A delivery wagon runaway created a momentary breeze on Broadway yesterday morning, but as the flyers were stopped without doing any damage, the ripple quickly subsided.

The application of the Lake Manawa motor company to dissolve the "Milwaukee" corporation was not argued at Avoca yesterday. It will be heard by Judge Deemer to-day.

The family of Chris Beck is sorely afflicted at the present time, five members being ill with intermittent fever. Two of them, one of whom is the wife and mother, are not expected to recover.

The new drill corps recently organized in connection with the republican club held its first meeting last evening, and will hereafter meet every Tuesday evening for drill.

The city marshal and his deputies are busy serving notices of the abatement of nuisances and also the special assessment notices for the curbing that has just been completed on lower Broadway between Streetsville and the river.

Sunday afternoon, Samuel Barton, of Lewis township, and Mary A. Heft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Heft, on avenue B, were united in marriage, Rev. Dr. Cooley, of the Baptist church, officiating. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents.

This entertainment will be given at the Broadway Methodist church, on the evening of the 27th inst., for the benefit of St. Bernard's hospital.

Monday night, about 11 o'clock, Mrs. Edith, wife of Edward Landbeck, passed away from this life, aged about twenty-four years. Two children, one an infant a few hours old, are thus left motherless, and the sympathy of the community will be extended to the husband and little ones. The funeral services will take place this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the residence, corner of Damon and Hill streets.

John P. Weaver holds the sub-contract to do the brick work on the new Washington avenue school building, and Contractor Murphy states that the pulverized iron and tin work will also be done in this city. The brick used will be manufactured here, and all of the work done by home workmen.

This policy of favoring home labor and enterprises is highly commendable. It is not yet decided whether to get the stone for the building from Anamosa or Joliet, but it is probable that the latter place will furnish it.

The funeral of the late John Newton will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from the Broadway Methodist church. The deceased was sixty-three years of age, and had been a resident of this city for the past thirty-three years. He had been suffering for some time prior to his death from cancer of the stomach, and was able to take but very little nourishment, gradually sinking to death. He was accompanied with all of the other friends in this vicinity, and leaves a large number of friends to mourn his death.

Should Have One More Knot. Mrs. W. H. Lewis is the name of an unfortunate woman living at the corner of Avenue A and Eighth street who is left to mourn the duplicity of a man whom she supposed was her lawful husband, and the veil was rudely torn aside. Several days ago Lewis left the city, leaving his wife, a little girl and several creditors. It now transpires that he has three wives, and Mrs. Lewis No. 1, who is the mother of the little girl, came from Omaha Monday and took her daughter away with her. This abandoned woman is without means or friends in this city and money is being raised to send her to her home in St. Joe. The police are investigating Lewis' record.

Garbage Gathering.

The city has been endeavoring for several heated terms to clean up the streets and alleys by publishing notices signed by marshals, mayors and other titled personages. These proclamations have a healthy effect on the cash drawers of pet political organs, but do not effect little else.

Citizens who are ordered to remove garbage from their yards and alleys are threatened with dire penalties for neglect or disobedience, yet they are not provided with any way of removing the offensive accumulations. A private residence can have a barrel in the back yard, but there is no way of getting it emptied except by private contract. One can hardly find any one willing to take such garbage away at any price.

It is not the city marshal for information as to how this garbage can be disposed of. It would like to tell but he does not know. His orders are simple and men people clean up or else file information against them. He has to leave it to the citizen to hunt up some one as best he can.

Aside from the expense of having a team make a special trip for each little lot, those who attempt to do this work have no place to dump the garbage and trouble is liable to arise about that. The situation, in brief, is that a man must remove his garbage or be fined. He can hire no one to remove it, cannot remove it himself and there is no place to which it may be taken.

The council is being urged to district the city, employ or license scavengers, select some dumping ground, and enforce cleanliness. Each heated season has brought this same trouble to the notice of the city, but no season has yet brought any solution. Small groans more plentifully echo more source.

A Motley Gathering.

Judge Aylesworth opened his eyes in surprise as he took his accustomed seat in police court yesterday morning, to see Maggie Peterson amble ponderously forward and request in dulcet tones to be released. "Why," said his honor, "that is what you asked yesterday, and I let you go. How does it happen you are here again?" Maggie did not deign to reply, and the information was obtained from another source that she was found at 7 o'clock on the preceding evening at the "Q" local depot as drunk as it is ever possible for a mortal to be. Captain Dyer made the arrest, and he was compelled to support the droozy form's head on his manly bosom for the full space of an hour and twenty minutes, until the patrol wagon could answer a call to the scene. Several came to his relief. She was in possession of $1 and a railroad ticket, and the court ordered Chief Lucas to take her to the depot and see that she left the city on the first train.

Riley Bradshaw, a repulsive looking idiot, was a recent victim, and the case was adjourned to Friday morning. He is in some way, as he was in danger of being killed. He is in the habit of frequenting the alleys of the city, and is a most vicious and malicious man. He does not obey their orders to halt, and slips his hands into his pockets in such a suspicious manner that the police are never far from him. He has a gun on him, and he has been known to shoot at a man who was passing by. He has a man for setting traps, having burned the depot at Gleawood a few years ago, and when arrested Monday evening, was trying to set fire to the rubbish around the transfer depot. The court ordered him locked up until he could describe the case.

Mrs. Beech, the poor, lone widow who figured a few days ago in the proceedings with reference to the case of Clara McKinley for keeping a disorderly house, was again on hand and informed the court that Clara had failed to obey orders, and seek green fields and pastures new, but was still conducting herself in such a manner as to bring disrepute to the whole house and neighborhood. She wanted to swear out a warrant for "Old Man Kemps," the owner of the property, as she believed he was "schlocks" with the McKinley woman. She was accompanied, and an officer was dispatched to order Mr. Kemps to appear in court this morning.

Knocked a Scab Off.

A case was tried before Judge Aylesworth yesterday afternoon in which some of the "Q" scabs took a prominent part. From the testimony of the numerous witnesses examined, it appeared that the bitterly greivous feud that exists between the brass-finders of the strikers and the scabs, Monday evening a trio of the latter, Burns, Arnold and Middleton, met two union men, Lyons and Koch, and Koch of the Union Pacific, on Pearl street, and a few questionable compliments were exchanged, which soon led to blows. Although the scabs were in the majority, they stood up to the rack but a very few minutes before taking to their heels. They testified that they "ran to call a policeman. Several witnesses were examined on each side, and the court room was filled with interested spectators. After briefly reviewing the evidence, the court announced his decision that Lyons was the aggressor, and accordingly fined him $5 and costs, amounting to nearly $30 in all. One of the scabs posed as a "blend game fish," and created considerable merriment by his valorous assertions that he "never would run," and that he was unable to account for his remarkable sprinting of the preceding evening.

Kansas City and Omaha.

Commencing June 1, 1888, the K. C. St. Jo & C. B. R. R. Co. will run their trains No. 2 and 4 between Kansas City and Omaha, Council Bluffs and the U. P. bridge. They will arrive and depart the same as heretofore.

M. M. Marshall, Gen'l Agent.

Tipton has bargains in real estate.

The City Compels Obedience.

The city council has evidently determined that it and not the various railroads centering in the city shall determine what matters come properly within their jurisdiction. At various times these roads have been notified to remove all obstructions from the Indian tracks, these obstructions being the piling used in the construction of bridges. No attention has been paid to these notices and yesterday the marshal filed information against the local representatives of all the roads crossing the creek. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Agent M. M. Marshall, and the hearing was set for Monday next. Today warrants will be issued for the following persons: A. F. Ewell, J. C. Mitchell, S. J. Stevens, F. J. Cleveland and John Lewis. If service can be secured all these cases will be tried on Monday next.

City Council Proceedings.

The city council met last evening to consider paving and grading bids. These were canvassed, but no action was taken. The whole matter was laid over until this (Wednesday) evening.

The Grand Hotel.

The hotel committee has telegraphed the Chicago syndicate to come on at once and proceed with the erection of the hotel. No answer has yet been received and it is said that the members of the syndicate are arranging minor details in regard to the work before leaving Chicago. The letters and dispatches of the Chicago gentlemen show that they acted in good faith in the matter, and now that the stipulated conditions have been complied with, it is probable that the work will be pushed through with a rush.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

The City Council.

The usual crowd accompanied the council down into the cellar Monday night, but the heat and foul atmosphere soon drove them up again, and comparative rest and quietness reigned. After routine business on motion of Councilman McMillan, the rules were suspended and Attorney Edgerton explained that the charges preferred against Police Judge Reuther were presented in an imperfect manner, inasmuch as they were preferred by a citizen instead of a member of the city council, as the ordinance governing the question requires. He would ask, in order that his client might have a fair show to reply. No action was taken and the finance committee reported favorably on a number of bills presented at the last meeting, and they shared the old fate of being "placed on file." The committee reported unfavorably on the proposed bridge across the creek at Albright's avenue. An ordinance to give away a fifteen year franchise to an electric light company was strongly opposed by Councilmen McMillan, Rafferty and Burke, and found in Councilman Bayliss its sole defender. Sharp words were spoken, but the ordinance once again was placed on the committee. Routine business followed and bills amounting to $1,000.00 were presented for the month. Then the charges against Judge Reuther were once more taken up. Attorney Edgerton again explained that there was no inclination on the part of his client to shift any blame to the council, but he wanted to know specifically the charges against him. He also wanted the charges to be preferred by a councilman as the law required, because it would have no malice. Mayor Sloan and Councilmen Smith and McMillan were of the same opinion. City Attorney David and Councilman Bayliss (of the firm of David & Bayliss) argued contrary. It was finally decided to have an investigation on Wednesday night, and questions of issuing subpoenas and cover and the city attorney instructed to draft the proper ordinances for the issuing of bonds for water, viaducts and other purposes. The meeting then adjourned until Wednesday night.

A Sad Case.

A sad case of desertion and destitution came to light yesterday afternoon. Two ladies who were looking for a house to rent made their way into an apparently empty one on Twenty-seventh street, just north of the school house. While looking over the rooms they ascended to the second story, where, to their surprise, they found a young girl lying on a broken-down sofa with a newly-born babe at her side. Only a few pieces of torn quilts and blankets afforded her a covering, but she seemed unwilling to make any statement. Inquiry showed that her name was Jessie Sedlacek, and that for some time she had been employed in various hotels and boarding houses. Thursday she obtained work in the Metropolitan laundry, but on complaining of feeling ill was allowed to go home Friday night. When next seen she was found as above, but some charitably disposed persons have taken the matter up and she is now better cared for.

Notes About the City.

This year the assessment will foot up to $2,500,000. Albright is to have a lock-up, and the old calaboose will be moved to Council Bluffs and Councilman McMillan made the statement that none of the city ordinances were good, and a great many think the same thing. Two of them have already been found defective, Charles Singer sent a downy leaf fan to the city council chamber. They were appreciated.

Moses Pierce having neglected to do the scavenger work, James H. Hayes was appointed to his place. It costs the city from $80 to $100 per month to furnish Omaha vagrants with 25-cent meals.

Knights of Labor object to work on the streets along side of convicts, and petitioned the council to that effect, but their petition was tabled and they will have to do it or quit.

Railroad News.

Beginning yesterday the Chicago & Northwestern will receive and deliver freight from their depot at Fifteenth and Webster streets. The road has for some time received and delivered from the Union Pacific depot.

Superintendent Dickinson, of the Union Pacific, is confined to his house with an attack of illness contracted while out on the road last week. It is said to be nothing of a serious nature, however.

Deny the Report.

The Bee of Money contained an item regarding the squandering of money at Faro which was to be paid the striking B. & M. employes by the brotherhood paymaster last week. Yesterday one of the local committee men at this point called at this office and left the following, which is doubtless the true statement of the case: "I am sorry to see to the Editor of THE BEE: I see a statement in yesterday's Bee that the paymaster for the brotherhood had spent the money to be paid to the men at the local office. Now I wish to state that the man who told this exceeds all previous liars, as every engineer and switchman at this point has been paid up to date for two years and never knew him to pay cards of any kind. PHIL SEIDENSTECKER."
