A Volunteer Hose Company.

The citizens of North Omaha held a meeting last night to organize a volunteer hose company. J. J. Knight was chairman and Dr. J. McLean secretary. W. W. Dowdy, the fire chief; Messrs. Joseph Redman, James J. Brown, Edwin L. Erling, Mifflin James and C. D. Cannon were appointed a committee on finance. The company was named after Edwin Sherwood.

Bellamy Has His Wife Jailed.

Frank Bellamy, the colored man who came near murdering Officer Bruce a few months ago, got into trouble again last evening. His wife recovered him criminally in the state prison, where she was working in true feminine style, pulling his woolly locks and biting and scratching him. Bellamy called the police and had taken to the police station. The poor woman, who was soon to become a mother, was frightened almost to distraction at being put into a dark cell.

Sudden Death.

E. P. Russell, who resided at 317 North Sixteenth street, died very suddenly about 9 o'clock last evening from alcoholism. He was found by Dr. J. Keise at 8 o'clock standing up in the corner of his room with his whole body in a tremor. The doctor says he had lost his normal condition and did not know him for him. But it is believed that he had been drinking excessively of late and this with the hot weather is thought to be the cause of his death. A coroner's inquest was held and a verdict returned in accord with the causes given above. Russell was without money and leaves a family in destitute circumstances in Ottawa, Kan.

Those Presidential Portraits.

The Bee acknowledges the receipt from Dickinson & Horne, sign painters, of a mammoth oil painting of Harrison and Morton, the republican nominees for president and vice president. The canvas is 7x13 feet and the portraits, which are several feet in diameter, are artistically executed. Both are faithful portraits and are pronounced the best yet produced by persons who personally know the candidates. The work was executed by George Horne, who is young and of rare artistic taste and who, it is believed, confined his attention to art alone, would win reputation for himself. The pictures are on exhibition at the Bee office and will probably do good service in the campaign.

Another Railroad Scrap.

A party of railroadmen drove L. F. Johnson, a B. & M. agent, from a South Twelfth street carhouse across the tracks to the Burlington depot about 10 o'clock last night. One of them struck Johnson under the ear either with his fist or a club, and another threw a shower of stones, one of these bounded and struck Officer Byrnes in the leg, and another struck the officer. The assault party then turned tail, and a passing train cut off the officer from pursuing. One of the fugitives clutched the draw bar on the point of the passing locomotive and was carried away. The other, it is said, fled to the depot while gone for his lunch. He is not hurt.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Templeton Company in Sacred Concert To-night.

A sacred concert will be given by the Templeton opera company at the Grand opera house this evening. The programme will consist of "The Mikado," "The Mikado," the popular comic opera. It will be put on with the full strength of the company. Considering the weather the attendance at the Grand during the week past has been large, and the fact that the better people of the city have appreciated the summer opera is gratifying. The same company plays during the balance of the week.

AN EASY VICTORY FOR OMAHA

NOT A RUN FOR DES MOINES

St. Paul Shuts the Prohibitionists Out—Sioux City Captures a Game in the Brewery Town E a Score Exactly Similar.

Omaha 14, Chicago 9.

Yesterday was a great day for the Ombras, because they won. And they won it for keeps and by hard slugging. When the Omaha team wins a game they win it bad, and the way they kept Sam Morton's maroons chasing leather yesterday afternoon was a caution. Nineteen hits, four of which were triples and two doubles, constituted the slugfest for the Ombras. Chicago hit just a little and piled up sixteen safe raps, with a total of nineteen bases. The home team played very well, only seven errors being made. Joe Miller is credited with four of these. While Joseph played a pretty game, at times he couldn't stop a clock. Burns made an elegant running catch of Rehm's long fly to left centre, and Shannon daubed glory on himself a foot thick by his stop of Hengle's tropical liner. To detail how the runs were made would require a supplement, so here is the official score:
