Fit for the Gods.

They were at dinner. The table was of tasteful form, the cloth of whitest linen, the service of cut glass and shining silver. On the floor was a Walton carpet of dainty pattern. Inlaid in French oak walls were polished mirrors and beyond the windows were fields of grain, trees and meadows. The ceilings were richly finished and from glistening poles hung velvet curtains. The menu comprised choicest viands that were deliciously cooked and exquisitely served. There seemed nothing lacking unless it were music and a fountain, and these the diners did not expect, for they were in the dining car of the Pennsylvania Limited, the famous Pullman Vestibule train that leaves Chicago every afternoon at 5 o'clock and runs through to New York in twenty-five hours. They were content with the luxury of their surroundings, with the beauty and comfort of the smoking room and library, with the covered hallways between each car, with the comfortable seats in the sleeping cars that were formed at night into berths inviting slumber. The Pennsylvania Limited is admitted on every hand to be the finest train in service on the Pennsylvania Lines, but there are four other trains that leave Chicago daily which present comforts and conveniences that in connection with the splendid road bed, the unsurpassed method of running trains and the beautiful scenery of the Allegheny mountains that render a trip to Pittsburg, Baltimore, Washington, Philadel-phia, New York or other of the promment cities reached by the Pennsylvania System a source of positive pleasure. A MILD PROTEST.

Citizens are Becoming Weary of Side walk Blockades.

Thousands of visitors will be in Omaha within two weeks, not only from all parts of the state, but from surrounding states. Omaha should therefore place herself on dress parade, and endeavor between now and that time to present an appearance that will be creditable, and which will cause favorable comment.

In the first place the sidewalks within the business portion of the city should be replaced, wherever they can be, with substantial materials. Then the street commissioner and chief of police should clear the streets and chief of police should clear the streets of all needless obstructions. One of the most unsightly things in the city is the shed in front of the New York Life building on Farnam, street. This shed was put up eighteen months ago, by a Massachusetts contractor who has nothing in common with Omaha, and not entitled to special consideration, yet he has leased the bill-board privilege upon the shed for a term of ten years. The obstruction is within two feet and a half of the street car track, and in consequence people are street car track, and in consequence people are crowded into the middle of the street or jammed against the cars that pass there. The roof has been taken off the shed, and it pre-sents both an unsightly and ragged appear-ance. There is no need of it any longer, the New York Life building being under roof, and all the materials now within the area of the shed can readily be placed within the building. The shed should be razed at once Attention is also called to Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, between Farnam and Douglas, which are all but impassable by reason of large piles of rock and debris. It is well enough to accommodate builders and leave a certain space for building materials, but there is no excuse for blockading the whole street with refuse material that can and ought to be hauled away. The re-setting of telegraph poles should be ordered in every instance—where they are in the way of pedestrians. In Chicago and several other cities nearly all the wires in the business portion are underground, and the poles have disappeared. Here we not only permit them, but they are allowed to be planted promiscuously in places where they absolutely endanger life and timb. It is about time that some action be taken and some uniform rule be enforced.

The weeds which fringe the sidewalks on paved and unpaved streets in this city are increasing daily, and in some places reach a height of six feet. Lot owners ought to be compelled to cut them down and it is the duty of the street commissioner to take charge of the matter.

MCLARIE & OEHRLIE.

The Men Who Make Those Immense

Water Mains. Near the corner of 25th street and Patrick avenue is located an unpretentious building. But like some modest men it has more of real worth than appears at first sight. Once inside the visitor is struck with surprise at seeing the kind of work being done. The second floor is used as a pattern room. where experienced men are making patterns for all kinds of heavy castings. This department is under the supervision of one of the firm, Mr. Ochrlie, who for years was employed in the Union Pacific shops. The first floor of the building contains a large engine to furnish the power for the necessary machinery, the balance of the large floor area being taken up for casting pur-poses. It may surprise some Omaha people to learn that right in this foundry are made those immense water mains to be used between this city and Florence. These mains are 36 inches in diameter and capable of a resisting power of 180 lbs. to the square inch. These mains are of especial size and are not made in any other place in the west. These gentle-men make a specialty of castings used in the construction of waterworks and are prepared to fill all orders entrusted to them. They do a general foundry business also. Mr. McLarie was formerly foreman of the U.P. shops and is a thoroughly practical man and employs only competent men. This institution is a credit to our city and will well repay a visit from any of our citizens. REEVES' BLUFFS.

The "Doctor" Suing for Defamation of Character.

"Dr." Powell Reeves, whose quackery has already been exposed in Tue Bee and who brought suit in this city against Dr. McMenamy and then skipped without waiting to have it tried, is at his old game in Butte, Mont. Somebody out there, it seems, has been circulating the "doctors" history as published in The Bee, and aroused the gen tieman's anger to that degree that a few days ago, according to the Butte Miner, he "swore out a complaint against the circula-'swore out a complaint against the circula-tors charging them with 'willfully, mali-ciously, wickedly, scandalously, falsely and feloniously' distributing this information with intent to 'injure, vilify, defame, dis-grace and to prejudice the good name' of the affiant in so doing. Upon the warrants is sued the defendants were arrested and brought before the court and admitted to Reeves' preliminary examination wil If the doctor shows the same courage he did in Omaha the suit will be brought to a speedy termination.

Solid Vestibuled Trains

now run over the Michigan Central, "the Niagara Falls Route," and the New York Central and Boston & Albany railroads from Chicago to New York and Boston. These trains are not only equipped with the finest Wagner palac sleeping cars, but are made thoroughly complete by having vestibuled dining, smoking, first-class and baggage cars and although constitutiting the famous "limited" of the Michigan Central, carry all classes of passengers without extra charge. Attached to this train is a through sleeper, Chicago to Toronto (via Canadian Pacific), where connection is made with parlor car for Montreal. Accommodations secured at the Michigan Central ticket offices, No. 67 Clark street, corner Randolph, and depot, foot of Lake street, Chicago.

THE IMPETUOUS SIOUX. What an Army Officer Thinks of Their Latest Move. Speaking of the departure of the Sioux from their agency near Pine Bluffs to the Cheyennes, a military officer said that he was not surprised. The Indians in question were wild. They were mainly young bucks who had never been whipped. Besides, they were offended by commissioners who knew nothing about them. The government of the property of the ernment sent out men who knew no more about Indians than they did about undiscov-ered truths of science. If such men as Gen-eral Crook and General Hatch had been sent their simple word would have a bet-ter effect than a dozen commissioners. The Indians knew and respected them, and would do just as was desired of them. Blood-shed, he thought, might result from this going out, but it would not take place near the agency. Get Your Railroad Tickets

One More Unfortunate. The South Sioux City Sun tells the story of young girl of Omaha who is now leading a life of shame in that city. Her first name is Addie. She is the daughter of respectable parents whose strict ideas of propriety did did not accord with those of her own. attended one of the business colleges of this city, and became a favorite of professors and students. A lively disposition led to madcap pranks when away from home, indulging this disposition a to a wine room resulted, this was followed by the fall. She suddenly disappeared from family and friends. The latter were not surprised. The former are heart broken. One day last week a gentleman of this city, in whose family the girl had been a visitor, saw her at a window as he passed along the levee in Sioux City. To be sure of the matter he called upon her. He found that he had not been mistaken. He endeavored, without success, to induce her to retrace her steps, but the child spurned his entreaties, resolutely declaring that she would continue on her erring career.

STOLEN OVER ONE YEAR AGO. A Protracted Chase After a Horse

Thier One year ago Charles E. Titzell, a liveryman at Fairbury, this state, hired a team to one William McCoy, who said he was a traveling man from Omaha. McCoy never returned the team and detectives have been after him ever since. He was traced first to Santa Fe, then back to Kansas City, Man-hattan and Ft. Hayes, where the trail was lost. Since then nothing had been heard of the thief until a few days since, when Titzell received information that he was in this city visiting a brother under a false name. The chief of the police has been telegraphed to ook him up and place him under arrest.

Postoffice Robbers Coming. Deputy United States Marshal Allen left Sunday evening for Alma, Harlan county, to bring to this city W. H. Walston, who was arrested last week for the robbery of the postoffices of Wilcox and Mascotte, in Harlan county. The robbery was committed about the first of this month. The plunder ob-tained consisted of letters, stamps and drafts. Postofice Inspector C. J. Brown, of this city, was sent out to work on the case, and succeeded in fixing the burglary on Wal-ston. The latter was arrested by the sheriff and lodged in jail until a deputy can reach Alma to bring him to this city for safe keep-

The warrant for Walston's arrest was sworn out in Justice Anderson's court. The grand flourish of trumpets often heralas the advent of an article which fails, when tried, to justify the noise made in its behalf. The unassuming merits of Van Duzer's Flavoring Extracts, derived from choice fruits, of standard purity, and elected over a quarter of a century ago to the chief place among flavors, are too well known to need more than a general reminder. Cheap competition of valueless articles heighten the popularity of these. All

Another Clerk. "Have you noticed that the council has not yet got through multiplying clerical positions in city offices!" asked a prominent citizen yesterday.

"If you haven't, let me tell you that Auditor Goodrich was given another clerk at the last meeting of the council. That makes four men in the auditor's office. There is work there for about two. The auditor him-self doesn't work, but his original assistants could attend to the business if they had not contracted laziness from the auditor's ex-ample. I am told that in checking up the books of the other offices that the auditor is behind, and I believe that in the case of the city treasurer he is as much as several months behind."

The beautiful picture, "Will They Consent?" is a large magnificent engraving, printed upon a sheet 19 inches wide by 24 inches long. It is an exact copy of an original painting by Kwall, which was sold for $5,000. This elegant picture represents a young lady standing in a beautiful room, surrounded by all that is luxurious, near a half-open door, while the young man, her lover, is seen in an adjoining room asking the consent of her parents for their daughter in marriage. The fine interior—decorations, together, with the graceful position of the beautiful girl is in keeping with the sentiment of the picture.

It must be seen to be appreciated. This valuable picture is fitting to adorn the wall of any ladies' parlor, and in order to offer an extraordinary inducement to introduce our Wax Starch, this costly picture will be given away, free to every person purchasing a small box of Wax Starch.

This starch is something entirely new, and is without a doubt the greatest starch invention of the nineteenth century, (at least every-body says so that have used it). It supercedes everything heretofore used or known to everything heretofore used of known to science in the laundry art. Unlike any other starch, as it is coated with pure white wax and chemically prepared upon scientific principles by an expert in the laundry pro-fession who has had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It is the first and only starch in the world that makes ironing easy and restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish.

Please remember that the present you receive with each box of Wax Starch, has never been sold at retail for less than one dollar. This great offer is only good for six weeks, after which the present will be omit ted and the starch sold at the usual price Try it and be convinced of the whole truth. Ark your grocer for Wax Starch and ob-tain this beautiful and costly picture free. THE WAX STARCH CO., Keckuk, Iowa.

THE TRUE BENEFACTOR

What Gives the Element of Superiority in Man

How Can We Lengthen Our Days-A Word to the Wise is Sufficient-An Advertiser's Sanday Chat.

Somebody or other say somewhere or other, something or other about the great good done by him who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before. Of course, Mr. (or Mrs. or Mrs.) Thingumbob, who said that had no reference to grass growing in the streets of non-enterprising towns and in front of non-advertiser's stores; he (or she)meant actual or figurative benefits. Now, I claim to be just such a benefactor. By my researches and chats I show you how to make a dollar go as far as two used to; how a thing may be made, for a given cost, twice as well as usual or in half the customary time. I sweeten your tempers, brighten and lengthen your lives, and generally help things along. If there is any medal to be given to benefactors, I want it to hand down to my children. If no medal is offered, I have the happy conclousness of long continued good will and usefulness.

Animal Vitality. Animal Vitality.

Animal Vitality.

In these days of contests of physical endur ance there has been a great deal said about the increasing vitality of athletes as compared with that exhibited by them at the old Olympian games and similar contests, and the long-continued contest between the forces of life and death recently exhibited in the case of Emperor William as well as the great longevity of many of his advisors and generals; has also turned nopular attention to the same topic with an interest that has scancely found a parallel, except in the days when, with feverish interest we wat hed the bulletins which told of the ebbing life of the marty Garfield, and then later on which gave the news of General Grants condition. Matters of longevity and endurance have engrossed our attention, and been the subject of experiment and research. I have been watching the course of several men and women noted as prominent factors in the world's ongoing, as well as those of others; "mute inglorious Miltons and village Hampdens" who has shown themselves to have in a marked degree the quality or vitality, and I timik that what I have observed and what I have thought upon the subject will interest you. In a word, since my sojourn in this beautiful city that stands out with prominence on the banks of one of the greatest rivers in this country. I have been watching vigorous people, and, in particular, several people of prominence. Unave found out this that in order to be happy, one must enjoy good health and in order to be healthy and vigorous, a man must have a good base of supplies. He must have good and sufficient food and be able to digert it well in the stomach, and after it has been then digerted he must be able to make bone and brawn and brain; the stomach is our best friend.

While on a business trip to North Omaha recently I met and conversed with Mr. William while on a business trip to North Omaha re-cently I met and conversed with Mr. William Ward, a young gentleman who is employed as a gripman on the cable tramway line.

Mr. Ward having had quite an experience lately told me the following particulars of it. "I was troubled with the catarrh about four years, It commenced with a fresh cold. I had lits of sneezing, with chilly sensations followed by a feverish condition, and my nose was stopped up aithough I had a watery discharge from my nostrils continually, until the edges of my nostrils booked red enough to satisfy the most fastidious old toper, and my eyes would be filled with tears. This condition soon lessened, and wotld cause me but little aunoyance, but each new cold would make the condition worse, until I had a permanent condition of cold in the head. The discharge was then thicker and changed in color. I could hardly breathe through my nose, and the discharge would collect in my throat, which kept me continually hemming and spitting, the slightest change in temperature would affect my condition and then the other. After going to bed, if I had o my right side my right nostril would stop up, if on my left, my left nostril, and I was compelled to keep my mouth open to get sufficient air. My voice had a muffled character and kind of "nasal twang." I had a continual pain over my eyes, and in the back part of my eyes, my food did not set well on my stomach and my appetite was changeable, I ate a very light breakfast, due no doubt to my being compelled to hem and spit so much upon arising. I suffered this way until I became discouraged. After trying numerous patent preparations and obtaining no relief, I concluded I would make one more trial. I had been reading about Dr. McCoy and his associates and visited their office in the Hamge block and miss say that I was benefited by their treatment, for I feel like a new man again. I feel today like a man who has been ilberated from a close confirment, I do not have the pains over my eyes any more, my head is clear and my nose also. I have no more discharge from the nose, my appetite is good and what I sat agrees withme. I am galfing in fiesh. I sleep well and get up in the morning re

"I Don't Believe It."

"I Don't Believe It."

No doubt this is the remark made many times after reading our testimonials by skeptics—"They buy their cases." Just consider, for one moment, are the people of this community so grasping for money that they in general—our cases are taken from the general public—would connive for a paltry sum to hoodwink and fleece their fellow men? Not only that, could we affor), in a monetary sense, not to speak of inding the person, to pay from ten to fifty dolars for the use of a man's name and his manhood to cheat and swindle poor unfortunates? No. Our testimonials are given voluntarily by thankful natients whose names and addresses are given in full, we do not give the initials followed by a ——, but the correct name and address so that all can that them. There are thousands of skeptics still in the city who suffer from stopped up noses, with mucus collecting in their throats, making their volces thick and husky and with a masal twang, suffering from headache, cars ringing, coughing, hawking and spitting continually, others with discharges from their ears, more or less deaf, a great annoyance to themselves and others, and why? Simply because they are skeptical; they don't take the trouble to look our cases up, and even if they did, they oftentimes hug the small sum that would make them well until it groans. Health is worth more than money, and at the low price for which relief can be obtained it is a "blotch on his escutcheon" to let the chance go by. go by.
