Omaha's Substantial Prosperity. Omaha has reason to feel satisfied with the substantial progress she is making during the present year in the way of building improvements.

The official building record shows that 900 permits have been issued by the building inspector during the six months ended June 30, 1888.

Fully 800 new buildings of various descriptions have been built in South Omaha since New Year's.

In the way of public improvements Omaha will not fall behind her record for 1887.

The subject of public relief, the fruitful topic of pauperism and how it shall be dealt with, and the obligations of the state to care for its poor, are not new themes of discussion.

It is a queer anomaly when a plain-born American woman becomes a Duchess of Marlborough, and titled ladies of English society go into the dress-making business.

Yosemite Valley was given to the state of California by congress on condition that this beautiful park shall be preserved intact for the enjoyment of the people.

A NEW ENGLAND journal observes that the movement of young people away from the farms of that section is among the most striking social phenomena of the time.

The man who called Mr. Cleveland the "democratic cyclone" wasn't heavy on the classics. The cyclone only had one I.

Retire Them. Lincoln Daily Call.

My Country 'Tis of Thee. O. campaign patriotism, what poetical crimes are committed in thy name!

His Substitute. The name of Grover Cleveland's substitute in the war of the rebellion appears to have been lost to history.

Why Cold. The democratic charge that General Harrison is cold means simply that he wears a clean shirt and is not in the habit of being plied hours of nights in an intoxicated condition.

Study His Career. There is nothing in General Harrison's life to regard as a good example in conduct.

The "Boss." The man who casts the vote of the whole rolling mill, the fellow who agrees to deliver a prospect at the proper time, the chap who carries the word in his vest pocket, the great man who controls the county, is now standing on the street corner where he can be seen of men.

Landlord Scully. The effect of the Illinois alien land bill passed last year has made itself felt in forcing the notorious Landlord Scully to dispose of his forty thousand acres in that state.

The State and the Poor. The subject of public relief, the fruitful topic of pauperism and how it shall be dealt with, and the obligations of the state to care for its poor, are not new themes of discussion.

They're rousing, they're rousing in valley and glen. The noble in soul and the fearless in heart; At freedom's call, to the combat again; They rush with a shout to the front again; From wild Malakoff's dark forests of pine, To the Jura's fertile glades where the eagle and the eagle's nest; True sons of their fathers! the people combine.

Four-leaf Clover. The farmer's pretty daughter, Down to the meadow green, Seemed for a moment to be a flower; The clover heads were waving.

VOICE OF THE STATE PRESS. "The Gladstone of Nebraska" is the way in which the Wymore Reporter refers to General Van Wyck.

THE YLDESSE Herald is booming Hon. C. D. Casper, the democratic opponent of Statesman Jim Laird in the race for congress in the Second district.

THE annual congress of the National Prison association of the United States convened in Boston last night and will be in session until next Thursday.

THE Iowa state railway commissioners in spite of the injunction of Judge Brewer, claim that the new tariff sheet is in force.

President Cleveland is said to be looking better than at any previous time since entering the white house.

Ex-United States Senator and ex-Governor William Saragoss, of Rhode Island, is chief of police at Narragansett pier.

Speaker Carlisle chews gum, and consumes large quantities daily in the effort to overcome his desire for tobacco while presiding over the house.

Robert Louis Stephenson has gone to the Sandwich Islands. King Kalakana has lately become an author and will doubtless receive Stephenson with enthusiasm.

Editor Shepard is making a good thing out of the daily publication of bible texts in the Mail and Express. He recently received a check for $5,000 from one gentleman, who requested him to send 1,000 copies of the paper to 1,000 clergymen for a year.

Benjamin F. Butler is not forgotten; Dartmouth gives him the degree of Master of Arts—a thing which Harvard could not be persuaded to give him when he was governor.

United States Minister Strauss is coming back from Constantinople on three months' leave to help his party in the campaign. Strauss shows the direction of the political wind.

The Springfield Monitor warns the people of Sarpy county not to neglect local politics on account of the national campaign, as there are several important local offices to be filled this fall.

William Walter Phelps has sacrificed his hair, and now appears in the house with his hair parted and nicely combed back. He is said to believe that he was banged out of the nomination at Chicago.

A. W. Longfellow, brother of the late poet, is a prominent figure in Portland, Me. He is remembered by his famous brother, both in name and in nearly seventy years of age.

James Russell Lowell is the despair of London doctors. He suffers greatly from the gout, but will not take any of the stuff the physicians fix up for him.

Casper E. Yost is taking in the towns of the North Platte country and posting the editors on some of the republican papers on his candidacy for state treasurer.

The Hancock Journal does not believe that Valentine is likely to be the state senator coming in this county next year.

Portland, Ore., boasts of a two-headed dog, which uses the one the same as the other.

The latest from the wilds of Georgia is a reported Vodoo princess, who with three hands, cures everything she touches.

In Harrisburg, Pa., the tree where the first white child was born is still a living tree, in reality turning into a petrified condition.

A doctor in Algeria stood before a guillotine and caught the head of a criminal as it fell from the axe, and took it to his room.

The world's wonder is a sinking mountain near the city of San Francisco, which is so slowly as hardly to be perceptible, but upon the occurrence of earthquakes anywhere in the world, goes down from one to six feet.

The negro who turns white is growing as numerous and little less marvellous than the snake and fish story. The latest is reported from Manning, S. C., where a negro appeared in the turpentine works "dressed out for five years ago" that he was some day to be a white man—and is now making the dream a reality.

William B. Grover, of Medford, Mass., has an exhibition at his residence a wonderful freak of nature in the flower kingdom. It is a flower bearing a strong resemblance to the white rose, which he recently cut from the stem of his crabapple tree, where he found it growing among a crop of apples.

James Russell Lowell is the despair of London doctors. He suffers greatly from the gout, but will not take any of the stuff the physicians fix up for him.
