiasm elic ited from the large audience by the various exercises showed an appreciation of the splendid work being done by the society. The exercises on the parallel and horizon tal bars and the horse showed a proficiency rarely attained even by professionals. member semingly determined to outdo his fellow turner. It was a grand exhibition o physical strength toned by grace and case of The address by the Hon. John M. Thursto was a masterpiece, couched in that gentle man's most happy terms. He gave a shor history of the founding of the Turner asso ciation and touching on the excellence of the German army, due to turn training, brough his hearers down to the present and showed them the value of such training to our youth of to-day. He made the strongest argument possible when he made mention of the fact that he would sooner see his boy come home from college a powerful athlete, prepared only to force his way through the world, than to come home with all the learning possible and his physical system a wrock. The most finished performance of the evening was the club swinging by the instructor, Mr. H. Kummerow. The plaster tableaux, repre-senting Greek mythical groups, were also well received. The flag exercise and marching by the following little girls was one of the prettiest features of the evening: Luiu Wittig, Ida Andres, Maggie Griffith, Minnie Rohrer, Micnie Andres, Ida Windhinn, Emma Thiele, Lizzie Stricker, Hattie Kem-merling, Dora Satzman, Lillie Bernhard, Alma Stein, Mathida Stein, Louise Krelle, Francis Dillman, Minuie Heimrod. Pleasant Partnerships.

Miss Fannie Horwich was united in marriage to Mr. N. Ginsberg at Germania hall last Sunday evening before an assemblage of over two hundred friends. Rabbi Benson performed the ceremony in the quaint, old orthodox fashion, which was very interesting. A silken canopy is upheld by four young men; the bridal party approached from the left to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and under this canopy the ceremony was performed, concluding with the break of the glass, representing the frailty of The bride was attired in a handsome dress of cream moire silk skirt, with cream plush draping, court train and natural flow-ers. She was attended by the Misses Minnie Levi and S. Bergen, the former wearing a cream moire silk dress with cream cashmere drapings and natural flowers, and the latter a dress of apple green plush trimmed with steel pasmentric and natural flowers. Messrs. Ike Horwich and Henry Levi at tended the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the assemblage repaired to the upper rooms, where an elegant repast awaited them. At the table some fifteen congratulatory telegrams from friends abroad were read. After the supper there was dancing and a programme of sixteen numbers was gone through in a delightful manner. The bride is the daughter of Mr. M. Horwich, of the Omaha iron and metal yards, and is well known and popular in Omaha society. The groom is a son of Mr. L. Ginsberg, the wholesate dry goods man, and is also well known and popular. Among those present from abroad were: Mr. L. and Miss S. Great Night In Council.

Ordinances on their first reading were taken up as a prejude to the adjourned meeting of the city council last night, when Councilman Lee presided in the absence of President Bechel, who is confined to his home by illness.

The protest of Andrew Bevins and others against the standing of cabs on the northwest corner of Douglas and Thirteenth streets, was referred to the committee on Councilman Hascall, in turning in his pro-test against the establishment of the Page soap works in the First ward, declaring it a nuis ance on the strength of a two thirds vote of the residents of the ward, said that he did not do it with a view of discouraging manu facturers from locating in the city. Hascail claimed that he had letters from Kansas City, St. Louis and other points showing that soap factories similar to that of the Page works were a nuisance. Councilman Sayder deemed Hascall's action as paying homage to one man, Mr. Kountze, who wanted to fence in the First ward and keep out every enterprise that did not suit him. Mr. Snyder and assurances from a large number of the property-owners of the First ward that they were in favor of the ward that they were in favor of the works. "If the works should prove a nuisance," maintained Mr. Snyder, "the council can declare them such and close them up." He was in favor of giving them a chance. Councilman Hascall defended his report, and said the First ward was not ready to tolerate the "nuisance." If other wards wanted it they were welcome to it.

Councilman Kierstead insisted that some Councilman Kierstead insisted that some factories were not a nuisance, and pointed out that the famous Kirk soap works, of Chicago, and that of the Babbitts, of New were right in the heart of the cities mentioned, and that no evil effects were noticeable from them. Mr. Page had purhased property, was going to employ a large number of men and should be fairly treated by the council.

After a lengthy debate the report declaring the soap works a nuisance was adopted by a vote of 9 to 2, Councilmen Snyder and Kier-stead casting the dissenting votes. When the committee on gas and electric lights send in a report favoring the payment f $6,472.95 for the lighting of the city the months of January, February and March, from the general appropriation ordinance, it caused Councilman Kierstead to object against it. He thought the mayor would yet at if it was passed. Councilman Ford was willing to give the mayor a chance to de it, as was Councilman Lowry. Councilman Manyille favored the payment of the claim for the reason that the council would be in a better position to declare its independence of the company. He referred to the fact that the council were continually ordering the company to lay mains throughout the city, and deemed it a cheeky process when the city owed them so much money.

Councilman Alexander gave his opinion that the gas company is entitled to its pay, but so long as a dispute exists between the company and the city he thought it should be left to the courts to settle.

Councilman Haccall had no doubt that the Councilman Hascall had no doubt that the contract was in force and that the company

Councilman Lowry thought the council should adopt the report of the committee. allow the claim and leave the mayor to decide upon its merits. He moved that the report of the committee be adopted, which was carried, Bailey, Boyd, Burnham, Counsman, Ford, Hascall, Lowry, Manville, Snyder and Van Camp voting in the affirma-tive, and Alexander, Kierstead and Lee the Councilman Lowry read a long statement to the effect that the fire and police commis-sion were robbing the fire fund for the benefit of the police fund. He said the figures presented were his personal property, and re-fused to give them up when asked to by Councilmen Alexander and Burnham so that the council could investigate if anything was wrong. Mr. Alexander maintained that Lowry had made only a one-sided examinaion of the matter. Councilman Hascall advised Lowry to give up his figures to the committee on the police and fire, that they may be enabled to investigate them.

Councilman Lowry refused to give up the document, remarking that he had private memoranda on the pages. If the police committee wauted them they could go to the comptroller and get them from him. No further action was taken in the matter, and the ordinance estab-lishing Capital avenue from Twelfth to the lishing Capitol avenue from Twelfth to the east line of Fourteenth as a market place was read for the third time and passed. The council then went into a committee of the whole. Mr. Guy C. Barton appeared before the committee and said that the ordin ance cailing for the putting on of conductors and the houting of cars would work disaster to the horse car company, which had been under a heavy expense in putting the road in a systematic running order. The grades of the city were such that they could not run cars that were such that they could not run cars that were necessary for conductors to preside over. If the company was required to employ conductor they would have to put on new cars at an outlay of $105,000, and an additional expense of $2,000 per annum for conductor hire. Mr. Barton was anyone that the was auxious that the council should now de-cide forever that with the present grades of the streets that it would be impracticable for street railways to put on heavier cars than are now in use. He also said it would be impossible for the company to heat the cars in conformity with sanitary laws.

Councilman Ford expressed himself as op-posed to the ordinance, and gave it out that no newspaper editor could influence him into oting against his ideas. Councilman Alexander pointed out that the railroad company was dilatory in keeping up improvements, and gave assurances that if the matter was not settled to night he would make a speech on it at the next meeting. Councilman Kierstead moved that when the committee rise they recommend that the ordinance do not pass. The motion was

The ordinance regulating the pay of policemen was next considered. Councilman Hascall insisted that the requirements of the ordinance were contrary to the charter, and se recommended that when the committee rise they report so. Carried.

Upon the reconvening of the council the above action of the committee of the whole was adopted, and the plumbers ordinance as amended was adopted. Personal Paragraphs.
