Groundless Fears.

The action of the state board of transportation in ordering a reduction of freight rates has been endorsed with but few exceptions by the people of Nebraska. There are, however, communists influenced partly by local interests, but more strongly by railroad dictation, which have opposed any reduction from existing rates.

The narrow and selfish policy of the state board of transportation is a disgrace to the state. The state has a right to justice in every locality and to all men. In a contest where the welfare of the state is at stake, the narrow and selfish policy must give way.

The new tariff rates do not attempt to cut freight rates below a rate that will leave railroads a legitimate margin of profits. The new rates are still above the Iowa and Minnesota schedule. The bountiful crops will soon tax the carrying capacity of the Nebraska railroads.

It is quite evident that the roundsmen are making the rule requiring them to notify the police headquarters before leaving their beats as obnoxious as possible in order to effect its repeal. Such action on the part of policemen is to be condemned. The order made by Chief Seavey and the police commission was for the purpose of preventing officers from loitering and going into places where they have no business to go.

The signs are that the people of Nebraska are giving serious consideration to their interests involved in the next state election. The vigorous work of the railroads in every portion of the state has convinced the people that the corporations are playing for a stake of unusual importance.

Every intelligent citizen should understand what the corporations desire and are aiming to accomplish. They want the attorney generalship, they desire to control the legislature, and they want to dominate the boards of transportation and equalization.

The defeat of the corporations in Lancaster county on Thursday is an inspiring example for the republicans of other counties where a similar fight is to be decided. The railroads had labored hard to carry their points in Lancaster, and the result shows that they were defeated only by the incessant vigilance and untiring work of the anti-monopoly republicans.

The signs, as we have said, indicate that very generally the people understand the situation and appreciate its importance and gravity. There must be no abatement of vigilance, zeal and work. With these requirements maintained there is most favorable promise of victory for the people.

Unquestionably the sentiment of the great majority of parents is in disapproval of the action of the school board extending the summer vacation until the tenth of September. It is an injustice to the ten thousand children who attend the public schools, and particularly so to the very large proportion with whom every day of school time is precious.

The question of overhead wires to supply motive power to the street railways of Washington city is being discussed there, and our dispatches state that permission to extend such wires is not likely to be granted by congress, on the ground that they are dangerous.

which to attend the fair, for the great majority of them will not visit the exhibition more than once, and a considerable number will very likely not attend at all. Equally worthless is the argument that if the schools are open during fair week there will be a slim attendance, for not only would the large majority of parents insist upon the duty of teachers to see that pupils are not permitted to remain away from school except for such reasons as the regulations define.

Dom Pedro II, who is now at last on his homeward voyage to Rio de Janeiro from Lisbon, will, no doubt, have a hearty reception from his subjects. There is a double cause for mutual congratulation. The emperor has recovered from a dangerous illness which lay him on his death's door, far away from his people, and in his convalescence he will arrive to find Brazil a land of freedom, thanks to the enfranchisement act passed a few months ago, and signed by his daughter as princess regent.

It is quite evident that the roundsmen are making the rule requiring them to notify the police headquarters before leaving their beats as obnoxious as possible in order to effect its repeal. Such action on the part of policemen is to be condemned.

A half century or so ago Mexico tried the experiment of an empire with Augustin Iturbide at its head. The emperor and the empire are now things of the past, but an heir to the vanished throne remains in the person of young Augustin, the grandson of the emperor.

The issue between France and Italy, growing out of the latter's occupation of Massowah, on the shores of the Red sea, and the protectorate which that power has established over Zulla, a port about forty miles south of Massowah, can hardly be said to belong to the domain of practical politics.

Mr. Levi P. Morton, the republican candidate for vice president, is no longer a director of the Canadian Pacific railroad. It should be remarked, also, that he did not wait for democratic suggestion to resign that position.

is the case the elevation of her husband to the head of the German staff cannot do otherwise than increase her influence. While General von Waldersee apparently owes much to his wife, he is not without abilities and merits of his own that have fitted him if they have not won for him rapid promotion.

The Russian government has begun work upon a canal, about seventy-five miles long, across the narrow neck of land that joins the Crimean peninsula to Russian territory. The canal will be sixty-five feet broad and twelve feet deep—large enough for the accommodation of the ordinary coasting trade.

Several thieves are making small hauls from the business houses of Seward. A number of Madisonians will attend the national G. A. R. reunion at Columbus, O. West Point wants telephone connection with Omaha and the matter is being strongly urged.

The coal hole at Ponca still continues to go down, but a series of accidents has prevented much progress recently. The drillers are within twelve feet of where they expect to strike oil.

G. D. Moore, an old settler of York county, fell from a wind mill last Wednesday and broke his neck, dying instantly. He was a veteran of the late war, having served in the Forty-fourth Illinois Infantry.

Charles Gable, a Madison young man, who worked a milk route for the creamery, was given $10 by the proprietor to pay off his debts. Charles, however, appropriated the stuff to his own use and has skipped the country.

Karl Knespel, a York citizen who had several times assaulted the children of his neighbors, was warned to leave the city or take the consequences. Instead of leaving Knespel fled to the neighborhood of the neighbors, but they were discharged. Had blood been stirred up and more arrests will follow.

Several Washington county farmers have been badly bitten by snakes recently. D. Broderson was one of the victims of the snake and tells how it was worked. He was in a field with his horse and cow, and took two more boxes and after shuffling them out Broderson if he could guess the box which he would have to open.

The opinion of Emery Smith of the Philadelphia Press is: Mr. Blaine's return has given new impetus to the Harrison campaign. The whole country feels that the quipped pulse beat. The canvass was moving well before; now it leaps forward.

The editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, M. H. De Young, adds: I think that Mr. Blaine, as a great exponent of the principles of the republic, has a large influence in increasing the majorities for Harrison and Morton in all the northern states.

The Falkland Islands, which are again in dispute between the Argentine Republic and Great Britain, consist of two large islands, East Falkland and West Falkland, separated by Falkland sound, and about 300 smaller ones. They are geographically connected with Patagonia from the south.

evidence that she had at last come to be recognized as a factor in European affairs, and in her efforts at territorial expansion she has shown great judgment, invariably selecting territories capable of agricultural development. The land which she has succeeded in obtaining from the czar of Zanzibar lies in a very promising region, while the district of Zulia, her latest acquisition on the Red Sea, is said to show in its soil conformation the existence of such back loans of unusual depth, which in prospective capacity is fully equal to the finest tracts of alluvial soil in Egypt.

All the facts in reference to his citizenship have come through his father and family before they knew that his citizenship was involved, but as soon as Mr. Grosshans learns that he is a Russian subject by reason of his becoming of age before the naturalization of his father, his friends counsel together and find that the only way to save their money and change his birthday from March 1, 1858, to March 1, 1859, making him twenty-nine years old last March.

Mr. Grosshans is a man of means and is now quietly trying to keep this matter quiet until after the state convention. Not being a party to this description accounts for the attacks on myself and the bitterness against the Sutton Register that has published the facts. But laying aside the question of citizenship, the republicans want a competent station, not a boy who is traveling over the state on railroad passes posing as the farmers friend.
