

THE CITY.

The internal revenue collections yesterday amounted to $10,801.88. The last of the wood cribs, which had been put down to support the false work at the new bridge, went to pieces yesterday and drifted down stream. No one was hurt, but the work of several days was lost.

Charles Witmore, the alleged conductor who fired two shots at the pressman on Thursday, when asked to pay for being hauled all over town, was fined $20 and costs yesterday in the police court.

A girl baby not more than two or three days old was found at an early hour Thursday morning in front of the residence of Nels H. Anderson, on the bottoms. It was found in a box, wrapped in old flour sacks. Dr. Ralph, city physician, took it to his residence and dressed it up. No clue has been found as to its parentage.

Personal Paragraphs. S. J. Alexander and F. H. Benton, of Lincoln, are Paxton guests. W. D. Hill, of Beatrice, and F. M. Castetter, of Blair, are in the city.

A New Firm. The agricultural implement firm of Armstrong, Pettis & Co., has been dissolved, and the business will hereafter be conducted under the name of Armstrong & Co.

Death of Mrs. Mathewson. Mrs. C. P. Mathewson, of Norfolk, well known in this city, died last Friday after an illness of three months. She was the sister of Mrs. Watson B. Smith and Mrs. E. A. Parmelee of this city.

Still Without His Horse. W. A. L. Gibbon, whose horse and carriage was stolen last Tuesday night from in front of John D. Creighton's residence, has offered a reward of $25 for the return of his property. The officers have had the description of the rig for two days and think they have located it in Council Bluffs.

Died at the Hospital. Thomas Oleson, a native of Denmark, twenty years of age, died at St. Joseph's hospital. His remains were interred in Laurel Hill by friends from Heafey & Heafey's.

Boy Run Over By a Horse and Buggy. Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Fred Tir, while coming from the Grand opera house to the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Capitol avenue, was struck by a horse, knocked down and run over by the wheels of the buggy. The man was driving up Fifteenth street, and did not see the boy till just on him. The forehorse of the horse struck the boy on the left side, causing internal injuries and the wheels ran over his legs. The boy was taken home by friends. The driver, who was blameable refused to give his name.

How Intelligent Women Decide. When the question has to be met as to what is the best course to adopt to secure a sure, safe and agreeable remedy for those organic diseases which afflict the female sex, there is but one wise decision, viz., a course of self-treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription: It is an unfailing specific for periodical pains, misplaced or irregular returns of menses, all functional disorders that render the lives of so many women miserable and joyless. They who try it, praise it. Of druggists.

Cable Line Facts. The business which has been done by the cable line the present week has been remarkable. On Monday and Tuesday the cars carried on an average 12,000 people. On Wednesday, the circus day, they carried 20,300 and on yesterday 23,000. With today's work the number of passengers carried by the road will in excess of 100,000.

The Boy to Blame. B. F. Lawson was driving down Davenport street yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, and when nearing Fourteenth street ran over an eight-year-old boy named Arthur Hayward. The wheels passed over the boy's legs, badly bruising them. Mr. Lawson stopped and investigated the affair, in which it was proven that he was not at all to blame, as the boy started to run across the street directly in front of the horse. Mr. Lawson endeavored to stop his horse but did not succeed in doing so before the boy was under the wheels. The boy was removed to his home, 123 Davenport street, where he is doing well, no serious injuries resulting.

A Benefactor of the County. County Treasurer Bollin has received a letter as follows: New York, Sept. 1888.—Treasurer of Douglas County, Neb.: Dear Sir: Enclosed you will find $1000 for the county, and which I think is due the county. Yours truly, Justice.

Ladies a word in your ear. Good looks are your gift most precious. For these are the silken tresses. With which the girls intruce us. So fine teeth your paramount charm. With Soudon's guard from harm.

An Overgrown Brute. John Blomberg, an old settler in Omaha, who lives at 115 North Twenty-fourth street, was knocked down yesterday by a big ruffian. Officer Bloom very opportunely happened along and arrested the man. At the station he blubbered like a baby. He is six feet tall, and looks as though he might lift an ox. When asked his name, between sobs, he declared it to be William Hack; that he worked in the smelting works, and boarded at the American hotel. He will be given an opportunity to explain his brutality to the police judge to-day. The man whom he assailed is an old gentleman who is well known in Omaha.

By its mild, soothing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of nasal catarrh, also "cold in the head," coryza, and catarrhal headaches. 50 cents by druggists.

A Waif of the Fair. At an early hour yesterday the cries of an infant awakened the family of Nels H. Anderson, who live on the bottoms near the fair grounds. On going to the door, they found a baby wrapped in a blanket, and a baby boy about four or five days old. There is nothing to show to whom he belonged, and it was apparent that the parents, whoever they were, had abandoned it. Mr. Anderson thinks he has mouths enough to feed, and has turned the little stranger over to the authorities.

Where is Orric Hemming? The parents of Orric Hemming, aged fourteen, are much distressed over his mysterious disappearance. They reside at 3420 Franklin street, and on Thursday last the little fellow left his home and has not been seen or heard of since. The parents say they do not believe that he willfully ran away as they claim he was an unusually good boy and had no cause for such a step. They are anxious to be informed as to his whereabouts, deceased or carried away by force. The police are making a search for the missing lad.

Drunk Malto, 25 cents a bottle. Locked in a Flying Car. Yesterday a team of horses on a car on the St. Mary's avenue line became unmanageable on the hill. The brake was applied, but could not stop the car because of the moist condition of the track. The driver then lashed his horses to their utmost as the only means to avoid an accident, at the same time closing the rear door of the car so that none of the passengers could get out and jump off, although several of them vainly tried to do so. The car fairly flew down the hill while every occupant was almost feverish with excitement. The car was stopped near the switch and then the passengers experienced needed relief. The driver acted with great presence of mind.

Highway Robbers. While returning from town to his farm a few miles out on Leavenworth street, Wednesday night, Henry Eickie was attacked by footpads near the Holy Sepulchre cemetery. While one seized his horse the other attempted to bound the driver, but was repelled by a warm reception from a horse whip, which forced him away. The pony in the meantime performed his part and in his frightened plunging knocked down the other robber and started away at a breakneck speed, smashing through a heap of stones and throwing Eickie and his roll of groceries amounting to $120 upon the ground. The robbers, however, were ignorant of the accident and did not follow, or Mr. Eickie would probably have been a little poorer, for he was completely at their mercy.

CHEYENNE COUNTY GETS THERE With a Magnificent Agricultural Display at the Fair. Believing that demonstration is the better part of argument, this county has by her excellent exhibit of farm products given conclusive evidence that she has the requisites of soil and climate capable of producing the most abundant harvest. Their display in floral hall was under the efficient management of Mr. C. F. Robertson, who willingly and ably represented his county and her interests. The array of vegetables, grains, grasses, etc., embraced twenty varieties of corn, the greater part seed corn, all well filled and well matured. There were specimens of spring and fall wheat of excellent quality, mammoth oats, rye, millet and flax, clover and timothy as fine as ever grew. The specimens of natural grasses showed how generously nature had endowed the soil. The squashes, pumpkins, turnips and other vegetables would do credit to the best agricultural state in the union. This exhibit is but an average of the products of this part of the west, whose increasing rainfall and unequalled soil is producing a teeming population and ere long will be properly named the garden spot of the Missouri valley.

Not Advanced in Nebraska. Referring to a rumor that the Burlington had advanced their rates for switching to elevators not on their line, a leading official of the B. & M. said: "We certainly have not made any change on this road. We don't charge anything for switching to elevators along our line, and when the cars are consigned to elevators on other roads, the charges are made and collected by them. If it refers to anything, it must be in Chicago, but I don't think it is so even there."
