MINOR MENTION. N. Y. Plumbing Co. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee are rejoicing over the advent of a seven pound baby boy.

Henry, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Poulson, died yesterday morning at the residence, 1922 South Tenth street.

The P. E. O. Society will meet this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at the residence of Miss Anna Rockwell, No. 819 Third avenue.

The funeral of little Leo Wickham took place yesterday morning, and was largely attended. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of Katherine H., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walker, took place yesterday morning from the family residence, on Eighth street.

The condition of little Hazel Dell, daughter of E. E. Adams, was a little improved yesterday, and there are now hopes of the recovery of the little one.

The "Concordia," which has been closed for some time past, was opened yesterday afternoon, and during the balance of the day the thirsty passed in and out in multitudes.

The Council Bluffs music company is having a series of the latest songs and instrumental music printed under its special order. As an exhibition of enterprise this is commendable.

Donovan, Peters and Lynch, the three truants who were arrested for interfering with the Kansas freight train the other evening, proved to be the wrong parties and were released.

Until the matter of the erection of the new hotel is definitely determined the Pacific house will continue to receive and entertain its guests.

The funeral of Mabel, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kuepfer, was attended by a large gathering of friends who sympathized deeply with the bereaved parents. The remains were interred in Fairview.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Everett K. Young of Calmar, Neb., and Lillie B. Coulter of Oakland, Ia.; Adison G. Gale and Jennie Sterling, and Emil Drolich and Molly Abrahamowitz, all of this city.

Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stevenson, died yesterday morning of cholera infantum, aged seven months and twenty days. The funeral will occur this morning at 10:30 o'clock from the residence, 1806 Seventh avenue.

A horse dealer by the name of Stone shipped twenty five mules and horses yesterday afternoon to Dakota, where he proposes to sell them for agricultural purposes. The animals were all large, handsome specimens, and the speculation ought to result favorably.

Masonic-Excelsior Lodge No. 259 A. F. and A. M. will hold a special communication this Friday evening at 7 o'clock for work in the lodge.

The Ogden Iron Works company has many changes and improvements in addition to its machinery and is turning out as fine a line of work as is done anywhere in the United States.

The attention of the park commissioners is called to the fact that the policeman employed at Bayliss park is exceedingly careless regarding the disposal of grass and other refuse material taken from the park.

Personal Paragraphs. Max Kriedler is rustiating at Colfax Springs.

J. V. Hinebam, the Glenwood banker, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. George B. Sookol, of Logan, is visiting relatives and friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Nichols hereby return thanks to their many friends for their kindness and sympathy during their late bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Judd and Miss Etha Buchell have returned from a three week's visit with relatives in St. Louis and southern Illinois.

Mr. E. H. Wearin, of Oskaloosa, official reporter in the sixth judicial district, who has been visiting his nephews, the Fleming brothers, left for home yesterday.

Master Ned Everett has returned from St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., and with Frank Nutt, of Boston, and Dell and Floy Smith is camping out at Highland farm.

Masters Thompion and Willie Tipton have gone to Avoca for a few days' visit with friends. The first trip the boys have ever taken alone on the cars, and they, of course, feel correspondingly proud.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE BLUFFS

Some Matters That Require the Attention of Everybody.

UP AND DOWN TO GET A DRINK.

A Case of Glanders—A Yachting Club Formed—The Lee Chestnut and Other Items Caught on the Fly—Personals.

Seen in Broad Day Light. The manner in which the badly housed of the city are allowed to run is provoking a more general attention than ever before.

The manner in which the badly housed of the city are allowed to run is provoking a more general attention than ever before. Time was when an attempt was made to keep this damnable business under some guise of decency, but now shameless beings are allowed to flaunt themselves before the people in a most brazen and disgusting fashion.

During every fine afternoon these creatures can be seen from Broadway in their holes on Pierce and Madison streets, and in such conditions as will attract attention and advertise their business. Why in the name of common decency is this thing allowed to be? There is a sufficiency of law, but apparently no one to enforce it.

What's the trouble? Is the city powerless to govern itself in this matter? If so, what is it that paralyzes its sense? Why are the pledges which have been made in times past by certain officials not kept? Every possible consideration demands that this social cancer be driven out of the city.

This exhibition of depravity by our young boys and girls alike, and constant familiarity causes the unsightly thing to lose its terrors. All these and other considerations should impel a rigid execution of the law. Let the matter be taken in hand by every citizen who loves order, morals and the purity of the home. Let them, one and all, insist that all officials shall do their full duty in the matter. When it shall be shown that the sentiment of the city is active and aggressive it is fair to presume that the law will be enforced.

Lost—By the undersigned, a Knight Templar charm, gold, with enamel face, on Wednesday of this week. A liberal reward will be paid for the return of the same by M. M. Marshall, corner Pearl and Broadway.

Wanted—Boy about 17 or 18 years of age that wants to learn a trade. Address A. M., care BEE office.

The Police Round Up. A motley crowd of vagabonds humanity floated out of the sewer yesterday morning when the trap was opened, and was arrayed in a snaking line before Judge Aylesworth to receive their official doses of judicial quinine to set their nerves and minds at rest.

The vagrants were most largely represented, numbering ten of the dirtiest, filthiest and most lonesome looking wanderers that had collected within the cooler walls for many a long day. The court looked quietly at the collection for a few moments and then fired the group bodily with brief directions as to the shortest way out of the city.

Hugh Cameron was fined $10.00 for disturbing the peace. He had plenty of money with which to pay the fine, but said he preferred to board it out. His wife appeared soon after and informed the court that she and her four children must be provided for, as long as the head of the family was locked up. The court said he admired her, but such a "blat" as that fairly took away his breath.

As soon as he recovered his equanimity he gave strict orders to hold the man until his fine was paid. John Boderick was booked for drunkenness, and attempting to relieve an inebriated companion of his wealth. He plead not guilty to the latter charge, and was fined $8.10. John Gocke was charged with disturbing the peace, but the evidence showed him to be the victim of an assault and he was discharged.

Charles Haney, charged with assaulting Rudolph Weiss with a beer bottle, waived an examination and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $200, which was furnished by his mother.

Money loaned at L. B. Crafts & Co.'s loan office, on furniture, pianos, horses, wagons, personal property of all kinds, and all other articles of value without removal. All business strictly confidential.

Stop at the Pacific House. The most centrally located hotel in the city.

"It Is the Cat." The editor of the Dunlap Reporter has "interviewed" the "What-is-it," now on exhibition at "The Bee" office, and writes as follows regarding it: "Council Bluffs has unearthed a curiosity and they don't know what to call it. It was found while excavating for a house. Its head resembles that of a lizard or reptile, and it has two thin teeth three-quarters of an inch long, six incisors and four grinders on its upper jaw, while its lower jaw is missing. The eyesockets are double, one pair looking forward, the other backward. The head has only a horizontal motion. The neck is like all vertebrate animals down to where the shoulder and forelegs should have been; from there to the center of the back is the dorsal vertebrae of a fish with dorsal fins very rigid while the remainder of the body resembles that of a human being, with very powerful legs and tail like a kangaroo. It had no forelegs and its means of locomotion was evidently confined to its hind legs and tail. The skeleton was nearly two and one-half feet long and the animal must have been about three and one-half feet tall. Local naturalists are puzzled as to what class of animals it belongs.

As to its proper classification, the "local naturalists" are somewhat "puzzled," but the majority of them are inclined to the belief that it is the skeleton of a common house cat which got its back up and gave up the ghost while holding an animated backyard controversy with a yellow dog.

Patrons of the Pacific House have none but words of praise for the attention given them.

E. H. Sheate loans money on chattel security of every description. Private consulting rooms. All business strictly confidential. Office 600 Broadway, corner Main street, up-stairs.

How About the Hotel? Another telegram was received from the Chicago syndicate yesterday to the effect that they would not, under any circumstances, take the subscription list and purchase a hotel site themselves. This is simply a reiteration of the position they have held all the time, but it virtually settles the hotel business so far as these gentlemen are concerned. Mr. Moore, chairman of the local committee, is deserving of great credit for the zeal and untiring earnestness with which he has prosecuted the work at this end of the line, and if the project shall ultimately fail, the difficulties before us have arisen within the past day or two. The number required to stand behind the list could not be secured from the fact that a certain proportion of the subscribers declined to put their subscriptions in the form of notes. This fact indicated a possible shrinkage in the list, which operated in the manner indicated. As the matter stands, unless the men who are to be most benefited by the erection of the hotel come to the front immediately, the project will fall through. Acts, not words, are needed.

Buy mantels, grates and hearth furnishings of the New York Plumbing Co. S. B. Wadsworth & Co. loan money. Pacific House is open to the traveling public, notwithstanding the contrary.

Will Skim the Waters Blue. A yachting club has been formed among the boating men, and before many days Lake Manawa will be alive with white winged flyers.

The officers of the club are: C. E. Warren, manager; Harry Warren, Captain; Don Williams, first mate. They have a large single mast yacht already completed which will probably be named next Sunday. Its dimensions are 25x35 feet. It carries a thirty-four foot main which will fly 100 yards of canvas. The boat will carry twenty-five persons easily. Other yachts fully the equal of this will be built by Colonel Reed and Mr. Maloney. Those three are certain, and it is probable that others will follow in due time.

J. G. Tipton has bargains in real estate. Full line of sheet music at Council Bluffs Music Co., 224 Broadway.

The Lee Case. Not four of the Lee case was enacted yesterday afternoon. At 2 o'clock the "interested parties" appeared before Justice Biggs and applied for and were granted a change of venue to Justice Schurz's court. There is a very strong suspicion in the mind of Colonel Dailey, which is shared by the majority of the people at large, that there is a great desire to take the case out of the courts, and this course of filibustering is adopted to that end.

Whether or no a settlement has been reached to be made between Lee and the Boston Ice company, does not yet appear, but whatever may be the "inside" business Colonel Dailey says he will push the case to a finish. Justice Schurz will be ready to hear the next chapter read to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Artists prefer the Halsett & Davis piano, at C. B. Music Co., 224 Broadway.

Ladies, do not fail to see the "Ladies' Friend," 709 Washington avenue.

Up and Down for a Drink. The "Red Front" saloon on Main street continues to do business notwithstanding the courts have decreed otherwise. Its methods may be a little peculiar but they answer all purposes.

The saloon proper is built on the rear of the same lot on which the "Red Front" stands. This lot, it is said, belongs to the second story, and no room service can be had, but for all that the injunction was made legally operative. Now the doors of the front building are closed, and ingress to the back building is made by passing up a side stairway to the second story, and down a back stairway at the rear. Here, it is said, a rushing business is being done, and will be until some further legal action is taken.

A Case of Glanders. A case of glanders was reported in the western part of the city yesterday, and Constable Wesley was dispatched to take possession of the afflicted animal. The owner refused to yield possession and sent the horse away in the hope of getting it out of the county. County Attorney Dailey swore out a warrant for the arrest of the parties and one of them was lodged in jail. The court then instituted for the missing animal, but it had been successfully spirited away. Dr. Seaman was ordered to take charge of the horse, but his services were not required.

Of All Things in the World A tonic is what nervous people require. To impart strength into the nervous organism is to insure its tranquility, provided causes of unhealthy excitement are removed. A tonic like that—like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—commands the unqualified sanction of the leading profession, and which restores a general run-down, debilitated and debilitated condition of our system, is surely entitled to a careful trial by intelligent people.

London Engineer. The following particulars connected with the proposed new magazine arm will doubtless be interesting to many. The bore is .206-inch diameter, giving about 33 per cent. more rounds than the Martini-Henry for the same weight of ammunition. It has a detachable magazine and is provided with the troops at Shorncliffe with the Martini-Henry, with a rifle with a fixed magazine, and also one with a detachable magazine, has shown that the last has a great advantage, arising from the circumstance that when a magazine is empty another filled magazine can be put in its place in the same time that it takes to get a cartridge out of the pouch and load with it. Thus the soldier is able to keep his attention directed almost wholly at the object at which he is firing, so long as his supply of magazines lasts. In a fixed magazine the advantage of rapidity is confined to the number of rounds supplied by the single magazine. When the magazine is discharged the rifle is simply a breech-loader until a suitable opportunity arises for recharging the magazine, unless some special charging gear is applied, which appears in degree the conditions of a detachable magazine. One magazine is attached by a chain to the rifle, so as to secure its retention. Subsequent magazines may be discharged and thrown away if necessary. In the full heat of action; for in the continued use of magazines we are contemplating a time of supreme stress and importance. The attached magazine contains eight rounds, those subsequently used six rounds each. At present the single soldier will carry one or two spare magazines; thus with the first one he is furnished with a reserve of fourteen or twenty rounds for rapid discharge, according to whether he has two spare magazines. Cavalry and mounted infantry could carry bandoliers with eight or ten detachable magazines. Sergeant Buckley of the 10th Hussars carried eight magazines in his bandolier during the experiments. Mounted infantry thus becomes specially formidable, for it may be noticed that, both as to carriage power and the object of discharging them to produce a rapid, tearing line of fire, the bandoliers are admirably adapted to their case. Three hundred and fifty rifles are ready for the troops. The Rubin cartridge is to be used experimentally, but English ammunition is progressing, and will, it is hoped, be ready when the experiments are over.

Remarkable surgery. The science of surgery has made such wonderful progress in modern times, that the most intricate and delicate operations are now undertaken and carried to a successful issue. There are now several well authenticated cases of what is known as pneumothorax, that is to say, the removal of diseased portions of the lung by means of compression. While, however, this delicate operation has sometimes been successfully performed, the risks attending it are so great, and the chances of recovery so slight, that it is seldom resorted to. The new method in consumptive cases is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This will always cure the disease in its earlier stages, thoroughly arresting the ravages of the terrible malady, by removing its cause and healing the lungs.

Goal. El Comercio del Valle, published at St. Louis, this speaks of Omaha: A visit recently made to this progressive and thriving young city of the north-west has convinced the representative of this paper that Omaha, which already counts 120,000 inhabitants, is destined to become a city of a quarter of a million within the coming decade. No city in the union of its size can boast of such splendidly paved and magnificent wide streets, such beautiful residence sites, such a perfectly working system of cable tramway, fourteen miles in circuit, such imposing public and private structures or enterprise, energy and thrift among its people.

The "Gate City" of the great northwest is going ahead with great strides. Intelligence, courtesy, refinement and good taste have created an atmosphere and a permanent abode in this emporium of the great prairie state of Nebraska. The vigor and vitality of American manhood and womanhood are seen to greater advantage here than in the elder communities. The stranger is at once impressed with the wisdom of the state and local laws that bear heavily on the liquor traffic, as the number of saloons is notably small and moral tone of the people is correspondingly elevated. Omaha is truly a gem of purest ray serene, placed high and healthfully on the banks of the Missouri, constituting, as it does, the open sesame to the commerce and the golden granary of this powerful and populous section of the great republic. It may be justly termed the "Gateway of Opportunity in so young a state. The answer is found in the fact that it has a republican majority of 50,000. Would that this great, but clogged, state of Missouri could change its political condition into the perfect republic of California, and would spring up where hamlets are now found.

Never Give Up. If you suffer asthma, bronchitis, or any other disease of the throat or lungs, nothing can surprise you more than the rapid improvement that will follow the use of SANTA ABE. If you are troubled with any of these or any other diseases, you will be unable to express your amazement at the marvelous and instantaneous curative powers of CALIFORNIA CAPSULES. These remedies are not secret compounds, but are composed of California plants. Sold at $1.00 a package; three for $2.50 and guaranteed by Goodman Drug Co.
