Inquiry at the office of the New York Life Insurance company develops the fact that so far as that association is concerned the whereabouts of Hastings, their newly appointed agent from Lincoln, is unknown. It is thought, how-ever, that he is in Canada.

John Cowie, who has been manager of N. B. Falconer's dry goods store for some years, is about to leave the city to engage in business for himself in Grand Island. His associates have presented him with a magnificent gold watch as a token of the esteem in which they have held him these many years.

Frank Kubovec, a baker on South Thirteenth street, was fined $10 and costs for throwing mud on Joseph Michael and a party of friends who were standing in front of his residence. The affair was the outcome of a spite which Kubovec entertained toward Michael. He accompanied his mud bombardment with foul and abusive language and was therefore run in.

Not Worth Mentioning. There is not the slightest foundation in ment of men, and some of them but two or three companies. The training of the troops has consequently been limited to company drills, and batallion and skirmish practice. These meetings are intended as schools to instruct the young officers, as well as the privates, with the handling and operations of large bodies of troops when in the field for action. Briefly, theory will be put into prac-

In addition to the simple work like guard and patrol duty there will be short marches, the convoying of trains, the construction of field fortifications, etc. For example, a com-pany may be sent out to conceal itself. Later, another may be sent out to conceantself. Later, another may be sent out to convoy a wagon trhin. The object of the first is to surprise and capture the train, which is to be defended by its guard. The result is a sham battle in which victory is decided by conditions agreed on point.

These schools of instruction are peculiar to just the Department of the Platte. General Howard conceived the idea three years ago and had an encampment at Pine Bluffs, Wyo. It comprised only troops from Forts Omaha, Russell and Laramie. It lasted but two weeks, was limited in its operations and was rather experimental. This year practically the whole department will take to the field, and army men will watch for the results with much interest.

None of the departments of the army have ried the experiment about to be made by the Platte. The nearest approach has been in the department of Arizona under the command of General Miles. The troops are mostly cavalry. Companies have been sent out from one fort to attempt the surprise of another or to attempt the surprise of

NO JUDGE OF WATCHES. And a Novice in the Matter of Attorney's Fees.

Mr. Charles J. Phillips will on Monday, before Justice John C. Shea, ask of Mr. Rotholtz (real name unknown) damages in the sum of $81.75.

Mr. Charles Phillips is not an expert buyer of watches. Quite the reverse, and to this fact may be traced his present chapter of misfortunes. On June 3 he visited the emporium of Mr. Rotholz, which is distinguished by three golden balls on lower Tenth street. Yielding to the blandishments of the loquacious vendor, he was induced to invest $31 of his hard-earned savings in a ticker which he was assured was of the purest and most refined kind of refined gold, but which subsequently proved to be a delusive and base im-Itation.

In the process of time Mr. Phillips fell upon hard times and "went broke." He again repaired to the establishment of Mr. Rotholz and hypothecated his base imitation for the sum of $7, and now claims that when he would redeem the same he was given another imitation still more delusive and base. In this emergency he applied to Mr. Alex Green for advice and assistance. Mr. Green assured him that he feit quite capable of recovering the $31, but insinuated that his time was at the service of the public at the rate of $25 per diem in advance, but that in the present case $20 would be sufficient. Considering $11 better than nothing, Mr. Phillips rustled up the $20 fee.

In due time the case came up for trial, but

Phillips' evil genius had landed him in the city jail for vigorous methods in collecting a Upon motion of the plaintiff's attorney,

MEXICAN MEMENTOES.

Brandarilla For the Press Club-Mes-

cal a Drug in Market. J. R. Manchester, claim agent for the Union Pacific, recently returned from a trip to Texas and Mexico. Agreeably to a promise made to a representative of the Omaha Press club, he came back with a souvenir of his trip in the shape of a pair of bandarilla, which nad figured in a bull fight he witnessed in Matamoras. These are among the first contributions to the museum of the club in question.

The gentleman presented a BEE man with a pint of Mexican Mescal. It was the first introduced into Omaha. It was of the vintage, weedage or the ragage of 1876, which means that it was manufactured twelve years ago, and that it may have been made of grapes, weeds or rags, according to the taste of the man who is unfortunate enough to sample the stuff.

Everybody knew something about Mescal, mainly because the had read about how it had done up Minister Manning. Those who had read of that official's experience, as well as those who had not, wanted to taste the liquor. They were accommodated. Twentyfive people sampled it, but there is still left enough in the pint bottle to sicken a dozen more. The last victim was a policeman. He took a swallow and the by standers laughed. The a swallow and the by standers laughed. The officer's eyes glistened. His hps puckered as if drawn inward by persimmon contraction. He wanted to expectorate, but he didn't dare to do so because he had aiready said the liquor looked like Irish whisky. When the officer got off duty a pale, cast of thought had sometimes. thought had supplanted his ruddy glow of countenance. He evidently felt as he looked, sick. One of his associates said he appeared poorly enough to romain home to-day. If he doesn't remain it will be dangerous for the next man who approaches him with a bottle of mescal. "You say that's the national drink of Mexico," said a man who was spluttering with the carnestness of a Newfoundland which has just come out of the water. "That's what they say of it down there," replied Tuz Brs.

"Well, I'd rather live in — than in Mex-leo, that's all I say."

WANTED THE EARTH. The Plattsmouth Divorce Case Attorney Enjoined. Judge Wakeley has given his ruling in the ase of Sarah J. McMenomy against George B. Ayers, Albert N. Sullivan and Mary Sullivan, granting the plaintiff a temporary inunction against all of the defendants.

Mr. Sullivan is an attorney at law and resides at Plattsmouth. In 1886 Mrs. McMenomy employed him to prosecute a divorce case for her in the courts. He did so and procured a decree for her.

He did so and procured a decree for her.

When she came to settle with him for his services a trade of some Omaha property was suggested as a means of payment. Sullivan negotiated the trade and offered in exchange a quarter section of land in Custer county. The trade was perfected and the transfer of the property made.

The Omaha lot was sold inter by Sullivan to George B. Ayers for $2,000 and some payments made on it.

When Mrs. McMenomy came to take possession of the Custer county farm she found that she only had a Union Pacific railroad contract for the land, on which Sullivan had only paid $48.

When she learned the kind of a trade her trusted attorney had roped her mto she brought suit in this court asking for an injunction restraining George B. Ayers from making any more payments on the property or cancelling the most restrains a supplements on the property

The following new cases have been begun. Henry E. Koster against Mrs. Bertie Mann for $410.70 for labor performed; Charles Corbett against Emily C. and Albert Rose for the foreclosure of a mortgage for $470.

George M. Downing has begun foreclosure proceedings for a lot in Harbach's second addition under a note for $1.200, given by Charles F. Patterson. Edmond I. Raff is made a party to the defense.

The grand flourish of trumpets often heralds the advent of an article which fails, when tried, to justify the noise made in its behalf. The unassuming merits of Van Duzer's Flavoring Extracts, derived from choice fruits, of standard purity, and elected over a quarter of a century ago to the chief place among flavors, are too well known to need more than a general reminder. Cheap competition of valueless articles heighten the popularity of these. All

A POLITICIAN ROPED IN.

W. C. Reilly, of Sidney, Fleeced by a Snide Auction Shop.

Among the victims of Frank McConnell's snide auction shop, near Dewey & Stone's warehouse on South Tenth street, yesterday, was no less distinguished an individual than W. C. Reilly, of Sidney, dividual than W. C. Reilly, of Sidney, an attorney and prominent politician of western Nebraska. He came to Omaha on political business, and while walking past the auction shop mentioned he was attracted by the glittering watch held in the hands of the loud-mouthed crier. A capper had worked the old racket of bidding $25 and then pretending not to have enough money to pay for the watch. The watch was again put up and Reilly seeing in it a bargain, bid $12 for it and it was knocked down to him. He soon saw the worthlessdown to him. He soon saw the worthless-ness of the brass ticker and made a great kick and finally the auctioneers returned him part of his money for the watch, and Reilly departed on his way.

In another column of this issue will be found an entirely new and novel specimen of attractive advertising. It is one of the neatest ever placed in our paper and we think our readers will be well repaid for examining the SUPPOSED display letters in the advertisement of Prickly Ash Bitters.
