CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, August 2 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The wheat market did not hold its own to-day. News was bullish from nearly every standpoint, but general speculative support was lacking, and values settled back 3/@ic. The tenor of the foreign advices is still unfavorable on crops, but occasional mention is made of brightening weather. Weather cables, however, were conflicting, and brought both buying and selling orders. The opinion seemed to prevail after all the news was in from the other side that foreign markets have halted for the time being. One trader had a cable chronicling an advance, but these particular advancing cables have been received with regularity for several weeks, and have ceased to have much effect. They have come to be looked upon as Nightengale's cables, last summer quoted declining foreign markets daily for several months until the total shrinkage was found to amount to $1.84 per bushel. However, there can be no gainsaying the fact that the situation at home and abroad is very strong. For instance, the clearances of wheat and flour from Atlantic ports for the day were equivalent to 400,0.0 bushels, while receipts at all the primary markets were not in excess of 500,000 bushels. Advices agree that shippers have a hard time getting cash wheat on limited orders. As high as 881/c has been bid in Duluth withen the last day or two, and 88c was bid to-day. Shipments from that point are heavy, and there is active inquiry for cash grain at every market in the country.
Proporty is stiffly held everywhere. The weakness is in the absence of general speculative inquiry and it is argued eral speculative inquiry and it is argued that there cannot be a serious shrinkage in the value of wheat for future delivery so long as actual grain is so well thought of. The force of this position must be admitted. There was evidence to-day of a concerted effort on the part of the leading local operators to depress values by using foreign houses to sell through. Whether, as many insisted the drive was made to get a good houses to sell through. Whether, as many insisted, the drive was made to get a good market to buy on is an undecided question. Certain it is that big traders were making a maximum amount of noise and doing a minimum amount of selling. September wheat opened at 84½c, sold off to 83½c, between which point and 83½c it fluctuated most of the day. Shortly after 12 o'clock the price got, down to 83½6233c and the the price got down to 834@834c and the feeling was one of weakness. Good buying occurred, however, and the market advanced 4c, closing stubbornly strong at a %c higher asis than yesterday. During the last half hour several telegrams were received from Dukota announcing that the agricultural sec-retary of that territory had reduced his esti-mate of the wheat yield from 15 to 20 per cent from estimate made July 1. This did not create particular excitement as it was merely an of-ficial confirmation of private information which had been generally accepted as accurate by the trade. During the session October wheat ranged from 84% to 83% c and closed at 83%c. December opened at 85%c, sold up to 80c, off to 85%c several times, finally going to 85%c, and closing at 85% (885%c. The volume of trade in the pit was less than for the two days last preceding. Commission merchants, as a rule, agree in the statement that they have difficulty in keeping customers off the short side which the majority of advisers seem to regard as hazardous just now. For the country to be generally bearish is a rare circumstance, and it is especially remarkable now when the situation looks so strong to most of the "expert market guessers." However, the mar-The corn market was weak and lower.

The corn market was weak and lower. The opening was strong at \(^1_2\)@\(^1_3\)c above yesterday's closing range, viz: At 47c for September and \(^1_3\)c for October. September sold up to \(^1_3\)c 47\(^3_3\)c and October to \(^1_3\)c. That proved to be the top. The bottom was \(^1_3\)c for September and \(^1_3\)c \(^1_3\)c, with May at 801\(^1_3\)c. The decline represents a shrinkage of 1994c. The decline represents a shrinkage of 14 cc. During the most of the session the greatest weakness was in deferred futures, the pressure upon year and May causing a noticeable heaviness. Reports from Kansas were that the weather there continues to be furnace hot, western Kansas suffering most, but as very little corn is produced in the western part of that state the news was not alarming. Receipts continue liberal but not excessive.

Outs were duil and weak with a fractional decline noted in all futures. Receipts were moderate, and more than half inspected as new oats. Buyers of cash discriminated against these, which were at a discount. Old No. 2 cats in store were slow at about 284 @284c. In the speculative market there was no support, with few buying orders, and while moderate favor was shown near while moderate favor was shown near futures, long months were neglected. August hovered around 24½c and next month declined from 24½c early, which was slightly better than yesterday's close, to 24c, with May dull at figures around 28c.

Provisions experienced a "slump" that completely upset the calculations of the board and occasioned a general upheaval in the market. As the official snowing of the amount of lard on hand in this city was universally discredited, business opened in a nervous manner. Operators acted as nervous manner. Operators acted as if they were "at sea" and when the first sales of lard showed a decline of 5c a stronger disposition was manifested in that article as well as in short ribs and pork to realize. Perk and short ribs were for a brief time relatively stronger than lard, but they promptly sympathized with it, and on the break that followed pork rather monopolized attention. In the last named article unusual excitement in fact was witnessed. For September delivery pork opened at $14.80, sold at $14.87\foralle{c}, broke on ic and 10c declines to $14.50, and then, under a pressure of offerings, dropped in good-sized jumps to $13.95. From this figure it sub-sequently rallied 52½¢c and finally closed 42½¢c better than the day's lowest point. While pork was making its decline of 92½¢c, lard and short ribs fell off 15c. Short ribs recovered afterwards a fraction of the ground lost but on lard the feeling was quite neavy and there was little or no improve ment. Lard for September ranged from $8.95 down to $8.80 and short ribs from $8.525 down to $8.37%. Based on yesterday's final closings, the actual decline in pork was 47% @57%c, in lard 20c and in short ribs 12%c.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, August 2 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- CATTLE-Trade was a shade more active than for a day or two past. The scarcity of good cattle and the falling off of the supply of natives is beginning to tell and although generally prices were about the same as yesterday there were instances where good and useful natives sold for more money, but such sales were few and far between, and cut no figure in the general trade. Texans and rommon natives are down to the lowest prices of the season. Texans are down to bout as low prices as at any time last year. There were about 10,000 common native tows. Bulls are down to low water mark. Old canning cows are as low as any time last year. Shippers should keep back such unless they expect low prices until after the run of Texans is over. Stockers and feeders quiet and steady. There is a heavy run of veal calves. The ordinary run of coarse and common are down to about as of coarse and common are down to about as low figures as at any time. The receipts included 5,000 Texas cattle. Choice to extra beeves, $6.10@6.30; medium to good steers, 1,350 to 1,500 lbs, $5.15@5.90; 1,300 to 1,850 lbs, $4.50@5.25; 050 to 1,200 lbs, $3.50@4.50; stockers and feeders, $2.25@3.50; cows, buils and mixed, $1.00@3.40. Texas cattle weaker; steers, 950 to 1,050 lbs., $3.00@3.40; 750 to 900, $2.75@3.40; 600 to 700 lbs., $2.50@3.20; cows, $1.75@2.50.

buying was on the part of ship pers. packers again holding off pers, puckers again helding off. The stocks of provisions on hand, especially lard, show up much larger than anticipated, consequently packers and speculators in hog products were bearish, the general provision market showing a marked decline under a raid by chronic bears this morning. Hogs are liable to sell slow if not lower until the effect of the increase in the supply in sight is discounted. A light run for a week or so would right the market and send prices up again. Values on hogs are 10@15c lower than last week. Prime heavy may be quoted at $6.50@6.52; prime mixed $6.35@5.50; common packers $5.006.25; light sorts $6.55 @6.60. One lot of fancy made $5.70.

FINANCIAL.

New York, August 2 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-STOCKS-Interest in the stock market centered in the Vanderbilts, New England and St. Paul. Trading during the morning was lighter, and up to noon only 93,435 shares changed hands. Efforts were made to boom Lake Shore, as there is a bobtailed pool in it, and they wanted to get prices up to help the rest of the list. Parties who watch the market closely, again assert that the recent heavy purchases have been for the Vanderbilt family, and that the dividends will be increased. It is rather too soon, however, to talk about a larger dividend, as the meeting does not occur several months. It is claimed some that the basis for the dividend story was that a large quantity of wheat would soon be moved from the west to the seaboard over the Vanderbilt roads and which would materially increase the earnings. This is rather a thin basis to buy stocks on, as the roads have not been able to get any wheat, as shippers are using the lake route. Boston parties who have been buying on the market for several days withdrew their support, as they favored a reaction of 2 points. London was a seller, and the market for American securities there opened off and had rather a depressing effect. At the opening first prices were generally 1/6 % per cent lower, though Reading and Lake Shore were kept up 1 per cent. Further small fractions were lost in early dealing, but the market soon rallied, and under the lead of New England quickly advanced to above the opening. New England gained % per cent. Advances in the rest of the list, however, were insignificant except a rise of 1 per cent in Oregon improvement. A feverish and generally heavy feeling developed and most of the active stocks dropped below the opening figures and the market became slow. The action of St. Paul again surprised its friends, who claim that there is less of stock affoat than is generally supposed, the low price inducing an unsuccessful absorption of it. The market was well filled with stocks during the last hour, and every attempt to bid up any particular stock brought out fresh blocks. Free selling caused an easy feeling, and reactions were noted, except in Lake Shore, which remained fairly steady. Closing sales were on an irregalar market, Lake Shore being up 3/4 of a point, Canada Southern 36, New England The rest of the active list showed declines extending to 1 point, Reading having the lead. The total sales were 179,045 shares, including 22,500 Lake Shore, 22,100 St. Paul, 15,300 New England, 12,400 North-

Crops in the Northwest. J. B. Werst, the crop expert, furnishes the following condensed statement of the observations in the northwest concerning the crop outlook. This statement is dated July 30: The condition of growing crops during the past fortnight were about as here described. Spring wheat in eastern Dakota and south of Milbank to a line drawn even with northern Iowa, has a thin stand, just headed and badly rusted. In Minnesota, on the lines between Waterton and Milbank after leaving the Dakota line and between that and St. Paul, the stand is good and about half the fields are headed, the other half heading; about one half is promising, the other half injured by rust. These same conditions, two days later, give the character of the fields between St. give the character of the fields between St. Paul and Fargo. On the Minnesota side of the Red river valley from the Northern Pacific to the boundary line at St. Vincent, this crop, besides rust, was materially hurt by being drowned out. Here it is safe to say the crop will fall short of last year by fully 20 per cent. In the immediate Red river valley, on the Dakota side, from Wahpeton to Grand Forks, the promise is better than a year ago, while from Grand Forks north prospects are not as good. Then Forks north prospects are not as good. Then again, from Grand Forks east to nearly Devil's lake, and south from Larimore to within five miles of the main line of the within five miles of the main line of the Northern Pacific at Casselton, the fields look nearly as yellow as gold and fully 40 per cent showed no signs of heading on the 25th inst. North and west of Devil's lake and south of the Northern Pacific to Cheyenne prospects are good. Again, in Minnesota, south of St. Paul, and between Mankota and the Mississippi, the acreage seeded is scarcely more than one-third of last year, and here, too, chinch bugs have done important injury, although light as compared with last season. though light as compared with last season In Iowa the acreage is small, and being badly lodged, as well as rusted by general storms, this crop must be poor, as well as small. Altogether, I do not think it possible that this year's crop in Minnesota and Dakota can year's crop in Minnesota and Dakota can yield within 10 per cent of a year ago, and that this entire crop, measured by receipts at Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Duluth will fall 15 per cent short. Oats, in Illinois and Iowa, are badly lodged and rusted, and while the loss to what they would have been but for this injury is fully 20 per cent, yet the large acreage is likely to make this a fair crop. In these states har-vest is now general. In Minnesota and Da-kota this crop is still green, but prospects

Rye, north and west of our city, is a heavy crop, and is now being mostly harvested in shock. Barley is a light crop, and where fields are

Corn has good growth and color, and the indications are for a good crop, but owing to an ordinary or common stand I cannot call it any better than good. However, the acreage any better than good is larger than usual.

Hay, atthough much injured by the extensive storms of 4th and 13th inst, is doubtless one of the largest ever secured at this date. The Coffee Market.

The new crop of Brazilian coffee is being marketed quite freely and prices are weakening, although there is a fairly active demand from all parts of the coffee-drinking world. Omaha wholesale grocery merchants have received some sample bags and they show up very nicely. Evidently the crop is a big one and good in point of quality. At Rio Janeiro the stock of coffee has been increased to 190,000 bags, against a total of 157,000 bags a week earlier and 268,000 bags a year ago: and at Santos the stock is given as 50,000 bags (27,000 bags in second hands) The free arrivals and increasing accumula-tions at the ports of outlet tend to depression and private cables note heaviness. The week's export purchases reached 25,000 bags at Rio Janeiro for the United States and at Santos 3,000, against receipts at Rio Janeiro of 86,000 bags and at Santos of 15,000 bags. The receipts at Rio Janeiro July 1 to 25 were 288,000 bags and at Santos 52,000 bags, against during the same time last year respectively 88, 000 and 69,000 bags.
