Arrests of Pensioners to Widows of Soldiers.

Congress has just enacted that pensioners heretofore or hereafter granted to widows of soldiers of the war of the rebellion shall commence at the date of the death of their husbands. This legislation favorable affects all claims of widows of the late war, which have been in the pension office on or after July 1, 1890, and which have been allowed to commence from the date of filing the claims, but will not favorably effect the cases of such widows as were filed before July 1, 1890, and which have been allowed, pension having already been granted in those cases from the date of the death of the husband. The commissioner of pensions gives notice that in the settlement of claims under this law, already allowed, no formal application will be required, and the pension office will not be necessary. Widows entitled under said law need only write a letter giving name, postal office address, and certificate number, and the claims will be allowed with as little delay as practicable. This legislation was recommended by General Black in his last annual report.

FOUR MEN MAKE A FIFTH DRINK AND THEN GO THROUGH HIM.

John Morton fell in with four companionable fellows yesterday, and they celebrated their good fellowship in a round of saloons. The four were Ed Heyan, Thomas McVey, George O'Brien and Charles O'Hara. They evidently thought Morton was flush, and proceeded to get him drunk. He was finally landed at the malt house of Metz's brewery, and the plotters continued to rush the growler from a saloon at Seventh and Leavenworth streets, when Morton became so full of drink of his own will the growler poured the beer down his throat. He soon fell into a heavy stupor, and the highway went through his body. He was taken from an inside pocket a bag and made a division of its contents.

It required nine Pullman coaches to accommodate the Nebraska contingent to the national republican convention at Chicago, which pulled out of the union depot at 6:30 last night and headed for the Iowa side, where another car of enthusiasts was picked up and the train sped on over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. The first nine cars were occupied by the Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice, Columbus, Schuyler and North Bend representatives, and there were a large number of ladies and children in the party. During the day the local republicans kept open house at the Millard, and dispensed lavishly refreshing punch, fragrant cigars and toothsome edibles. The visitors during the early hours were composed chiefly of home statesmen and politicians, who quietly talked over the ever and partook of the good things furnished.
