MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. The carpets are being laid in the new government building, and the finishing put on.

The colored people celebrated emancipation day in grand style yesterday, with speaking, games, etc.

An interesting entertainment is furnished this evening by the temple builders at the Baptist church.

Ed Haines opened his new chop house at 317 Broadway at noon yesterday, and served a free dinner to about one hundred hungry ones.

Dockstader's minstrels, notwithstanding the intense heat, drew a large audience at the opera house last night. The show was first class in every respect.

Officer Olsson arrested a pugacious drunk in front of the Turf and the fellow unamputated the "copper" coat sleeve before he was landed in the jug.

The Chautauqua enterprise ought not to be allowed to slumber, even if the weather is hot. It being a hot weather enterprise, it should thrive best right now.

Frank Gaunt, who was recently bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $300 for keeping a glandered horse, and Floyd Hunt held in the sum of $500 for forgery, obtained the necessary bonds Tuesday night, and were released from jail.

Two brothers by the name of Spink tried to settle a little difference in opinion with Marquis of Queensbury pancea in front of the Phoenix yesterday afternoon and were collared by Chief Lucas.

Charles Sprague desires, through THE BEE, to express his sincere thanks for the kindly sympathy shown by friends on the occasion of the death of Mrs. Prouty, and also on the death of her mother, which occurred but two weeks before.

Craig Mardis was fined $8.10 yesterday morning for going to sleep with $100 in his pocket, lying near the door of a "robber's roost," and had no Officer Cusick happened along as he did, the $100 would have shortly vanished into the never-never-land.

The trial of the case of McGee vs. Sagunn was finished in the superior court yesterday morning, and taken under advisement by Judge Aylesworth. The case was heard at the court house, as it was necessary to introduce a large number of the county records as evidence, and it was impossible to remove them all to the city building.

Three wags were run by Officer Doyle, and they had a coat in their possession which they could not account for their cases were continued. It is thought that the garment was stolen from a farmer's wagon on Main street. The fellow who carried it said he got it out of one of the others, who denied ever having had or seen it.

Tuesday's game at Manawa resulted in a victory for the regular nine by a score of 15 to 11. The contest was uninteresting, and there was an absence of anything like brilliant play. The court house nine played very well, considering that they were out of practice, and under equal circumstances would hold up their end with the best of them.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. will find the gymnasium and bath rooms in full running order to-day. The hard oil-finish puts an entirely new look on the bath room, and the floor is a "gem" in its good appearance. Nothing like those shower baths during weather like this. These are not intended to compete with the barber shops but friends of the members are admitted at the regular rate.

The funeral of Jacob Fauble took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Francis Xavier's church, and was largely attended. The bricklayers' union attended in a body, and paid their last respects to their dead brother. The funeral cortege was one of the longest that has been seen on the streets for some time. The deceased was highly respected, and many expressions of sympathy for the bereaved family were heard on every hand.

Attention, Sir Knights. Ivanhoe Commandery No. 17, K. T., will hold its regular convocations every evening at 7:30 o'clock. Visiting sir knights cordially invited. By order executive committee. J. L. MARTIN, Recorder.

Quartette Recitation—"Lasca"..... Mr. James Wallace Drum Major Drill..... Mr. J. W. Brewer Recitation—"The Crown's Feast"..... Miss Cooley Music..... Brewer Brothers Quartette Recitation—"The Tale of a Tailor"..... Miss Cooley Music.

Ice cream, cake and lemonade will be for the further entertainment of those who attend. Admission only 10 cents. The object is a worthy one, and the patronage should be good.

Celebrate the Wedding. It is now confidently stated that the new Broadway bridge will be completed by the 1st of October. Arrangements should be made for having the wedding of the two cities celebrated in a manner worthy of so interesting and important an occasion. There should be special trains provided on all the roads, and committees appointed to plan for entertaining the thousands of visitors who would gladly accept an invitation to the wedding. Appropriate exercises and unique attractions should be on the day's programme, and the union of Omaha and Council Bluffs made a memorable and happy event.

BROADWAY'S WONDERFUL DRIVE.

A Lawyer Robbed of Gold—A Double Funeral—Vags Who Toil Not—Coming Wedding of the Two Cities.

The Broadway Drive. Broadway, although the paving is not completed, is already becoming a popular drive. Every evening there are many carriages to be seen rolling over the new paving and everybody seems delighted. When the bridge is completed and Omaha is given a chance, Broadway will prove the delight of all. A broad street leading right from one city to the other, as smooth as a floor, with the cool breezes always astir on the bottoms, will make the finest drive in the west. Council Bluffs folks who have not yet driven over it little realize that the charming boulevard it is. The summer evenings of next season will see a thousand carriages at once upon it.

Stop at the Pacific House. The most centrally located hotel in the city.

For Sale Cheap—Lots near the bridge to parties who will build at once. Address or call on J. R. Rice, No. 100 Main street, Council Bluffs.

They Toil Not. Some of the papers are pounding away at the street commissioner because he does not "set the vagrants, now being fattened at police station, to work cutting the weeds on the streets, so that strangers passing through can see the city." The fact of the matter is that the commissioner is better off without them than he would be with them. They are like the horse that can be led to water, but cannot be made to drink. They can be taken out on the streets, but cannot be made to work. The laws of this state are extremely favorable to this class of good-for-nothing wanderers. When put to work they quietly sit down and refuse to do anything but enjoy themselves. They are forbidden to beg and water diet, and does not protect the authorities in compelling them to work. They can be sent to jail and fed by the taxpayers, or discharged by the court and then fed individually by the citizens. For this reason Judge Aylesworth daily discharges the vagrants, and makes the taxpayers pay. What is needed is a change in the statutes so that the vags can be sentenced to jail on bread and water for thirty or sixty days, or be compelled to work in a chain gang or on a rock pile.

Patrons of the Pacific House have none but words of praise for the attention given them.

Money loaned at L. B. Crafts & Co.'s loan office, on furniture, pianos, horses, wagons, personal property of all kinds, and all other articles of value without removal. All business strictly confidential.

Robbed a Lawyer. The city is filled just at present with light-fingered pickers, professional burglars and general all-round crooks, who are vigorously plying their business at the expense of the citizens. The residence of Attorney W. A. Mynter, corner of Eighth street and Seventh avenue, was entered Tuesday night, and that gentleman's clothes were taken to the porch and rifled. The night gown, a pair of trousers, a small amount of silver, and a pocketbook containing several valuable papers.

He left a watch in a vest pocket and $3 in money was overlooked. Entrance was effected by cutting out a screen in a basement window. The burglar was evidently a professional, as he did his work in a quiet, skillful manner, and took nothing but what would be of use to him. There is no clue to his identity.

Travelers! Stop at the Bechtelo.

Pacific House is open to the traveling public, notwithstanding to the contrary.

A Long Lost Uncle. For several weeks past Henry Anthony, an old man who has been in the city for about a year, has been confined in the city jail, awaiting the arrival of relatives from the east, who desire to care for him. Yesterday his nephew, H. B. Anthony, a boot and shoe dealer of Camden, N. J., arrived here to take him home. The old man is somewhat demented, and has been away from home since 1850. He served in the late war, and then visited California and Australia. Although but 65 years of age he appears to be 80, and is evidently in the verge of the grave. He has been kindly cared for by the police, and is in a much better condition than when arrested.

A Double Funeral. Double funeral services were held yesterday afternoon over the remains of Eddie, 7 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Akers, and Hazel, 9 months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Stevenson. The sad procession left the residence of Mr. Akers, 911 Avenue C, at 4 o'clock, and stopped at Mr. Stevenson's, 1000 Broadway, where it was joined by the relatives and remains of their little one. Rev. Dr. Cooley conducted the services at the graves, where the caskets were laid to rest. The scene was a most touching one, and the bereaved parents have the heartfelt sympathy of many friends.

Capturing Crooks. Captains Anderson and O'Brien, of the merchants police, have been working up the Manawa robbery, and went to Denison Tuesday morning on the trail of the suspected parties. They found them there in attendance at the races, and went to the fair grounds in the afternoon to arrest them. The officers were hardly on the grounds before they were seen by a friend of the crooks, and the latter were immediately informed that two "fly coppers" from Council Bluffs were there and they had better skip. They followed the advice immediately, two of them jumping the fence and running up a tree, and the other two being immediately arrested by Captain O'Brien and the sheriff, who hunted them up. The other two sneaked through a stable, going out the back way, jumping the fence, and making for the timber in the bottom. Captain Anderson followed them and found them about a half a mile away in a deep ravine. They were all lodged in jail, and one of them, who was not yet named, was released. The other three were brought to this city yesterday morning, and turned over to Sheriff O'Neill.

They are M. E. Doran, "Kid" Search and Jack Rainey. Doran was arrested here a short time ago for passing counterfeit money, but was discharged, as there was not enough evidence to convict him. The three, in company with Whitaker and Burgess, stopped at the Bechtelo Saturday night. The two latter had no baggage and were supposed to pay in advance, but the other three had grips and were furnished a room. In the morning Whitaker and Burgess took the baggage and departed, and the three now under arrest jumped their bill. The proprietor authorized their arrest, and the charge on which they are brought back is jumping their board bill. They were at Manawa Sunday, and tried to get permission to run a "shell game" at Manhattan beach. Search is a shell and skin game operator, who is well known to the police. He had six shells and balls in his pocket when arrested, and more were found in his room. These are without doubt the parties who "touched" several pockets on the motor and around the hotel, but are probably not the ones who went through the rooms of the hotel. They are all "bad men," and a clear case ought to be made out against them.

The crooks went to a justice's office during the afternoon before the information had been made out against them, and order for their release. It was presented to the sheriff and he accordingly released them.

There are many things to be grateful for, if we would but think so, and among these is the introduction of Van Duzer's Flavoring Extracts somewhat less than a third of a century ago. If there is a cook in America, professional or otherwise, who has not tested and is not ready to avouch the excellence of these well-known preparations, she or he is woefully behind the age. No chemical or other impurity contaminates them. They are simply delicious.

ON A FAR AWAY ISLAND.

A Jersey Man's Adventure in the Pacific Ocean.

An interesting narrative that reads like a romance is contained in a letter written by Captain George Davies, of the British bark Queen Isabella, to J. C. Parker, of Wilmington, Del., describing a distant and lonely island in the South Pacific ocean. This isolated spot in the great waste of waters is known as Palmerston island, and is situated in latitude eight degrees forty minutes south and longitude one hundred and sixty-three degrees ten minutes east, being represented on the chart of the world as an uninhabited coral reef, quite distant from navigation. Upon this exclusive territory Captain Davies says that one William Marston, who claims to have formerly lived near Salem, N. J., reigns like a veritable Monte Cristo, lord and master of all he surveys.

When the bark was off Palmerston island Captain Davies was greatly surprised to see a boat's crew put off from the shore and a signal that they wished to be taken on board. It was at first thought that the unexpected guests were wrecked sailors, but when the small boat under the command of the shadow of the bark the discovery was made that the little craft was loaded to the gunwales with coconuts and tropical fruits. The islanders were out on a trading expedition, and apprised Captain Davies of their desire to exchange their cargo for wearing apparel and other products of civilization but to be obtained on their lonely island. The crew of the bark welcomed the strangers on board and sat around them in wonderment, while William Marston, the king of Palmerston island, spun his yarn. He spoke with feeling of his old New Jersey home, and claimed that his parents are still living in that state somewhere. Twenty-five years ago he shipped as a seaman on the bark Kileman, at San Francisco, bound to the Tahiti, one of the group of the Society Islands. He deserted the vessel directly after she reached her destination, and remained on the island for three years. At the end of that time he migrated to Palmerston island, where for twenty-one years he had been planting and growing cocoanut trees and selling copra or dried cocoanut to traders who visit the island about once a year in the interest of San Francisco merchants. The population of Palmerston island numbers but thirty-five souls, all of whom, save himself, are natives of adjacent islands, who have made their homes on Palmerston, and sell goods in the cocoanut coconut groves that abound there.

Captain Davies took the boat load of island treasures, Chief Marston and his crew rowed away in the direction of
