A Republican Difference.

The republicans of the senate who favor the submission of a tariff measure as a substitute for the Mills bill are meeting with a vigorous and determined opposition from republican members of the house.

It remains to be seen whether the dog in the manger council will persist in their policy of obstruction until the end of their terms.

Disposition of Garbage.

One of the problems with which our city must grapple is the economic and effective disposal of garbage.

The only effective method for disposing of garbage all the year round is through the crematory.

What has become of Stanley is a question that is being repeated with increasing interest throughout the civilized world.

When the Bar's Have Been Tapped.

The business outlook is unprecedentedly bright in all the doubtful states.

He Should Be Enthusiastic.

The prohibitionists are said to have on their list of campaign speakers John McDonald.

An Unfailing Sign.

The increase of $3,000,000 in the receipts from the whisky tax in the past year indicates that the growth in the number of democratic voters is keeping pace with the expansion in population.

Even Trust May Be Ruptured.

The Standard magnates may not tell lies when they assert that the Standard company never received better rates from the railroads than did other companies.

Let It Be Tried in Omaha.

A Pittsburg landlord has been fined $500 and sent to jail for four months for renting a house belonging to him for immoral purposes.

No Blaine in Their Banks.

"Dan," said the president, unceasingly, "the republicans appear to be arranging a tremendous reception for Blaine on his return from Europe.

The Bloody Sioux.

That too much bootleg has got into the Sioux, and if we would give the poor Indian his due.

STATE JOTTINGS.

Wheat and oats are being injured by rust in the vicinity of North Bend.

Thieves sneaked $100 out of the Commercial hotel last night.

The water was turned into the pipes of the new sewerage system at Norfolk for the first time Thursday.

It is suggested that tramps arrested at Norfolk be put at work mowing down the weeds which have grown so high that parts of the town are almost hidden from sight.

The pioneers and old settlers of Dakota county will hold their seventh annual reunion in Hillman's grove, seven miles south of Dakota county, Saturday, August 1st.

Rev. J. A. Hood, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Schuyler, preached on the subject of "Sabbaticus Morbus" (Sunday sickness), which is said to be very prevalent in that city.

While sinking a shaft for coal near Lyons the Crowell brothers struck water at a depth of thirty-eight feet, and were obliged to stop work.

The water spouts above the surface of the ground in a two-foot stream.

A man named Jenkins, living near Union, wanted to get married last week.

The general will have to try again. No doubt he can find a district in which Blaugerism is still popular, but he will have to be quick about it, as that bubble seems to have been pricked when he was poked by M. Flognet.

When the winds are out of it Boulianger will be only a past and curious episode in French politics.

The Emperor William's projected visit to Rome in October involves him in some embarrassment. He has accepted an invitation to visit King Humbert at the Quirinal and the pope sends word that if he does he will be considered as having committed a hostile act against the vatican.

The Kinsaid Gazette says that three residents of Pumpkin Seed Valley are at the bottom of it, and declare that a coat of tar and feathers and a pole would be a safe way in which to convey these people out of the country.

Delbert Simpson, the sixteen-year-old son of a Custer county farmer, committed suicide in a desperate manner on the 24th.

He had been sent out to plow with a team of oxen and took a double barreled shotgun with him.

Reaching an unoccupied house he took out the right boot and socked both locks of the gun, and with his foot after placing the muzzle of the barrel in his mouth, discharged the gun, which scattered the brains and skull bones all over the room and even up to the roof over him.

The cause which led to this act is not known.

The Cedar Rapids water works company is contemplating the utilization of this stock by distilling it, and they petition the government to refund excise taxes already paid on the wine, to reduce the distillation tax on their behalf to one-half its usual rate.

King Milan of Servia is a most despicable creature. Some years ago he went to Vienna for a brief stay and the first night of his visit he lost $24,000 at a noble's club.

The money had to be paid within twenty-four hours and, as the amount was not within his reach, he went to the palace and requested a loan of the emperor, who gave him the money on condition he would not play again, and yet the very next night he was found at the table and did not rise until another $8,000 had gone.

No application could be made this time to the emperor, so Milan raised the amount on a splendidly jeweled sash, his most valuable hereditary possession, which had been presented to the late Prince Milosch by Emperor Nicholas.

This sash has never been redeemed and it is now in the possession of Herr Bleichroder, a Berlin banker.

English railway corporations are not permitted many liberties in Great Britain. In that country the railroads are not, as here, the chief agencies through which speculative capitalists seek to accumulate wealth.

Additional parliamentary enactments it is now proposed to revive all the canals in the United Kingdom and make them active competitors with the railroads.
