He said that what was for the benefit of the Indians was what they should consider and this bill was what was for the benefit of the indians was what they should consider, and this bill was all that anyone could ask for. It provided for them better by far than any other bill has ever done, and and an opportunity for improving their condition such as this af-forded should not be ignored. A small crowd went down to sympathize with them although in the slough of despond. Only three men were in their proper positions. They held the visitors down very well until the eighth inning, only three hits being made off Smith up to that time. Sowders pitched a great game also, striking out twelve men. Both Sage and Traffley are laid up with strained ankles, and Stearns with spiked leg. Alvord has a sore right hand and should not be compelled to play, while with Quinn's sale the team is without a competent second baseman. Stoux City, August 30 .- | Special Tele gram to THE BEE.]-Sioux City and Milwaukee played a closely contested and fine game of ball to-day. The crisis of the game was the third inning, when the Milwaukees were at bat. By superb batting, aided by errors on the part of the home club, the visitors secured live runs. # A Warning to England.

DUBLIN, August 30 .--- The United Ireland says that the rampant American senate, in rejecting the fisheries treaty, gave England a terrible proof of the power of retalistion of the greater Ireland across the sca, whose vengeance Balfour's coercion policy has aroused. It says that the arrest of the Red-mond brothers will incite fresh vengeance. The paper commends the action of the Cork band in refusing to play the national anthem at the Irish exhibition in London, and says that only hypocrites and sycophants repay neglect and cold aversion with a semblance of enthusiastic personal loyalty.

success would mean not only free trade in the goods made by pauper labor, but the im-portation of both labor and goods. While under free trade goods may be cheaper to the consumer in certain lines, the labor made idle in these lines must turn to other means of employment, and thus by competition compel a lower rate of wages to those al-ready employed therein. The power of the working upon the consume depende upon what workingman to consume depends upon what he receives for his labor. Unemployed, his power to consume, except on charity or theft, ceases. I prefer that America should be a land of workers rather than a land of thieves and paupers. What is true of the individual is equally true of the eation. The primary elements of national wealth and national prosperity are production, distribu-tion and consumption. Whatever affects the power of labor to consume affects the entire interests of the nation. Whatever lowers the wages of labor affects its power to consume. An "average reduction" of 7 per-centum on the cost of goods imported will not compensate American labor for the loss of 100 percentum in wages in the lines af-fected, and of from 1 to 5 percentum in wages in the lines of employment by the substit-tion of free trade for the protective system. I hold it to be far wiser statesmanship to build up and retain our home market by system that protects American labor than to command a market in foreign lands secured by the wholesale degradation or pauperiza-tion of our own people. Every dollar's worth of labor value imported is by so much a reduction of the home labors's wages This axiom is not offset by the declaration that there are more goods in an imported dol-lar's worth. The position of the protection-ist is rather strengthened by such a specious presentation of the matter, because the question is then instantly forced upon every intelligent man, how can the American la-borer carn dollars if the industry in which he is experienced is transferred to foreign lands

The theory of protection advocated by the republican party is the same as the underly. ing principle upon which labor organizations are founded. A friend to organized labor who believes in organization as a means to enhance and maintain wages, cannot consist-ently oppose a party that supplies to all labor the same principle of protection from unfair competition that individual trade organiza-tions give to a single trade. Trade organizations so aid in advancing wages in their re spective trades, and the protective system de-manded by the republican party will secure for all toliers in the land a similar fostering care. That this is clearly understood by most of the thinking leaders of organized labor is proved by the declar-ation recently made in favor of the American system and a home market by the presiding officer of the organization representing the iron and glass in-dustries of the United States. There is no better organization of any one trade than the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers. There is no trade more thoroughly organized or better disciplined than that o the window glass workers, nor one in which higher wages are paid. The warning of the officers representing these trades against free trade are very significant, and second be

A careful consideration of all these facts convinces me that the present is a grave crisis in the political affairs of our country, and that I have no right to remain silent My position as general secretary Knights of Labor has given me i of the intimate knowledge of the various phases of the labor question, and from the knowledge thus gained I do not besitate to say that the riumph of the democratic lemmated by intelerance in the party south and the British free trade sentiment in the north, would be the most serious blow to organized labor it could possibly recolve. I cannot remain inactive in such a conflict. Therefore to you and your asso-ciates on the national republican committee cates of the national republican commutee, as representatives of the republican party. I offer my services in any position or capacity where they may be desirable or be thought most useful to aid in securing the success of Harrheen and Morton, the representatives in this campaign of the American idea of protoction to American labor. The clubs represented in this race were the Delawares and Farraguts of Chicago, the Modocs of St. Louis, the Sylvans of Moline and the O-wash-ta-nongs of Grand Rapids. The course in all the races was one and a half miles with a turn. In this contest the Delawares had the best of it almost from the start. They have never been defeated and they pulled with that con fidence born of repeated successes. They finished winner in 10:17½. The Modocs of St. Louis, crossed the ine second in 10:18, the Farraguts third in 10:30, the O-wash-ta-nongs fourth in 13:00, and the Sylvans last. In the single scull race the entries were J. K. Korf of the Delawares, Fred Kastrich of the Modocs, J. F. Corbett of the Farraguts, and J. P. Fleming of the Sylvans. J. F. Korf, after pulling a few lengths, broke his stretcher and withdrew from the contest J. F. Corbett, the champion amateur of America, had an easy victory, winning with-out an effort in 12:32, Fred Kastrich coming in second in 12:34½, and Fleming last in 13-501

The third race of the day was the most closely contested and created great enthusi asm. The four crews represented where the O-wash-ta-nongs, Sylvans, Farraguts and Modocs. The crews caught the water in good style, the Sylvans pulling about a forty-two stroke and the others averaging about forty. The Modocs, Farraguts and Sylvans turned the three-quarter-mile buoy at about the same time in 4:45. Coming back the Modocs increased their stroke to forty-six Modocs increased their stroke to forty-six and the Sylvans gave them a close race. The Modocs, however, crossed the line winners in the remarkable time of 8:30, followed by the Sylvans in 8:45. The Farraguts and O-wash-ta-nongs finished outside the course.

BITTER AGAINST BENEDICT.

Minority Report on the Government Printing Office Investigation.

WASHINGTON, August 30.-Representative Gallinger has completed his minority report upon the result of the investigation of the printing committee into the administration of the government printing office. The report is long and bitterly critical of Public Printer Benedict and the majority of the committee. It charges that the majority suppressed important evidence which would rebut the charge that the late Public Printer Rounds had privately sold government presses at ridiculously low prices. It allegres that Benedict discharged union soldiers and filled their places with confederates; that the work of the office is largely in arrears; that he improperly had access to the record of the evidence as it was taken by the committee; that he practiced rank favoritism in the awarding of con-tracts; that he is not a practical printer, and that he has by false figures and statements imposed upon concress and the country. The report defends , Rounds' administration as honorable and conscientious and able, and in conclusion declares that enough violations of the law and cylightee of incompetency have been shown by the testimony to warrant the immediate removal from office of F. E. Bene-dict, the present public printer.

A large part of the report treats of the private work done at the government office. Among other things it is said that the testimony shows beyond a doubt that the series of speeches multiply President Cleveland on his famous trip made in the antumn of 1887 had been printed in advance in the government printing office in clear violation of law.

These suits are understood to be the practical result of the great conference of shippers recently held at Davenport, and they are regarded as extremely important. The hearing is set for next Thursday. The petitioners ask for the commissioners to fix a day for a hearing, and after such hearing fix a schedule of maximum rates in place of those now in force. This is a new move and a short cut to avert Judge Brewer's and Judge Fairall's injunctions, and is regarded as a great victory for the shippers if their case is sustained by the commissioners.

The United States chose themselves to go back to the treaty of 1818, and its provisions are being enforced. There was nothing un-friendly in that. CHICAGO, August 30 .- The proposed agree ment by which all the western, northwest ern and southwestern lines were to be embraced in the reorganization of the Western States Passenger association was formulated for nothing. The general managers failed to adopt it because they could not agree on all its provisions. The Wabash refused to com-ply with the clause that provided for the payment of commissions on the sale of tick-ets, and the Chicago & Alton declined to be bound by the agreement unless the Wabash should also abide by it. The effort to day to adjust the differences between the southwestern lines failed, and as it was impracti-cable to adopt the agreement with those lines left out the managers finally adjourned without action.
