MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. Judge Carson will hold court to-day to consider some of the contempt cases. Morgan O'Brien, a Union Pacific car inspector at the transfer, had one of his hands badly crushed between two cars while working on a drawhead Wednes-

The Y. M. C. A. rooms are being re-painted and the gymnasium and bath rooms have been closed this week. It is thought that the bath rooms will be opened this evening.

Bids are now being received for the building of the addition to the Presbyterian church. It is thought that it will require about $7,500. This church society has intended for some time to complete their church edifice this sea-

A committee of the board of trustees of the institution for the deaf and dumb was busy yesterday considering the bids for supplying an electric light plant for the institution. There were six bids submitted, including those for engines and electrical apparatus.

Mrs. Stives, a widow woman residing at 830 Avenue C, is reported as a deserving object of charity. It is said that she is willing to work, but is now unable to leave home on account of the illness of one of her five children. She is in a destitute condition.

Next Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock there will be a swimming race at Manawa for $100 a side. The contestants will start for Manhattan beach. swimming across the lake to the hotel and return, making a two mile race. Both contestants are good swimmers, and a number of outside bets have already been made on the result.

Miss Carrie Wrede, a clerk at Eiseman's, was overcome by the heat Wednesday evening and had to be taken home in a hack. Her condition yesterday was quite serious. She has been subject to fainting spells for some time, and has been in rather poor health. It will probably be some time before she can resume her place behind the counter.

Alderman Lacy is preparing to build three houses on Third avenue near Tenth street. His two stores on Main street are nearing completion. One of them is leased, and it is not unlikely that Mr. Lacy may occupy the other himself, as he is strongly inclined to engage in business. He is doing nobly in the way of building improvements, and is setting a worthy example to other citizens of means.

Homer Williams was arrested last evening for the larceny of a ring from Burhoun's jewelry store. He took the little gold circlet from a tray while pretending to examine the goods. Officer Fowler brought in five parties for disturbing the peace on South Main street. They were indulging in a free for all fight when the officer interfered. They were all nicely corralled to await the arrival of the patrol wagon.

Yesterday's police court business consisted mainly of discharging seven vags brought in the preceding night. The case of J. M. Jones for larceny from a building was continued. F. M. Saunders and property of the case of J. M. Saunders and property of the case man v cards on the street without a permit, was released at the request of the mayor. Levi Long was fined $8.10 for a drunk. The assault cases of S. Stucker and Tony Gerspacher were continued until this morning.

A Midsummer Outing.

Eastern Star Lodge, No. 25, with their families and invited friends, enjoyed a trip to Lake Manawa yesterday afternoon. Colonel Reed run the 3:45 train as a special for their accommodation. Arriving at the lake the various steamers bore the party across to Manhattan beach, where a basket picnic was enjoyed. The hours were most pleasantly passed, and the outing was voted a grand success by those who partici-win left on the overland flyer for Los Angeles, Cal. They will be absent about three weeks. Constable Rickets is confined to his bed at his home, 102 Broadway. His illness was very sudden, and his condition is said to be quite critical. Secretary A. F. Cutter, of the telephone company, was in the city yester-day, and in company with Manager Vance Lane of the local office, drove over the route of the proposed new line between this city and Glenwood.

Miss Madge Scott, who is here visiting her uncle, proprietor of the Scott house, is one of the Nebraska blizzard heroines. She kept her children in the school house all of the night, and thus saved them, a more certain though less sensational protection than was given in some instances.

W. R. Lincoln, engineer on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, has just returned from a four weeks' visit among relatives and friends in Milwaukee and Chicago. Mr. Lincoln has been in continuous service on the Chicago, Mil-waukee & St. Paul since 1861, a period of twenty-seven years, and his brief va-cation was greatly enjoyed.

Alva O. McAlister, a Council Bluffs boy who left here about three years ago, and who has been visiting his folks here for two weeks, left last evening for Alli-ance, O. He has letters from the Cam-bria Iron company, of Johnstown, O., which recommend him highly as a machinist who is sober and competent, of which he is justly proud. He has engaged with the Morgan Engineering company, of Altiance, O. His sister, Miss Maud, goes with him in hope of of benefitting her health, which has been delicate for some time. Alva used to sell BEES and peanuts on the Mil-waukee road before he went east to learn his trade.

The Saloons Have a Day's Rest From Prohibition Raiders.

THE CUP FOR THE YACHT RACE.

The Manilla Murder More Mysterious Than Ever-Gambling Too Bold-Contracts Let for the Merriam Block.

The War on Whisky.

There were no more raids on the saloons vesterday. These raids have amounted to but little, the liquids seized being of but little value in dollars and cents. The cases are to be heard before Justice Barnett Saturday morning. It is hardly expected that anyone will appear to defend the gobbled liquors. The proceedings are simply to determine whether the liquors shall be destroyed or not. The only force that the proceedings will have will be to furnish evidence against the places where the liquors were found, so that injunctions may be more readily obtained. be difficult, however, to learn who keeps these places, and the owners of the property, are doubtful. Such proceedings cause a little nervousness on the part of those who are selling intoxi-cants, and they will doubtless carry light stocks on hand. If they lose a few kegs of beer, or a bottle or two of whisky, it amounts to little, as the profits are immense to those who run the risk.

There are still a number of places which are running openly. The prohibitionists say they will get around to all in time, but claim it is not quite so easy to get evidence as it was a while ago.

Who Will Win the Cup?

The beautiful silver cup offered as a prize by the Manawa association to the winner of Tuesday's yacht race was placed on exhibition at Harkness Bros.' yesterday morning. The cup is about four inches in diameter and six inches deep. It is mounted on four miniature silver oars, placed perpendicularly, and connecting with a beautifully engraved silver base. A gold anchor is suspended from the bottom of the cup. It is a fine specimen of workmanship, and the winner will certainly have just reason to feel proud of his prize.

The Manilla Murder Mystery. The Manilla murder sensation has had another chapter added. A short time ago it was announced that Sheriff Mooney, of Crawford county, had arrested Mason, alias Price, Scott, etc., for the murder of the man Sharp. Mason was brought up for preliminary examination at Denison, Monday. On behalf of the state the prosecuting attorney stated that the witnesses by whom the crime was to be fastened on Mason, could not be procured, and asked that Mason be discharged. He was accordingly set at liberty. This comes with much surprise, as it was generally supposed that there was abundant evidence of Mason's guitt.

Some time ago Sheriff Mooney received letters from one Henry Devine, of Kansas City, which contained facts relative to the Sharp murder supposed to be known only to the sheriff himself. and volunteering to point out the murderer and prove his guilt. Mooney went to see this man, who subsequently came to Denison, and upon the knowledge thus gleaned a warrant was issued for Mason's arrest. Devine alleged that Mason came to him in Kansas City, and suggested that they co-operate in some deal. Mason suggested burglary, and Council Bluffs as a good field. Devine, as a "feeler," suggested that Carroll be worked, instead of Council Bluffs, but Mason objected, saying that he had had trouble at Carroll and did not want to go there. As one outgrowth of this confidence Mason told the story of the Manilla murder. It was to the effect that Mason met Sharp on the edge of the corn field, and attempted to rob him. Sharp drew his revolver and fired. Missing his mark he attempted to get away, when Mason got upon the fence to get better aim, and fired a return shot, the ball passing through Sharp's head. Mason dragged the body into the field, and as life was not extinct, he crushed in the skull and fled. Every feature of Mason's description of the crime to Devine was corroborated by the facts brought out at the coroner's inquest. Devine accompanied Sheriff Mooney to Burlington, where Mason was employed, beguiled him into the park, where, by previous arrangement, both were arrested and ironed. Devine returned to Denison with Mooney and his prisoner, and from there he went back to Kansas City to secure another important witness. But when the time came for Devine and this witness to appear in Denison neither could be pre vailed on to come. No law could force them here, and the evidence being thus lacking, Mason had to be released. There are many theories as to Devine's peculiar conduct. The comon one is that the defense brought a pressure to bear on Devine and silenced him. The appearance of a stranger in Manilla last week, with the information that Sharp was not dead, his supposed remains being the product of a cemetery used to secure $2,000 insurance on Sharp's life, has also set the tongues to wagging. The mystery is thickening, rather than clearing.

Tired of Public Gambling. The publicity with which the gambling houses of the city do business continues to keep the agitation stirring and is fast creating a strong sentiment against allowing gambling to be done here at all. The are many, who are not radical in their notions, who are stout in their desire to see the gambling houses forced immediately into more quiet quarters. There is not another city in the west where gambling runs so open as here. When business is a little too quiet to suit the sports they almost get out on the sidewalk with passerby might not think there was such a convenient place to drop his money. There is a strong feeling among the more conservative citizens, that if gambling is one of the necessary evils of a city like Council Bluffs there is no need of its being carried on right under the noses of everybody else. They want the mayor to drive the business off the main streets, up stairs, in out-of-the-way rooms, where it will not be so noticeable. They realize that it gives the city a black eye. Strangers visiting the city are shocked at seeing the gambling houses running as open as grocery stores, and in as public locations. If they are not made to climb the stairs it will not be long before there is such a feeling against them that they will be driven out of the city altogether.

| enthusiastically, for fear that some

Gambling houses draw about them a class of loafers who hang about the entrance, and where houses are located on the first floor these fellows are continually occupying the sidewalk, staring at ladies, exchanging unsavory comments, and insulting decent people. Some of the city officials pretend to believe it is better to have the gambling houses located publicly, so that they can be easily watched and controlled. This policy has been followed for years, but it has never resulted very favorably. Council Bluffs has continued to have the rockiest set of gambling houses of any city in the land. There has been a gang of pluggers and sluggers who have continbeen a nuisance on the street. People are getting awfully tired of it. forced upstairs out of the way, the change might bring about some re-forms. If this experiment did not prove so, then there will be a move to clear out the business entirely.

The Merriam Contract.

Tibbett's, 345 Broadway.

Most of the contracts for the Merriam block were let yesterday. Martin Hughes will do the stone and brick work, J. A. Murphy has the carpenter work and Strock Bros, will furnish the sash and doors. The iron work is undetermined. It is expected that the building will be enclosed by the first of January. Work will commence at once, and will be crowded forward as rapidty as possible. It was feared that the plans might be revised, as the bids might prove too high, but no such delay is to be had and the block will be built as planued, although it will be a more expensive block than was originally contemplated. It certainly will be a great improvement, and Mr. Merriam will find little difficulty in securing tenants.

The Fruit Peddiers' License. The move to make the hucksters and peddlers of fruit pay a license of $50 is meeting with the hearty approval of merchants. It awakens opposition only among those who will have to pay the license. They ought not to complain. however, as the license is small enough. It gives them an advantage even then over the merchants, who have rent and other expenses to pay, and whose trade is cut into by the street peddlers. The merchants claim they are entitled to a protective tariff. They are here the year round, paying taxes and aiding in other ways to pay the city expenses and further improvements. Then to have their trade interfered with by manent place of business and no business reputation at stake, is slightly irritating. The merchants ask but little. They simply want these hucksters to pay a little toward keeping the city moving.

The people should have some protection also. Often there is sold by these peddlers and hucksters fruit and vegstables which is wholly unfit for use. The city needs a health officer and market inspector. Much sickness and suffering could thus be avoided.

The Main Street Lakes.

The city council has determined on another method of draining the pond on South Main street, that has been such a nuisance for several months past. The plan of pumping it out with a fire engine has been abandoned. A ditch will be opened from the pond across the lumber yard on the north opening into the Ninth avenue sewer. The city engineer has looked over the ground and finds that the sewer is low enough to give perfect drainage. The engines pumped an immense quantity from the pond, but without lowering it very much, as the water ran in from two similar ponds on the south side of the Burlington tracks nearly as fast as it was pumped out. The ditch will drain the three ponds, and afford permanent relief, as all water that finds its way into the ponds after future rains will be carried out immediately into the sewer, preventing the accumulation of another deep pool of stagnant water. The ditch will be dug at once.

Not a Counterfeiter. Homer Driesbach, the young man arrested at the circus Tuesday evening for passing a counterfeit coin, had his preliminary examination yesterday afternoon and was discharged. United States Commissioner Hunter, who caused his arrest, was standing near the ticket window when the boy tried to pass the money, but the ticket seller refused to take it, demanding good money After the boy left, the ticket seller said "That's the second time they have tried that here to-night." The commissioner thought that the case would bear investigation, and caused the arrest. Later, the ticket seller said that the other counterfeit was presented by some one else, and as Driespach's possession of the money was accounted for, he was discharged. No charge whatever attaches to him.
