

CLOUT WEATHER GOODS AT HOT WEATHER PRICES.

In order to open our Fall Season early, we shall begin to-morrow what we term a Forced Sale; that is a sale of Winter goods in Summer. There is only one way by which we can do this and that is to offer them at such a tremendous reduction from regular price that our customers will buy them now and lay them aside until they are needed. Remember, Fall will be here in a little over two weeks; we intend in those coming two weeks to sell Fall Goods at such a tremendous sacrifice, that it will be an advertisement to us for the balance of the season. The sale is for Monday and Tuesday only.

CLOAK SALE.

$25. Plush Coat for $16.98.

A $35. Plush Coat that would be an immense bargain at that price, for $19.94.

A Plush Cloak that we shall retail at $40 this fall; Monday and Tuesday only at $24.75.

We will offer our $45 Plush Coat at $29.75.

We give a written guarantee with all our Plush Coats at $20.

And over. We shall also place on sale Monday, a line of Ladies' Newmarkets and Children's Cloaks.

And will give 33 per cent off of our fall prices on these goods.

DON'T FORGET OUR PLUSH CLOAK SALE.

NOTION SALE.

Pins, 1c Paper. Hair Pins, 3 papers 1c. Tape, 1 1/2 c roll. Long Black Pins, 1 1/2 c paper.

Elastic Webbing, 2 1/2 c yard.

Corset Stays, 5c pair. Linen Thread 3c spool.

Silk Thread, 2c spool. Basting Thread, 3/4 c spl.

Safety Pins, 2 1/2 c paper. Thimbles, 1c.

Goff's Bl'k Braid 3c roll. Dress Shields, 7c pair.

Red Marking Cotton, 9c doz.

Corset Laces, 3 for 1c. Hooks & Eyes, 1 1/2 c paper.

Crochet Needles 1c each. Pearl Buttons 1 1/2 c doz.

Embroidery Silk 1 1/2 c Spl. 3 Row Ruching, 4c yd.

10c Linen Laces 4c yd. 5c American Laces 2 1/2 c yard.

DON'T FORGET OUR PLUSH CLOAK SALE.

Dress Goods and Linens.

In order to force the sale in DRESS GOODS, we shall cut our prices in two.

20c Double Width Double Fold

DRESS GOODS

ALL SHADES 10c a Yard.

75c Dress Goods

39c a Yard.

$1.00 All Wool

DRESS GOODS

49c a Yard,

$1.50 HENRIETTAS

75c a Yard.

Don't Forget Our Plush Cloak Sale.

Dress Goods and Linens.

Our 60c Turkey Red TABLE LINENS At 33c a Yard.

All LINEN CRASH reduced to 6 1/2 c a yard.

40c Towels down to 25c.

40c WHITE GOODS for 15c a yard.

12 yds of ZEPHYR GINGHAM, 69c.

12 yds CALICO for 59c, worth 81-3c a yd.

Here is a bargain, 10 yards COTTON FLANNEL for 59c.

10 yds 15c COTTON FLANNEL for 99c.

A fancy TURKISH TOWEL for 19c worth 35c.

Don't Forget Our Plush Cloak Sale.

RIBBONS, ETC

We will inaugurate Monday a big sale on Ribbons, in all the new fall shades:

15c Ribbon..... 9c yard

25c Ribbon..... 17c yard

35c Ribbon... 23c yard

50c Ribbon... 29c yard

This is the finest line of Ribbons we have ever put on sale.

CORSETS.

Grand reduction in our Corset Department.

$1.00 Corsets reduced to 49c.

$1.25 Corsets reduced to 89c.

$3.00 Satin Corset, in all shades, .75.

Down's Self-Adjusted Corset, 99c.

This is the best Corset in the market.

RUCHING.

A lot of 50c Ruching, Monday and Tuesday.

19c Yard.

Don't forget our Plush Cloak Sale.

UNDERWEAR

SALE!

Men's extra heavy Winter Underwear that will retail this winter at 75c, Monday and Tuesday.

At 39c.

We will also offer a line of Ladies' Underwear at the same price.

We offer in CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR, an assorted lot from 9c to 29c.

These goods are worth fully double.

Will also offer in the Gents' line 25 Suits of Fine Knit Underwear, which retail all the way from $8 to $10, Monday and Tuesday.

At $3.97.

A Suit.

Don't forget our Plush Cloak Sale.

SILK PLUSHIES

We have over 40 new fall shades of Silk Plushies. These goods will be good value at $1.00. In fact some of our competitors retail them at $1.25. If you want a Plush Dress for this fall, now is the time to buy it. We are going to offer them Monday

59c Per Yard.

Handkerchiefs.

In our Handkerchief Department we shall offer some Colored Handkerchiefs at

1 3/4c Each.

We also have about 50 dozen very fine Handkerchiefs, worth up to $1.00, which Monday and Tuesday we will sell choice

At 29c.

We have just received from New York auction 100 dozen sample Bustles. We shall offer them Monday and Tuesday at ONE-HALF PRICE.

Don't forget our Plush Cloak Sale.

We intend to make this our opening Fall Sale, the grandest ever inaugurated in Omaha. Remember, it is for Monday and Tuesday only. Our mail order department is now in good running order, and we get all orders off the same day they are received. No mail orders filled under $1.00. Plush Cloaks sent on approval, provided customers pay express both ways if they do not keep the garment.

We will lay aside and keep till wanted, any of the above plush coats advertised, if the purchaser will make a small cash deposit on the same

STONEHILL, 1515 Douglas St., Omaha.

WEEKS OF AGONY AT AN END.

Connell and Yost Secure the Douglas County Delegates.

CONVENTION AND ITS RESULTS.

A Resolution Commending Attorney General Leese's Conduct Voted Down By the Howls of Dozens of Railroad Tools.

Republican County Convention.

The agony is over and the republican county convention has adjourned. The result will be gathered by reading the following:

The delegates assembled at the city hall very promptly and at 2:30 were called to order by John Lush, chairman of the county committee, who in a brief speech summarized the objects of the meeting and spoke of the two aspirants for congressional honors, Mr. Connell and Mr. Yost, in very fitting terms, after which nominations for the office of temporary chairman was declared open.

Mr. Hascall put in nomination W. F. Bechel and the nomination was seconded by a delegate from the Fourth.

Mr. Unit, of the Ninth ward sprang to his feet and moved as an amendment that Mr. Lindsay act as temporary chairman. This motion was deliberately ignored by Mr. Lush, who put the question in favor of Bechel, declared it carried, and had Bechel in the chair in less than three minutes by the watch.

Fred Nye was then elected secretary and D. V. Sholes assistant secretary.

Mr. Unit desired to open on the question of the chairmanship, but he was knocked out by Hascall, who declared that the convention had no time to waste on "slogans," and Mr. Bechel promptly declared Hascall's remarks as timely and Mr. Unit out of order.

On motion of Mr. Michael Lee the secretaries were instructed to act as a committee on credentials, and the chairman of the various delegations were requested to turn in their lists of delegates and alternates, which after being considered by the committee, the credentials delegates present were all properly certified to.

The question having arisen as to whether in the absence of both delegate and alternate the absentee could delegate his power to a proxy, the convention declared that in all such cases the delegation should cast their vote.

The report of the committee on credentials was then adopted.

On motion of Mr. Gurley the temporary organization was made permanent.

Mr. Whitmore, of Valley precinct, offered a resolution providing for the selection of thirty-seven delegates for the state convention, who will be instructed for C. E. Yost for the candidacy for the state treasuryship, the committee to consist of two delegates from each ward, two from South Omaha, one from each precinct, and six at large, who shall represent Douglas county in the state convention, and a like number to represent Douglas county at the congressional convention.

In support of his resolution Mr. Brown urged its adoption in behalf of good government and the principles of republicanism, which were based upon fair representation.

His remarks brought Mr. Hascall to his feet. He characterized Mr. Brown's logic as simple, and asked why majorities should not rule as absolutely here as in a presidential election. If the majority of any state vote for a presidential candidate he gets the entire electoral vote of the state. Douglas county should go into the state convention solid. If Mr. Connell had a majority of the delegates it was unfair not to give them to him and decidedly out of order to allow a man on whom we would not vote for him with all his might in the congressional convention. The republicans of Douglas county had declared the favor of Yost, and his delegation in the state convention should also be a united one.

Mr. Rosewater offered as a substitute the following: Resolved, That the delegations from each of the nine wards in the city of Omaha and the delegates from South Omaha shall recommend to this convention three persons to act as delegates to the state convention and that the county precincts shall recommend seven delegates to the state convention. Said delegates upon being induced by a majority of this convention shall represent Douglas county and said delegation shall vote as a unit on the choice for state treasurer.

Mr. Rosewater then took issue with Mr. Hascall upon the question raised by Mr. Hascall in his argument relating to the disposition of the electoral vote in states, and alluded to the action of the electoral college of Virginia in 1869, which cast a divided vote for Douglas, Breckinridge and Bell, to the disadvantage of the republican ticket in the state convention, which would not be in the market to be traded, trampled or gagged, and not favor the plan of sending thirty-seven wooden Indians to represent Douglas county.

Mr. Rosewater said he was in favor of this county being represented in a manner becoming to the delegates, who were sent to the convention, and that the majority of the convention favored Mr. Yost. The state has other interests beyond the selection of a man to fill the office of state treasurer. The substitute offered by him provided for recommendation by wards and precincts and the convention would exercise the veto power in controlling them.

Richard Hall spoke briefly in opposition to the substitute. He commended Mr. Hascall's views as sound and made the proposition that Mr. Connell and Mr. Yost air their views on the subject. A volley of groans from all parts of the house showed him his error and he sat down to rise no more.

Then Joseph Redman, of the Fifth ward, gave Mr. Connell a dig in the ribs by referring to the convention of two years ago when he, with thirty-seven delegates behind his back, made it possible for a democrat to be elected in the district, which little talk on Mr. Redman's part evoked considerable applause on the part of the Webster faction.

Mike Lee took up the cudgel for Hascall and sent back one at Redman concerning the delegates to the state convention, who were sent to the convention to support Connell, and Joseph Shiller, Price Saunders, R. S. Hall, Joseph Shiller, Henry Eastbrook, M. Lee, A. W. Ferguson, D. L. McSweeney, Scudder, Glasgow, Elkhorn, Owen Whitney, Chicago, H. J. Hoff; West Omaha, George W. Roberts.

The committee selected those delegates for the state convention were C. E. Yost, I. S. Hascall, E. M. Stanberry, Mike Mall, James Lewis, Fred W. Gray, Henry Bolin, Paul Vandervoort, M. S. Lindsay, Dr. J. M. Glasgow, H. C. Timme, William Lewan and W. G. Whitmore.

The state committee was out. Hon. John Thurston, being called for, made a brief, but strong speech on the national issues, which was received with cheers.

Before the delegates in the state convention, W. J. Connell and wound up with an appeal to Douglas county to send a solid delegation to the next legislature to help re-elect General Manderson.

When Mr. Thurston finished his address, the committee were ready to report, but the delegates in the state convention endorsing General Manderson for his course as a United States senator in behalf of the state and of the soldier, and recommending him to the people of the state as a candidate for re-election, which was adopted.

Mr. Rosewater then offered the following: Resolved, That the republicans of Douglas county cordially commended Attorney General Leese for the faithful, fearless and efficient discharge of his duties, and the delegates to the state convention are hereby instructed to give him their support and use all honorable means to secure his re-nomination.

Mr. Lindsay expressed himself surprised that Mr. Rosewater, who conducted a paper which was supported by the business men of Omaha, to whom Attorney General Leese had shown himself hostile on the board of transportation, should offer such a resolution. Mr. Gray, at some length, referred to the rebuff the delegates to the state convention had shown him on the board of transportation.

Mr. Rosewater stated he had no apology to make in offering the resolution. There were many merchants and business men who sacrificed the public interest to private gain and that class would naturally side with the railroads against the attorney general. Judge Mason was not Mr. Leese's friend. The convention endorsed Manderson for a second term of six years; Laird was running for a fourth term and Dorsey for a third; why should not Leese, the first attorney general who has ever dared to do his duty in the face of threats of defeat and promises of re-election, be retained in his place. Defeat this resolution and you say to the state that Omaha sides with the railroads against the common interests of their sections and the legislatures.

Yost appealed to his friends to vote against this resolution as it would interfere with his chances of success.

Mistaken as a division was called on this resolution, and finally a vote called for by wards and precincts. The railroad men on the floor and in the lobby made a desperate effort all along the line, and the resolution was tabled—81 to 23 votes.

Quite a number of those who voted against the resolution tried to explain their votes under all sorts of pretenses.

The committee appointed to select delegates to the state convention reported in favor of the following delegates: W. A. Kelly, E. J. Cornish, E. M. Stanberry, P. J. Barrett, J. S. Caulfield, C. J. Mentor, F. Colpetzer, C. S. Hall, John Jenkins, John Schumann, Ed. Cohen, Joseph Bowles, Paul Vandervoort, L. W. Young, G. C. Barton, A. W. Parker, M. S. Lindsay, C. J. Johnson, J. H. Van Dusen, A. J. Baldwin, W. M. Lewis, H. C. Timme, George W. Roberts, W. G. Whitmore, E. Gilmore, J. H. Butler, Frank Walters, I. S. Hascall, F. P. Hindman, Henry Bolin, L. C. Gibson, C. L. Chaffee, P. C. Bruner, Cadet Taylor, John M. Thurston and John Rush.

Prior to the report a resolution was introduced by Frank Moores expressing regret because of the death of George Philip H. Sheridan, the gallant soldier, was unanimously adopted.

The report of the committee was adopted. The congressional committee recommended the following delegates: Fred W. Gray, J. B. Bruner, James Walsch, Frank E. Moores, Michael Lee, E. L. Armstrong, Fred Kerke, D. H. Mercer, John Hoy, Fred Nye, John Rosicky, Fred Behm, Dan O'Keefe, Walter Bennett, Price Saunders, W. F. Bechel, W. F. Gurley, Charles Cheney, John McDonald, Herbert Leavitt, H. D. Eastbrook, C. K. Wooley, D. V. Leese, John B. Furry, M. S. Singleton, D. L. McGowan, H. S. Fouss, F. M. Smith, M. E. Erion, H. J. Ralph, W. G. Whitmore, John Lenke, Owen Whitney and E. Gilmore.

The convention then adjourned.

Convention Echoes. In the language of John L. Webster, it was a famous victory.

Herman Timme didn't explain his votes. Everybody knew where he stood.

In the great rush of things and in the midst of the excitement of the day, resolutions were left in the railroad pocket.

The vote against those Leese resolutions are able to strand several patriots and statesmen who want to go to the legislature.

Frank Walters will sit by the side of John M. Thurston in the state convention, and the inevitable Wiggins will sit on Thurston's left.

Thurston's endorsement of Manderson pretty nearly broke his heart. But it was part of the buy-and was taken in a political campaign.

Unit, of the Ninth, rose to explain why he loved Yost better than Leese. It wasn't necessary. We all knew it. That was the Unit rule.

Mr. Moore distinguished himself as the chief hanger of the railroad combine. He, too, was opposed to Leese, on general principles. The railroad farmers were all that way.

Connell's delegation is not like A. Booth's XXX select system. He could not have done much worse if he had chosen most of his delegates from the slums of the bloody Third.

Fred Behm blandly explained that he voted against the Leese resolutions because it would prevent Yost from trading off the attorney general. Fred's part in the tie-up was rather disagreeable.

Bechel was rushed into the chair by the most sublime piece of parliamentary gall. Mr. Bechel had no small following for commissioner of public lands and buildings. Thomas Benton is left. Lancaster's vote for auditor of public accounts will be cast for some other man.

MEETING OF HORSEMEN. Next in importance to the state fair comes the annual meeting of the Nebraska Trotting Horse Breeders' association, which takes place at the state fair grounds Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week. The reputation of the horses already entered for the races gives the convention prominence never before held, warranting the belief that the attendance will be very large from all parts of the state and other states interested in the development of speed in horse flesh. Such support and encouragement therefore ought to be given the continuance of this place. Nebraska is rapidly taking rank as one of the first in the trotting horse districts of the country. The best blood of Kentucky, indeed of the world, courses in the veins of Nebraska horses, and the interest of the past which has brought this development ought not to be permitted to wane in any way.

Support and the interest of a large attendance on the part of Lincoln citizens will go a long way toward keeping up these annual meetings. At this time 120 horses have been entered for speed trials, and some of the races promise to be the very best ever witnessed on Nebraska tracks. Next week will be a busy and interesting one in the city of Lincoln and the promise is now that the

LINCOLN'S PRIMARY ELECTION

Workingmen Make Their Power Felt at the Polls.

THE RAILROAD FACTION DOWNED.

Coming Meeting of the Nebraska Trotting Horse Breeders' Association—Delegates to the Deep Water Convention.

LINCOLN BUREAU OF THE OMAHA BEE.

1022 P STREET, LINCOLN, AUGUST 11.

The primary fight in every ward of the city was tame compared with that in the Third. The Raymond-McBride forces were superbly organized. Headed by the military band the laboring men formed in line at the corner of T and Eleventh streets, and marched in a body to the polling place at the corner of Q and Fourteenth.

That the Pound (as he was up) was manifest from the first. Moore and Whedon et al were completely unbalanced by the swoop of the laboring vote. It was a surprise to them. They expected to divide it. They are now wondering how it was done.

The primary election in this city declares against the dogmatic and dictatorial rule of the railroad corporations, and without doubt the country precincts will answer to the roll call in the same way at the coming county convention.

Raymond and McBride will go into the convention with the solid vote of their ward for the senate and house. In a day or two it will be an easy matter to cast the legislative ticket of Lancaster county. Enough is known at this hour to warrant the statement that the railroads have been completely snowed under in this county. Leese will have the solid vote for attorney general. E. E. Brown is Lancaster's preferred candidate for congress.

Charles Carter will have no small following for commissioner of public lands and buildings. Thomas Benton is left. Lancaster's vote for auditor of public accounts will be cast for some other man.

MEETING OF HORSEMEN. Next in importance to the state fair comes the annual meeting of the Nebraska Trotting Horse Breeders' association, which takes place at the state fair grounds Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week. The reputation of the horses already entered for the races gives the convention prominence never before held, warranting the belief that the attendance will be very large from all parts of the state and other states interested in the development of speed in horse flesh. Such support and encouragement therefore ought to be given the continuance of this place. Nebraska is rapidly taking rank as one of the first in the trotting horse districts of the country. The best blood of Kentucky, indeed of the world, courses in the veins of Nebraska horses, and the interest of the past which has brought this development ought not to be permitted to wane in any way.

Support and the interest of a large attendance on the part of Lincoln citizens will go a long way toward keeping up these annual meetings. At this time 120 horses have been entered for speed trials, and some of the races promise to be the very best ever witnessed on Nebraska tracks. Next week will be a busy and interesting one in the city of Lincoln and the promise is now that the

Fifty Thousand Dollars. Two years ago N. A. Kuhn, for himself and others, bought twelve acres near the reservoir for what some thought was high. $50,000. This was divided into fifty-six lots. Yesterday thirty-six of these were conveyed to Mr. Dumont and others by W. A. Kuhn for an even $50,000.

entertainments will be of the highest order.

HARMON CONVENTION DELEGATES. The following is a list of delegates thus far appointed by Governor Thayer, to the Deep Water convention, to be held at Denver, Col., on the 28th of this month:

First Senatorial District, George W. Holland, Falls City, and D. Davis, Lawrence City; Fourth, R. R. Livingston, Plattsmouth, and E. L. Reed, Weeping Water; Sixth, E. Rosewater, Cadet Taylor, and G. M. Hitchcock, Omaha; Seventh, E. K. Valentine, West Point, and H. A. Templeton, Tekamah; Tenth, L. D. Richards, Fremont, and Lorenzo Crouse, Fort Calhoun; Twelfth, E. L. Truso, Schuyler, and George G. Bowman, Columbus; Thirteenth, A. H. Church, North Platte, and— Sinclair, Platt Creek; Seventeenth, Samuel N. Wolbach, Grand Island, and Thomas Darnell, St. Paul; Nineteenth, L. D. Simmons, Seward, and C. J. Roberts, David City; Twentieth, C. H. Gere and O. P. Mason, Lincoln; Twenty-first, A. L. Green, Beatrice; Twenty-sixth, Silas Garber, Red Cloud, and C. E. Adams, Superior; Twenty-seventh, Captain H. C. Yocum and J. B. Hartwell, Hastings; Twenty-eighth, W. F. Bechtel, Holdrege, and Joel Hill, Minden; Twenty-ninth, John Jensen, Geneva; Thirtieth, Daniel Nettleton, Clay; Eighteenth, C. Hostetter, Central City. The list is not yet completed.

OMAHA EXCURSIONISTS. About two thousand Omaha citizens came to Lincoln this morning over the Union Pacific. They were met by Cushman park, where they spent most of the day very pleasantly. There were two sections of the party, each containing thirteen cars, and they were fairly crowded with pleasure seekers, all bent on having a gay time. A large number of them, however, put in a portion of the day in taking in the sights of the Capital City. The excursion party left for home between 4 and 5 o'clock.

CITY NEWS AND NOTES. Hon. Graham Tracy, of St. Joseph, Mo., was in the city to-day on legal business.

Governor Thayer returned from Wahoo this morning, where he went to determine upon matters relating to the coming militia encampment.

The building for the institute of feeble minded at Beatrice is finished. Secretary Laws and Commissioner Scott will recommend that it be accepted by the board of public lands and buildings.

Lowering the sidewalks to the established grade develops the fact that many of the beautiful shade trees on the streets have to come out. This has been especially true on P and Tenth streets. Things of beauty are not a joy forever.

Superintendent Mallenau departed for Kearney on the afternoon train. He did his level best to secure the militia encampment at that place, but failed.

One would think from the stir and bustle this afternoon that this was a general election day. The anti-saloon crowd are working hard to carry the county for submission, while the factions, especially in the Third ward, are having a free-for-all. It is hardly probable that the Raymond-McBride forces will be defeated. Their ticket is headed "William Leese for attorney general" and "down with railroad law" and down it will be so far as Lancaster county is concerned.

Who Owns the Watches? A gold hunting case watch and a silver hunting case watch taken from the suspicious character "Bronzo," arrested Tuesday, still await identification at the chief's office. "Bronzo" is being held until the watches are claimed. The opinion is that he is a dangerous thief.

HE WILL BE REMEMBERED.

Senator Turpie Given a Bad Dose By an Old Soldier.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—[Special to The Bee].—Senator Turpie, of Indiana, has been taken down several inches by a well-known soldier in this state. If there are any men, in the senate who, above all others, pretend to be the soldiers' friend, and anxious to secure pensions for the boys, they are the two senators from Indiana. Both have signed war records, the character of which was given to the public by senator Ingalls, recently. About the time Senator Ingalls paid his respects to Senator Voorhis, a badly crippled soldier from Indiana approached Senator Turpie—at that time on the scale of reputation of the commissioner of pensions, and he would everything possible to secure the pensions. Senator Turpie seems to have been the perfection of his papers, and he secured the pension office. The senator again approached the senator, and renewed acquaintance, reminded him of the visit of two or three months prior and requested him to go to the pension office. The senator corrugated his brows, and exclaimed in passion: "I will have to have proper identification of you, sir, before I can intercede for you in securing a pension."