Milwaukee 4, Omaha 1.

MILWAUKEE, June 7 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-Milwaukee and Omaha played their last game of the series to-day. Burdick pitched for Omaha and was supported by Nagle, who Manager Selee signed yesterday. He caught for Oshkosh last season. Struck was in the box for Milwaukee. After two men were out in the first inning Milwankee scored twice on two hits, a muff of Miller's and Nagle's wild throw. Another was added in the second on a wild throw of Miller's to first to catch Lowe, who made three bases on the error and scored on Strauss' hit, Both pitchers were hit hard, but sharp fielding all around kept the hits down. Omaha batted viciously in the sixth. making three singles, but they netted nothing, the men being caught out on bases. A base from being hit by pitcher, a steal and Strauss' two-bagger gave Milwaukee another run. 'The Omahus' first run was made in the eighth on a wild throw made by Strauss which gave Annis first and second base. He got third on a sacrifice and stole home when Burns flew out. It saved them a shut-out. Score:

How It is Worked.

WASHINGTON, June 7.-[Special to THE BEE.]-The commissioner of pensions has been following pretty lively a practice, of late, that he originated when he came into office, which will bring him into general contempt in the eyes of men in congress, if it does not get him into trouble. Nearly every pension case that comes before congress has been refused in the pension office, and the committees in the house and senate invariably call for the testimony bearing on the case and in the possession of the pension office, so as to conduct a regular investigation and ascertain if the cases have been rejected because of lack of merit or on the ground that there is no law under which they may be allowed.

On last Friday night there was a very hot debate in the house over a pension bill. General Black was severely criticised in the report made by a member of the senate committee on pensions, and which report was adopted by a member of the house committee. After the debate had progressed for some time and General Black's friends had grown very hot under the collar, the bill was laid aside without action. The feeling which was engendered led some republican members to make an investigation of the case, and it was ascertained that it had originally been rejected at the pension office, but that after the senate com-mittee had reported the bill favorably and presented the smarting criticisms which were presented by the house committee, and which were adopted by the house committee, and which was the source of so much contention, Gen-eral Black directed the pension to be allowed and he did so without, it is said, further in-vestigation, a reopening of the case or proper authority to make the allowance. He simply wanted to head off congressional action. Further investigation has revealed the fact that this practice has been followed in very many instances. After a pension is refused at the department and the case comes up in congress officials at the department watch it closely. If it receives prompt action in the senate and a strong case is made, the department very es up the case and : f the bill receives a majority report at th hands of the house committee and there is any prospect of its passage there. This is done for the purpose of shearing the republican senate of credit for pension legislation. t is stated that a republican senator intends to compile a number of cases of this character and to give the commissioner of pensions a dressing down.

Systematic Embezzlement. Bostos, Mass., June 7.- (Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Detectives are now investigating what is claimed to be a systematic plan of embezzling goods from one of the largest printing concerns in the city. Many of the concern's oldest employes are said to be implicated, and the value of goods stolen is estimated at $200,000. The mode of operation is said to have been for those employed in different departments to steal stock and ship it to other houses in a similar line of trade. They also curried off copies of books in process of construction and smuggled them into the hands of binders who were in the "ring," and from the bindery they were placed upon the market.

A Sensational Case.

Cutcago, June 7 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-A sensational suit involving the names of some of Chicago's best known poople has been begun. It will cuuse quite a flutter in social circles. The plaintiff is the divorced wife of Edward H. Waldron, the well known board of trade man. The defendant is the present Mrs. Waldron, from whom the plaintiff seeks to recover $100,000. The bill of particulars are not yet filed, but it is understood the cause of action is "tresit is understood the cause of action is "tres-pass." This may mean alienating her hus-band's affections. The plantiff lived with Waldron upwards of twenty years. In June, 1887, she procured a divorce, and in the following November Waldron married Mirs, Joseph Alexander, widow of E. A. Alexander, the railway supply merchant. Mirs, Alexander is said to be worth nearly $750,000. The plantiff's attorneys will say $750,000. The plaintiff's attorneys will say nothing yet, but the defendant's attorney and the defendant himself say they cannot imagine why the action is brought unless as a scheme to extort money.

CULBERTSON, JUNE 7.- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-Harry B. Hull, who was murdered here by John B. Hunter on Tuesday was buried to-day. The prisoner, at the resi-dence of the sheriff, was besieged by a crowd of 200, who were anxious to lynch him.

The Swindlers at Large.

The confidence men who operated so suc cessfully Monday and Tuesday have thus far escaped detection, though some of them were traced as far as Columbus. Dr. W. H. Monroe is said to be a thoroughbred and wanted in several places. He is said to have "played" the good people of Wyandotte, Kas., in the role of a minister, and on coming to Omaha he shaved off his full beard.

CHICAGO, June 7 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-The Cowboys had great fun yesterday. Captain Hengle, hearing of Anson's success with a colored mascott, procured one whose face is of as deep a hue as the end of Fred Pfeffer's famous wagon tongue bat. But he was a dismal failure. The Cowboys came down on poor little Dunn with a swoop, coached their base runners with Comanche yells, and after prolonging the pitcher's misery until the seventh inning they knocked him out of the box. Long was more effective in the eighth, and though two men scored, the runs were not earned.

A Novel Case.

WASHINGTON, June 7.-[Special to THE BEE. ]-An attorney here who represents a number of steamship companies has a very novel case on his hands. The last congress authorized the president to issue proclamations granting to countries reciprocity in shipping matters; to exempt from tonnage dues the ships of all countries entering our ports which have given American ships like exemption. Germany and some other countries took advantage of the proposition and exempted American ships from any of the usual shipping charges in the way of tonnage dues, etc., and the president issued proclamtions for the authorized reciprocity.

The commissioner of navigation has not enforced the provisions of the proclamation. The countries which gave us reciproca favors are taxed the same as before the is suance of the proclamation several months ago. This attorney went to the president and made complaint, but the president said he was powerless to do anything; that the power vested in the commissioner of navigation was absolute; that there was no appeal from him, and that there was no power ex-cept in congress to direct him. The secrecept in congress to direct him. The secre-tary of state made the same acknowledge-ment. Here is an officer appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate, who is regarded as an inferior officer, and yet is beyond the direction of the power that created him. This attorney made investiga-tion to ascertain if he could not bring suit in the United States courts to compel the comthe United States courts to compel the commissioner of navigation to enforce the pro-visions of the proclamation, but he has about come to the conclusion that there is no redress for him.

The Nebraska Chautauqua.

CRETE, Neb., May 7 .- | Special to The BRE.]-For several weeks every mail has brought numerous notices of attendance at the assembly, and orders for "a tent in a good, shady place." Almost every applicant for a tent is urgent about its being pitched in a "shady" place, and the adjective is almost invariably repeated and emphasized. These orders began coming as early as the 1st of May, and their number increases in proportion as the time for the assembly draws nearer. Of late the superintendent of grounds has been kept extremely busy answering queries and locating tents. All the most desirable places are being rapilly taken, and the prospects are that late applicants will be obliged to betake themselves to the open campus, or to the grove, which is something like a Sabbath day's journey northeast of the pavilion. The assembly grounds are now in the possession of contractors and builders. Several cottages have been completed, and work on cottages have been completed, and work on Danning hall is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Both the Prosbyterians and the Methodists are pre-paring for the speedy building of handsome headquarters. The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. will begin on their headquarters within a few days; so also will the G. A. R. Messrs. Fitch and Jones, of Hustings, pur-pose creeting a cottage, and Mrs. Lowman, also of Hustings, has lately let the contract for a similar building.
