

THE CITY.

The internal revenue collections yesterday amounted to $8,617.

B. Weisman, the man who disturbed the Jewish meeting in the Elgutter block, was fined $100.

John Wilson, while partially drunk, wandered into the house of a respectable colored man on North Seventeenth street.

Judge Becker lectured him severely and imposed a fine of $50 and costs, which he was unable to pay.

Miss K. Ormsby, the daughter of James Ormsby, died at the residence of her parents, 116 South Twelfth street, yesterday.

William Patterson, of Central City, and Thomas C. Brantner are at the Paxton.

F. I. Foss and wife, of Crete, and M. B. Thrift, of Beatrice, were Omaha visitors yesterday.

C. Waterman, of Crete, E. C. Carns, of Beatrice, and J. H. Johnson, of Kimball, were in the city yesterday.

Changed to Thirteenth Street. The fair grounds are now being run on South Thirteenth street, instead of on Fifteenth and Farnam as heretofore.

Johnson's Story. C. A. Johnson, who was recently accused in the board of public works of neglecting his grading of West Farnam street, was unable to work there because the curb had not been put in place and that while waiting for it he moved his grader further west.

A Meteor's Flash. A very brilliant meteor was seen to traverse the northern section of the heavens about 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

Death in the Bowl. Joe Draple, a man of about thirty-five, who was playing in the city jail a week ago, suffering with delirium tremens, and who was removed to St. Joseph's hospital a couple of days ago, died at the latter place Tuesday night.

A Serious Injury. J. B. Findlay, an old liquor man of Chicago, now engaged in the house decorating business, while temporarily assisting one of his men in the St. Cloud restaurant, fell from the scaffold and dislocated his ankle.

He is a man about six feet high and is confined to his room in Grunig block.

Season of Activity. The gas company announces that the demand on them for new meters and gas service is greater at this time than ever before.

Murray's Hotten Rookeries. Property owners on the Fourteenth street have sent a petition to Chief Seavey praying for the removal of certain condemned buildings.

Ever since the ordinance relative to street labor to be performed by prisoners in the city jail has gone into effect,

Chief Seavey has been in receipt of letters and telephone messages from parties living in various parts of the city.

Monthly Appropriations $145,000. The city council of Omaha has had its handling of big sums of money.

A Disreputable Youth. A Finnegan, a young man of twenty-five years of age, was brought before Judge Berkus yesterday afternoon, charged with vagrancy.

name will light the grounds, and Sherman avenue, which will also be sprinkled. H. B. Thoe, the manager, W. Newman, the superintendent of fire works, the stage manager, Mr. Shonberg, the artist and the other officials are all well known artists in their branches.

HELL'S HALF-ACRE. Devising Ways and Means For Its Proposed Mission.

About twenty-five persons met yesterday afternoon at the office of Mr. M. L. Hoeder in the Paxton block to discuss the proposition for establishing a mission school in that part of the city known as 'Hell's Half-Acre.'

Rev. T. C. Clendenning presided, and J. W. Nicholson acted as secretary.

Among the others present were Rev. C. W. Savidge, Judge Favcett, L. O. Jones, A. C. Roose, C. H. Savage, John Dale, Dr. Parsons, Allan T. Rector, H. E. Ball, Rev. A. H. Davis, W. D. Stevens, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Grattan, Mrs. E. A. Pierson, Rev. Mrs. Andrews.

The subject in hand was fully discussed, and the sentiment was in favor of the establishment of the mission. The speakers were also unanimously of the opinion that Rev. Savidge was the man for the work.

There was a disagreement, however, as to whether the mission had better be undenominational or under the care of the Methodist church. The latter and one or two gentlemen favored the former plan.

It was thought that the bishop could be persuaded to assign Rev. Savidge to a Methodist enterprise, and if the mission be undenominational the Seward street pastor will have to resign from his conference.

When asked if he would be ready to take such a step, Mr. Savidge said he had not yet considered such a change.

The meeting resulted in the appointment of the following committee, who are to suggest ways and means, and report at an adjourned meeting to be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the W. C. T. U. rooms on Dodge street.

Dr. Parsons, Allan T. Rector, Judge Favcett, Mrs. Clark and John Dale.

LON GEORGE'S CALL. He Makes It Memorable With An Assault on His Wife.

The saloonkeeper and ex-convict again forces himself into public notice, this time by Taylor, and her father, James Taylor.

assaulting his divorced wife, Jessie Tuesday night, in company with another fellow, George drove up to his wife's home and called for Jessie.

She was in bed at the time, but got up and dressed hastily, thinking that somebody must have a very important message for her.

As soon as she appeared at the door, George struck her a number of savage blows and knocked her to the floor. She screamed for help, and her father, who rushed to the scene, was treated in a similar manner. Crisis were made for the police, but as soon as George saw the light helmets of the officers coming he jumped to his engine and drove hastily away.

It is learned that he has been subjecting Mr. Taylor and his daughter to a number of indignities of late, and has assaulted both of them.

They have put up with it rather than suffer the publicity of a police court trial, but now they claim they are determined to bring George to account at all hazards.

George was arrested at about 2 o'clock yesterday on complaint of his wife.

RAILWAY RIGHT OF WAY. The Proposed Ordinances Now Before the City Council.

The ordinance seeking to grant the horse car company right of way across the Eleventh street viaduct (summarised in The Bee some time ago), has been so amended that the company must immediately construct and operate its line on Eleventh street south as far as Dorcas street.

FOUND A BOMB. A Probably Deadly Missile Found on South Thirteenth Street.

This morning there was a bomb found in the window of Frank Bartos' saloon, 1318 South Thirteenth street.

It was of brass, about two inches in length. In one end was an iron hexagon bolt through the hole in which the remnant of a fuse protruded.

The interior of the bomb was filled with a soft, gummy substance. The other end of the article was soldered at about one-third of an inch from the edge.

The bomb weighed about four ounces. It was turned over to Deputy Sheriff Bandhauer.

The police authorities were notified of the fact and are now investigating the matter. There are circumstances which lead to the belief that the affair is not a hoax.

TO LEARN THE BELL PUNCH. It Takes Seven Days and Two Dollars.

"What's that for?" An inquisitive reporter asked the question of a cable conductor and pointed to a card in the bell punch bearing a number one and the autograph of Superintendent Tucker.

"I can't tell you," was the answer. "If I had asked the superintendent he would probably have told me to go about my business."

The figures corresponded with the number of the punch as cast in its metal. The reporter, in a spirit of curiosity, asked the purpose of the row of four figures near the middle of the punch.

"I don't dare tell. You'll have to ask the superintendent. It took me seven days and $2 a day to learn it. The company hires me to teach it to us, and I don't think they want it given away—not even to reporters."

FELL FROM THE BRIDGE. Edward Calkins Finds Death in the Missouri River.

Edward Calkins, a young unmarried man aged about twenty-seven years, fell from the Omaha and Council Bluffs bridge yesterday and was drowned.

The accident occurred at 11:30 o'clock. Mr. Calkins was at work on the second tier of girders of the false work on the 400-foot river span when he fell. S. P. Mitchell, the superintendent, saw him falling and thinks that the unfortunate man, while walking, lost his balance.

He never came to the surface, and dynamic cartridges had been fired first to try to raise the body. Can be applied.

Mr. Calkins came from Hastings, Neb., where his mother and a brother reside. He has been working on the bridge since August 1, and boarded at the Atlantic house.
