Dr. J. N. Freeman, a prominent physician of New York, died of typhoid fever at 5:15 evening at the residence of C. E. Youngs on Georgia near Woolworth avenue. the Union Pacific depot Saturday night was found yesterday in the freight yards. It had been cut open and all the contents but a bottle of medicine taken. Among the conhad also been two letters stamped and addressed to Mrs. Tyron. The robber took time to remove the stamps and left the envelopes. He has not been apprehended.

Fell Under the Caboose.

John Gideon was run over by the cars at Briggs' station, on the Elkhorn road near Omaha, at 9:30 a. m. yesterday. Gideon lives at Calhoun and tried to board the through freight at Briggs to ride home. He missed his hold on the handles attached to the caboose and fell under it. The wheels passed over one hand, badly crushing it, and bruising one foot. The hand will have to be amputated. Gideon is about twenty-five years of age and has a brother at Florence who keeps a barber shop. He was removed to the county poor farm, where he now is.

Awoke Minus His Fingers.

Hans Hanson, who lives on the bottoms, near Her's distillery, parted with some of his fingers yesterday afternoon. He was seated on the river bank in the B. & M. yards, watching the eddying stream. To obtain a comfortable position he placed his hands on the track rail behind him, and allowed his mind to wander into the hence. B. & M. engine No. 819 backed down, and ran over one hand with the above result. Mr. Hanson had intelligence enough to re-move the other hand. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital. He has a wife and child who are in needy circumstances.

THE COUNTY WILL SUE. To Pull Down a Wall in the County

Hospital. The county commissioners decided yester-day to present Sheriff Coburn with a bill for the use of the county tail and for the services of jailor and guards in the lodging and keep. ing of certain prisoners not belonging to

Douglas county.
Chairman O'Keeffe said the board meant business, and if the claim be rejected by the sheriff it will be carried into court. The board's resolution is retroactive and claims more than a third of the sheriff's receipts for those prisoners during the past two years. The receipts for the first eighteen months were nearly $2,300. No report has been made of the other six months. As already stated in The Bre, Sheriff Coburn has been fortifying himself and will fight the claim in the courts. The issue has been joined, and a legal contest seems inevitable.

The affair that led Mr. D. L. Shane to resign as superintendent of construction of the new county hospital has come to light. Some of the men laying brick side by side did their work unevenly. One but in a thicker layer of mortar between the bricks than another. The consequence was that a course of brick was four inches higher in one place than in the section adjoining laid by another man. The attention of the contractors was called to this slipshod work, but they refused to rectify it. Instead of notifying the commissioners of the trouble and insisting on a workmaplike to Superintendent Shane reworkmanlike job, Superintendent Shane re signed. This seems like a strange action, but one of the commissioners is authority for

The defective work is the result of haste and inexcusable. The contractors have been pushing their bricklayers and have not given them time to do their work properly. It is esti-mated that a piece of wall containing 8,000 to 10,000 brick will have to be pulled down and rebuilt. At least Ryan & Walsh will not be paid unless they correct the blunder. Superintendent Shane's resignation did not come up in yesterday's meeting of the commissioners. They have pigeon-holed it, and Mr. Shane has taken a sober second thought.

The first issue was for April. A councilman who has examined it says it contains but one general ordinance. It is a book of 123 pages, and the bill against the city for 100 copies was $184.50.

The first "general ordinance" in the book is a notice from the sidewalk inspector to certain property owners to lay sidewalks before April 20, weeks before the book was printed. Then come two advertisements, one of City

Treasurer Rush for proposals for bonds, and an advertisement of the board of public works for proposals for constructing a sewer. The bids had to be in on dates varying from April 24 to May 10, all long before the pam-

Next is an advertisement for proposals for sloping banks, the bids to be in April 23.

A CLEAN HEART. Rev. Charles W. Savidge's Sunday

Morning Discourse. At the Seward street M. E. church Rev. Charles W. Savidge spoke yesterday morning from the text, "Create in me a clean heart, oh God, and renew a right spirit within me."—Psaims 51 and 10. Our subject this morning is a "clean heart." This is a subject I am very much interested in. For the last two Sabbaths I have been preaching on the Holy Spirit witnessing to our pardon, but this morning I take a higher step and speak of the heart cleansed from sin. I could use other words than a clean heart. deuts talks about the pure in heart. The words sanctification and holiness are also bible terms. I care not so much about the word as I do about the fact, for "without holiness no man shall see the Lord."

Notice first David prays for a clean heart, according to the company of the company o of God, and I answer when the heart is pure the roots of sin have been dug up and thrown away and the temple of the heart cleansed and filled with love. Let me illustrate this subject from bible examples.

Take Jacob when he went away from home. He was converted at Luz. That night he had a stone for his pillow. He went on down to work for his Uncle Laben and he cheated the old man twenty-one years and Laben cheated Jacob for twenty-one years.

"Great work for christians." Now he gets ready to go back home. To-morrow he is to meet Esau. He is afraid for his life. He knows he has been tricky and is not ready to die. He implores God to bless him. Jacob then and there received the second touch and his old tricky self is dead forever.

David is another example. He is a king and a servant of God. Lust is his besetting sin. He stands with his foot on the neck of his enemy, but in an evil hour his enemy gets the better of him and David is an adulterer and a murderer. Now read the fifty-first psalm and hear David pray. Our text is his prayer. God gives him a clean heart. Read the sixth chapter of Isaiah and you will see that that prophet is an example of

He then threw open one of the side doors of the coach, and as he did so, revolver shots were heard, some of them being fired from a point about two rods from the car. The object and trans-actions of that meeting will probably remain a secret, to the public at least. It is certain that plans and specifications of some kind says the heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked—"who can know it"--and in Matthew 15: 19 we read, "Out of the heart proceeds evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies." An Enjoyable Sunday Trip Over the Belt Line to Portal. A party of Omaha newspaper men took a jaunt over the Belt Line road yesterday to see the suburbs. They were the guest on the enjoyable trip of Tom Godfrey, local passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, and Harry Gilmore, superintendent of the Belt Line. Portal, the end of the run, is a new town, and while not yet densely populated will some day make a desirable spot for Omaha men who want a suburban home. As the train slowed up at Seymour Park station, the new residence of Dr. Miller, which is half completed, loomed into view. The surround-ings of Seymour Park are really beautiful; forest and field both vie with each other to make this an ideal suburban residence place. In the vicinity of Mascot are many manufactin the vicinity of Mascot are many manufacturing establishments. At West Side the Missouri Pacific railway distributes its cars to South Omaha.
