The funeral of Mrs. J. T. Hurley occurred yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier's church. Many friends followed the body to its final resting place. The procession, as it passed up the way to the cemetery, was pronounced to be one of the largest ever seen upon the streets of Council Bluffs.

Manager Reed, of the motor line, is building a new car near the depot. It will be finished to-day, and will carry about one hundred and twenty-five passengers. The other motor will be shipped immediately, and there will be no delay in their operation.

The Wabash injunction against the motor line will not be pushed, as all the matters regarding the crossing have been amicably adjusted. A regular time table is being prepared and stops will be made at Third, Sixth, Ninth, Twelfth, Sixteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues, and at Kay's landing. The trains will thereafter make runs at only those places, to take on or discharge passengers.

The case of J. S. McDonald, the scab engine-charged with killing the engineer, was called before Judge Ayres yesterday morning. The defendant waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury in a sum of $10,000, which amount was furnished by the railway company, and the prisoner was released. There are three members of brotherhood now present to testify for the state, which fact had its effect on the defense.

A few of the representatives of the city papers held a meeting in the parlors of the Ogden house yesterday morning, and organized a press club. W. H. Conson, of the Nonpareil, was elected president; J. M. Matthews, of the Globe, secretary; and E. W. Westcott, of the Herald, and E. W. Kappell, of the Nonpareil, treasurer. The business men of the city are to be asked to furnish a club room for the organization.

The fourth will be daily observed at the institution for the deaf and dumb. Superintendent Rotherth and family, together with employees and a few of the students, will join in the celebration. The vacation series of the pupils to their homes, but Superintendent Rotherth wisely decided that the national holiday should be observed as it is a state institution, and as such should not pass the day without recognition. A large new flag will be unfurled, and in the evening there will be fireworks of various kinds.

They will give a quadrille and party at Masonic Temple hall, and will serve ice cream and cooling drinks, together with an excellent supper, to those who may desire it. It is well known that these ladies know how to entertain, and no pains will be spared to make this evening pass pleasantly for all who favor them with their presence. The best of music will be in attendance. Let everyone come and bring their friends. The more the merrier. Don't forget, Masonic Temple hall, this evening.

The Work of Burglars. Yesterday morning it was discovered that burglars had been busy the night before among the residences of Demison. They cut a screen, unlocked a door, stole the contents of the residence of Mr. E. S. Plimpton. The house was ransacked pretty thoroughly and a bureau drawer was carried down stairs for inspection. The silverware was gathered up, but for some reason was not taken. The only property missing was a pair of gold bracelets. The residence of W. C. McHenry was entered by cutting a screen at an open window. Mr. McHenry's pants, coat and vest were taken into the back yard, examined and left. He lost a watch and about $31 in cash.

a man can build on grade and stay there. If the changes were made by the council there might be some chance to lay the blame upon them. They are being blamed for so many things that a council man would not lessen their popularity. The council makes few changes of grade, but the instructions of the city engineer, the diversity of employees, and the chances of election make many. It is difficult for a property-owner to prove that he conforming strictly with the grade, and even if he should the city denies that it is responsible for the mistakes of its engineers. There is no consolation to be had from a suit. In fact, the only way seems to be to keep going up and down in conformity with the mercurial fluctuations of the engineers.

The Appointment of Teachers.

At a meeting of the school board Monday evening the following were elected teachers in the public schools of the city for the ensuing year: May Davenport, Julia Sullivan, V. Reynolds, Iva Hamanauer, Katie Hinckley, Carrie Kraft, Maudie P. Smith, Sarah Shields, Mrs. Lou Garvas, Millie White, Miss L. Swan, Edie Moon, Nannie Hardin, Kate Wickham, Jose Hansen, Mary Tinsley, Elvira Zerkow, Maudie Marz, Leola Korte, Gertrude Heidenhain, Ella J. Jones, Kate Payne, Mary Duncanson, Marie B. Bell, Edie Vingling, Mary A. Filds, Laura Bishop, Mrs. Wittig, Mary Miller, Maudie De Grass, Mrs. Elsie Buell, Ida Zipp, Lena Barstow, Hetty Davis, Hannah O. Neil, E. Meses and Mrs. George Kahlan. There were also appointed, Edith H. Kelly, Maudie D. N. Wickham, Kate Hoder, Mary Sims, M. B. Curtis, C. E. Johnson, Ella M. Mahan, Ada Anstee, Lucia Young, Maudie C. Smith, Mrs. E. A. Tucker, Annie M. Russell, Stella Gross, Grace Swearington, Lizzie Conner, Clara Strawwell, Jennie Howe, Bertie Carothers, Misses Lizzie Crocker, Myrtle Boardman and H. M. Peaty.

Substitute teachers: Mary McMillan and Maud Oberholzer.

Teacher of writing: Romie Lyons.

There is usually a howling following the selection of teachers, but this time the howling is louder and more prolonged than usual. It is natural that those who failed of appointment should feel disappointed, but the dissatisfaction does not seem to be based on any means. Some of the best teachers have been left out. Some of the new ones have had no experience. It seems that the appointments have been made for the most part on the basis of party, or of friendship, rather than on the basis of merit. Some of the selections are conceded to be excellent, but the complaints made by those who have been left out are well founded. Some of the new ones have had no experience. It seems that the appointments have been made for the most part on the basis of party, or of friendship, rather than on the basis of merit.

It Pays for Everybody.

I have an unusually large stock of paint goods on hand which I want to run off. I will make up paints from this date for $5.00; usual price $10.00. This reduction applies to all summer goods. A. RITTER, 310 Broadway.

Board of Trade Proceedings.

The board of trade met last evening in regular session. A proposition was read from Messrs. Conrad & Monahan relating to moving their saw works from Janesville, Wis., to this city. Also one from P. M. Kniggenberg, of the Wisconsin Soap company, on the same subject. The former was referred to the manufacturers' committee. The latter was referred to the following special committee: Messrs. C. E. Stamba, J. B. Weaver, M. F. Rober.

The Fourth at Beck's Garden.

A grand Fourth of July celebration will be held at the beautiful shaded park known as Beck's garden, in the eastern part of the city. Miss Josephine Rief will read the Declaration of Independence. The principal oration will be by Mr. J. R. Dietrich, who will be followed by other speakers. The street cars are provided with a number of swings and other apparatus for amusement, a bowling alley, etc. A fine dancing platform, 50x60 feet, has been erected and will be in use both day and night; by those who delight in that enjoyable pastime. There will be a grand display of fireworks in the evening—undoubtedly the best display made in the city. Regular meals will be served at dinner and supper and first-class lunch at noon.

The Merriam Block.

Work upon the Merriam block will commence about the 15th inst. The plans are just completed and ready for the builder's use. An examination of these shows that the block will be handsome and admirably arranged internally. The first or ground floor will contain four double stores and one single, beside a large suite of rooms on Willow avenue, which will be arranged for banking purposes. The stores will front on Pearl and Main streets, giving two entrances to each. There will also be entrances to two elevators which will connect this story with the second and third stories. The second story will contain offices in salt, so arranged that both lighting and ventilation will be perfect. The third story will be devoted nearly in half, one part of which will be occupied by the public library. The other part will be in the rear, that it can be used by the Y. C. A. or any other organization requiring that amount of room. This arrangement of the building will, it is thought, be to the advantage of the city, and at the same time add much to the appearance of this portion of the city.

Merriam Hotel.

Another of Council Bluffs' great maidens has taken the marital vow and made most happy the heart of a worthy man. Yesterday morning at ten o'clock Miss Agnes Jeffries and Mr. Wilson E. Duncan were joined in marriage. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents on east Pierce street by the Rev. Mr. H. W. Ross. Beside the best of friends the happy couple were present a large number of invited guests. The presents were many and valuable and the feast which followed was tasty and elegant.

The bride has been prominently connected with the city's educational corps, and in the position of teacher, as well as in her private relations she has won a host of friends. These will earnestly wish for her the fullest realization of the happy hopes which crown her hour of her new marriage. The man who won her is a prosperous merchant at Pauline, Nebraska, and is well worthy of the prize he has chosen. The happy couple will immediately proceed to the home of the groom.

The Police in Shirt Sleeves.

With the appointment of the new police force came the usual craze for a flashy, metropolitan uniform. Among those who worked at the new engine was one who had objection was raised, but it was of no avail. Most of the men themselves were almost crazy to get on their official clothing. It worked well while the men were in the police, but with the thermometer in the nineties, the sidewalk was not so much on the hot side as it was on the hot side. One of these was approached yesterday with the query, "What has become of that dandy coat?" "Oh, I forgot it." Just as if a policeman could forget one of those coats after trying to endure the heat of the sun for an hour. "Well, to be honest about it, it's too blamed hot. We've asked permission to have light blouses made for summer wear, and as soon as we get these we will be in uniform again."
