Omaha 1. St. Paul 6.

At last St. Paul has broke her record and won a game of ball on the Omaha grounds. They carried off the laurels in the final struggle of the series yesterday afternoon, just as easy as rolling off a log.

But, strange to say, not one of the large crowd who witnessed the defeat of our lambs felt the least bit sore over it. All were satisfied with Omaha's work, and consoled themselves with the reflection that if she can win three games out of every four to be played with such teams as the St. Pauls she'll come pretty near capturing the flag yet. So, just by way of encouragement, they gave the boys a rousing cheer as they lugubriously left the scene of their over-

The visitors played a mighty strong game and a luck one, while Omaha's play was fine, too, but as Dame Fortune would have it, the boys forgot to don their batting togs, They hit the bail hard, but somehow or other it never failed to go straight at one of the hyperborean galaxy. Clarke pitched for the home team and was much more vulnerable than usual. Kid Sowders rotated the sphere for the Apostles, and he rotated just about according to Hoyle, The Omahas went to the bat first of course, but failed to distinguish themselves. Burns, Annis and Crooks went out as fast as they Then the Saints took their turn at the stick and the result was three runs in a jiffy.

As they loomed up on the blackboard they looked big enough to work for a living. First of all Murphy fastened on to a nice slice First of all Murphy fastened on to a nice slice of luck by getting his base, on balls. Then Carroll come up like a jack-in-the-box and laced out a safe one over Cooncy's head. The big Italian count, who guards first bag for St. Paul, and often reaches up and pulls a safe hit out of the clouds, got a smash in the back and the bases were full. Things began to look decidedly rocky. It was Pickett's turn next and he banged the ball out to right centre, and not only sent Murphy and Carroll home, but the Cyclopian son of Italy to third base. The next moment Morrissey slid in home on a passed ball, and actually the air was sulphucious for a moment. No glad shouts frightened the little English sparrows from out among the rafters of the grand stand as was wont to be of the grand stand as was wont to be the case—all was as funereal as the grave. The scoring stopped there for a time, as Crooks threw Earle out at first, Riley fanned out and Broughton died at Tebeau and O'Connell's hands. There was no hubbub either in the second when Omaha drew another blank. And so did the Apostles, although Corbett led of

with a hit.

Again in the third was it a "barren ideality" for Omaha, but the Esquimaux added another tally to their side of the score. Pickett, who hit the ball here, there and everywhere, just like a boy knocking apples with a pole, all the afternoon, started the innings by making his second safe hit. He reached second on a passed ball, and came home on Earle's out from Cooney to P. O.

Gracious, was Omaha to be beaten in this

Gracious, was Omaha to be beaten in this manner on their own grounds, and by the St.

Paul's at that! It couldn't be, and yet it was.

It was the same old thing in the fourth for our side, and more medicine from St. Paul in theirs.

After Broughton had flyed out to Annis, Corbett made a safe hit. Sowders then drays a bett made a safe hit. Sowders then drove a hot one at Tebeau, and Patsy made a circus stop, but threw badly to O'Connell and the ball went by him and over into the bleaching boards. Of course, before it could be fished out both men were home. Carroll, too, in the same inning copped a beautiful three bagger, but was left.

Omaha made her only run in the sixth. Burns lead off with a corker to left, and was immediately driven in by Annis, who made a two-sacker. But that was all that could be

As neither side scored after this there is not much inducement to lengthen out his report. You all know that Omaha was besten and that settles it. There was nothing inglorious about the defeat, and just you wait until see get hold of that little swaddling infant, Davenport, this afternoon and we'll wallop her so her own mother won't

DES MOINES, Ia., August 28 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The Davenport team held the locals level to-day for thirteen Innings and played good ball all through. It was largely a pitchers' battle, McCauley doing good work for the visitors. Smith was touched freely, more than half the put outs being credited to the outfield. The game was tied in the eighth inning by an error of Alvord, who had an excellent chance to make a double play and retire the side. In the eleventh McCullom got a base on bails and scored on Klopf's double, again ticing the

by an Accident. Noah Ladersmith, who was erroneously referred to in an evening paper as Noah Boyd. is at the Childs' hospital. He is the victim of an unfortunate accident which will no doubt result fatally. He has been working at the planing mill of R. Stevens & Son, 220 North Twenty-eighth avenue. Yesterday afternoon while at work a large emery wheel account which he was atlanding flaw assunder. near which he was standing flew asunder. Pieces of the wheel went flying through the air and several struck Ladersmith on the head. One piece of the wheel crushed in his skull, carrying bone and scalp with it. His brains oozed through the aperture, and it was not thought that he could live five minutes. He was conveyed to could live five minutes. He was conveyed to the Childs' hespital, where his mother immediately hastened to watch over him. Ladersmith was but twenty years of age, and with his brother, supported his aged mother. The doctor extracted several pieces of skull from his head and he was talking rationally to his mother and the nurse a few moments after. It is a most miraculous case; the doctor in attendance said that he had never seen such remarkable vitality when a brain was so mutilated. At a late hour he was resting easily, but the hospital authorities had no hopes of his recovery.

The City Council Meeting.

The city council met last night as a board of equalization with Mr. Lowry in the chair and the following members present: Alexander, Bailey, Bedford, Bechel, Counsman, Ford, Hascall, Kaspar, Kierstead, Kitchen, Lee, Lowry, Manville and Snyder-fourteen The board adopted a series of rules for the assessment of property in numerous districts for paving, grading and curbing.

The council approved the action of the board of equalization.

The mayor approved a number of ordinances passed at the preceding meeting. He said he approved the bill for $184.50 for printing the ordinances of April, because it was created through a misunderstanding. He said he signed the ordinance requiring the monthly publication of the ordinances "in the belief that the expenses would be trifling and in any event not to exceed $50.00 per month, It was my understanding," he continues, "that type used in the publication of ordinances in the paper would be used. * Instead of that, however, a publication is being made each month at an expense to the city of not less than $100 per month which city of not less than $100 per month, which will aggregate in the course of a year a sum equivalent to that which would pay for the ution. The communication was filed. Mr. Lee said he was in favor of having the full proceedings of the council published. He believed it could be done for the sums paid for the monthly pamphlet.

Mr. Hascall was not opposed to Mr. Lee's idea, but he suggested that it might be postponed until the beginning of the next fiscal year. He insisted that the monthly phlet be limited in the meantime to ordi-publication of the entire ordinances." He recommended the council to rescind its reso-nances of general interest. nances of general interest.

The mayor reported the appointment of James Brady as a special poleceman. Also the following specials at the fair: R. S. Powell RobertMcBride, harles Dougherty, G. E. Burke, S. B. Clark, F. F. Downs, A. H. Willis, N. N. Edwards, Alex McBurney, John Ward, W. F. Luce, Harry Haines, J. L. Herrick, David Ellis, Charles Reynolds, Harry Evidand Lawry Waven. Harry Frieland, Larry Kinney, Martin Oleson, W. W. Moore. Also the following for the Siege of Sebastopol: D. D. Jones, D. C. Clements, J. M. Vaughan, H. C. Cook and Thomas E. Darlington. The fair and siege specials are to be paid by the promoters of these enterprises. The appointments were confirmed by the council.

The acts of the board of public works at Monday's and yesterday's meetings were approved. The estimates allowed were ordered placed in the monthly appropriation ordinance to come up later in the meeting.

The bill of Ryan & Co. for $2,500 for extra work in grading Leavenworth street, was Comptroller Goodrich reported that the boiler inspector had $55 on his books uncolnot wealthy and the inspector had trusted some people as an accommodation, but would stand good for all amouts due.

Mr. Lee explained that the inspector and his bondsmen would be held responsible. The council adopted the comptroller's recmmendation that the inspector be required to collect the fees in advance hereafter. Robert L. Duncan, plumbing inspector, re-ported that the Omaha Gas company refused to pay for inspection amounting to $28.70. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The board of public works were instructed to take the necessary steps to have the tele-phone and telegraph poles removed from Twentieth street between Cass and Cuming. A resolution by Mr. Snyder was adopted, prohibiting all peddling on the streets on Sunday.

The board of public works were directed ty-fifth and Thirtieth, also Thirtieth street and Twenty-ninth avenue from Leaven-worsh to Hickory before September 1.

The claim of Dell R. Edwards for $23.30 for four houses destroyed by the superintendent of buildings was rejected.

The city engineer was directed to establish the grade of Fortieth and Forty-first street from Leavenworth to Park.

Vinton street from Eighteenth to Twentieth was ordered graded its full width.
Mr. Alexander offered the following:
Whereas, The disposition to be made of garbage in the city of Omaha has become a matter of great importance to the people, rematter of great importance to the people, requiring the most careful and intelligent con

ideration on the part of the council further heavy investment be made in that further heavy investment be made in that direction; therefore, be it Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the president of this body to investigate the garbage crematory at Des Moines and the methods there in use of destroying offal, and report the result to this council at the earliest possible date; said committee to include the president of the council as a representative of the of the council as a representative of the board of health as well as of the council. An amendment was adopted to include the inspection of the Minneapolis method, and the resolution was then passed. The committee was not announced. Lee, Alexander and Lowry were appointed a committee to arrange for a game of ball between members of the council of the board of education, the proceeds to go to charity. A letter was received from the board of education asking the council to enforce a former resolution banishing houses of pros-titution from the neighborhood of public schools, especially from the Dodge and Cass street schools. Mr. Alexander offered the ollowing:

Whereas, It is well known that certain of Whereas, It is well known that certain of the public school buildings of Omaha are nearly surrounded by houses of prostitution and that the prescue of such unlawful and disgraceful institutions is a constant menace to the morals of children attending school in said building, and a reproach upon the fair name of our city; therefore, be it. name of our city; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the chief of police be and ne hereby is instructed to cause the removal within thirty days from this date of all such houses of prostitution as now exist upon the same block with any public school building or that front upon any street within one block thereof.

The resolution was passed after being The resolution was passed after being amended by substituting "the mayor and police authorities" for "the chief of police," and changing the word "removal" to "abate."

Mr. Hascall improved the opportunity to charge the mayor with dereliction of duty in not enforcing the laws already in existence. He also criticised the school board for maintaining the Dodge and Cass streets schools in the present localities and also charged that the present localities, and also charged that children were sent unnecessarily from other localities to those schools. The amendments were of his suggestion.

Mr. Kierstead made a plea for the "girls," as poor outcasts who are hounded at every opportunity. He thought they were enti-tled to some pity, and the proposed measures tied to some pity, and the proposed measures should not be made too sweeping. He thought it should affect only those in the immediate vicinity of the schools.

Mr. Lee gave it as his opinion that houses of prostitution should not be tolerated west of Tenth street or south of Douglas, but the proposition was laughed at. Mr. Lee then complimented Mr. Kierstead in his moral courage in standing by his convictions.

The ordinance granting the horse car company the right of way across the Eleventh street viaduct was reported back from the committee with amendments. It was then referred to the committee of the whole.

The bill of the gas company for July, amount $2,410, was allowed.

The ordinance granting the B. & M. right of way on Jackson street from Ninth to Tenth provoked considerable discussion. Rival petitions were read and the whole matter was laid on the table.

The following ordinances were introduced: Ordering the curbing of Twenty-fifth avenue from Harney street to St. Mary's avenue; creating sewer district $5, also No. $4; granting the Union Pacific right of way across North Thirteenth and Locust streets; for grading Lake street from Twenty-fourth to Sherman and Burt streets from Thirtieth to Thirty-sixth; ordering the paving of Seven-

FEW CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD.

The Various Railroads to Be Asked to Extend a Helping Hand in the Approaching Contest.

Iowa's Democratic Convention. establishing curb and sidewalk and parking line on Seventh avenue; appropriating $230 for sidewalks; levying a tax for sidewalks; also tax for curbing Leavenworth street from Twenty fifth to Thirty-fiirst; appropriating $4,035 for sloping banks; ordering the paving of Douglas street in district 106 with Colorado sandstone; also Eighteenth in 182 with cypress; creating alley paying district 57: DES MOINES, Ia., August 28 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. !- A large number of delegates to the democratic state convention which meets to-morrow have now arrived. There is quite a contrast from last week's reorado sandstone; also Eighteenth in 182 with cypress; creating alicy paving district 57; also Nos. 55 and 56; creating paving districts 199, 200, 201 and 195; changing the grade of Twenty-third street from Cuming to alley south of Burt; vacating south thirty feet of Hickory street between Bluff and Rock, va-cating alley in block 448, vacating part of Walnut street across B. & M. and vacating part of alley in block 443, changing grade of publican convention. Then new men predominated and the old leaders were mostly absent. This week the old war horses are here in great numbers, including the democrats from way back, who have been going to state conventions for forty years, and never yet voted for a winning candidate in lowa. They are not so very hopeful of naming winners this year, except on a part of the ticket. They will make a special effort to break the republican line on railroad commissioners and supreme court Twentieth street from Dodge to Douglas; also Thirty-second avenue from Ed Creigh-ton avenue to Morse street; also of Pierce from Fourth to Sixth, and of Fourth from Pierce to the alley north. judges, thinking they may get some help from the railroads, who are not happy over the republican nominations last week. ADDITIONAL COUNCIL BLUFFS.

The favorite for supreme judge seems to be Judge L. G. Kinne, of the Tama district bench. He has been the democratic candidate for governor twice, and several times chairman of the democratic state central committee, and is very popular with his party. He evidently has the call to-night, though the friends of Judge Smythe, of Burlington are pressing him vig-orously. Colonel Dey, the present demo-cratic member of the railroad commission, will be renominated to morrow by acclama-tion. He has served on the board many years by appointment and the democrats are very hopeful that he can be elected. There are many other candidates for the other two commissionerships, and the principal contest will be for these positions. The leading can-didates are Senator Baylies, of Clayton county, Representative Hotehkiss of Davis county, Judge Allison of Sioux City, Farmer Merritt of Red Oak, and ex-Senator Gault of

There is but little talk of the rest of the state ticket, the democrats having no kope of electing anyone, and so nobody seems very anxious to be slaughtered. The temporar chairman to-morrow will be Michael F. Healey, of Fort Dodge, secretary, Joseph Eiboeck, of Des Moines, reading clerk, T. O. Walker, of Marshalltown.

The Gallup Tragedy at Shenandoah Shenandoan, Ia., August 28 .- [Special to THE BEE. |- Interest and excitement in the late Gallup tragedy at this place is fast becoming a thing of the past, but many curious visitors still continue to visit the scene of the tragedy, the Gallup residence, almost daily. Dave Campbell, who was so badly wounded in the neck by Frank, is slowly improving, and is now considered out of danger, but he will probably have with him through life a reminder of the terrible events of that night and the narrow escape he had from death by a partial paralysis of one side of his body The ball, in passing around the base of the skull, seems to have injured the spinal col umn or some of the nerves arising from it. Campbell is an old soldier and possessed of minions of the law, despite their curses and other mild expostulations. The first two managed to rake together $15 and a watch, which was put up for security, and they were released. Dollie was unable to find a solitary nickel, and was assigned to the "bridal chamber." Her "solid man" shortly afterward appeared and offered his bank book, but Teller Hendricks curtly informed him that the city bank did no business at that time of the day, and refused to allow Dollie to be taken indomitable grit, which has been a strong factor in carrying him through the trying or-deal. He is being carefully cared for by the Grand Army post and Odd Fellows' lodge of this place. He is an old settler here and has a large family. His recent of the occur-rences that transpired as he lay upon the porch of the Gallup house after his hand to hand struggle with the desperado, and of the manner in which he escaped to the street after the firing had ceased, are quite pa-thetic. It seems that no heed was paid to his thetic. It seems that no heed was paid to his opportunity to rehearse their puglilistic matinee to the court this morning.

Scooped Into the Net.

The police were notified last evening that D. J. Perkins, a driver for the Cascade Laundry company, was missing. Perkins worked with the property of the control of the street, and after being inspected by some one with a revolver pointed ward by me by as recognized and at once. toward him, he was recognized and at once cared for by kind friends. Although it was reported that Frank's wife placed the rope around her dead husband's neck, such seems not to have been the case, as she is not the kind of a woman who would be likely to do such a thing. The report evidently grew out of the fact that the women in their anxiety to convince the crowd that Frank was dead, endeavored to drag the dead body of Frank to a place where it could be seen by crowd and recognized, on account of the threats made to burn the house, and the presence of so many armed men, with the shooting and consequent excitement that prevailed, and the prejudice then existing against the other members of the family. There was a strong incentive to get rid of Frank's dead body as quickly as possible for obvious reasons, and to satisfy the crowd for the time being, so that other members of the family could go into hiding until the excite-ment subsided. Mrs. Frank Gallup is well spoken of by all who know her, and has the sympathy of many friends amid her manifold troubles, and this correction is made that her burden of sorrow may be lightened a little at least

> Decided Against the Commission. Iowa City, Ia., August 28.-Judge Fairall o-day, sitting as chancellor, filed his opinion in the case of the Iowa railways against the Iowa railway commissioners, the test case being that of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway against the commissioners to retain them from putting into effect the schedule of rates prepared by the commissioners in pursuance of a recent law of the Iowa legislature. The judge gives an opinion of great length, and sustains the injunction. He goes into the history of railway legislation, and quotes from many authorities to sustain his position. First he considers the question of the jurisdiction of the defendants, and then whether the state is such an access sory party as precludes assuming jurisdiction of the case. The point is decided that the court has jurisdiction under the rule which authorizes actions against officers in their official capacity, whether to arrest or direct their official actions by mandamus or injunction where such suits are authorized by law and the act to be done or omitted is purely ministerial in the performance or omission of which plaintiff has legal interest. As to the jurisdiction of the court of the subject matter of the action, this is sustained on the ground that while the commissioners are authorized to exercise a discretion in fluing rates, yet when they fix such rates so low that the earnings are too low to enable plaintiff to pay fixed charges and operating expenses, then their acts contravene the spirit of the statute which requires rates to be reasonable and just, and is in violation of the constitutional provisions which entitle the common carrier to reward for his ser-vices. The court further holds that the title of authority of the legislature is between the rates which are compensatory and those which are not; and, when not, a court of equity has authority to inquire into the matter. The chancellor holds that in view of the numerous proscutions which would re-sult from a violation of the schedule rates, the heavy judgments for damages and pen-alties and liability to criminal prosecutions, and the liability of officers of the companies to fine and imprisonment, under the doctrine of preventing multiplicity of such the court has jurisdiction. The commissioners at once appealed to the supreme court.
