

TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE.

The Estimated Number on the Omaha Fair Grounds.

THEY PASS A HAPPY HOLIDAY.

Merchant Prince and Plebian Touch Elbows in the Jostling Crowd—A Sea of Interested Faces View the Speed Events.

Fourth Day of the Fair.

The great day of the fair was favored with most auspicious weather, and the management was in smiles. Thousands of people attended the great exhibition. As early as 11 o'clock about 10,000 people were on the grounds.

The judges of the various classes got to work earlier than usual and by noon had awarded prizes for the best specimens of horseflesh, harness, both single and double, the fattest cattle, to the different varieties of chickens, green-house plants and mechanical contrivances.

The display of the last named is of great interest, particularly to the country people, and consists principally of hay racks, harrows, plows, cultivators, hay and cider presses, with a multitude of other articles.

The display of wagons, buggies and other vehicles is now complete and probably the largest and handsomest ever made here.

The management is doing everything in its power to provide for the comfort of the visitors. Sprinkling carts are busy settling the dust, and barrels of ice water are provided in abundance.

The latest attraction added is the display of wild animals and birds by Ernest Meyer, of South Thirteenth street, one of the most extensive amateur fanciers of the kind in the state.

The collection is nearly as large as an ordinary menagerie and has been exciting the greatest interest. Crowds are about it constantly.

The interest in the dog exhibit still continues. Ed Iothery's famous rat catcher, "Pete," is particularly sought out.

TRIALS OF SPEED.

The Great Crowd Witnessing Excellent Sport on the Turf.

The races, as a natural consequence, commanded the attention of the majority of the immense throng, and long before the first race was called the grand stand was packed like sardines in a box.

The first event on the afternoon's card was the 2:27 trot, purse $500. The starters were Kittie B., Edward B., Deadwood, William H. and Captain. Captain drew the pole.

Starter Smith sent the horses off in beautiful shape on the third starting, the pole horse with a slight lead.

Another splendid race was offered in the second heat. Edward B. went off finely, and jumping into the lead held it just the first quarter.
