board of managers of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States, is at present in the city. It having come to the notice of the union that an effort was being made to organize an amateur athletic club in Omaha, the union would gladly lend its aid in any way possible to further such a movement, and any one interested in the matter would confer a favor by leaving his name and ad-dress for Mr. Trench at the Paxton hotel.

A Prominent " Pug."

SUNSHINE AND A MULTITUDE

They Characterize the Third Day of Omaha's Big Fair.

THE GREAT ART DEPARTMENT.

The Racing Features of Yesterday,

With Other Items About the Great and Interesting Attraction.

To-day's Newcomers. All the sidewalks of the principal streets yesterday were thronged to a state of almost impassability. Farnam and Sixteenth streets were especially lively. Bunting was flying from all the principal buildings, bands were playing in all directions, and from the doors of many of the saloons floated the strains of orchestras, hand-organs and brass bands. Carryalis held all the corners, and up to noon the streets presented a kaleidoscopic appearance with the many colored dresses and parasols of the ladies and the wares of the street peddlers. The country population was out in full force, and all the windows which could boast of a special attraction were surrounded with an interested throng. It is estimated that upwards of 30,000 people came in by train and otherwise during the day.

A DAY OF SUNSHINE Brings Thousands of Visitors to the Omaba Fair. The magnificent weather continued yester day, and visitors poured into the fair grounds by the thousands. The morning was a comparatively quiet one, the rush commencing about noon. The scene on the grounds was a gay and inspiring one. Hundreds of flags fluttered in the breeze, and on every side were heard swelling strains of music. The various booths and occupants were decked in their brightest colors, and vied with each other in their attractiveness. All did a land office business.

The fair, thus far, has been singularly free from accidents and even petty acts of lawlessness. The large force of vigilant police on the grounds probably accounted for the latter good fortune.

The unusually fine display of horses and cattle excited great surprise and admiration, but the floral hall and art department were the centers of attraction. The latter proved the greater favorite of the two and was con-stantly thronged with visitors. This exhibition is under the efficient management of Mrs. J. S. Briggs, who has had ten years experience in this line and to whom is due in a great measure the flattering success of the display. Mrs. John A. Wakefield assists as superintendent of textile fabrics.

The display of the various photographers was the first thing that attracted the eye on entering, and each artist has endeavored to outdo his rival. The result is most beauti-ful. Further on elegant crayon work and handsome paintings were seen, while filling a considerable portion of the north side ap-peared the textile fabric department.

peared the textile fabric department.

Among the pieces of fancy work deserving special mention, were a handsome silk embroidered dress and cloak, and antique lace, owned by Mrs. Catherine Nichol; an embroidered chenille sofa pillow, by Mrs. W. H. Traynor: a sofa pillow and toilet set, by Mrs. J. L. Maginn: a beautiful lambrequin, by Miss Cora Nisson; a crocheted counternane, by Neilie Johnson, and valued at $200. pane, by Nellie Johnson, and valued at $200 and an infant's basket, by Mrs. M. E. Mitchoil. These were among the most hand-same articles, although there were hundreds of others also deserving of mention. There is the usual beautiful display of crazy patchwork.

At the east end an enterprising merchant had put up an attractive display of glass and Near this was the much-talked-of display by Mr. Abrain Thiessen, of Jefferson county.

It presented a pleasing array of silk produced in Nebraska. The moth, eggs, silk-worm, chrysalis, raw silk and spool of silk thread were represented in order. The chrysalises were particularly interesting and in shape appeared very similar to peanuts. They vary in color from a pure white to a yellow and dark brown. The Woman's Silk Culture association also made a similar display.

Mr. Jeff W. Bedford has kindly loaned to Mr. Jeff W. Bedford has kindly loaned to the department a mammoth pair of clk's horns, supposed to be 6,000 years old. Among the various displays of hairwork, that of Mrs. Ira F. Gilbert commanded the most attention. Near this was a pleasing ar-ray of paper dolls made by little Nannie Briggs that excited the envy of all the children.

Miss Emeline Winspear and Mr. C. T. Eyans, both presented fine specimens of wood carving. The display of paintings and drawings by native artists and amateurs is the best ever presented at the fair. Among the artists are Mrs. Edwin Davis, A. Aibrecht, Mrs. R. E. Read, Mrs. M. E. Patch, Mr. H. A. Collins and Miss Emily Wakeley. Among other artistic objects in this department are the specimens of China painting by Miss Kate Gay, the rose paintings by Miss Belle Schaller, lead pencil drawing by Miss Clara Griffin, tapestry work by Mrs. C. P. Benjamin; oil painting on velvet by Miss Mary Taylor, and owl and peacock by Mrs. James Montgomery. Mr. Fred Breeze exhibited three fine cases of native stuffed birds.

The judges in the various departments have been progressing rather slowly in their work, but this is made necessary by the many excellencies in the animals and other things competing.

Mr. E. N. Sherrill of Plum Creek, and a brother of Rev. Sherrill of this city, has taken the first premium on registered trotting mares.

THE RACES.

Four Good Events on Yesterday's Programme. It was another grand day for racing, and the immense crowds which packed the grand stand and lined the fences about the course were tremendously enthusiastic. The judges and timers were the same as on the two previous days, while the veteran Charles M. Smith, again attended to the starting.

The fourth heat of fthe three-year-old trot, postponed from Tuesday, was the first event on the card yesterday afternoon. The heat was worthy of no especial mention, being castly won by Bethel, Salaam second and Union Medium third. Time—2:39%.

Walker Salaam's driver was fined $21 for improper driving, while Mr. Kneeb's was fined $50 for claiming that he lost a shoe and not reporting the same to the judges, all of which action was in strict accordance with the rules governing the National Trotting association.

The first race proper on yesterday afternoon's card was the 2:32 trot, purse $500, with the following starters: Maxey Cobb, Marquis, Van Duke, Guelph, Johnny R. and Hen Wright, Johnny P. drew the pole, Marquis second, Ben Wright third, Maxey

The horses contesting for the 2:24 trot were Carl of Colorado Springs, Black Tom of Wichita, Ethel T., of Tekamah, Chance of Coldwater, Mich., Illinois Egbert of Free-port, Ill., and Little Thorne of Aberdeen, Dak. Chance drew the pole, Little Thorne second, Illinois Egbert third, Black Tom fourth, Carl fifth, Ethel T, sixth.

Little Thorne took the lead from the pole, Chance second and Illinois Egbert third. The contest was as pretty a one as was ever witnessed until the finish, which was made in the following order: Little Thorne first, Chance second, Illinois Egbert third, Carl fourth, Ethel T. fifth and Black Tom sixth. Time -2.25%.

The second heat was a fancy trot. Illinois

Egbert, who had come in third the previous beat, took the least and held it to the finish, which was as follows: Illinois Egbert first, Carl second, Black Tom third, Ethel T. fourth, Chance fifth and Little Thornesixth. fourth, Chance fifth and Little Thornesixth.

The third heat was the finest of the day, and was a race for blood from beginning to end. Little Thorne broke badly in the last quarter or the heat would have been hers. She started last, but by hard work got to the front. On the first heat she broke and came in third. The finish was: Illinois Egbert first, Little Thorne second, Carl third, Black Tom fourth, Chance fifth and Ethel Y. sixth. Time—2:2736.

The third and last heat was a fine test of speed, and no horse gained any advantage.

The third and last heat was a fine test of speed, and no horse gained any advantage over the other, except in the start, which was the same as at the finish. All the drivers worked hard to win the heat, but Egbert's driver kept his horse down, and the race finished as follows: Illinois Eghert first, Carl second, Little Thorne third, Ethel Y. fourth, Black Tom fifth and Chance sixth.

Before the start was made for the final heat, the judges put Scott McCoy in the sulky behind McGregor and Jim Nebro behind Ryskyk, laboring under the suspicion that the horses were not being driven for what they were worth. Notwithstanding these precautions Longfellow Whip took the heat with less effort than either of the previous ones, with McGregor second. Rysdyk third and McLeod last. Time—2:26½.

The boys won and in consequence the struggle was uproariously enthusiastic. Clark and Wilson were Omaha's battery and their work was excellent-Wilson's backstopping was especially fine. As the score will reveal, the game was a slugging match on both sides, but the Omahas had much the best of it, pounding Mr. Keogan for fifteen safe hits with a total of twenty-seven, while the Chicagos got seven with a total of thirteen. The same teams play this afternoon. The score:

Kansas City 15, Davenport 3.

Kansas City, Sept. 5.- Special Telegram to Tue Bee.]-The Blues took another game from Davenport to-day with little effort. The fielding of the visitors was shocking, Doran's play at third being simply awful. It showed Davenport's players to be plainly outclassed in the Western association. Klopf was hit hard and frequently, while outside of their triple and home run, Davenport failed to hit Nichols effectively. Their home run was due to Kreig's misjudging the ball. The home team hit hard but always into the fielders' hands. Alvord was the first man to score and tied the game. Maculiar broke the tie in the seventh inning with a three bagger and a single by Alvord. When the visitors came up for their half of the eighth inning they sent three men across the plate on two singles and two three base hits and the jig was up. The score:

St. PAUL, Sept. 5 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE, |- The Apostles took the third game from the Corn Huskers to-day, although they succeeded in bunching but two hits in any one mnings. Wells pitched a fine game throughout, but his support was ragged, especially in the eighth inning, when a series of wild throws and muffed thrown balls allowed the home team to score two runs without a hit being made. Sowders also pitched a splendid game and was backed up by per-fect field support. The St. Pauls left for Kansas City at 6 o'clock and will not return home until October 2, but six games remaining to be played on the home grounds. The club will play twenty games while away from home, and unless they smash all previous records they will not close the season in any better position than they now occupy, as the have never yet made a successful trip abroad

GENERAL SPORT. Returning Oarsmen From the Salt

Lake Regatta. Several of the carsmen who took part in the Salt Lake regatta arrived in the city last night on their return trip, and to-day will transfer their shells from the Union Pacific car to other roads. The gentlemen are Messrs. C. G. Plummer and J. F. Corbett of the Farraguts of Chicago, Alex Malcolm and Fred Gastrich of the St. Louis Modocs, Charles McQue wan of the O-wash-tu-nongs of Grand Rapids and William Weyard of the Chicago Delawares The carsmen report having received handsome entertainment from the clubs and people of Salt Lake. They think the course is twenty to thirty seconds faster than fresh water, but the fast time re-ported in the four-eared race is due to the ambition of the Lakeites to get up a reputa-tion. The altitude affected the rowers ser-iously, in one or two cases causing nosebleed.

An Original Package Case.

WATERLOO, Ia., Sept. 5 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The supreme court will render a decision soon on a question which interests prohibitionists and everybody alike in Iowa. It is concerning the right of saloon keepers to sell in original packages and has come up to them from Carroll county, the case having been tried by Judge J. P. Connor. The history of the case is that a man named Joe Offenback petitioned the court for an injunction against one John Selzer, alleging that he was selling intoxicating liquors daily in violation of the law. Selzer's case wss Carroll and from Chicago. It was admitted that Selzer was selling beer and liquors, but in the original packages in which such goods were received from another state: that his beer was all purchased in Wisconsin and his liquor in Illinois; that under the constitution of the United States he had a right to import and also to sell the import in the package in which it was received, and in general denying that he was governed in his transaction, or in any manner restrained by the police regulations or prohibition laws of lowa, and, in conclusion, asking that the injunction be denied. The argument of the ofense was lengthy and very exhaustive, undreds of authorities being examined and referred to. One day was given up to a hear ing of the case as represented by the at-torneys. To the answer of the defense the plaintiff demurred, admitting all the facts et forth-that Selzer was dealing only inbroken packages-but claiming that the defense was no defense at all under the laws of the state. Judge Connor took the case under advisement, and a day or two ago ren-dered his decision. He overrules the de-murrer of the plantiff and the injunction is donicit. The decision is a great surprise to the people of Carroll and adjoining counties, where the case is most generally known. Drink Malto. ON ACCOUNT OF CUMMINGS. Distiller Ames Refuses to Pay a Debt of His Wife's.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 .- Before Mrs. Abbi Ames went to Omaha with Commings, thus giving Wilson Ames, the rich distiller, the grounds which he utilized in his sensationa divorce suit, she had carte blanche to buy anything she wanted. Her carriage was frequently seen in front of Peacocks, Marshall Field's and all the other big stores in town, and the bills which she ran up were enormous. Just before she fled she ordered enormous. Just before she fled she ordered of Marshall Field a number of expensive lace articles of wearing apparel which she directed the firm to deliver to her house. There was some delay in delivery and in the meantime Ames' suit for divorce had been begun after which he learned of the purchases of Marshall Field and countermanded his wife's order. The sequel to this interesting epi-sode transpired in the circuit court to-day when Mrs. Ames began a suit in trover against the big dry goods firm. THE FIREMEN'S RUN. Our Country Cousins See a Magnificent Exhibition.

The exhibition of the fire department was an interesting event of the evening, and for the thousands of spectators who lined Dayenport street it had a dash of excitement that was exhilirating. The firemen paraded at 7:30 as announced. At the head of the column were Mounted Patrolmen Ellis and Shoup, followed by the A. O. H. band. The seven companies marched in one body, four abreast and in open rank, the officers carrying huge bouets. Then came the apparatus, each piece drawn by a team. At Davenport and Sixteenth streets the march ended, and the department was arranged in the following order: 1, Chief Engineer Galligan in his carriage; 2, First Assistant Chief Salter in his carriage; 3, Second Assistant Chief Barnes carriage; 3, Second Assistant Chief Barnes with the fire-reporter; 4, hose No. 2; 5, chemical engine No. 3; 6, hose No. 6; 7, hock and ladder No. 2; 8, hose No. 5; 9, hose No. 1; 10, hook and ladder No. 1.

Dayeport street between Sixteenth and Tenth, having a smooth payement and being little used, was selected for the exhibition run. Policemen had been detailed to close the cross streets, and at a blast from a trumpet the department was off on its wild run, the fire laddles leaping into their places as the machines passed. The powerful horse ta The Ber, —A dispatch from Pomeroy says that the four-year-old daughter of Bishard Brandes was tracked by the police shouted: "Keep back, every-body!" Horns blared, gongs whanged, people cheered, hoofs clattered, machines jumped and surged and tried to shake off their human masters, torches whizzed by with comet tails—and the six blocks were covered with a speed and a quickness that bewildered the unsophisticated.

The run was in no sense a race, the com panies being started nearly a block apart for safety, one after the other in the order named, but the chemical engine undoubtedly made the greatest speed. The daring speed of the drivers gave the spectators a taste of the excitement of the chariot racing of old.
