MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co.
Additional Council Bluffs on Seventh page.
The city council meets this evening.
Yesterday J. C. Tipton sold a Broadway lot for W. D. Hardin to an eastern party.

A large band stand is one of the new features at Manhattan beach, and Glen's orchestra discourses sweet music.

Work was begun yesterday morning on the foundation of the new $40,000 school building on Washington avenue.

Final connections between the water mains and the artificial lake in Fairmount park have been made, and the water was turned on yesterday.

The case of F. M. Gault, for keeping glandering horses for sale, will be called before Squire Biggs at 10 o'clock this morning. County Attorney Dailey will conduct the prosecution.

About twenty Master Masons, employed by the Union Pacific in this city, will go over to Omaha tomorrow night to see Trainmaster Baxter raised to the master mason degree.

The silver cup which will be the prize at the coming yacht race at Lake Manawa will be ready to-day and this evening will be placed on exhibition in one of the houses on Broadway.

Paving was begun yesterday morning on Graham avenue. A part of the force which has been working on lower Broadway was taken away from that job to get the work well started in the eastern part of the city.

Mr. Sims says he is waiting patiently for the democratic organ to produce anybody else's statement than its own. Its army of witnesses don't respond to its bugle call. The colonel seems to have twice as many shoulder straps as recruits.

A number of Odd Fellows with their families enjoyed the breezes at Manawa Monday evening. Special trains were run for their accommodation. There were not as many at the lake as was expected. Those present had a very pleasant time.

The funeral of the late A. J. Bump took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Bump on Broadway. The funeral was attended by a large number of sympathizing friends. The services were very impressive. The remains were interred in Fairview cemetery.

The fire department was called out at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by an alarm from Turkey's Glen. The entire department responded. The fire was in a small one-story house owned by Mr. Turkey and occupied by a family named Kaiser. The furniture was saved, and only the kitchen where the fire originated, was burned.

Great preparations are being made for a proper celebration of August 1 by the colored population of this vicinity. There will be speeches, music and dancing at Beck's garden in the earlier part of the afternoon. A football game at Manawa athletic park between the Lafayette colored nine and the J. J. Hardins, of Omaha.

The Rev. W. H. W. Rees states for publication that in his sermon of last Sunday he did not wish to cast any unjust reflections upon the police force of the city. Also that he is prepared to stand by every statement of fact that he made, and that he will, next Sabbath, reinforce, by way of prelude to the regular sermon, the statements made last Sunday. To prevent a wrong understanding of the reverend gentleman's position upon the matters suggested, it would be well if those interested would attend that service.

Personal Paragraphs.

Ed Troutman arrived home yesterday from Spirit Lake.

Mayor Rohrer returned home from Avation, Mo., yesterday.

W. A. Berger, of Kansas City, is the guest of Alderman Kneeler.

D. W. Busnell has returned from a two week's sojourn at Lake Okoboji.

Miss Louise De Haven is visiting her father, Miss Nellie Foster, of Omaha.

Charles Curtis, a prominent colored politician of this city, is in Indianapolis.

Masters Thompkins and Willie Tipton have returned home for their visit to Avoca.

Mr. Simon Eisenman leaves to-day for the east to purchase goods for the fall trade.

Mrs. N. O'Brien and Miss Mollie Maloney left last evening for Lincoln, Neb., on a short visit.

Mr. Simon Eisenman left yesterday for New York City, where he will purchase a full line of dry goods.

Mrs. E. B. Bowman is lying dangerously ill at her home, corner of Second and Tenth streets.

C. H. Maxson, of Iowa City, financial secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is in the city, in the interest of that association.

Miss Latta Lewis, daughter of a prominent merchant of St. Louis, is the guest of Mrs. F. D. Moore, on First avenue.

Father Ignatius Wesseling, of Richmond, Minn., brother of Father Adolph Wesseling, has arrived in the city for a short visit.

Mrs. T. J. Clark, who has been seriously ill for the past three weeks, is convalescing, much to the gratification of her many friends.

Henry Atkins, Dr. Lacey, Jerome McClintock, J. T. Oliver and Dr. Brown returned yesterday from a week's fishing trip at Spirit Lake.

H. T. Thomas has returned from his recent trip to Macedonia, where he was called by the illness of his wife, Mrs. Thomas is much better and will return home in a short time.

The Rev. Stephen Lyons, O. S. B., of Cresco, went last evening to Neola, where he will lay the cornerstone of the new Catholic church today.

He stopped over night with his confrere, Rev. Father Adolph Wesseling, O. S. B.

Captain W. A. Hayes, who recently bought an interest in Bouquet's livery stable, has disposed of it to a Mr. Hall, who took possession yesterday.

Mr. Hayes has not had very good health for some time, hence his motive for retiring from the livery business.

J. J. Maloney, of Thayer county, Nebraska, who is now sojourning at Lake Manawa, speaks in glowing terms of the crop outlook in the vicinity of his Nebraska home. According to his statements, cornstalks are made to do duty as telephone poles in several instances.

B. C. Harris, a well known grain dealer at Lewis, Cass county, and W. J. Woodward, one of the leading merchants and money men of that place, have been spending several days at Manawa. They are charmed with it. They are both brothers-in-law of J. A. Odell, of the well known firm of Odell & Bryant, in this city.

THE DEATH OF THE STRANGER.

He is Identified By His Relatives.

CAPTURE OF A HORSE THIEF.

The Unruly Ones Before Aylesworth—A Remarkable City Directory—The Plans For Merriam's Block—The Board of Trade.

Strange Death of a Stranger.

A man of about sixty years of age was arrested by Officer Thomas on South Main street Sunday afternoon while wandering around in a dazed kind of a way. During the evening he complained of being sick and the city physician was sent for, but could not be found until Monday afternoon. He ordered the man taken to the hospital. The patrol wagon was backed up to the door of the jail and the sick man laid upon a stretcher preparatory to removal. He seemed no worse than he had been during the day, but just as he was carried out of the door he gasped and expired instantly.

Dr. Seybert was immediately summoned and said that death was caused by apoplexy. The remains were removed to the undertaking rooms of Morgan, Keller & Co., where they were prepared for burial. No one appeared to identify the body and it was buried at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the potter's field. When arrested, the man gave the name of J. Little. He was a stranger to the officers and also in the city. He was shown all possible attention by the jailers, who had no doubts as to his recovery.

Ex-Coroner Henry Paul says that the deceased was a blacksmith at Mineola, and has a wife and two children at that place. Mr. Paul is the only one who claims to know anything about him. He says that the man has been away from home for some time. If this is the case, it is probable that his relatives in Mineola will inquire into the facts in the case and try to establish his identity.

While Chief Lucas was awaiting an answer from Mineola last evening he was approached by Mr. T. P. Jones, of avenue B, who said he was the father-in-law of the dead man. He left here about a week ago to visit relatives at Pacific Junction, and returned home Saturday morning. He probably became demented and wandered around until arrested Sunday afternoon. He was seventy-two years of age. He had two sons living in the East, and Mr. Jones will notify them of the sad affair. It is possible that they will exhume their father's remains and lay them to rest in some other place.

Pacific House is open to the traveling public, notwithstanding the contrary.

A Horse Thief Taken.

About two months ago George Wesner, the liveryman on Lower Broadway, let one of his livery rigs to a fellow for a few hours' drive and has not seen the horse since. A few days ago Captain Nick O'Brien, of the merchants' police, left the city on detective business. Yesterday a letter was received from him, stating that he had the thief under arrest at Lincoln, Neb., but he refused to come back without requisition papers. Captain O'Brien immediately sent to Des Moines for the necessary papers, and they will be forwarded to O'Brien at Lincoln. The capture of the horse thief was a very skillful and successful manner in which he run his man to earth. He will probably be back here with his man about the latter part of the week.

At Police Court.

Judge Aylesworth had his hands full in police court yesterday morning. C. H. Best, Dan Lawler and Samuel Larsson were each invited to drop $8.10 into the collection box.

George Harris was booked as a vag, but was held over as a suspicious character. He had seven gold pencils in his possession, and the chief of police said he knew where he had disposed of two more. He could not explain satisfactorily how they came into his possession, and will be held a few days until the police can find out where they were stolen.

Jessie Miller was the next victim, and she was charged with keeping a disorderly house on Vine street. She was held over for trial and put up $25 for her appearance this morning. A group of five was then arraigned before his honor. Mrs. R. Boyle was charged with assault, and the other four, Chris Johnson, Chris Miller, T. Corder and M. Gray was charged with disturbing the peace. The facts that led to their arrest were told substantially as follows: Mrs. Boyle lives on Pearl street, and in going to the grocery store where she does her trading is compelled to pass the Main street boarding house, where the other four defendants eat, sleep, and have their being. She states that on several occasions she has been insulted by them, and finally determined to protect herself. Accordingly, when she went to the store Saturday evening she took along a number of loud smelling eggs. She was saluted in an insulting manner, and then let fly with the eggs. One of them hit Johnson, and he had the thresher arrested for an assault. Mrs. Boyle was found guilty, but sentence was suspended.

Johnson was fined $9.00, but took exception to the decision of the court, and announced his intention of appealing the case to the district court. In that event it will cost him $100 to get rid of paying a fine of $9.00, and the chances are greatly in favor of his having to pay it anyway. Mrs. Boyle went on her way rejoicing. Johnson's three partners in misery were discharged.

A Mis-Directory.

The city directory just issued for Council Bluffs by D. C. Dunbar & Co., of Omaha, is causing a good deal of complaint. As it is being used, or rather attempts are made to use it, its utter failure to meet the needs becomes more and more apparent. Typographically the volume is attractive enough, but this is not what is so much desired in a city directory as utility. An inspection of its pages reveals the fact that there are hundreds of names omitted. Among these omissions are many of the oldest and most prominent citizens. Even the name of Mart Hardin, who carries a gold-headed cane, as being the oldest citizen, is not to be found in its pages. He is known to almost every man, woman and child in this city, occupies an office at the court house, and surely could not be overlooked by any canvasser for a directory. He has plenty of company, of all classes. Rev. Dr. Crofts, pastor of the Congregational church, and Sam Ford are among the neglected ones. The list of well known citizens is, in fact, almost long enough to make another directory. Even Mayor Nathan has not his name correctly given. Among the many familiar names omitted are those of Phil Armour, B. J. Austin, E. A. Avery, John N. Baldwin, Dr. J. M. Barstow, Peter Bechtel, Dr. Cady, J. N. Cassidy, J. P. Cassidy, J. P. Filbert, Rev. J. Fisk, J. K. Cooper, Joel Eaton, D. F. Eicher, A. Gaus, William Galvin, Frank Gault, Charlie Gilmore, C. T. Herster, G. A. Holmes, Lawrence Holst—and so on and on, the list is almost endless. It has been the policy of the publishers to term every man a laborer whose occupation was not in the copy. Justice Hendricks is thus made out to be a laborer. J. W. Crossland, the insurance man, likewise. W. W. Chapman is set down as a photographer.

Initials are wrong and names misspelled. J. A. Churchill's name appears as "J. R." and S. Farnsworth as A. Farnsworth. J. Dickey as I. Dickey. In fact, whatever page is looked over mistakes and omissions are everywhere. Council Bluffs needs a new directory—needs it badly. There have been many changes in the past year, and when such carelessness is shown in regard to the old settlers, there is little reason to believe that many of the new changes have been noted in the last directory. It does not show up properly the population of Council Bluffs. In its introduction it states that the volume contained 7,463 names, an increase of nearly 2,000, and indicating a population of 30,000. If this be so, with all these omissions, the number of inhabitants would show up still larger by having a correct directory.

It seems that the publishers of this so-called directory should revise it and get out another worth the name and take up the copies now out. Unless some such atonement is made it will be difficult for this firm to ever get any support here for another Council Bluffs directory.

The Merriam Block.

Contractors have been examining with interest the plans of the new Merriam block, and preparing their figures, the bids to be handed in to-day. The plans show that the block is to be a very handsome one in external appearance, as well as spacious and convenient in its arrangement. There will be eight stories running through from Main to Pearl street. The second floor will be divided into offices, and the third floor has, besides offices, a large room for the public library and a spacious hall to be used by the Y. M. C. A. or other organizations. The fourth story front is to be exactly like the Main street front. There will be two main entrances on each street. There are to be numerous bay windows and adornments, which will make the frontage very attractive. The Willow avenue front is also very attractive. At each corner of Willow avenue will be stairways leading into the basement, where there will also be two good store-rooms.

It is expected that whoever gets the contract will crowd the building into early completion. The improvement will be a marked one, and the block will be readily occupied at a fair rental. The stores will be 100 feet with fine frontage on each street, and the offices there will be the most desirable in the city.

Patrons of the Pacific House have none but words of praise for the attention given them.

Short on the Evidence.

The charges made that the saloon men have been guilty of bribing the attorney for the law and order league have sadly weakened. The Globe seems to stand alone in these charges, and although it has promised to produce proofs, and been urged repeatedly to do so, it has thus far failed to make public the statement of a single one of the many witnesses it had and intends to speak. Statements have been made publicly over the signatures of Attorney Sims, Dan Carrige and F. J. Day, denying the truth of statements made by the Globe. Thus representatives of three different classes have come forward with proof of the falsity of the statements made by the Globe. Mr. Sims is the attorney in the employ of the law and order league. Dan Carrige is a well known sporting man, and Mr. Day is a newspaper publisher and property owner. The Globe keeps insisting on more witnesses. It has not produced one witness in its own behalf, and as the other side has already produced three, it seems no more than fair that they produce just one—even a little one—for a cent—in order to keep up appearances at least. It pretended to have a bushel basket full of evidence. It surely ought to be able to produce one statement, over somebody's signature, a wee bit of an affidavit, or something of the sort. The Globe begins to realize the situation evidently when it says: "The Globe, while very suspicious of Mr. Sims for some time, had a very hard field in which to secure evidence."

SCROFULOUS SORES.

A Child's Great Sufferings Ended by the CUTICURA Remedies.

When six months old the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after, it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure, he took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the ear, and another on the neck. His head was one solid sore, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the cure of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption, and of course, he could not be nursed. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA Remedies, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely and when he had taken one box of the CUTICURA Remedies, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. The running sores on his hands and feet, and the sore on his neck, were all cured. A very matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would usually have caused a cancer, but he healed. They would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child; his hands and feet are always clean; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to hold a pen. All the children he has seen for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA Remedies and the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.
