

THE CITY

The internal revenue collections yesterday amounted to $12,807.

An admirer of Sheriff Coburn has presented that gentleman with a handsome puppy pug. The donor claimed to have refused an offer of $50 for the woman's pet.

The body of Charles Pigott lies at Healey & Healey's awaiting identification. He died at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday morning. He was twenty-two years of age, was five feet nine inches high, had dark hair and smooth face.

Four gentlemen were thrown from a cable car yesterday afternoon at the corner of Twentieth and Dodge streets. Thomas Falconer, janitor of the high school, received a cut on the head. The cars were loaded with people bound for the ball game.

Personal Paragraphs.

A. W. Beahm, of Cortland, is at the Millard.

J. H. Bull, of Grand Island, is at the Windsor.

J. D. Stine, of Superior, is in the city yesterday.

C. Strathorn, of Fairmont, is a guest at the Windsor.

W. W. Wither, jr., of Des Moines, is at the Paxton.

J. T. Goode, of Sidney, Ia., was an Omaha visitor yesterday.

Mason P. Mills, a prominent attorney of Cedar Rapids, Ia., is at the Paxton.

H. M. Fry and H. C. H. H. of Peoria, Ill., are visiting Omaha friends.

Joseph Sheltz, of Milford, and R. P. R. Miher, of Lincoln were in the city yesterday.

A. R. Mitchell, Mrs. D. Mitchell, Miss S. Hwan and J. M. Knox, all of Lincoln, were Millard guests yesterday.

George M. Eames, editor of the Democrat of Toledo, Ill., was in the city yesterday en route to Platt Center to visit a brother, also a newspaper man.

Low's Victim Asks Help.

Nina Darrah, of Tokamah, the alleged victim of Samuel Lowe's misplaced confidence and abuse, has applied to the county commissioners for aid until she recovers from the effects of the malpractice through which she has just passed.

Another Marble Hall.

The contract for building another story to the Omaha National bank has been let to J. F. Coats. The work will be commenced as soon as possible, one of the features being a marble vestibule and entrance of great richness and beauty.

Charley Turnbull Injured.

Charley, the son of Officer John Turnbull, was badly injured about the legs yesterday. In attempting to stop a runaway team of horses at the corner of Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue, he was thrown under the wheels of the vehicle.

An Auction House Victim.

A young man from Glenwood, Ia., has fallen a victim to the wiles of a woman at a Tenth street auction house yesterday. He bought a brass watch, an equally brass ring and some very nice earrings and breastpin worth $100 on him, for which he gave a $20 silver watch and $9 in money.

Nightly Viola.

According to Mrs. Nettie Bartlett's story, Viola Albin was a very naughty and profane young woman who feels like wagging it. It seems that Viola was in condition Thursday, and she acted like a child in a very loud and profane manner, even to such an extent as to cause the latter to swear out a warrant for her tongue-lashing assault.

A Church Incorporated.

Articles of incorporation for the First Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church have been filed with the county clerk. The corporation has no capital stock, and its membership is the same as that of the church. Officers: Wm. Roland Williams, moderator; Hugh Williams, clerk; William E. Hughes, Thomas C. Humphreys and Evan H. Jones.

Mr. Duffy, Here is Your Wife.

An old Irish woman of seventy-six wandered into the central police station last evening in quest of her husband. The two had just come from the city and had become accidentally separated on the streets. She was taken care of by the police until she was reunited with her husband James. She was cared for at the police station over night.

Mr. Hunt's Vicious Dog.

A. B. Hunt, superintendent of the water works, has a dog which he considers the pink of perfection and as orderly and well behaved a canine as there is in the city. But Mrs. Sweeney, a neighbor, disagrees with him on this point. She is of the opinion that the dog is of a dangerous temperament, and yesterday had the works under the charge of keeping a vicious dog on his premises. The hearing will take place before Judge Berka at 2 o'clock next Monday.

Teachers' Institute.

The arrangements are about completed for the county teachers' institute, which convenes here one week from next Monday. The regular teachers throughout the county have been notified by mail, and the institute convenes, but a large number of applicants for schools who have not received mail notices of the opening are expected to be present. The sessions will be held in the high school building, and will continue daily from the 13th to the 25th of this month.

Soldiers Fight With Women.

The harrowing place of lewd women at the corner of Twelfth and Dodge streets was the scene of a lively row Thursday night. Several soldiers in transit through the city dropped into the bar at the corner of Twelfth and Dodge streets, and under the influence of liquor, it was not long before they became involved in a general scuffle. Missions of various descriptions were brought into service, and by the destruction of a water pitcher one, Annie Wilson, received a bad scalp wound, and Bertha Scott has a badly cut face from a flying spittoon. The male combatants were more or less injured, and succeeded in making their escape before the police arrived.

He Intended No Fraud.

Mr. Clark, who keeps a store on St. Mary's avenue, was arraigned in Justice Road's court yesterday afternoon on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He had hired a young man as cashier and required him to deposit $50 as security. Two or three days later Clark's establishment was closed on an attachment, and the cashier thrown out of employment. He had Mr. Clark arrested for swindling him out of his money. The court held that there was no fraud whatever apparent in Mr. Clark's actions, as the young man had no control over the money, and was acting as a mere clerk. Mr. Clark was therefore released from custody.

A Daylight Burglar.

A bare-faced attempt was made Thursday about 4 o'clock to burglarize the residence of Henry J. Witman, 219 1/2 California street. Part of the family had gone to a picnic and Mrs. Witman, the only person in the house, was in the front yard. The burglar walked boldly into the back yard and into the house through the kitchen. He went upstairs and was searching one of the rooms when Mrs. Witman heard him. She entered the house to see what was going on and after some explorations reached the room where the burglar was. He heard her coming and left by the window, jumping to the ground. He was seen by the neighbors, but escaped before a policeman could be called. Nothing was missing from the room although there was a purse in one of the dressing case drawers and a large amount of valuable clothes.

Mad Dogs.

Great excitement and consternation was occasioned among the residents in the vicinity of Clark and Nineteenth streets yesterday by a rabid dog. He was a big dog and a stranger in the neighborhood, but for all that for a time he ran things to suit himself. He ran the people of the streets, and ferociously attacked every horse that passed by. Word was finally sent into the police station, and Officer Golden was dispatched to stay the brute, which he only succeeded in doing after running considerable risk himself. He finally got in a shot, however, and the pup keeled over dead. No sooner had Golden reached the police station after this exploit than word came in that a mad dog was running amuck up in the neighborhood of 12th and Farnam streets, and he was sent out to dispose of him. He succeeded, after another exciting chase.

PROPOSED ORDINANCES.

To Paint the Poles—A Criminal Code for Omaha.

Councilman Alexander has fathered a new ordinance requiring telegraph, telephone and electric light companies to paint their poles and "keep the same well and neatly painted. Said poles shall each be painted with two colors of paint, and to the end that the poles of any company may be easily distinguished by the public, each of said companies shall select two colors in which each and all the poles of said company shall be painted, and no company shall select or use a combination of colors that has already been selected and used by another company." The penalty is a fine of $5 to $25. Another section of the ordinance prohibits all persons from making or pasting upon the poles any advertisement, sign, business card or any other announcement. The penalty is a fine not exceeding $3 or imprisonment not exceeding ten days or both. But this section does not apply to unpainted poles.

Councilman Cheney is sponsor for a proposition to amend the ordinance relating to combustibles. His measure says it shall be unlawful to store or keep for sale within the city any kind of petroleum, gasoline, kerosene or benzine exceeding a quantity of one barrel of fifty gallons of each of said articles, and it shall be unlawful to keep any quantity of such articles exceeding that quantity in any part of a building except in a cellar with a floor five feet below the ground level. Any one having a fire-proof warehouse at least five feet below the ground level, and used exclusively for the storage of such combustible, properly ventilated for that purpose and having a cellar three feet or more in depth, may, after getting the written approval of the chief of the fire department, apply to the city council for a permit to store in the cellar any quantity of such combustible, and the city council may grant the permit with the approval of the mayor, but such stores cannot be maintained within the fire limits. The penalty is a fine of $5 to $25.

At the last meeting of the council a voluminous ordinance was introduced. Its design is to gather into a sort of a code the various ordinances defining misdemeanors and prescribing penalties. The chief of the police court will handle this with satisfaction. These measures have been read a first and second time, and will occur at the next meeting of the council.

May to Bell.

Dear Bell: I'll write you a short letter to say I'm wonderfully better. How much that means you ought to know. Who saw me just one month ago? I was almost too weak to breathe or talk; head throbbing, as if it were breaking; a weary, ever present aching. But now life seems a different thing: I say, and fear no contradiction, that Pierce's Favorite Prescription is grand! Why, I'd have died without it! Ma thinks there's no mistake about it. It's driven all my ill away. Just come and see! Yours ever, MAY.

MANY MOVERS.

A Grocer Attached as He is About to Move. An attachment was made yesterday upon a stock of groceries claimed to be owned by Mrs. Fannie Schram, in Odd Fellows' building on Saunders street. The goods are worth about $30.00, though the attachment is for a much smaller amount. The goods had been removed from the corner of Tenth and Sixteenth street some time ago, where they were supposed to be the property of G. J. Schram, the husband of the party in whose name they had been for some time. He had formerly been in business in O'Neill, in this state, where, it is stated, he failed. It is said that the goods had been taken that the goods were about to be removed to Franklin, in this state, and gained credence because the store has been closed for three days. Other attachments, it is said, will immediately be issued.

INSURANCE AGENTS AROUSED.

They Will Organize and Fight Against Dual Agencies. Thursday afternoon there was a largely attended meeting of fire insurance agents in the board of trade. The meeting was a private one, even Secretary Wiley of the local board of underwriters not being in attendance. The move was confined to agents who had been aroused by disclosures made in The Bee some time ago of agents who were cutting rates and companies who employed more than one agency in a given place. The rating committee, three members, during which the necessity of a state organization was discussed. Upon this point all agreed and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements. One of the objects of the association will be to allow its members to work for no insurance company which will employ more than one agent in a given place.

FOUND A SKULL.

Belief That it is That of an Old Citizen. The finding of a human skull yesterday by some plumbers in the employ of Graham Park, beneath the house No. 1223 south Twenty-sixth street, in Shull's addition, caused considerable commotion in the neighborhood and revived recollections of a mystery of years ago. The men were engaged in digging a trench for the purpose of making water connections for the use of the occupants of the house, Goodman by name, when they came in contact with the skull, which is apparently that of a white person. It is finely proportioned and has none of the features generally discernible in that of an Indian. Those who are familiar with the sudden and mysterious disappearance of an old and much respected citizen, are inclined to associate the skull with his fate.

By last of next week W. A. Page Soap Co. will have ready for market $50,000 lbs. union soap.

Army Notes.

Leave of absence for one month is granted Second Lieutenant Charles D. Twisley, Second infantry. Major John W. Barriger, substance department has been detailed as inspector of Indian supplies—corn meal and hominy—to be delivered under contract at Omaha, Neb., for sundry Indian agencies. The following named officers have been detailed as inspectors of Indian supplies, to be delivered at the places named for the ensuing fiscal year: First Lieutenant George Ruben, Seventeenth, Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo.; Rawlins, Wyo., for the Shoshone agency, Wyo.; First Lieutenant William L. Picher, Eighth infantry, Fort Niobrara, Neb.; Valentine, Neb., for the Rosebud agency, D. T.; First Lieutenant Richard H. Wilson, Eighth infantry, Fort Robinson, Neb.; Rushville, Neb., for the Pine Ridge agency, D. T. Colonel Hall, inspector of the department of the Platte, writes a very interesting letter from Fort Robinson, which he is at present inspecting, detailing the achievement of the garrison of that post in packing up, leaving the fort, marching a mile and pitching their tents in just one hour and fifteen minutes after the order had been given. This is considered excellent time, especially in view of the fact that it was the first time attempted by the garrison. Colonel Hall, however, thinks that it can be improved and will attempt to improve it in some other posts.
