CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, June 5 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- UATTLE-Out of the receipts of cattle there were probably 2,500 Texans, leaving only, say 6,500, natives of all sorts on sale, among which were scarcely 4,000 that were any way good. Buyers hustled out early and made strong bids on the start, not leaving the pens if they could buy the cattle. Hence, the salesmen generally quoted suitable cattle from strong to a shade firmer. able cattle from strong to a shade firmer. New York was reported very firm and Chicago had all the good cattle in sight as the receipts in St. Louis and Kansas City were largely Texans. Common natives and canning stock sold down alongside of Texans, the latter selling substantially lower than on Friday last. There was literally nothing doing in stockeas and feeders. Veal calves were slow, the supply fair and prices about the same as last week. Natives strong; good to choice beeves, $1.75@5.29; mediums, $4.50@4.60; inferior to fair, $4.10@4.40; cows and mixed, $1.90@3.60; stockers and feeders, $2.50@4.10; Texans, $3.00, slow and weak; steers, $2.75@4.25; cows, $1.90@2.50.

Hogs—Business was brisk with an upturn

Hogs-Business was brisk with an upturn of 5c all around, best heavy making $2.60 with a few Philadelphias at $5.65, the bulk of mixed $5.45@5.50, and light sorts of 160 to 160 lbs averages, $5.45@5.50; featherweights of 130 to 150 ib averages making $5.30@5.40.

FINANCIAL. New York, June 5 .- [Special Telegram to

THE BEE.]-STOCKS-Although the stock market was extremely dull, with the trading confined to less than six stocks, there was a noticeable change for the better in the orders First prices were generally from 1/4 to 1/4 per cent above Saturday's final quotations and further advances were recorded during the early dealings and Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific advanced 3/2 per cent, and Reading and Northern Pacific preferred and Northwestern % per cent each. The gains in the remainder of the list were only fractional. Toward midday there was a small increase in the trading but the advance was checked. The shorts were the chief buyers, but there was also some bull manipulation in Union Pacific. Advices from Washington were not very favorable for the immediate passage of the relief bill and after an advance stock came out more freely and most of the early appreciation disappeared. The St. Paul statement for May showed a decrease of $100,250 but it had little effect on the market, the entire fluctuation being confined to 14 point. Coalers continued strong until the close and recorded gains of 1/4 to 1/4. Pullman jumped into prominence as a strong stock and advanced 2 points on the buying of a few hundred shares. The rest of the list did nothing of importance. President Inman, of the Richmond Terminal, has outlined the following plan for the alliance of the southern roads: First, the board of control, consisting of the president, or in his absence, of the vice president, of each road party to the agreement; second, the board or committee of arbitration to consist of three arbitrators, to be elected by the board of control. This board will have jurisdiction over all matters pertaining to rates, and also to all vuestions pertaining to the building of new lines and extensions by any road liable to interfere with the businesss of any road represented in the board. The statement of the Northern Pacific for May is fully as good as the the friends of that property have claimed and showed an increase of $477,896, and from July 1 to May 31, a gain of $2,583,613. There was good buying and last sales were at outside figures, showing an advance on preferred over Saturday's close of 1%c. The other active stocks closed firm at the top, recording net gains of 3/4 to 13/4c. Burlington and Rock Island were up 1 point each, Oregon Transcontinental 11/4, Pullman 11/2, Reading 14, St. Paul 16, Union Pacific 16. The total sales were 106,025 shares, including 25,600 of Reading, 18,600 Union Pacific, 13,900 St. Paul, and 7,600 Missouri Pacific. GOVERNMENTS-Government bonds were leries of Versailles to pay homage to the new king, there was no leal canine subject left to mourn over her dead master. The dog, whose absolute at-tachment the king had won, he deliber-ately shot in a fit of cold-blooded brutality. Barbier, in his journal, relates how "the king had his dog taken to his hunting lodge; he fired at her and wounded her. She ran and fawned upon him. He sent her from him a second time, fired at her again and killed her.

win at trente et quarante will probably try to recoup themselves by backing their fancy in the Italian lottery, says the Longman's Magazine of Rome, Italy. An infallible plan for winning has been communicated to me by a learned Florentine, but I forgot some of the details. After incantations, which you can get up for yourself in Petrus de Abano, you have a little dinner for two laid on Christmas Eve or the eve of St. John. One of the plates must be blackened with smoke on the bottom.

sit down and utter Aves and Pater Nos ters till the door flies open and in rushes Saint Pasquale somebody, (I forgot his highly respectable family name.) He is dressed all in red and fetches you two swinging boxes on the ear, for he is angry at being summoned from paradise. As he is doing this you hand him the plate with the smoked bottom, on which he writes a terno of numbers with his finger. You plank your bottom dollar on the terno and (if the government pays up) you are a made man. This is only a rough sketch of how to win. I have discovered no other way. The lottery is a beneficent institution. Nobody wins, perhaps, but everybody expects to win and lives in happy dreams of purchasing steam yachts and of existing in idleness and opulence

Thus the lottery is a Paradis Artificial; we have only the turf in England, and to expect to succeed in spotting winners

Travel in 1820.

A few miscellaneous items of intelli-gence recorded for the benefit of travelers in 1820 may not be without their interest for the fortunate travel-ers in 1888, says the Cornhill, Eng., Magazine. At that time the passenger by diligence from Paris to Brussels had to sleep two nights on the road. The fare for the journey, viz.: 70f, does not seem exhorbitant, especially when we bear in mind that it included bed and board en route. It is true that for this payment you had no right to a separate chamber; there might even be several beds in it, but an extra fee would generally secure privacy. And the waiter only expected 6 sous as a pourboire. Where are such waiters nowadays? From London to Geneva, including dinners, suppers and beds on the road, the fare was not far short of £20, while the fare to Florence was about £35. Fares by sea were perhaps not higher than now in proportion to the time taken on the voyage. Thus from Falmouth to Gibralter the fare was £38, to Malta £59, to Messina £61. But passengers had to provide their own bedding, and there was no reduction in the fares for female servants. The packets sailed "every three weeks, weather permit-ting." From Hamburg to Harwich every "whole passenger" paid £5, every "half passenger" £3. Here again female servants were counted as "whole passengers" as also were all children over six years of age.

Big Noses. The presence in the city of Lee Manano, a Japanese, says the Kansas City Times, whose nose furnishes him the means of earning a livelihood-Mr. Pamano being a smeller of tea---recalls the fact that in Japan the nose is the only feature which attracts attention. The nose determines the beauty or ugliness of a face according as it is big or little. This is probably due to the fact that difference in noses constitutes about the only distinction between one Japanese face and another. The eyes are invariably black, the cheek bones high and the chin receding. In Japan a lady who has a huge proboscis is al-ways a raging beauty and a reigning belle. There are few large noses among the natives and lucky indeed is he or she upon whom nature lavishes one. In all Japanese pictures representing supposedly beautiful women the artist turns himself loose on the nose.
