A Burglat Bound over.

John Charles was examined before the police magistrate yesterday on the charge of breaking into S. C. Sample's room, 2313 Douglas streets, and stealing a clock and other articles. The judge placed him under $1,000 bonds to appear before the district court to answer to the charge of burglary.

Two Swedes Hurt.

A number of Swedes were employed yes terday excavating in the cave on the line of the B. & M. railroad near Papillion, when a land slide occurred. Two men whose names could not be learned were caught in the sliding earth, and were painfully injured about their heads and bodies. They were brought to the city and properly cared for John Welsh, the Burglar.

The preliminary hearing of John Welsh, who was charged with burglarizing Nisson. Alford & Co.'s store, 812 North Sixteenth street, on last Tuesday night, was finished yesterday and resulted in his being put under $1,000 to appear before the district court. SEARCHING FOR ITS FATHER.

Doleful Story Told By a German Woman to the Commissioners.

Frank Zimmer was called into service by the county commissioners yesterday afteracou to interpret the woes of a German woman who, with a baby a few months old in her arms, had called to disclose the insincerity of man and a woman's weakness. She said that she was employed on a farm a few miles out from the city as a domestic, and made the acquaintance of a young man who worked on an adjoining farm. By him she was betrayed, and led from the paths of vir-tue. She represented that the babe was the tue. She represented that the babe was the offspring of their illegal relations, and that her betrayer had broken promises to marry her, and had come to Omata where his par-ents reside. The woman was in search of them to disclose her sorrowful story, and after being furnished with the desired infor-mation she took her departure, being assured by the commissioners that if the young man refused to provide for the care of her-self and child that the power of the law would be brought to bear upon him. Shetland pony for sale by George A. Keeline, Council Bluffs.

A MISERABLE MAN.

Killed by the Cars and Nobody Knows How It Was Done.

THE BEE of a few days ago contained an account of a man being struck by a locomotive on the Union Pacific road at Seventeenth street and badly cut and bruized on the limbs, body and head. The victim was carried to St. Joseph's hospital, where he was attended by several doctors, the Union Pacific physicians turning him over to the care of City Physician Ralph. They held that he was not an employe of the road, had no business on the track and the company could wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the man

His remains were brought to Drexel & Maul's but they were in such a bad condition that they were yester-turned over to County Agent Ma-honey for burial. There was something mysterious in the man's conduct and it seems that it is not known by what engine or train he was injured. It is also claimed that there are no witnesses to be had of the accident, and to ascertain the circumstances of the case, if possible, Mike Maul, who is acting coroner in the absence of John Drexel, in Cincinnati, has empaneled a jury and will held or, becaust this overlag at 7 cheminati, has contained a fury and wind hold an inquest this evening at 7 o'clock. The consideration was $1,800, of which sum Carson paid $500 down and gave a chattel mortgage for the balance, and the contract stipulates that until the same is paid Frank will hold the ownership of the property.

The Last of Old Reeves.

Soon after THE BEE's exposure of "Dr." Powell Reeves, last winter, that arrant fraud sued Dr. McMenamy, of this city, for libel, claiming that it was he who had written the articles making the exposure. Shortly after this Powell skipped and Dr. McMen-amy went into court and moved that as Powe'l was a non-resident he be compelled to give bonds for the cost of the suit. The bonds were never given and at the instance of Attorney Ambrose, the case was Wednesday dismissed. Sie semper quacks.

New York Politics.

William M. Speer of the New York Sun is taking a jaunt through the west, preparatory to the coming campaign, and has been in this city for the past twenty-four hours visiting friends. In speaking of the political outlook in New York state and city, he has no hesitancy in saying that everything will be democratic this year, both national and local. He considers Depew the strongest man in the republican party in New York state, and with him the party might make a good light for the state. Hewitt and Cooper will unfor the state. doubtedly throw their strength into the campaign for the administration, as they are both after office, and must do that to win.

A Flying Witness.

A physician of this city told a BrE reporter yesterday that a witness of the Barrett assault had been in his office a few moments after the occurrence. He had been there a short time before consulting the dector, and left for uptown to make some dector, and left for upfown to make some purchases. He allowed his satched to remain in the doctor's effice and later returned for it in a hasty manner, saying that he did not want to be locked up for six months as a witness. He then rapidly detailed that he had seen some railroad mon knock a "seab," as they called him, down an alley way and that he hurried away through an alley and by an engine house lest he might be de-tained from his home. The alley passed through must have been that near the City steam laundry, which leads to engine house steam laundry, which leads to engine house No. 2. Where the man lives, the doctor did not know

District Court. VAN ETTEN'S NERVE. When Judge Doane was calling the assignment of cases for trial in the main court room yesterday, and reached the case of Van Etten against Abrahams, the willowy form of the incorrigible David Van Etten, ex-member of the county bar, stepped from near the clerk's desk in front of the judge's bench, and began ad-dressing the court in regard to the hearing of dressing the court in regard to the hearing of the case. The crystalized nerve of the man almost had a tendency to demoralize the court, members of the bar and even the pendulum of the clock quivered and threat-ened to stop, the furniture in the court room blushed, and Judge Groff leaned back in his chair exhausted. The speech of the ex-at-torney was low and inaudible. It was very short and his attorney walked him out of ELECTMENT SUITS The case of Libby against Mueller was called before Judge Groff and heard for the first time without a jury. The case is for a writ of ejectment brought by the plaintiff for the possession of some land. It was the first trial of the case, and a vertict was given in favor of the plain-and a verdict was given in favor of the plaintiff. The trial of the case is an illustration of the old farce maintained by the courts of the present time and brought down from the common law of conturies ago, that an eject-ment case must be tried twice. The first trial is always a more form, and the verdict is entered at once, without any trial at all. Sometimes it is for the plaintiff, sometimes for the defendant. In any event, it has no effect on the second trial, and establishes no precedent in the case.
